The Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

How about discussing this coupon at the next meeting of your club or organization?

All you have to do to get an interesting and informative program for your club or organization is mail this coupon to Niagara Mohawk.

Our Speakers Bureau can provide you with a number of interesting talks, 16mm films, color-slide programs and demonstrations on a wide variety of subjects, at no charge or obligation.

For example, if your club is interested in nuclear power, we have three different programs available.

Operation Atomic, a 30-minute talk and color-slide presentation, describes the many environmental studies that were conducted before Niagara Mohawk received permission to construct its nuclear plant on Lake Ontario.

Atomic Power Today: Service with Safety shows how nuclear generating plants are meeting the need for additional power. This color film is available in 15- or 28-minute versions.

Nine Mile Point is a 23-minute color film that follows the planning, site selection, construction, testing and operation of Niagara Mohawk's Nuclear Station at Nine Mile Point on Lake Ontario.

Of course, there are other programs besides these three on nuclear power. They range from a cartoon feature on electrical safety to a dramatic film on the problems of nighttime crime and traffic accidents.

To get a complete listing of all the programs (or to arrange a program of special interest), phone your nearest Niagara Mohawk office or mail the entire coupon to:

THE JUDGE WE ELECT TO ALBANY COUNTY COURT WILL SERVE UNTIL 1982

That's 10 years on the bench, or time to effect the lives of almost all the people of Albany County. That's why the man who takes office in January must be a man of impeccable credentials. Judge Rezzemini is such a man. 8 years on the bench. 31 years' in the practice of law. A man who has kept politics out of his life and out of his court room.

The Spotlight POLITICAL ARENA

Letter to the Editor:

I am delighted that Harry Rezemini of Delmar is running for Albany County Court Judge this fall. He has, in my opinion, done an outstanding job as Bethlehem Town Justice and presently as Town Attorney. I am sure as County Judge, he will carry out the duties of his office with honesty and integrity as he is that kind of man.

Ellen C. Colloton
12 Stonehenge Lane
Albany

To the Editor:

Albany County's Sewer District #1 has announced that its two secondary treatment plants will be operational by the fall of 1973. But until a plant is built to serve the cities and towns just across the Hudson River, we in Albany County won't be getting full benefit from our tax outlay, nor will the river be useable for riverfront parks and boating. This is only one reason the League of Women Voters supports the State Environmental Quality Bond Issue, which will be on the ballot in November. The Rensselaer County Sewer District's proposed plant is on the priority list to receive funds from the $650 million allotted for sewage treatment facilities. Areas in Albany County designated for sewage treatment funds are Altamont, Guilderland, Colonie, Green Island, and Watervliet. Bethlehem is receiving money for this purpose from the 1965 Pure Waters Bond Act.

Other uses for the total $1.15 billion Bond Issue will be to help curtail air pollution from state and municipal sources; encourage better facilities for solid waste disposal; including recycling where feasible; help lands; and save some unique natural areas throughout the state.

We cannot afford to wait to protect the environment for ourselves and our children. We urge all voters to vote YES on Proposition One, the Environmental Bond Issue. The League stands ready to talk to any and all groups on this subject.

Yours truly,
Ann Brandon, President
League of Women Voters of Albany County

Hope Donovan, Chairman
Environmental Quality
Committee

LIBRARY NOTES

CURTAIN RAISERS is a club for seventh and eighth graders which is a function of the Bethlehem Public Library. We are starting with the very basics of acting and moving on to pantomime plays and whatever else interests the group. Our only problem is that we need more males who are interested in dramatics, for their help in assuming male roles and help in the area of difficult scenery undertakings. We will meet Friday, October 27, and every other Friday following. Four o'clock is the time and we'd love seeing some more male faces.

ON SUNDAY, October 29, at the Bethlehem Public Library, in the Community Room will be presented the first part of a three-part film series titled, History of the Silent Cinema. The program, presented by David Cole will consist of three movies: "The Fun Factory," Mack Sennett; "Hollywood: The Golden Years;" and "History of the Cinema." The program will begin at 2 P.M. You won't want to miss this trip down memory lane.

