Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

Tri-Village FISH — Call 439-3578 for voluntary service — 24 hours a day the year 'round — offered by residents of Delmar, Elsmere and Slingerlands to their neighbors in need of help in any emergency.

Through October 31 — 7:30 P.M. Tuesday and Thursday evenings free conservation movies (wear warm clothes; it's outside) at Five Rivers Environmental Education Center.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR WHO'S TO BLAME?

To those vandals that burnt the American Flag that was attached to the flagpole on Saturday, September 23, in Delmar, I hope you are proud of what you did.

The home where you committed this vicious act happens to be the home of a very recent widow.

The American Flag that you burnt, happens to have been flying continuously in honor of their son who was killed in World War II.

Your continuous attempts over the past year of taking down the American flag as well as banging down the flag pole has certainly succeeded with this final act.

The flag pole has been removed.

The American flag will no longer fly in honor of this brave soldier.

Whose to blame?

Where do children learn respect for others?

Respect for personal property?

Respect for their country?

Are children a reflection of our adult society?

Parents, do a little soul-searching.

Disgusted Delmar Resident

The Spotlight Goes to School

MISS KIM GAMBLE of Delmar has started her first year at Keuka College. The College is embarking on the second phase of a major curriculum revision. There are no general course requirements and students will take fewer courses per term which will enable them to concentrate more heavily on each course. Students will be able to graduate in less than the normal four years through summer school programs, credit by examination and advance placement.

Miss Gamble is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Kenneth Gamble, 30 Woodmont Drive.

MERLE E. MILLER, chairman of the Business Education Department at Bethlehem Central High School, has been appointed the Chairman of the Committee for Local Arrangements for the Annual Convention of the Business Teachers Association of New York State. The Convention will be held at the Hyatt House, Albany, May 11 and 12. Mr. Miller will be assisted by Mrs. Margaret H. Westervelt, a business teacher at BCHS.

On Saturday, September 23, Mr. Miller met with the Directors of BTA and other committee chairmen at the Hyatt House. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Mardel Coumbe, this year's BTA President and Chairman of the Business Department at Columbia High School. During the all-day meeting, the program for the school year was discussed. Reports of the progress of the planning for the Convention were given by each Committee Chairman.

ASTRO is the name of a new Cornell University spring oat variety capable of outproducing all other varieties grown in New York and Other northeastern states.

Prof. Neal F. Jensen in the Department of Plant Breeding and Biometry at the N.Y. State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Cornell, developed the variety.

The newest Cornell oat variety is expected to make its commercial debut in time for the 1974 season, with certified seed production scheduled for 1973.

A short-straw variety similar to Orbit, Astro has an outstanding ability to resist lodging, a problem that often results in serious crop losses. Orbit, also a Cornell variety, has been in commercial use since 1966.

Six to 10 inches shorter than older varieties such as Garry, Niagara, Russell, and Rodney, Astro has a yield advantage of about six bushels per acre, outyielding even Orbit by almost three bushels.

The results of field tests conducted throughout New York over the past several years showed that Astro's yield averaged 80 bushels per acre.

It achieved national acclaim by out-yielding all other varieties for three successive years in the USDA-coordinated nursery trials at about 20 agricultural experiment stations across the United States.

Aside from increased yield, Astro also differs in its smaller sized, white kernel. Test weights for Astro and Orbit are about the same, but Astro's smaller grains provide more grains per given weight or measure.

"This means a bushel of Astro could seed a larger area at the same plant density than could Orbit," Jensen pointed out.

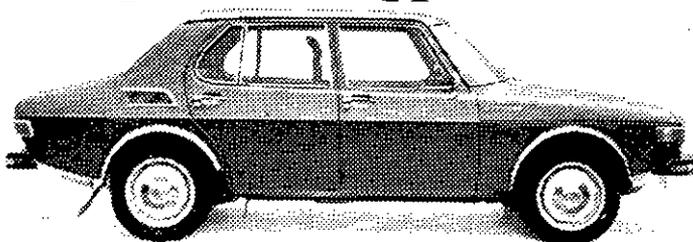

Jensen has devoted more than a dozen years to developing Astros, combining outstanding features from several parent stocks such as Alamo, Garry, Goldwin, Rainbow, and Victoria: Orbit also was developed from these stocks.

