Help yourself to our free crow targets.

We've run into a problem with some of our power-line insulators being used for target practice.

Although it may appear to be harmless fun, there exists the very real and dangerous possibility of bringing down a power line.

So, to help everyone forget power-line insulators, we're giving away free crow targets. They measure 12" x 9" and can be used at distances from 25 to 200 yards. You'll find the crows make very good targets, and, best of all, they're safe.

To get a free supply, just drop in at any Niagara Mohawk office or write: System Public Relations Dept., Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., 300 Erie Boulevard West, Syracuse, N.Y. 13202. (Limit of six targets per person. Offer expires December 31, 1972.)

Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

Tri-Village FISH — Call 439-3578 for voluntary service — 24 hours a day the year 'round — offered by residents of Delmar, Elsmere and Slingerlands to their neighbors in need of help in any emergency.

Through October 31 — 7:30 P.M. Tuesday and Thursday evenings free conservation movies (wear warm clothes; it's outside) at Five Rivers Environmental Education Center.

Nathaniel Adams Blanchard Post #1040, American Legion Auxiliary, meets third Tuesday of month except July & Aug., 8 P.M., Post rooms.

Welcome Wagon — Newcomers and mothers of new babies call 785-9640, Mon. thru Sat., 8:30 A.M.-6:00 P.M. so you may have a Welcome Wagon call.

Bethlehem Memorial Auxiliary to Post #3185, Veterans of Foreign Wars, meets the third Monday of every month, at the Post Rooms 404 Delaware Ave., Delmar.

Trap Shooting Nassau Sportsmen's Club, Boyce Rd., Nassau, every Wed., 7-11 P.M. Non-members welcome. Information: 766-2680 or 472-5178.

COVER STORY

NEW BOY SCOUT EXECUTIVE

JAMES E. BECK, a professional Scout executive currently assigned to the European division of the Boy Scouts of America, has been appointed Scout Executive of the Governor Clinton Scout Council of Albany, Rensselaer and Columbia counties.

A Scout leader since 1959, Mr. Beck has served as Scout Executive for Councils in Toledo and Sandusky, Ohio. In 1968, he was assigned to the Transatlantic Council BSA as head of the Iberia-Morocco District. The Council serves American families in Europe and Africa. In 1971 he was named Field Service Director of that Council with supervision over 10 district executives and 20,000 Scouts in 500 units.

A native of Warren, Ohio, he was graduated from Edinboro State College in Pennsylvania and had attended the National Camp School, Management Development Seminar and all National and Regional Executive Conferences of the Boy Scouts of America.

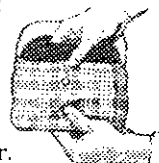

He has already assumed his duties with the Governor Clinton Scout Council and he and his wife, Barbara Ann, and daughters, Cheryl and Wendy, will be living in Delmar.

The Spotlight Goes to School

"UNDERSTANDING the Dynamics of Behavior" will be the theme for a workshop to be attended by the professional staff of the Bethlehem Central School District next Monday, Nov. 6, at Bethlehem Central High School. All district schools will be closed.

The two guest speakers will be Dr. Jack R. Frymier, chairman of the Curriculum and Foundations Department at Ohio State University. Dr. Frymier is also president of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development, and has authored many books on educational topics.

The other speaker, via film, will be Dr. Urie Bronfenbrenner, a professor of psychology and of Human Development and Family Studies, at Cornell University. In addition to providing the film, Dr. Bronfenbrenner will be available by way of a telephone hook-up for discussion of the topic.

There will also be two panels, one composed of staff personnel, and one of local citizens representing other professions concerned with behavior dynamics.

ALL PARENTS of students in the Bethlehem Central School District are invited to attend a meeting on the topic: "Behavior Modification and Open Education—In Conflict or in Harmony?" on Tuesday, Nov. 7.

The meeting, second in a series of regular monthly programs for district parents, will begin at 8 P.M., at the Educational Services Center, 90 Adams Pl., Delmar.

Discussing the topic will be a panel including Dr. Paul Brown and Dr. Robert Presbie, both from the State University at New Paltz, and Miss Kathleen Langan, head of the Parkside Experimental Center in Manchester, England.

The guest educators will discuss the same topic with district teachers from 3:45 to 4:45 on Tuesday, Nov. 7.

PARENTS OF students at Bethlehem Central High School are being offered the opportunity to meet with High School administrators on a regular monthly basis, starting on Thursday, Nov. 9.

This first meeting will be held at 10 A.M., in the Administrative Conference Room at the High School. Coffee will be served.

Purpose of the meetings is to provide small group settings for exchange of information about programs and policies at the High School. Principal Helen Hobbie and other administrators will answer any questions parents may have.

