The Light Touch

Middle age is that difficult time between adolescence and retirement when you have to take care of yourself.

When a wife asks her husband to do the gardening, the first thing he usually digs up is a good excuse.

Anyone who counts ten before he speaks takes the risk that he may end up talking to himself.

Youngsters do brighten up a home. Ever heard of one who turns off the lights?

One antique dealer to another: "So what else is old?"

Heard the newest? Now is the time to install a Bilco Basement Door.

The Manufacturers would be prostrate with grief if they knew. That's why we blocked out the picture above.

Frankly, we bought too much. From four world-famous gourmet cookware producers. And we need the room for our fast growing bath shop.

So — pick 'em out. Select a fry-pan, or a fondue pot, or a casserole or (while they last) a complete outfit in any color of the rainbow.

Note — this is not a manufacturers closeout, or a special buy, available in all stores —

It is our regular stock — your choice.

However, it is available on a first-come, first-served basis with no special orders at these prices.

These two safety experts can help teach kids the facts about electrical safety.

All children should know more about electrical safety, and you'll find no finer way of teaching them than through our two safety experts pictured here.

These two experts star in a 10-minute cartoon called "Electric Safety from A to Zap." The cartoon explains the characteristics of electrical safety in the home and around the neighborhood while the cat's lack of knowledge continually gets him in trouble.

Besides the cartoon feature, we'll provide a Complete Lesson Plan that includes factual material necessary to explain the basic principles of electrical power generation, transmission, distribution, power emergencies and first aid, to name just a few. We'll also supply learning aids that include a variety of films and literature.

The entire electrical safety course has been designed to develop student attitudes, practices and habits which will, hopefully, eliminate needless electrical accidents.

For more information, or to obtain this course for your school, youth organization or church group, phone the nearest Niagara Mohawk office or mail this coupon to: System Public Relations Dept., Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., 300 Erie Blvd. West, Syracuse, New York 13202.

The Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

JAMES HOAGLAND, 74 Devon Road, Delmar, has enrolled for the fall semester at Bethany, (W. Va.) College.

Hoagland is one of approximately 350 freshmen and transfer students who began classes Sept. 6 at the Bethany, W. Va., liberal arts school.

RICHARD L. HURWITZ, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Hurwitz of 108 Mosher Rd., Delmar, has begun his fourth year of study in the Biomedical Program at Albany Medical College.

THE ANNUAL Fall Tennis Tournament sponsored by the Bethlehem Tennis Association will be held on the weekends of Sept. 23-24 and Sept. 30-Oct. 1, at the Bethlehem Central Middle School courts.

If there are enough entries, there will be two separate divisions for women's singles, men's singles, and mixed doubles. The two divisions for these three events will be for advanced players and intermediate players. There must be at least eight entries for each division of the three events.

There will also be men's doubles, women's doubles, and senior men's doubles (to be eligible, men must be 45 by the end of the year.)

The Tennis Association is expanding the number of events for this tournament in the hope of attracting a greater number of competitors, particularly those who have little or no tournament experience. This way, players of lesser ability can compete with each other, rather than having to play seasoned tournament players.

This tournament is open to everyone, with no residence or age requirements. The fee is $2.50 per event per person, and all players must supply a new can of balls for each match, the unused can going to the winner for his or her next match, and the used balls being retained by the loser.

Entry forms have been mailed to all members of the Bethlehem Tennis Association. Others who would like to enter may fill out the attached entry form and mail it to Walter Gould, William Donovan, or Mrs. Louis L. Tucker, members of the tournament committee. The entry deadline is Monday, Sept. 18.

All players will be notified of the times of their first matches by telephone. Participants should be available to play on all the announced tournament dates.

TRI-VILLAGE tennis enthusiasts will be interested to learn that John Stevenson of Delmar has been hired as a year-round tennis professional at the Southwood Tennis and Swim Club, located on Route 9W near Thruway Exit 23 in Albany.

Mr. Stevenson, a 1966 graduate of Bethlehem Central, is well known in this area both as a player and a teacher. Tutored by Don Camp, he led the Bethlehem Central tennis team to Suburban Council titles in three successive years. (1964-1966) and then played for the Middlebury College tennis team, graduating in 1970. Currently, the top-rated player in Albany County, he has also earned high ranking for the past four years in Eastern Men's Doubles competition with Barry Negri of Rensselaer as his partner.