The Spotlight Goes to School

ON FRIDAY, October 27, the Distributive Education classes at Bethlehem Central High School will participate in a five-hour seminar on marketing and merchandising at Montgomery Ward and Company, Robert A. Pierson, Coordinator of Distributive Education, has announced.

The invitation, issued by S.S. Burgio, Retail Store Manager of the Menands Montgomery Ward store, is part of the Centennial year celebration of the company.

The Distributive Education classes, both I and II, of Mr. Pierson and Hugh J. Brown will participate in the all-day seminar. This includes both juniors and seniors.

The program is an endeavor on the part of Montgomery Ward to acquaint the young people with the many aspects of merchandising. The students and faculty will be guests at lunch in the store's Bufteteria.

THE MEMBERS of the Distributive Education classes at Bethlehem Central High School visited the Central Market Warehouse in two groups on October 17 and 18.

On October 17 the classes of Robert A. Pierson, Coordinator of Distributive Education, made the trip, while on October 18, Hugh J. Brown's classes were given the same tour.

Donald Guarnari, Personnel Manager, assisted by Marion Capullo, Secretary in the Advertising Department and Barbara Lent, Secretary in the Personnel

Department, conducted the tours. The students were given an opportunity to see the handling of various types of produce and its preservation through temperature control. They also observed the arrival of train loads of produce and groceries.

Next the students saw the use of the computer in inventory control, record-keeping for each of the stores, and the filling of store orders.

Each student was given 1,000 stamps and information about employment opportunities with Central Markets.

PARENTS OF students in Bethlehem Central schools have been visiting classrooms this week, in observance of American Education Week, 1972, Oct. 22 through Oct. 28. Invitations have been sent home with students, asking parents to visit different times during the school day, to observe specific lessons.

In addition, "Back to School Night" programs were scheduled on three evenings for parents of Middle School and High School students. These programs give parents the opportunity to meet their children's teachers, see their classrooms, and hear about their program of instruction.

The official proclamation of American Education Week, 1972, signed by President Richard Nixon, states, in part: "Education is the doorway to opportunity, and the theme of American Education Week, 'Make Education Top Priority,' carries with it a commitment to provide equal educational opportunity for every individual in this nation. I urge all citizens to help our schools honor this commitment."

JOAN JAMISON, Artistic Director of the Playwright's Theater, has announced the solicitation of new scripts for production this year. Sought are two plays for production in February and March of 1973. One for children's theater, not longer than an hour in length, will be presented by young people of junior and senior high school age. The second, a full length play, is to be presented by a predominantly adult cast.

The Playwright's Theater, a project funded in part by the New York State Council on the Arts, was established at Saint Agnes School in Albany for the purpose of showcasing new plays by promising New York State playwrights. The theater's first production, Martin Kelley's "The Awakening," is scheduled for an off-Broadway run later this Fall.

ALARMED BY increasing vandalism and malicious mischief on Hallowe'en, Pinkerton's, Inc. today invited home owners and businessmen to join its three-year-old program "Op TOT" (Operation Trick of Treat), designed to protect children and property through planned holiday activity and new emphasis on child and adult education.

E.A. Williams, manager of Pinkerton's Albany office, said its "Op TOT" program is designed to alert parents to potential hazards that exist on Mischief Night and Hallowe'en—Monday, October 30, and Tuesday, October 31—and to consider preventive plans of action. He cited increased reports of barbiturates and sleeping pills in trick-or-treat bags and candy that has been "booby-trapped" with foreign objects, and outlined precautions that should be taken to protect children.

"Some parents are concerned about letting children go out at all, because of past experience and the publicity given to the ever-widening problem," Mr. Williams stated.

