The Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

OVER STORY

HISS THE VILLAIN!

SUSAN SCHER of Guilderland as Goldie Hills pleads for her life in the clutches of Harvey Greene portrayed by Dick McGrath of Troy in the Slingerlands Community Players' production of Ten Nights In A Barroom. Graham Zeh of Colonie is directing a new musical version of this classic melodrama.

Will Goldie escape before the river rises? Will a friendly mouse gnaw the ties that bind her? Will the hero brave the storm to rescue this damsel in distress? Is she really tied to the stake or is Greene telling us that the rope is supporting an oversize gown. Learn the answers to these and many more questions at The Playhouse at performances on October 25 through 29 and November 1 through 5. The Playhouse is in Unionville on Rt. 443 (Delaware Turnpike) about two and one-half miles southwest of Bethlehem Central Senior High School. Curtain is at 8:30 each evening.

This production is rated 2F for Family Fun. Come boo the villain, cheer for the hero and root for Goldie. Tickets are on sale at L. J. Mullen Pharmacy and the Delmar Tavern.

Look what we found! IN THE MAILBAG

Dear Sir:

As a supporter of Mr. Harry Rezzemini, candidate for the office of County Judge, I cannot let pass the charges of impropriety leveled by the Democratic Town Chief, Mr. Kenelm Thatcher, against the "Friends of Rezzemini" Committee.

I also received one of those letters soliciting funds in support of Mr. Rezzemini's candidacy. I did not feel that any pressure was exerted to extract financial support. In the past, while dealing with town government officials, I found my requests were handled fairly, based on their merits.

Incidentally, the very same Mr. Thatcher personally solicited prizes from our business for the Democratic Party's summer outing, and we contributed. I do not consider Mr. Thatcher's solicitation impropriety, but rather normal political action. Just where do politicians acquire their financial support, if not from businesses and friends?

One further thought, where does Mayor Corning and company get its financial support?

Although inclement weather prevented Bizarre Bazaar from being held outdoors on the snow-fencing provided and erected by the Town of Bethlehem, the panels loaned by the School District saved the day and the art work was displayed in the Library corridors.

And now, back to your palettes and brushes, all you artists! It's time to prepare for the Fifteenth Annual Bizarre Bazaar next year!

YOU HAVE SEEN the art work of the youth of the Bethlehem School District, now you are able to see the drawings of Japanese children aged eight to eleven. The drawings, on loan from the Rotary Club of Delmar, are on display in the corridors of the Bethlehem Public Library, 451 Delaware Avenue, Delmar.

The drawings were made by children in Hokkaido primary school district in Sapporo, Japan. They were sent to the President of the Rotary Club of Delmar, Howard Geyer, by the Rotary Club of Sapporo South in Japan as a means of getting acquainted, since Miss Lesley LeFevra, the Rotary Exchange Student from Delmar, will be hosted by the Sapporo Club.

Shiro Fujii, President of the Sapporo Club, wrote in his letter to Mr. Geyer, "Pictures are termed the international language which tightly connects the minds of the people of the world without saying a single word. We sincerely hope that the pictures we have sent will contribute to promote friendship between your people and ours."

The Bethlehem Public Library hopes so too!

GETTING OUT THE VOTE — Ned E. Meara, Supplies Buyer for The Grand Union Company, and Mrs. Burnetta Loftus, Voter Service Chairman of the League of Women Voters of New Jersey, examine samples of the more than 20-million specially-imprinted grocery bags that the large food chain is distributing in its stores along the eastern seaboard to encourage voting in the November 7 Presidential election.

HERE AND THERE

"VOTE — It's the American way!" That's the message that more than 3 million customers a week are receiving at their local Grand Union supermarkets.

The nation's tenth largest food chain has begun using specially imprinted bright red and blue "get out and vote" messages accented by the American flag on the side of its grocery bags.

By the time that the election takes place on November 7, it is estimated that the company will have distributed more than 20-million of the bags through its more than 500 supermarkets along the Eastern seaboard.

In urging its customers to vote, Grand Union is cooperating with the League of Women Voters through Mrs. Burnetta Loftus, Voter Service Chairman of the League of Women Voters of New Jersey.

"The right of every American to cast his ballot in free elections is vital to our democracy," Mr. Meara stated. "and we think the 'Vote' message in a Presidential election year is extremely important."