Besides its outstanding yield performance, Astro carries a high level of resistance to stem rust, a fungal disease which sometimes takes a heavy toll of cereal grains.

Oats are regarded as the most important spring grain crop in the state with about 300,000 acres in oat production annually: Orbit now makes up more than half the acreage.

on an equal basis with males for jobs at every level of government, based solely on their individual merits—education, experience qualifications.”

Mr. Rezzemini, Bethlehem town attorney and formerly long-time town judge, delivered his remarks at a morning tea in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Farrigan.

“Discrimination is painfully evident,” he said, “when we compare the number of women in top elective and appointed positions with the number of men in similar positions.”

He cited some examples: Two women serving in the U.S. Senate which has 98 men; 11 women in the House of Representatives; only 340 women among 7,000 state legislators, and 200 women among the 10,000 judgeships.

Mr. Rezzemini gave the statistics on the New York State Legislature where there are no women Senators and three women among the 147 serving in the Assembly. He also noted that there are no women serving in the Albany County Legislature.

“These statistics,” he told the gathering in Guelderland, “are a clear call to qualified women everywhere to come forward and make their presence known. As the men of today become more aware of the secondary role women have had to play in government due not to lack of ability or creativity, but solely to the reason of their sex, we will see an increasing number of appointments at every level of government and, hopefully, disappearance of the taboo of allowing women to fully participate in the democratic process.”

He referred to a 1911 speech by Christabel Pankhurst, one of Americas first strong advocates of women's rights, in which she said: “We are here to claim our rights as women, not only to be free but to fight for freedom. It is our privilege, as well as our pride and joy, to take some part in this militant movement, which, as we believe, means the regeneration of all humanity. Nothing but contempt is due people who ask us to submit to unmerited oppression. We shall not do it.”

Mr. Rezzemini said her words are echoed today by thoughtful people everywhere. “We cannot,” he said, “expect nor rightfully watch over half our population stand by and not be allowed to contribute to its full potential and ability.”

aware of their environment in all of its aspects, and then to develop skill in communicating that awareness to others by the use of camera and tape recorder. Incidentally, no familiarity with either of these pieces of equipment is necessary and, if you do not have one of your own, it will be provided, as will all film, tape, etc. The workshop will focus on the collection and analysis of images and sounds in order to discover their social-historical implications. Documentation and analysis of community and neighborhood elements - natural surroundings, buildings, people, daily life, and celebrations - will be the major thrust of the workshop.

Date—The workshop will begin on Saturday, October 14 and run through Sunday, October 22. The facilities will be available for film processing and the director will be on hand for consultation every weekday from 3:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

COST—There is no tuition charge but each participant will be asked to pay a $5.00 registration and supplies fee. The enrollment is limited and registration, which may be made by phone, must be in by October 10.

FACULTY—The workshop will be conducted by Sister Jeanette Christiance, Public Relations Director of The Arts Center. She will be assisted by John Collins, photography instructor at Junior College of Albany, and Ruth Roberts, Graphic Arts Specialist for the Guilderland School System.

For further information and application, contact: Sister Jeanette Christiance, 1061 New Scotland Road, Albany, New York 12208, 438-7885 or 438-8428.

THE SPOTLIGHT

HUNTING and Fishing Day at the Bethlehem Sportsman's Club provided entertainment and discussions for about 350 people. Twenty boys passed their hunter safety tests given by Art Taylor. Winners in the competitions were: in archery, Alan Sinclair, Dileep Gingoli and Buddy Eagan; in fly and bait casting, Danny Cassidy, N. Kellerman, A. Tesch and K. Murphy; in rifle, Tim Keating, Noel Coughtry, Pat Fasulo, Greg Langhauser and Linda Waidelich; in trap, Tom Sousbury, Jeff Ward, Don Veldhaus, John Chrysoglos and George Ward. In the moskeeto competition Richard Lambert, Tim Broda and Brian Bowen were the winners; in the conservation quiz John Meek, Peter Miller and Mark Davis. Log rolling provided many dunkings with Jim Roberts, Miss M. Dingman, P. Clark, J. Morris and J. Hanson best. Mike Cassidy won wrestling on the log. Balloon spearing produced Dileep Gingoli, Sinclair, Mat Burkhardt and David Ferriero as champions.