Even before graduating from High School, Mr. Stevenson was developing his teaching technique, advised by Mr. Camp. He was in charge of the summer tennis program of the Bethlehem Recreation Department for many years. He had further teaching instruction from Jack Barnaby, tennis coach at Harvard University, and served as head pro at Loudonville's Schuyler Meadows Country Club during the summer of 1969.

Now fully certified as a tennis professional by the United States Professional Tennis Association, Mr. Stevenson is offering a wide variety of tennis programs for all area residents, regardless of age or ability. For youngsters, moderately-priced private and group lessons are available for beginners, intermediates, and advanced player, during after-school and weekend hours.

Similar programs for women (particularly housewives) have already proven very popular and are offered both mornings and afternoons, and persons with daytime jobs are accommodated during evening hours. All the instruction programs combine the vital components of stroke fundamentals.

HERE AND THERE

A GOAL of $2,409,000 for the 1973 United Fund-Red Cross Joint Appeal was announced today by Colin W. Getz, general campaign and vice president upstate of New York Telephone.

Colin W. Getz

Mr. Getz said that the 1973 goal is an increase of $109,934 or 4.8% over the 1972 goal and represents the bare minimum that the Joint Appeal agencies need in order to continue their on-going programs.

He said that the increase in this year's campaign goal clearly presents this community with a major challenge. This increase, he continued, can and must be achieved. To do less will mean that our voluntary agencies will not have the full resources needed to deal effectively with the human problems facing our community.

Getz cited the wide range of health, education, character building, family and community services that are available to everyone through the 32 agencies supported by the Joint Appeal.

He noted that last year Joint Appeal agencies served more than 85,000 families. Every year there are more families served, more problems to be met and solved. Every year it takes more professionals, more time, more services and more money.

Getz added that if we are to meet the critical needs of our community, it is imperative that everyone pledge his or her fair share. It's one gift that keeps on working the whole year through. 32 Joint Appeal agencies and the thousands they serve are counting on us. We cannot fail.

Getz concluded saying that each of us has an important role to play in assuring the success of the 1973 Joint Appeal. He stressed the brief but vital message of this year's campaign theme: It All Depends On You!

Keynote speaker was James Spencer of Detroit, a Christian Science practitioner, teacher and lecturer, who told the meeting that, "Every personal and social problem, all national and international strife, will be solved by the realization that one infinite God, good, unifies men and nations." He continued, "We're here for the next two days to probe the meaning of these words, to penetrate the depth of their promise."

Other speakers developed Mr. Spencer's thoughts in talks such as, "What is a Liberated Woman?", "Love; the Lubricant of Human Relations," and "The Real Morality."

lehem Committee for McGovern-Shriver. Assembling in the Bethlehem Public Library meeting room, the session opened with a moment of silence in memory of the Israeli athletes murdered in Munich and all other innocent men, women and children throughout the world who suffer today from political violence.

Volunteers from every election district in the Town received detailed questionnaires and registration information for use in the survey. Committed to insuring that no potential voter loses his eligibility to cast a ballot in November, the volunteers range in age from septagenarians to teenagers. Ken Thacher, Town Democratic chairman, reviewed election law details concerning absentee registration and voting by persons unable to utilize normal procedures due to the requirements of business, military service, school or illness.

A NEW VARIETY of head lettuce which has excellent eating quality has been developed at Cornell University for commercial production as well as for use in home gardens.

To be known as "Fairton," it is the "best all around lettuce I have seen yet," says the developer, Prof. Peter L. Minotti in the Department of Vegetable Crops, N.Y. State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Cornell. Fairton is the name of a town in southern New Jersey where lettuce is a major crop.

Minotti said that approximately 30 field tests conducted in New York and New Jersey on both organic and mineral soils show that Fairton possesses a wider range of adaptability than varieties now in use in the eastern part of the United States.

Compared to Minetto and Fulton, two leading varieties grown in the East, Fairton has a significantly larger frame with more wrapper leaves and a more upright growth habit—two factors considered important during wet harvest periods.

The leaf fold, Minotti pointed out, is such that it offers good head protection, and the variety carries strong resistance to tip burn, brown rib and premature seed stalk elongation.