"Many communities are coping with the growing threat by hosting parties at schools and churches. Such parties offer supervision in addition to refreshments and entertainment. It is not unusual to charge a small admission if necessary to defray the costs," Williams added.

Acknowledging that most parents and children will observe the traditional practice of trick-or-treating, he suggests the following precautions:

Instruct children making rounds not to eat any of the candy or fruit received until they return home.

When children return home, all fruit should be opened and/or inspected to be sure it has not been tampered with and to be sure that it contains no foreign objects.

Make sure that all candies are in sealed wrappers; that the wrappers have not been opened and that the manufacturer is a recognized brand name.

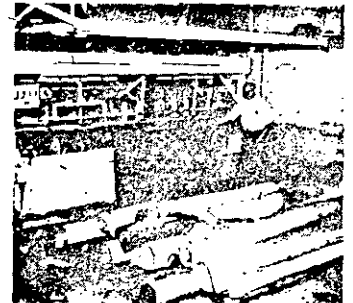

To protect children from harm while on neighborhood streets, Williams also suggests the following safeguards:

Try to have an adult chaperone children on their rounds; one adult for each ten children is suggested.

Make sure children wear a light-colored jacket over their costume if it is dark in color. Trick-or-treaters should be readily visible to motorists in the twilight hours.

Costumes should be short enough so that children can move freely and easily.

Limit the perimeter of their rounds to homes in your immediate neighborhood where you are known.

There is an additional hazard from accidental fire. Williams said. This can be minimized, according to the security experts by using flameproof costumes and lighting pumpkins with flashlights instead of candles. Parents are also cautioned in the purchase of halloween makes and wigs. "The mixture of water, borax and boric acid is widely used to make costumes fire retardant, but it has serious limitations when used on cotton and rayons." Williams continued.

Referring to vandalism, Pinkertons reports that many businessmen have hired temporary guards to protect their interests on Hallowe'en. Particularly vulnerable are automobile dealers, nurseries, all-night stores such as laundromates and drug stores... and especially churches, cemeteries and poorly lighted residential area."

NEW YORK motorists who travel in other states will soon be offered additional liability insurance protection—at no additional cost. Insurance Services Office of New York announced today.

Kenneth O. Smith, ISO regional vice president, said his organization has developed a program—recently approved by the New York Insurance Department—which automatically gives New Yorkers the amount of liability insurance necessary to meet the financial responsibility laws of other states.

Presently, New York motorists involved in out-of-state accidents

"The new protection applies to private passenger autos registered or principally garaged in New York," said Mr. Smith. "There is no additional cost to the motorists."

ISO, an insurance rating, statistical and advisory organization which services more than 250 insurance companies in New York, is implementing the program on an advisory basis starting Jan. 1, 1973. The additional coverage will thus be available to motorists whose companies choose to adopt the program.

The requirements of the states with respect to financial responsibility vary, but generally require persons involved in auto accidents to furnish proof that they can respond to the costs of injuries and property damage up to stated amounts. The proof is usually in the form of liability insurance.

In New York, motorists involved in an accident must prove they can meet the state's liability limits of "10/20/5" -- meaning they must be able to pay up to $10,000 for one person injured, $20,000 for all persons injured and $5,000 property damage.

However, if a New York driver (who carries lower limits of insurance than required by other states) were involved in an accident in another state such as Connecticut, where the liability limits are "20/40/10", he would have to post a bond for the additional amounts if his policy did not contain at least these amounts of liability coverage. Other states in this part of the country with higher limits than New York are Maine, 20/40/10; New Hampshire 20/40/5; New Jersey 15/30/5 (effective Jan. 1, 1973) and Maryland 15/30/5.

When the program becomes effective, ISO said, persons who already have or who purchase new auto policies with ISO companies adopting this program are automatically covered.

Wandering & Wondering ...