The pie-eating contest was a riot to watch with Danny Joyce, Danny Cronin and Steve Klein the best of many gobblers.

Supervisor Bert Kohinke awarded the prizes and Bob Dingman was master of the day. The junk-gathering contest was cancelled because everybody stowed paper and cans in the barrels provided for them, which speaks well both for the group attending and the progress being made in convincing people not to litter.

UNTIMELY fly infestations, that plague households long after frosts have eliminated house flies, are caused by flies that are now seeking refuge in your home, says a Cornell University entomologist.

"These pests are commonly called cluster, attic, or buckwheat flies and they are presently moving indoors in search of places to hibernate for the colder months," said Prof. Edgar M. Raffensperger of the N.Y. State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Cornell.

They are slightly larger than the common housefly and their bodies are fringed with yellow hair.

Raffensperger noted that on the cool, sunny afternoons of fall cluster flies are attracted to the warm and comfortable sides of houses from fields where they have been growing and multiplying all summer. Heavy summer rains probably have caused an increase in their numbers.

As evening approaches and the temperature drops to the middle fifties the cluster flies gain entry through small cracks around window frames and under shingles, openings at eaves and roof rafters, and unscreened attic windows and ventilators.

As the temperature drop continues the flies cluster on attic walls, ceilings and floors, or between wall spaces. There they rest until the temperature rises.

Raffensperger explained that in nature a temperature increase signalling renewed activity is not likely to occur until spring. However, in the home the heating system or a temperature rise in the attic beneath a dark-colored roof on a sunny winter day will give the flies a false start.

Then, an out-of-season fly infestation is at hand.

The cluster flies, in their search for the bright outdoors, frequently enter rooms by creeping beneath the attic door, under baseboards, or through small cracks around light fixtures.

Raffensperger suggested that some of this activity can be prevented now if the presence of such flies is observed and an effort is made to caulk, screen or seal the openings.

When these flies are found in attics or lofts of homes, and invasion of the living quarters may be prevented by using an insecticide labeled for flying insects. Pyrethrum and related compounds are quick and effective.

Insecticides with more residual activity, such as Methoxychlor and malathion, are also useful, but must be applied with more caution.

Insecticide-impregnated plastic strips, when hung in the attic will also prevent annoyance. The active ingredient in such products is dichlorovos.

Still another method of control is to open the attic window a short distance so the flies can escape.

Raffensperger added that cluster flies are harmless. They don't transmit disease or breed in the house. However, dead flies should be cleaned up immediately because carpet beetles will brood in the dead bodies and cause a beetle infestation.

NEW CHEVROLETS ARE HERE

CHEVROLET, which sells more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer in the world, in 1973 will offer three product lines that are completely new from the ground up . . . the Monte Carlo, the division's personal luxury car; an all-new Chevelle; and a completely restyled line of pickup trucks, Chevrolet's first new pickup truck in six years.

The 1973 Chevrolets, featuring seven car series . . . from the top-of-the line Caprice to the versatile Vega . . . give America's automobile buyer the greatest choice of styling features and safety innovations ever offered in the division's 62-year history.

In the model year that just ended, Chevrolet broke its all time past sales record. Along the way new sales records were established for the Corvette, the Monte Carlo, the Caprice, the Nova, and the Vega . . . which gives some idea of the breadth of Chevrolet's current sales strength.

John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of Chevrolet, stated that "the '73 models are substantially improved in roadability, comfort and styling."

"In addition," DeLorean added, "Chevrolet dealers are undertaking an all new service program, called Service Supremacy, which should result in a giant step toward better service.