MOWGLI, BOY OF THE JUNGLE is the title of the exciting musical play to be performed by the world-famous Nicolo Marionettes on Sunday, October 22, at Congregation Ohav Shalom, New Krumkill Road Albany. The program is sponsored by the Albany Jewish Community Center.

Based on Rudyard Kipling's immortal classic, "Jungle Books," the marionette play tells the story of MOWGLI, lost in the deep jungle as a child and adopted by a family of wolves. MOWGLI frolics from one adventure to another as he learns the fierce, yet compassionate ethics of Jungle Brotherhood.

FIRE How the Fire Department Can Help Us

Lately, fire has been a constant danger, and the fire department has always been there to help. Without the fire department's aid, many more fires would be uncontrollable, and as a result, more people would be homeless. Firemen are volunteers in small communities; and they risk their lives to save you and your property. In any condition, firemen are there fighting the fire that may be threatening your home and endangering your life. Fire is a hazard to anyone. Fire could state from an old rag carelessly tossed into a cluttered closet, or from old and uncoated wires.

What to do When Fire is Near

The first and most important thing to do is to evacuate the building when fire occurs. Most people that are caught in fires don't die of being burned, but of smoke inhalation.

How Most Fires Start

Most fires are a result of careless acts. Just starting to light a match in the wrong place could immediately ignite flammable materials nearby. When newspapers are carelessly left around the house, fires can start. Too many electric appliances that are plugged into one outlet can easily

How to Help Prevent Fires

Old rags should be disposed of in air tight containers in order to prevent ignition. Rags and flammable materials should never be thrown into a closet. Old furnaces and refrigerator motors should be replaced when worn. This could start an electrical fire. Never hesitate to call the fire department.

Church, 85 Elm Avenue, at 4:00 P.M.

Key 73 is a continent-wide thirst in which 130 denominations and church bodies—working individually or in cooperation with other groups or congregations at the community level — will seek to confront people throughout the land with the Gospel of Jesus Christ in 1973.

This will be done by proclamation and demonstration, in hopes that the concerted effort will unite Christians in the common task of evangelism. Key 73 is not designed to establish an ecumenical-type movement, or set up a new ecclesiastical structure to force denominations or groups into some new organic church union.

It is designed simply to present the claims of a person -- Jesus Christ -- to the people of this continent.

The purpose of Sunday's rally will be to explain more fully the goal of Key 73 and supply details of its organization to all interested individuals. There will be time allotted for those interested in taking an active part in Key 73 to choose the areas of involvement that they most desire.

Keynote speaker at the rally, which will last until approximately 5:30, will be Russell D. Goodwin, Jr., Pastor of the South Bethlehem United Methodist Church. The Key 73 effort in this area will be implemented wholly by local pastors and laymen and not national personnel.

The Initiating Committee for Key 73 consists of Reverend Goodwin; Rev. Jack Hilbrands, First Reformed Church of Bethlehem; Rev. Gerard Van Heest and Rev. David Cooper, Delmar Reformed Church; Rev. Arthur E. Gay, Jr., and Rev. David McDowell, Bethlehem Community Church; Rev. Jack Cooper, Glenmont Community Church; Rev. Paul Gassmann, Bethlehem Lutheran Church, and Mr. Denton Conklin, Normansville Community Church.

In order to safeguard autonomy of doctrine and practice of each participating church group, Key 73 has three principles of operation, involving separate development of each group's own programs, a simultaneous implementation of them in 1973 for maximum impact, and a cooperative use of communications media.

The national program development committees have outlined six phases of Key 73 — "Calling

THERE'S GOOD news this winter for people who heat their homes with fuel oil: the price of fuel will not go up.

Several of the nation's largest oil companies have told the Price Commission in Washington that they do not plan to ask for price increases on No. 2 home heating oil this winter. In the past, the price of the oil often went up seasonally during winter months.

The oil companies decided not to ask for a price increase after informal meetings with Price Commission officials.

Stabilization officials made it clear they were concerned about the impact of any oil price increase on the national economy and on individual consumers. Further, they told the oil companies that any request for a price increase would require a formal public hearing, similar to the recent hearings on the auto industry.

These informal talks by the Price Commission staff -- and the oil men's response -- are an example of Commission activities that seldom make headlines but nonetheless help hold-down prices.

Another major factor keeping down oil prices is the government's recent decision to allow up to 621,000 barrels a day of additional foreign oil into the country during October, November and December. This action permits as much as 83,000 barrels daily of No. 2 fuel oil, up from the previously authorized 45,000.