Persons interested in attending this meeting are asked to call Mrs. Matthew Doherty (439-2602) or Mrs. Eugene Furth (439-6863), so the Parent-Faculty Organization will know how many persons to expect.

The monthly meetings have been planned by the Parent-Faculty Organization at the High School, in cooperation with Miss Hobbie, and will be scheduled for the second Thursday of every month.

A WORKSHOP for Bethlehem Central School Volunteers who work with students in reading will be conducted by the school district's reading specialists on the following dates: Wed., Nov. 8, Mrs. Ann Reardon; Wed., Nov. 15, Mrs. Elizabeth Tibbetts; and Wed., Nov. 29, Mrs. Nina Flierl.

Senator Langley

Paid for by the Committee for Langley

The sessions will take place from 10 to 11:30 A.M., at the Educational Services Center, 90 Adams Pl., Delmar.

Volunteers should contact their school chairman if they wish to participate. These will be the last Volunteer training sessions for the current school year.

ABOUT 100 Bethlehem Central School and Middle School students attended a morning concert, "Showtime U.S.A.," on Oct. 18 at the Palace Theater in Albany. The students are all studying instrumental music.

On the concert program were selections by The Commodores, the U.S. Navy's Official Jazz Orchestra; vocal renditions by the Navy's "Helmsmen," and dance routines.

According to Sam Bozzella, music supervisor for Bethlehem schools: "The concert featured a sparkling review of music, "American style," that delighted our students and hopefully motivated them toward their musical interest and endeavors."

November will be a busy month for our local school musicians. The Choralier Dinner will be held on Nov. 14, the "Pop" Concert on Nov. 16, and New York State School Music Association Sectionals are scheduled for Nov. 17 and 18, in Scotia.

GOOD NEWS!

The big news from Bethlehem Town Hall this week is an announcement by Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke that there will be no increase in the town's tax rate this year. He said that until the budget is in its final stage there is no guarantee — but at this time it is entirely possible that there will be a DEcrease in the tax rate.

This should be welcome news to every homeowner in the Town of Bethlehem!

TO BE OR NOT TO BE?

HERE IS THE QUESTION!

YES                      NO

Local Proposition 1

Proposition

Shall the term of office of the Supervisor, the Town Clerk and the Town Superintendent of Highways of the Town of Bethlehem be increased from two years to four years effective January 1, 1974?

THE KNICKERBOCKER NEWS

PAGE 14-A, ALBANY, N. Y., SEPT. 29, 1972 ★

TOWN SUPERVISORS

There has been a hassle underway in the Town of Bethlehem over a proposal that the term of office of town supervisor be extended from the present two years to four years.

The matter has become a political issue with the Democrats arguing both against the proposal and against the procedures used in putting it to a referendum in the November election. The Republicans, long in the majority in Bethlehem but also noting the growing strength of their Democratic opponents, argue the benefits of a four-year term but might be expected to be aware, also, that to elect a supervisor for four years could keep the job more safely in the party fold.

But every town, and not Bethlehem alone, would do well to think twice before opting for four-year terms for their supervisors. These are more often but not always part-time jobs that, reasonably often, provide full-time pay. They are jobs intimately concerned with the immediate needs of people of a community. They are the kind of jobs in which a four-year term could lead to lethargy. A supervisor suffers no great hardship in having to run for office every two years. In the intimacy of a town he actually should be running for office every day by providing his constituents with services they need at prices they can afford.

For towns to adopt a four-year term for a supervisor would be for their residents to give up a little more of their control over their own affairs. A two-year term keeps town government close to the people, which is where it belongs.

That same newspaper had addressed itself to this question on July 17, 1972, in an editorial titled "Keeping a Tight Hold" in which it said, "Running for town office is not a long or costly affair. A two-year term gives a local official an opportunity to prove himself. And, most importantly, two-year terms give voters a speedy opportunity to get rid of local officials who prove less than competent.

The local scene is one of the few places where the electorate can keep a tight hold on their office holders. This is no time to loosen it."

THE DISTRIBUTIVE Education teachers of the Capital Region met at Maria College, 700 New Scotland Avenue, on Tuesday, October 24. Robert A. Pierson, Coordinator of Distributive Education at Bethlehem Central High School, and Hugh J. Brown, Distributive Education teacher, attended.

William Gearhardt, Regional Leader, discussed a number of topics with the group. Chief emphasis was given to the Area A Contests to be given in preparation for the Spring New York State Distributive Education Leadership Conference. It was decided to hold the contests this year on January 26, 1973 during the school day.