Other features include attractive dark green color, good head solidity, and uniform maturity; it matures about a week later than Fulton, and trimmed head size is intermediate between Minetto and Fulton.

Fairton is a selection from a cross of Great Lakes 659 and Fulton, and it is recommended for trail in all areas where head lettuce varieties are presently grown.

The mosaic-free foundation seed was produced in Australia during 1971-1972, and those interested in obtaining the seed may request it by writing to the Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. Department of Vegetable Crops, 14850.

LIBRARY NOTES

MANY LONG months ago, when the new library building was merely a twinkle in the architect's eye, plans were made for a special show of art work done by students in the Bethlehem Central School District. That art show was planned for the end of the 1971-72 school year. Needless to say, the axiom about the "Best laid plans of mice and men..." held true, and the art show couldn't be held. The books themselves were barely in the new building and it just wasn't possible to have the display of student creativity.

But, great art is timeless, and so what matters the passage of a few months—particularly since they were summer months and flew by so quickly. The time is now at hand! The showing of the Bethlehem Central School District Art Work at the Bethlehem Public Library is between

AMERICAN FIRSTS

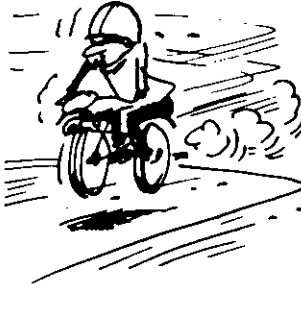

by Thompson

THE FIRST practical motorcycle built in the United States was manufactured in Buffalo, N.Y., in 1900. It was really little more than an ordinary bicycle fitted with a one-cylinder engine, a flat belt and a rear wheel pulley.

THE FIRST motorcycle hill-climbing contest held in America was won by Glenn Hammond Curtiss in 1903. The race created quite a sensation because few people at that time thought motorcycles were powerful enough to negotiate steep hills.

THE FIRST internationally sanctioned motorcycle road race to be held at California's Laguna Seca Raceway will take place July 21-23, 1972. Sponsored by the people who make Kawasaki motorcycles, the historic contest will feature professional racers from all over the world who will flash through the 1.9 mile circuit at more than 130 miles an hour.

That's right - "GRAND UNION" joins the ranks of "A CENTURY"!

Little did "CYRUS D. and FRANK S. JONES", founders of the GRAND UNION COMPANY know when they were busy delivering tea from house to house in Scranton, Pa., back in 1872 - that their little company would grow and flourish into one of the Nation's most outstanding food chains (10th largest).

The key to their success was the respect and loyalty they had gained from their customers for their service, quality of product and reasonable price that they had asked... that same respect and loyalty from literally millions of food shoppers has become a hallmark in Grand Union's fine history of service and fine quality, at the lowest possible price.

So why not - join us and save for this week and next and see the "PEOPLE PLEASERS" in action... You'll be glad you did.

THE BICYCLE BOOM

AMERICA'S BICYCLE boom has produced 61 million adult bicyclists, 15,000 miles of public bikeways, 8.5 million sales per year and countless opportunities for bicycling injuries and thefts.

New York bicyclists—whether adults or children—need as great a margin of safety and security as possible, says the Insurance Information Institute.

Consider these facts:

—In New York State, 63 bicyclists were killed last year and more than 6,000 were injured in accidents, according to the National Safety Council.

—The accident toll from cycling mishaps is reaching serious national proportions. In 1971, 850 people were killed, and 39,000 were injured nationwide.

—The 1971 bicycle sales figure of 8.5 million was more than twice the number sold in 1960. This year manufacturers predict more bikes will be sold than automobiles.

—Along with the increase in sales, the number of bicycle thefts has increased 105% since 1960, according to a Federal Bureau of Investigation study.

—Bike shops estimate that 20% of sales represents replacement of stolen cycles.

Use Judgment, Obey Rules

Law enforcement agencies say the major contributing factors involved in bicycle related deaths and injuries are light weight of bikes, inadequate lighting, brakes that require long stopping distances and riding side by side in large groups.

The Institute suggests that good judgment and obedience to the rules of the road can prevent many of these needless accidents.

The first thing to remember is that a cyclist is far more likely to run into a car or other object than to have it run into him.

Statistics show that two out of every three riders killed or injured in collisions with automobiles violated a law or safety rule.

Above all be a careful and attentive rider!