Price Commission officials noted there are two instances which could result in price hikes in localized areas. Small firms with less than 61 employees are exempt from the Commission's regulations. And firms which have cut prices below their base prices can raise prices back to base again.

Saving Money on Groceries

Want to save money next time you go to the grocery store? News reports from Michigan, Idaho and New York provide some clues.

Never go to a food store when you are hungry or without a list, is the advise of Sharon Wineland, consumer marketing agent at Michigan State University.

"The list can be flexible," Miss Wineland states. "You can wait and see what's on special when you get there." But a list is important to prevent impulse buying or at least keep it to a minimum.

The same is true if you're hungry, Miss Wineland noted. You tend to buy more than you need. Miss Wineland was interviewed by the Lansing Journal.

From Boise, Idaho, comes news of an interesting experiment in marketing. Mary Jane Williams, a correspondent for the Boise Statesman, made up a list of items which cost exactly $10 at the store in which she regularly shops. Then she went to five others food stores in nearby Idaho towns and figuratively "bought" the same items.

The result: The $10 grocery list could be bought for as little as $9.67 in one store, but cost as much as $11.23 in another. That's a $1.56 difference, almost 16 percent of the low price.

The Price Commission has been saying for some time that it pays to shop around; Correspondent Williams helps prove it.

Nationally syndicated columnist Sylvia Porter recently reported on a similar experiment. She asked a friend to wheel two shopping carts through a supermarket, loading one cart with the most expensive version of the food on her grocery list and another cart with the least expensive.

When she checked out the two carts, the bargain cart came to $22.54 less than the other one. Convenience items -- such as pre-peeled vegetables and butter added to frozen foods -- were missing from the less expensive cart, but many people might find the 88 percent savings well worth the bother.

A Bit of Sacrifice

The Price Commission expects complaints (both from consumers and businessmen) about its regulations because it's impossible to come up with a set of rules that everyone considers fair to them. Often, however, the Commission hears from people who are willing to be pinched a bit because they figure they -- and everyone else -- will be better off in the long run.

The sort of sentiment was expressed recently by H.W. Close, president of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, headquarters in Charlotte, N.C. "Our profit margin limits are measured against a very low base period when the industry was depressed, so we can't enjoy the full benefits of economic recovery," he said, but added: "If the controls work, we as an industry can endure the sacrifice."

Buying Power Increases

Statisticians in Washington and elsewhere talk a lot about complex indexes that measure the consumer and wholesale prices, but what most people are interested in is whether they are better or worse off financially than before.

The measure for this nationwide is an index called "real spendable earnings." It reports the average weekly after-tax pay of most American wage earners, and then makes an allowance for inflation.

READY TO GET ON THE BUS are members of the Albany Builder's Association and their wives as they prepare to depart for Portugal and Spain to attend the annual convention and Director's Meeting of the New York State Builder's Association.

DELMAR, NEW YORK

These two safety experts can help teach kids the facts about electrical safety.

All children should know more about electrical safety, and you'll find no finer way of teaching them than through our two safety experts pictured here.

These two experts star in a 10-minute cartoon called "Electric Safety from A to Zap." The cartoon explains the characteristics of electrical safety in the home and around the neighborhood while the cat's lack of knowledge continually gets him in trouble.

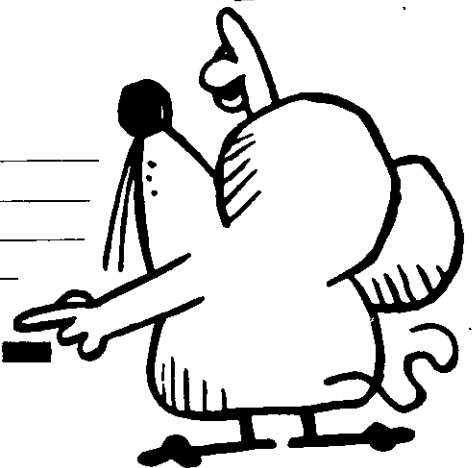

Besides the cartoon feature, we'll provide a Complete Lesson Plan that includes factual material necessary to explain the basic principles of electrical power generation, transmission, distribution, power emergencies and first aid, to name just a few. We'll also supply learning aids that include a variety of films and literature.

The entire electrical safety course has been designed to develop student attitudes, practices and habits which will, hopefully, eliminate needless electrical accidents.

For more information, or to obtain this course for your school, youth organization or church group, phone the nearest Niagara Mohawk office or mail this coupon to: System Public Relations Dept., Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., 300 Erie Blvd. West, Syracuse, New York 13202.