Mr. Brown was appointed by Mr. Gearhardt to work on a revision of the cashing contest materials. General discussion centered around the rules for administering the contests, the number and nature of the contests and awards to be given.

THE BETHLEHEM Central Distributive Education Clubs of America Chapter has conducted its election of officers and is beginning to plan its activities for the school year.

Carol Jenks, a senior Distributive Education II student, was elected president. She will be assisted by Mark Denson, Vice-president; Cecelia Manning, Secretary; Cathy Link, Treasurer; Christopher Mason, Historian; and Linda O'Connell, Publicity Chairman.

Robert A. Pierson, Coordinator of Distributive Education is the DECA advisor.

PLAYWRIGHTS' Theatre is one of those dreams people carry around for years waiting for the right combination of time and place to make it happen. It stems from the unique problem of the unknown writer of plays who finds, unlike any other kind of writer, that the natural outlets for his work are a series of dead end streets. Publishers are not interested in scripts until they have been produced. Reputable agents, as a rule, will only handle professionals and the way to achieve that standing is through production. Producers and directors, who can make possible that coveted production, are unwilling to look at unsolicited scripts. Having been turned down by all the big time avenues, the playwright might turn to Community Theatres, only to find that they, loyal to the pleasure of their audiences, will most often favor the well known hits of the professional stage. The unknown playwright without a production is like a composer without an orchestra whose talent is destined for limbo (which is playwright-talk for "bottom desk drawer").

It was one of those "desk drawer dramas" that brought to focus the need for a Playwrights' Theatre in Albany. It was sent to Joan Jamison who liked it well enough to mail it on to Times Union Drama Critic Martin P. Kelly, who had been promoting in his column the idea of local production of new scripts. Kelly offered to direct the show and the Tri-City Council on Community Theatre agreed to supply personnel, with one group offering the use of its stage. A cast was selected and arrangements were well under way when a scheduling conflict arose with the theatre. A search for other facilities was fruitless and the plan was dropped ... but not the dream! Surely, somewhere in the area there must be one stage with time to give to unknown playwright.

Three years later the Rev. William D. Small, Headmaster of Saint Agnes School, was explaining to his new Director of Drama that he'd like to see something new in the program, something with a little more challenge .... How would he like to try a new script? With a cast and crew of experienced Community Theatre players as well as Saint Agnes students who would have the opportunity to work with seasoned performers in the creation of a new play. Yes, he would like that. The right combination of time and place had come about and the new Drama Coach, Joan Jamison, suggested that Martin P. Kelly be invited to become Artist-in-Residence for the production of the play he'd just completed. "THE AWAKENING" later showcased at the Lambs' Theatre in New York with the original Saint Agnes cast, resulting in an offer to run weekends in a private club on East 62nd Street. With that kind of success, Kelly was invited to do another play. His "BY THE PEOPLE," a political play, will be premiered on the Saint Agnes stage on November 10, 11, 12 and 17, 18, 19.

Meanwhile, the concept of a Playwrights' Theatre has been welcomed by Saint Agnes. Playwrights throughout the state have been invited to submit their works for consideration and two more productions are planned for this year. The Rev. Donald B. Hill, school Chaplain, has stepped into the role of Lighting Technician for the program as well Producer of "By the People." Assistant Headmaster James M. Stewart is handling Public Relations while faculty members Andrew M. Hochberg (Photography), Miss Betsy J. Bauer (Props), Mrs. Angus Twonbly (Patrons), Mrs. Donald B. Hill (cast member) are taking active parts on and back stage. Mrs. B. Woodrow Wyatt, Board member of the Mothers' League, is Chairwoman of season tickets. Six Saint Agnes students join the cast of experienced Community Theatre players for this show. And from New York, Bill Buckley, Executive Producer of the Lambs' Theatre, keeps a watchful eye on the progress of "BY THE PEOPLE" as a possible vehicle to engage as a showcase there.

The philosophy of Playwright's Theatre is to provide the playwright the opportunity to bring his work to life. The rehearsal period gives him the chance to evaluate and polish his script before it appears before an audience. Many times a scene that reads well on paper does not play well on stage and the playwright can pinpoint these weaknesses only when he views his work in action. Even after revisions are made, his job is not done, for the real test comes when the piece plays before a live audience. Through their reactions they will tell him much of what he needs to know. If they fail to laugh at a bit of what he needs to know. If they are restless through humor then the bit needs work. If they are restless through a particular scene, the scene lacks impact. Their response to a certain character tells whether the characterization has been clearly enough drawn. Even their posture speaks volumes. An attentive audience sits upright, while a bored one tends to slump. All these things a playwright takes to his heart and then goes back to burn the midnight oil, rewriting where necessary.