On the road, remember that under the law you are riding a vehicle subject to traffic regulations. Keep right, give hand signals and don't ride in the wrong direction on one-way streets.

At night, cyclists are required to have a light on the front and a reflector on the back of their bikes. It's a good idea, too, to attach some reflective tape on your back.

Don't skimp on the price of your padlock and chain, reminds the Institute. The stronger they are the better.

Always park your bicycle in a conspicuous place where there are plenty of pedestrians passing by. Lock tamperers prefer not to have witnesses.

Insurance Considerations

The Institute points out that most people already have insurance coverage for injuries which they may receive or which they may cause. Most medical bills are likely to be paid under accident and health policies or under the medical payments section of homeowners policies, while claims against a bicyclist for causing an injury would be covered under either the liability section of a homeowners policy or a personal liability policy.

The bicycle itself also is insured under the homeowners policy, but usually there is a $50 or $100 deductible. Full coverage, no deductible bicycle insurance is available at rates ranging from

TRAIL RIDERS

HORSE TRAIL Riders — Horsemen from throughout the northeast will be descending on the little hamlet of Brookfield in southeastern Madison County for a three-day Pleasure Trail Ride on the weekend of September 22-24. The largest trail ride east of the Mississippi, last year attracted more than 400 persons and 225 horses. If that is any indication of what will happen this year, this, the fourth annual ride sponsored by the Empire State Horsemen's Association, should be a gala event.

It is billed as a three-day, 100-mile ride, though the unique character of the Brookfield Trail System, developed by the Department of Environmental Conservation on the State Forestland in the vicinity of Brookfield, makes it possible for individuals to participate in shorter sections to meet their time or physical limitations. Within eight miles of the main staging area at the Brookfield Fairgrounds are three trails on State land totaling 105 miles.

A second staging area closer to the bulk of the trail system is at the old CCC camp at Moscow, Hill, just off Route 30 and south of West Brookfield. Here horsemen will find not only facilities for their horses, but adequate space to set up tents or campers for themselves.

In addition to the ride, other educational programs are being planned to include such things as seminars and demonstrations on subjects of interest to trail riders. Saturday is the big day, with a parade at the Brookfield Fairgrounds and a barbeque also held there in the evening after the ride. Since Brookfield isn't the size place normally able to handle the feeding of such a large influx of people, the local churches and the Masons are taking care of meals.

So that proper preparations can be made, particularly for feeding both man and beast, riders are requested to register with the Ride Chairman, Dr. Janet McCallum, 1 Tennyson Road, New Hartford, New York 13413. The registration fee will depend on the services and meals that you want.

As the tractor replaced the horse on farms of New York State, it looked as though the horse, as a vital economic factor in the State, was about to vanish. Increased leisure time, however, brought an abrupt change in the picture following World War II, when the light horse for riding began to be in demand. During the last two decades, the number of horses in New York has more than doubled, to well over 200,000. As an economic factor they have come back into their own with an annual expenditure of over $200 million for equipment and services.

This growing interest in the recreational use of horses sparked the Department to take action that it had considered from time to time since the mid-30's. In 1966, a thirty-two mile horse trail loop was established from Axton, on the Requette River near Tupper Lake, leading back into the Cold River country, and the shadow of the high peaks. The trail is not just a bridle path, but a real trail for horsemen who want to pack all their needs and take an extended tour away from civilization.

Along the Cold River Trail are four bivouac areas where there is shelter for both horse and rider. The Department does not have any provisions for assisting with feed; riders must make all these provisions on their own.

In addition to the two major mentioned above, there are several others scattered around the State. In the Adirondacks are trails at Saranac Inn, Saranac Lake to Lake Placid, Pharoah Lake and Lake Meacham. The Lake Luzerne campsite also boasts facilities for horsemen. In the Catskills, there are trail systems at the Bear Spring Wildlife Management Area, and near Palenville, where the trail leads through the legendary "Sleepy Hollow." On State lands in Central New York are the Pharsalia Horse Trail System west of Norwich, and the Six Nations Horse Trail on Sugar Hill west of Watkins Glen.