WE'RE FOR IT — The proposition on this year's ballot seeking local approval to extend the term of our Supervisor and Town Clerk we believe, should receive a "yes" vote. The two-year term has been replaced by the four-year in most elective offices. The main reason is still a valid one: many plans (no matter what office) take longer than two years to complete; a four-year term would, therefore, allow (especially the Supervisor) for better long-range planning with an opportunity for follow-through.

It amuses us to see some of the arguments put forth against the proposition. Those opposed intimate that a two-year term is too much for an incompetent officeholder — so why take a gamble on four? The history of the Town of Bethlehem shows that our Supervisors over a 25-year period have all been competent men whose dedication to doing the right things for Bethlehem have always overshadowed any desire for personal gain. During the past quarter century not one of these men has ever used his office for a stepping-stone to anything higher; there has never been even a breath of scandal; not one investigation; the State of New York (which audits Town, City and County operations) has never leveled a criticism at a Town of Bethlehem administration. During all of these years, the GOP has been in power — small wonder that the Republicans point with so much pride to their past record.

This is not to say that we should lengthen the term of office only in the event of an assured Republican victory. We feel that the Democrats have also run some very dedicated men for the Town's highest office — and if the Democrats are victorious at some future date, the man who takes over for them surely deserves four years to prove himself.

It seems to us that rather than a political question, this is one of common sense — and a "yes" vote should give both parties added confidence in their electorate.

A LETTER FROM CHARLES LOSACCO on behalf of the Slingerlands players evokes only this comment: when we have space, we are very willing to publicize the productions of other groups — but, we are always cramped for space and therefore our loyalty will always be to help the Players in every way we can.

Here's the letter:

Dear LeVere:

On behalf of the Slingerlands Community Players, thanks so much for all of the space you have made available to us recently, and in the past, in The Spotlight. A community organization such as ours depends on total support from the community. But more to the point, any community theatre relies on serious acceptance of live theatre produced by one's friends and neighbors. About five years ago, five community theatres in the Tri-Cities area organized the Tri-City Council of Community Theatre (TCCCT). The Council is working hard to foster acceptance of community theatre.

As a result of the Council's activities the community of each member theatre now encompasses the entire Tri-City area. All auditions of all member theatres are open and everyone is welcome to participate in any capacity. As a result, at one time last season, Slingerlands Community Players members were performing lead roles in productions of three other community theatres — two based in Schenectady and one headquartered in Latham.

Weekly publications in neighboring suburbs are inviting news releases from all Council members. Slingerlands Community Players will host the next meeting of TCCCT on October 30. May I tell them that The Spotlight would welcome news item from any and all of the six (now) member theatres?

Thanks for "wondering" about us.

Sincerely,
Charles Losacco

ed before in this column that with today's high costs, the Spotlight must go the Paid Subscription route. There is no other choice except to raise advertising rates to the extent that small businesses wouldn't be able to afford to advertise. And actually, in a publication like the Spotlight, the ads of our local merchants are as much a part of the news scene as the biggest news story. The local merchants depend upon us to provide a medium in which to tell this story.

For the past several months we have been working on the Paid Subscriptions in an effort to let the subscribers know when their subscription expires and we have launched a more vigorous campaign to get new Paid Subscribers.

From its inception, the Spotlight has guaranteed its advertisers complete coverage of the families in certain areas. Until our Paid Subscription list can be expanded to a comparable number of copies per issue, this guarantee must be continued. This policy has upset some of our Paid Subscribers because while they were paying, a neighbor might be receiving it for free. We realize that there is a discrepancy here — but there isn't anything we can do to change this until that Paid Subscription list does some additional growing. Actually, our Paid Subscribers are not paying for the Spotlight; they are really paying only the cost of mailing and addressing. So it isn't all bad.

As we have in the past, we're asking those readers who are not Paid Subscribers to fill in the coupon at the end of this column and send it along to us with a check for just $3. Within two weeks you will begin receiving your Paid Subscription copy which will continue for 52 issues. In the meantime, your $3 will be added to those of your neighbors' and used to bring you a more complete Spotlight every week of the year.