A new play is a fragile thing, requiring flexible actors willing to put in extra work on script changes, a perceptive director able to stage it to its best advantage, an objective writer capable of making improvements at the expense of parting with some of his original ideas, a backstage crew willing to adapt at a moments notice and most of all, an audience willing to support an unknown quality. All of these people have a hand in the final product, which hopefully, having survived that struggle of birth, will go on to find open doors in the professional world. That's what a Playwrights' Theatre is all about.

in first aid training are being held at the Albany Area Chapter House every other Friday starting Friday, November 3 from 8:30 to 4:30.

By taking this course, individuals will receive certification in just one day.

The course is open to the public, but especially designed for meeting the OSHA for business and industry.

The first aid training will be conducted by James H. Carnahan, Director of Safety Programs and Eugene McElroy, field representative for the city of Albany.

Instruction is free, textbooks are the only cost item. For more information call 462-7461.

"IT'S VERY EASY for a young person to go wrong today—the ease of access to drugs and liquor, the mobility that gives access to anonymity, the freedom from positive community pressure all help to build an environment conducive to juvenile delinquency," Family Court Judge

Eileen Sullivan told the Albany Junior Chamber of Commerce her tonight.

Judge Sullivan said that solutions to these problems, which are basically reflections of today's urban culture, will not be easily found, but that strong efforts must be made to develop humanity in young people who are surrounded by superficial, impersonal society in which "every man for himself" provides behavior guidelines.

"We have all worked very hard to make life easier for ourselves and our children, yet in so doing we have created challenges which are much more difficult to meet," she said.

In a moment of humor, Judge Sullivan noted that the Boy Scout Manual of twenty years ago devoted several paragraphs to instructions for preparing pancakes outdoors. Today's manual simply advises "Follow instructions on package of pancake mix."

"I'm sure Boy Scouts are eating better pancakes these days, but the expectation of instant solutions to problems both large and small rubs off," she said. I'm not advocating 'scratch' pancakes for every one, just a realization that there is not a pre-packaged instant mix for life."

Judge Sullivan, who was appointed to Family Court by Governor Rockefeller, is the Republican candidate for a full term in the November election.

THE BETHLEHEM Environmental Improvement Association adds its support to Proposition One, The Environmental Quality Bond Act.

Saul Caro, President of BEIA, urges the public to vote for this important environmental expenditure. On November 7, Mr. Caro reminds voters they will have the opportunity to prove they are willing to pay for the quality environment they all want. Bluntly, here is our chance to put our money where our month is. For a complete and excellent explanation of the Bond Act, BEIA recommends the October issue of New York State Environment (newspaper). Citizens who still have questions concerning the Environmental Quality Bond Act should call the Bond Information Center (459-5200).

AN EXPLANATION OF PROPOSITION #1

This is a proposal to increase the terms of office of the Supervisor, Town Clerk and Superintendent of Highways from two to four years. The terms of office of the other elected Town officials, Town Councilmen, Town Justice and Receiver of Taxes and Assessments are four years and have been for many years. There is no logic in different terms for different officials, and concurrent terms would make for more orderly and efficient Town government. Long-range planning is certainly as desirable and, in fact, as necessary, on the Town level, as it is on the State and National levels. Comptroller Levitt has urged for some time that State fiscal plans be formulated for a period of at least five years. Should we do less in the Town of Bethlehem, not only for fiscal matters, but perhaps more important, for planning, zoning, sewer, water, etc.?

The approval of this proposition will not affect the terms of the present Supervisor, Town Clerk, or Superintendent of Highways, whose terms expire December 31, 1973, because it would not become effective until January 1, 1974.

We urge you to vote "yes" on this proposition because we feel it will increase the efficiency of Town government.

Shall the term of office of the Supervisor, the Town Clerk and the Town Superintendent of Highways of the Town of Bethlehem be increased from two years to four years effective January 1, 1974?

a Christmas motif, will be created in time for Christmas giving, under the direction of Diane Bean from Delmar.

Swedish Rya is an ancient craft which has recently regained tremendous popularity. It will be taught on 5 consecutive Wednesday mornings, beginning November 8 from 10 A.M.-12 Noon at the Reformed Church in Delmar. Classes are limited and registrations will be taken on a first come, first served basis only. Call the YWCA at 434-7184 for reservations, now.

WINTER SWIM

The winter competitive swim season has started. The Delmar Dolfin Swim Club has started practice Tuesdays and Thursdays, 7-9 P.M., at the Middle School. Dolfin Coach, Jack Whipple, will emphasize stroke instruction during the winter session, however, the club will compete in the Winter Tri-City League.