"The addition of an improved product and improved service to the momentum built in the past year should guarantee a super year for Chevrolet in 1973," he concluded.

All told, Chevrolet will offer 47 passenger car models in '73, eight more than in the previous year.

The new Monte Carlo . . . one of the industry's strongest candidates for Car-of-the-Year honors . . . has outstanding handling and roadability characteristics.

From its new impact resistant bumper and new roofline to its sculptured taillights, the Monte Carlo has redesigned interiors, instrument panel and steering wheel.

Also new is an acoustically-engineered double-panel roof while a power-operated all-metal sliding roof is optional.

Another customer-plus is a new 22-gallon fuel tank.

The full size standard Chevrolet let . . . the industry's top selling car . . . offers a new luxury series . . . the top-of-the-line Caprice Classic.

The Classic sports a convertible model for the first time along with two and four-door hardtops and a four-door sedan.

Also offered are two and three-seat Caprice Estate wagons which have a 125 inch wheelbase and the popular Glide-Away tailgate.

New station wagon names in 1973 are keyed to comparable Chevrolet series. Thus the former Kingswood becomes the Impala wagon and the Bel Air replaces the former Brookwood station wagon in the Chevrolet lineup.

Both Nova and Camaro have new model entries in 1973.

The Nova hatchback coupe features a lift-away deck and six-feet of flat floor when the rear seat is in a downward position. Utility is the hallmark of this remarkably-handling small-family car either for in-town shopping or for country cruising or camping.

The newest member of the Camaro family is the Camaro Type LT coupe, a luxury touring model which has a 145-horsepower, Turbo-Fire 350 cubic inch engine.

New styling and handling highlight, too, Chevelle for 1973 along with the introduction into the line of the Colonnade hardtop design. The Chevelle is offered in three series . . . top-of-the-line

FLAGSHIP OF THE FLEET -- The all-new Chevrolet Monte Carlo is among the most changed of all seven Chevrolet car lines in 1973. Featuring beautifully sculptured side and rear-quarter metal, new grille, and an optional Landau or opera-type vinyl roof, the Monte Carlo is a styling classic. Many months of advanced chassis and suspension engineering work have given the Monte Carlo handling and roadability said to equal or surpass that of Europe's most expensive personal touring cars.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

DOG DAYS ARE HERE — WITH A DIFFERENCE! — This year the publicity release from Bethlehem Town Hall said that the dog enumerators would start the census October 1 and that, for the extra convenience of puppy owners, it would be possible to mail in the fee and license application and receive the tag by return mail — thereby eliminating the need to drop in to Town Hall to renew Fido's right-to-be. Okay.

But the dog-counter either doesn't trust the owners in our section of Town — or maybe it's just our house. Anyway our Prince Satan became a statistic four days ahead of the official starting date. Didn't inconvenience us much — because you can't hide the Prince anyway!

WHEN WE MOVED INTO OUR PRESENT HOME, almost eleven years ago, only about 1/2 acre was a cleared lawn. The other 8 acres was a cross between apple-pear-orchard-woods-jungle. Over the past decade we had succeeded in clearing about half of it. With a hand cutters and some added help of a chain saw, it was a back-breaking, weary, drawn-out job. All nine of our offspring were involved at one time or another; our friends and sons-in-law have also helped. But the part that remained this fall is distinguished most for its thorn-bushes, wild raspberry and vines that are almost as strong as rope.

Then we saw an advertisement in the business section of the T-U describing a machine called a Funny Bird. We investigated, bought one — and now the clearing is going much faster. There's still plenty of hard work — but the Funny Bird cuts about 90% of the jungle by power sickle — and that, man, is a big help!

Eventually we're going to find the other half of what was once a prosperous fruit farm.

MR. AND MRS. LEONARD CAMPBELL — what happened to them? We got a call after asking the question. In 1969 (!), they moved to Whispering Pines, North Carolina. The moral here is that man has become so self-centered and self-sufficient that he doesn't bother to even know when neighbors change — or old friends depart. It's quite a shock to realize that it took us 3 years to find out that they were no longer here. Our belated best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell — whatever may have taken them to North Carolina!