New Cadillac
THE 1973 CADILLAC, with a functionally unique front bumper-grille assembly which retracts as a single unit upon impact, highlights greater emphasis on performance, styling, safety and added customer value features.
 "Nine models in three series, Calais, De Ville and Fleetwood, will go on sale in dealer showrooms on September 14," according to George R. Elges, general manager of Cadillac Motor Car Division and vice president of General Motors.
 "The dimensions of our models remain basically the same except for slight changes in overall length to provide for the mandatory bumper protection," Mr. Elges said.
 The front and rear bumpers have been redesigned to accommodate 1973 government standards. "The front bumper utilizes the new Delco energy absorbing mounting system while the rear bumper employs the new urethane energy absorbing system," explained Mr. Elges.

"On all models front bumper deflection capability is provided without adding length to the front by shortening the hood and mounting the grille to the bumper. This allows both the grille and bumper to telescope beneath and hood during impact," Mr. Elges noted.

For a distinctive front end appearance on the standard Cadillac the head lamps and parking lamps are designed in console fashion and blend with the vertically styled new grille and the sculptured character of the new hood.

Tail lamps are new and are located in the upper half of the bumper, out of the impact area. The lower half is protected by impact strips around a reflex lens. Back-up lamps have been placed in the upper section of rear bumper immediately beneath the deck lid and are well protected.

Reviewing the division's luxury personal car, Mr. Elges described the 1973 Fleetwood Eldorado as, "retaining the classic look of its predecessors, but with exterior styling changes in the grille, lighting, side moldings and ornamentation."

The traditional Cadillac cross-hatch grille design is bold in character on this popular front-wheel-

The new parking lamps wrap around the fender into the cornering lamp.

The hood has a flatter profile but retains its Cadillac identity.

Overall side appearance is enhanced by the new extended body molding accenting the length. A reflex and side marker light are incorporated in the wreath and crest on the rear quarter panels.

The tail lamps, back-up lamps and license plate area on the Eldorado are relocated out of the impact area. A new deck lid accommodates rear bumper requirements and makes possible the reduction of overall length.

The 1973 Cadillac features such options as: a new electrically heated rear window defogger; radios with a new power-operated automatic antenna; an all-new illuminated vanity mirror on the sun visor; and an outside temperature gauge integrated with the left outside rear view mirror.

"The two Cadillac engines, 472 cubic inches for the standard Cadillac and 500 cubic inches for the Eldorado, provide further improvements in exhaust emission control," explained Mr. Elges. "An exhaust gas recirculation system (E.G.R.) has been added for the purpose of further reducing NOx (oxides of nitrogen) emissions."

"The rolling smoothness of the 1973 Cadillacs has been enhanced by improvements in the frames, front suspension, shock absorbers and the redesigning of body mounts," reported Mr. Elges.

John M. Comstock

#137, Town of Bethlehem Men's Republican Club, Associate Member of Selkirk Volunteer Fire Companies #1 and #2, Charter and Life Member of the Bethlehem Historical Association, Member of the First Reformed Church of Bethlehem and Life Member of the NYS Order of the Founders and Patriots of America, being a direct descendant of Christopher Comstock who settled at Fairfield, Conn., in 1654.

As a builder, John Comstock built the first dwelling on Fernbank Avenue in 1929 and the first house on Darroch Road in 1932. He continued in all phases of the construction industry until 1942 when World War II restrictions made it difficult to obtain materials and labor. It was then that he opened the grocery store and service station at the corner of 9-W and the Feura Bush Road which he continued until 1960.

John Comstock saw the Glenmont area more than triple in number of homes, businesses and postal patrons between 1926 and 1972. He'll no doubt miss the many friends he made over all those years but you'll be able to find him easily: he'll generally be home in Bethlehem Center working with his hobbies of gardening and antiques. If he's not at home, it may be that he has taken a trip to the Atlantic Coast. AFTER 23 YEARS of the friendliest, wittiest service to Feura Bush Postal patrons, Mrs. Lyle Van Dyke, Jr., will retire from her job as Postal Clerk on December 31. If the name confuses you, she's better known to almost everyone as "Teenie."

Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary on September 27.

THE SPOTLIGHT wishes both retirees all the best! And we'd like to add a special "Thank You" to both for their expert handling of this publication through the years. We rely entirely on the cooperation of the Postal Department to get 11,000-plus copies to our readers every week of the year.

AETNA'S SAFE DRIVER MEDAL.

If you have a safe driving record, we'll reward you with savings on your auto insurance.