BOBBY FISCHER Shows You How In His Challenging Chess Course!

BOBBY FISCHER, in cooperation with XEROX EDUCATION DIVISION, has produced the most precise, most efficient and fastest method of improving your chess game ever conceived. Bobby Fischer's profound chess knowledge and unique thinking is systematically presented in crystal clear visual terms with computer accuracy. This course is a revolutionary break-through in chess instruction. There is very little to read. There is no chess notation. And you don't even have to use your chess set while you're learning. Virtually every page of this incredible course presents you with a fascinating chess problem that not only challenges your chess ability but instantly rewards you with new insights, new knowledge and new power.

If you love to play chess... and it doesn't matter whether you are just learning to play or have been playing for years... you can look forward to one of the most enjoyable and most rewarding chess experiences of your life! Bobby Fischer's Chess Course is truly as incredible as Bobby Fischer himself.

It teaches you to think the same way Bobby does. It reveals mating positions that you may never have dreamed existed. It shows you exactly how to look for, discover and exploit these mating themes in all your games. It teaches brilliant, classic defenses against mating threats... defenses you may never have discovered for yourself no matter how long you've been playing!

As you might well guess, Bobby Fischer's chess course is totally unique and totally unlike any other chess book ever written. He teaches you... literally in minutes... how to look for and recognize basic strategic situations in every game and then how to instantly apply the proper mating (or defense) tactics.

As you examine the games shown above and look for the correct mating moves, ask yourself the following vital question: Do you normally LOOK FOR and READILY RECOGNIZE CLASSIC MATING SITUATIONS... or do you constantly struggle through each and every game searching for the right moves to overcome your opponent... without ever recognizing the similarity of common mating situations?

Bobby Fischer shows you how to recognize these common mating situations. He strips away the confusion of complex play and focuses a brilliant light on basic, easy-to-learn, easy-to-recognize Classic Mating Principles.

You'll be genuinely amazed how often you'll discover instant mating situations once you've learned what to look for! You'll be absolutely astonished at how many games you'll win in the future by recognizing and exploiting these same, common mating variations.

The moment you get Bobby Fischer's Chess Course, you will quickly see how it can dramatically improve your chess game whether you are a rank beginner or a strong player. You may also discover, for the first time in your life, exactly how well... or how poorly... you really play chess. But regardless of how you play chess now, YOU WILL BE A FAR BETTER PLAYER AFTER TAKING BOBBY'S CHESS COURSE!

Right now the sales room at the Garden Shoppe is filled with just about every type bird feeder to be found anywhere. There's also a large display of Wildwood seed mix — and the only place you can buy it in NYS is at the Garden Shoppe — it's an exclusive with them. Wildwood is the seed that has been developed with the birds in mind. It's more than 40% sunflower seed and the other varieties are the seeds the birds will eat — not waste. As nearly as we can estimate, Wildwood saved us about 25% on our feed bill last winter and we had more varieties of more birds than ever before.

Some of our readers may object to the amount of space we will devote to the birds the next few months — but winter feeding is one of the fun projects of winter and every year more families are doing it.

ONLY KIND LETTERS THIS WEEK! — Must be that we're slipping when the letters agree with us and the number of phone calls keeps increasing. The mention of old AHS grads brought an avalanche of letters too personal to be of any great interest to our readers. We did receive one from Jerry Passer relative to the Five Rivers Environmental Educational Center that we are including here:

Dear LeVere:

I want to thank you for living up to your word and publishing the full report on the Pond Draining Accident at Delmar and also for the excellent review of your observations and impressions gained during your visit to the center. I received many calls from residents of the Delmar/Slingerlands area indicating their satisfaction with the report and editorial contained in the Spotlight. I look forward to our continued cooperation and exchange of information with respect to center activities as an important method of keeping the interested public informed at all times.

Enclosed is a flyer describing a conference which is coming up toward the end of the month that may be of interest to you. I have been affiliated with this organization for five years now and it continues to grow and will some day become a leader in an environmental education development and program implementation in the State. Several local teachers, Education Department personnel and State University staff will be attending this conference.

Next year, I will be conference chairman for this conference and I am proposing that it be held in the Lake George/Warrensburg area. The emphasis of that conference will be on the forest and open space resources of the State.

Hope to see you again soon.

Sincerely yours,
Jerry E. Passer, Director
Bureau of Education