THE LETTERS CAME IN PROFUSION — and again, we must limit their space and use the most important parts of each. First, from the Mc Governites:

Dear Mr. Fuller:

As the recipient of two or three calls and two letters, all courteous, from the local McGovern campaign, I cannot help but wonder if the call you received, and described in your Sept. 14 column, was an exception to the rule, or whether your own very obvious bias colored your description.

You say the caller "insists that our 18-year old is so stupid that he doesn't know where to register . . ." Did the caller actually say something like "I know your son is stupid, so we'd better come over and lead him to the South Bethlehem Fire House?" Or did he routinely inform you of the time and place of registration and voting, as do workers for both parties every year?

I suppose I could say that those Nixon supporters who chanted "four more years!" at the Miami convention were

Maurice H. O'Brien

Dear Mr. Fuller,

I was very sorry to learn in your September 14 column that you had been offended by a call to your son offering him voters registration information. Certainly no representative of the Bethlehem Committee for McGovern-Shriver would intentionally annoy potential supporters of the Senator through impolite questioning.

We found great appreciation by unregistered voters for information about the closing dates of central registration at the Board of Elections, residency requirements which vary from county to county, and absentee registration and ballots for themselves or relatives in military service, college or away on business. Confusion on these matters is by no means due to the "stupidity" of the citizen, as you implied, but due to the lack of a uniform and simplified national election law.

George McGovern wants to involve the entire nation in the political process. What better first step exists than to actively assure each American that he can in fact vote on November 7 if he so desires?

Sincerely yours,
Henrik Dullea, Coordinator
Beth. Comm. for McGovern-Shriver

40 years of making the best . . .

for less than the rest.

Dear Mr. Fuller:

First, you complain that the McGovern caller phones "during the evening when the 18 year olds are not likely to be home." If they are not likely to be home in the evening, when are they likely to be there?

The absurdity of your opening attack casts heavy doubt on the accuracy of your other statements. As a veteran telephone canvasser, I cannot imagine being annoyed, much less showing annoyance, if the callee is not home. Usually about half the calls made yield this result — it is part of the game, taken in stride.

Last of all, I find it impossible to swallow as true that the McGovern caller became angered and slammed the receiver upon hearing that your son's vote was his own business. This is a common, and not necessarily, negative response. There would be no reason for the caller to give up on Jim's vote here, let alone treat you rudely.

Please try to be more fair, or at least do not let your bias allow your writing to be so implausible, in the future.

Sincerely,
Moddy Gentile

WE HAD THE MISTAKEN IDEA that if we pointed out that the McGovern-Shriver Committee is doing itself harm, steps would be taken to correct what is happening. We did some random checking and discovered that ours was not an unique experience.

In addition to the incidents above, earlier this year there was another rather unpleasant experience with the same group in our home. A young man who was living with us cast his first vote in November 1972 — and at the same time enrolled in the Democrat Party. During the two weeks prior to the primary, he received a minimum of 5 calls. The callers were so insistent that he vote for Senator McGovern that he flatly decided not to vote at all; he switched his allegiance to the Republican Party and will never enroll in either again.

Whether one is a telephone canvasser or engages in some other form of political activity, it is often difficult but should be rewarding work. To us, the work can only be rewarding if every worker pulls his or her share. It seems to us that before jumping us, these workers might better have sought out the worker(s) who may be tearing down much of the accomplishment of the others.

If our attempt at helping isn't wanted or appreciated — okay.

... AND KEVIN HUGHES WRITES AGAIN:

Dear Sir:

I was delighted to see publication of my letter. I also got quite a laugh out of your Jack Anderson-type profile on me. It looks as though you've done your homework about as well as President Kennedy and the CIA at the Bay of Pigs. For the record I was not in attendance at either convention as a delegate or a so-called protestor. My address is 11 Heather Lane and not court. Yes, I am a student at BU College of Liberal Arts majoring in Political Science. As for your question on the casualty figures, I have been in contact with the JFK Presidential library in Waltham and have also written inquiries to the War Department and the Senate Foreign Relations committee. As soon as I receive a reply I'll be happy to forward it to you.*

As for my being an admirer of Jane Fonda, I'm not particularly, but merely wished to express the opinion that an individual of any political persuasion be free to speak without being attacked personally. In other words, let the merits of the case rest on the issues without involving the Fallacy of "Ad Hominem."