Having a good driving record should be worth more to you than simply a warm glow of self-satisfaction.

Now it is. Because Aetna has recently introduced the Auto-Rite policy in this area — a policy especially designed for safe drivers. If you have a good driving record you're eligible for our lowest rate.

Auto-Rite saves you money. But it's not a trimmed-down, minimum-coverage policy. Far from it. You can get a full range of coverages, including liability, collision, fire, theft and comprehensive, medical payments, hail bond and emergency road service. Liability limits are available up to $500,000.

Auto-Rite brings you something else. We mean Aetna's countrywide claim service, and its reputation for fast action and fair play. And we'll back that up with our agency's personal service and attention.

Come in and tell us about your good driving record. You'll like what we tell you about Aetna's Auto-Rite policy for safe drivers.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

THIS IS CONSERVATION?!! On September 6, Barney Fowler wrote in his TU column that he had information that the Delmar Game Farm pond (Five Rivers?) had NOT been refilled — and he had some other rather pertinent observations. On Thursday, September 7, we got a call from one of our readers suggesting that we go take a look-see for ourselves. We did — and here is what we saw:

Five Rivers is most impressive by the fact that where there were perhaps a half dozen NYS employees at the Game Farm, on Thursday there were at least 75 workers' (?) cars parked in almost every available spot. We saw some dozen men in scattered groups talking together — we saw no one actually doing anything.

Our first stop was at the site of the tiny pond and the buildings that housed the animals. Once there was all kinds of wild bird life in this area — on Thursday we saw a crushed stone parking lot where that tiny pond had been — and nary a bird — not even a sparrow — not a squirrel — not a rabbit — not a living thing except for the humans. This is certainly the right approach to wildlife conservation!

This was disappointing enough — but we'd come to see — so we drove slowly past the big pond (the one that was accidentally (?) drained!). We drove past twice. We saw not one living thing!! Here, there were hundreds, yes even thousands, of ducks, sometimes wild geese, all kinds of feathered friends, pheasants — all manner of small animals — fish jumping — and we repeat: THERE WAS NOT ONE LIVING THING!

What is Commissioner Diamond's explanation of all this? We called — but he was unavailable. Where have all the living things gone? Where are the ducks? We know what happened to the 600 (probably nearer 6,000!) fish — they died! But where has all the rest of the wildlife gone?

At the risk of repeating ourselves — there was a large number of Tri-Village Area people working toward this new conservation program at the new Five Rivers. What explanation do these people have for the present-day conditions. Actually, you can find more living things in any cemetery than we found at the new Five Rivers.

If what we saw is an example of 1972 progress in conservation, may God forgive the perpetrators for their sins!

EAGER BEAVERS — The local McGovern-for-President are eager beavers — sometimes to the point of being annoying. The present campaign is a telephone call that requests (by name) the 18 year old in the family — but the phone call comes during the evening when 18 year olds are not likely to be home. This is a little annoying to the caller — so she asks whether he has registered yet. The answer is no, not yet. The caller insists that our 18 year old is so stupid that he doesn't know where to register and then assumes that he doesn't know how. When it is finally resolved that he doesn't have to be led by the hand to the South Bethlehem Fire House, then she asks if our Jim is going to vote for Sen. George McGovern? Our reply is that his vote is his own decision and that we will not try to influence him. This angers our caller and before we can finish explaining, the receiver is slammed in our ear.

AND THE DISCUSSION GOES ON — Our dissatisfaction with Jane Fonda and those who approve of her is very real. Our answer to Kevin Hughes was not a put-down; just a continuing disagreement with Miss Fonda's statements, acts, etc. We have received two over-lengthy letters this week which we will print in part — and then, as far as we're concerned, the issue is dead, done, kaput!

Here they are:

Dear Sir:

I did not demonstrate in Miami last month, nor do I have reliable-enough resources to form an accurate opinion of Jane Fonda, but may I still offer my point of view?

I was a fervent supporter of the 'new' Richard Nixon in 1968, but have since been heartily discouraged by his policies, especially regarding Vietnam. We are thankful for troop withdrawals, but please tell me how saturation bombing helps anyone? The North Vietnamese and NLF in South Vietnam are a tenacious people. They believe they are right and will never give up what they regard as theirs. Foreign intervention has only strengthened their determination to the point where only complete extermination of their people will end their resistance. I hope our country has prepared itself morally for the grotesque realities of genocide.

Concerning Jane Fonda, her only fault lies in that she is moving too far ahead of the anti-war sentiment in America; perhaps there will never be general acceptance of her views. But it was the youthful activists, concerned about America, who demonstrated their discontent in the '60's and brought public awareness of the tragedy consuming the small land of Vietnam. 'Activist' and 'demonstration' unfortunately connote 'violence,' but they were words which alerted a slumbering America and are bringing about partial settlements in Indochina today. The campuses were relatively quiet last year, but may the youth never give up on America. From time to time individuals such as Dennis Banks emerge to prominence. Jane Fonda doesn't give up minority movements when they are removed from front-page stories (it was she and others who helped them to get there), but she is not able, from what I have heard, to give special full-time treatment to every minority group representative, Indian or otherwise. If this makes her a racist, then there is nothing she can ever hope to do about it.

Finally, I think the intent of your attack on Mr. Hughes was uncalled for. In stating that he is a student at a large eastern (i.e., liberal) university and linking him to the demonstrations in Miami, you immediately attempted to prejudice the issue in your favor before your readers by rendering his argument intemperant. If your answer was so shaky as to need such a crutch, you should never have attempted to answer him. There is already too much character villification in America as it is.

I would appreciate any replies you might have.

Sincerely yours,
 Richard Laffin

The other one is addressed to Kevin Hughes with this note: "Kevin, I am sending a copy of this letter to Mr. Fuller in the hope that he will publish it"

Here are excerpts from that letter:

Dear Kevin:

It seems to me that the last word in your exchange with Mr. Fuller has not yet been said. Far more is involved here than immediately meets the eye, and as someone concerned with teaching the young, I would like to point out what may have been missed in this episode.

Whether or not I am sympathetic to your cause, Kevin, is unimportant. What IS important is that what you have done be appreciated for what it is. Too soon the young are summarily cut off by the authority of my generation and thus turned off, and before this affair becomes lost to public view, I think your statement deserves assessment for what it is. Here at the beginning of a new school year I find your letter enormously heartening; you have given me the hope needed to face the slow, frustrating, sometimes painful process of conveying to the young what real and vital education is all about and what genuine purpose it can serve. You have given me a tangible example to take back into the classroom and have buoyed me up for the job ahead.

Right or wrong, you have gone on record with a well-written statement born of YOUR view of the world, an amalgum of your observations, reading, thinking, and ability to write. Any thoughtful person should throw his hat into the air at the reading of your letter — or the writing of any cogent and concerned young person — for this reason if for no other. Education a failure? Johnny can't read? education too expensive? wasted on the young? meant only for getting and holding jobs? Your letter proves that education has succeeded on the level of man's highest hopes — for self-expression, for vital use, for the enhancement of the social conscience of the human breed. Not necessarily what you said — but THAT YOU SAID — is our hope.

Dear Kevin and all Kevins everywhere, as long as you go on thinking — and who can claim exclusive rights to the holy side of truth in any instance? (though many will try to lead you to the ONLY TRUTH) — go on thinking long thoughts, critical thoughts, even dangerous thoughts. Every decent man who has ever struggled to better his world has had to accept the world's censure — some, you know, even to the point of death itself. Well, nothing is going to be proved in letters to the editor on any issue, perhaps, but that you mean to be in the ranks of the thinkers and doers — that will frighten despots wherever they exist (and always cause you no end of trouble). Ignazio Silone in Bread and Wine, a book that exposes communism and all forms of tyranny said that where one courageous man — just one — says "no!" evil totters and is destroyed. You have done nobly, thoughtfully, and manfully with what those who have thought to educate you attempted. You and those like you are the best hope (whether or not I agree with your point of view) of our country which still has a long, painful, and perhaps even tragic way to go to learn those lessons which we individually have gone to so many pains to avoid learning.

The best student in any class is the one that teaches the teacher, for that means he has done rock-bottom thinking, is involved, has no fear of showing knowledge, and will not be deterred by the confinements of anyone who purports to teach him. For me, you are this year's opening lesson plan, Kevin, and all of us who deem ourselves teachers should salute you for the returns you have shown on our investment. All students everywhere have reason to thank you as well.

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. Helen Adler