Neither do I consider the last five presidents war mongers; only that this war is an American tragedy and not a partisan issue. Also, this war has grown out of the "group-think" process so inherent in the decision-making process in government. I was also under the impression that although Congress appropriated the money, it was the president who went before that august body with his budget proposals. As anyone well knows, Congress has become nothing more than a rubber stamp for the president when the time rolls around for military appropriations. Perhaps you could enlighten me better as to the workings of government than any of my teachers and professors.

I also fail to see how stepping up the bombings gets back our POWs. I'm sure you're familiar with the headlines of the past few weeks that 95 more pilots have been lost in the previous 5 months. I'm also confused as to how the "incursions" into Laos and Cambodia two years ago and the fact that the bombing going on now has been the heaviest of the war, not to mention the mining of Haiphong, can be concluded as a way of ending the war.

Concerning your Chancellor statement, I really don't feel qualified to comment on it since I don't have any frame of reference to place it in and also because I watch Walter Cronkite. I feel he is less biased.

Signed,
Kevin H. Hughes

*Kevin Hughes was wrong in his statement in his first letter that the US "has suffered more casualties in his (Pres. Nixon's) 3-1/2 years in office than in the previous 8." Through last week, US casualties in Vietnam were 45,857 — 31,181 prior to Mr. Nixon's taking office; 14,676 during his administration. Of the more than 1/2 million men in Vietnam at the beginning of the Nixon administration, 36,000 non-combat troops are all that remain there. The figures quoted here are not political propaganda, just facts.

Our only comment: Amen.

and decay and find out which plants and animals are associated with each stage. The underlying theme of this class is the natural recycling of living materials.

D. LIFE IN A FIELD — Grades 3-5 — Meadows are full of a great variety of life forms. Children will hunt for mouse runs, identify common plants, and collect insects to see how these are adapted for life in a field.

E. MATHEMATICAL FOREST ECOLOGY — Grades 6-8 — Students will use a clinometer, a hypsometer, and an increment borer to measure the productivity and ecological condition of the forest.

F. STREAM STUDIES — Grades 6-8 — Students will walk along the Vlomankill to study stream ecology. Topics to be covered include geology, water pollution, stream invertebrates, and mapping.

II. SPECIAL CLASSES

A. HIGH SCHOOL LEVEL — Classes on special topics will be arranged with individual teachers. As much as possible these will be laboratory type situations in which students are actively doing field studies. Ideas: population biology, astronomy, geology, water quality analysis, botanical studies, behavioral studies.

B. CURRICULUM SPECIALTIES — Classes in the following areas will be arranged on request.

SOCIAL STUDIES — Five Rivers Center is an excellent resource for teaching about pioneer life. We have an apple orchard for cider, plants for natural dyes, etc. We can also prepare a class on the governmental aspects of environmental planning.

MATHEMATICS — Outdoor math has many possibilities, estimating board feet of lumber, triangulation, compass reading and orienteering, etc.

ART — Our clay is good for potting, our weeds for weaving, and our landscapes ideal for painting.

ENGLISH — There are many ways to incorporate writing experiences with a trip to Five Rivers. Bring your own classes, or plan jointly with a science teacher.

We hope that we have corrected any misconceptions about Five Rivers and again we apologize for the wrong information which was included in this column. The information, as told to us, was faithfully reported and if we had been able to reach Henry Diamond, some of the mistakes might have been avoided. While we may not agree with everything that is being done, in all fairness we must admit that the ambitious plans and programs are truly worthwhile.

Ours is not the only concern that some of the many privileges may be abused and some despoiled — but perhaps the good will far outweigh what is bad. We sincerely hope so.

The finest fire protection is still dependent on the fire prevention habits of all.