A parents meeting will be held at the Middle School Youth Center, November 9 at 7:30 P.M., to discuss the winter program and also the coming AAU Meets.

"HOW TO" WORKSHOP

The Albany District PTA will hold a "how to" workshop at BCHS on Wednesday, November 8 from 7 to 10 P.M. It is suggested that area PTAs participate as entire units.

Eight different topics will be discussed. Among them are two with local teachers as leaders: "New approaches to Reading" with Mrs. Ann Rear-don, Elementary Grades Reading Specialist, and "The Seven Year Itch" with Mrs. May Blackmore of the Guidance Department.

LIBRARY NOTES

THE SECOND part of the History of the Silent Cinema film series will be held Sunday, November 5, at 2 P.M. in the Community Room of the Bethlehem Public Library, 451 Delaware Avenue, Delmar. This part, presented by George Hawley, will consist of four marvelous classics of the silent cinema: "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," "Fall of Babylon - From Intolerance," "Pool Sharks" with the master W. C. Fields, and "The Pawn Shop" with another master, Charlie Chaplin.

IN THE PHOTO ABOVE, William T. Vivian, Manager of Employee Relations, is shown presenting the contribution of General Electric and its Selkirk employees to John Tobin of the United Fund-Red Cross Joint Appeal. The gift was a combined contribution of the company and the employees of the plastics manufacturing plant in Selkirk, and represents a 17% increase over last year's donation. Mr. Tobin stated that the goal of this year's Albany County appeal is $2,409,000, and with two weeks remaining in the drive, approximately 70% of the total amount has been pledged.

President Nixon vs. Senator McGovern

(Or, change that will work vs. change that won't work.)

President Nixon's idea of change is orderly—and works. Senator McGovern's ideas about change can easily prove chaotic—and won't work.

Under President Nixon, America has become quieter than it was in 1968. Our campuses are back to scholarship. Our cities no longer have frequent riots. The drug traffic into America has slowed down. Last year, for the first time, 80 major cities reported a decrease in crime. Funding to save our environment has increased 500%—and the effects are beginning to be felt. The door has been opened to China. A limited arms treaty has been signed with Russia. Half-a-million Americans have been brought home from Vietnam.

There's much, much more. All of it change. But orderly change. Compare this change, the change we have had under President Nixon, with the change we could have under Senator McGovern. Many already have. And they're among those saying that America needs President Nixon—now more than ever.

President Nixon. Now more than ever.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

AS YOU READ THIS, the date should be Thursday, November 2, which means that "Ten Nights in a Barroom" has only four more nights to run and since Friday and Saturday performances are already sold out, we advise that you go either tonight or Sunday evening. Curtain goes up at 8:30 on this hilarious melodrama which, in this particular rendering, is a musical.

"Ten Nights in a Barroom" is the first of three productions by the Slingerlands Players this season and is being performed at the Playhouse on Delaware Turnpike in Unionville. We have no idea of what the daily paper drama critics will say, but for our money, "Ten Nights" is one of the best productions the local group has ever put on. The singing is above average; choreography very good; and the acting is super for mellerdrama fun. And fun it is! from the first minutes of the show which opens with "Tavern in the Town" to the finale.

Rated GP SUPER, you owe it to yourself and your family to spend an evening this week along with your neighbor: "Ten Nights in a Barroom."

THE SKETCHES THAT CAUSED RED FACES — Good friends are a little like rare vintage wines — they should be bragged about a little!

Herm and Helen Rasker have been our friends for more than 15 years — ever since they brought their Town and Tweed to Delaware Plaza when it opened. We watched them over the years as they expanded to satisfy public demand; we saw them open the Village Shop with its exquisite gifts and finally The Village Store, with its array of tasteful furniture, at the Four Corners.

All through these years we have seen the art work created by Herman, the merchant-artist, whose paintings and sketches have often been of greater skill than his very successful 3-store operation. And that's saying a great deal!

We received a notice for the Calendar that announced an exhibit of his sketches at the Unitarian Church on Washington Avenue in Albany. The notice didn't strike us as anything unusual — but somehow we couldn't get it out of mind. So last Friday, mostly out of curiosity, we made a trip to the Church to see them.

When we entered we stepped into the middle of a setup for a huge rummage sale which was held on Oct. 28. People were running around finding places to display a variety of merchandise. We asked a man and woman where we might find Mr. Rasker's exhibit. And faces turned red. They explained that most of the exhibit had been removed so nothing would happen to the sketches during the sale hours. We were told that those sketches which were beyond the reach had been left up and we could go into this room and see them. So, midst thousands (literally) of sale articles, we picked our way to the end of the room where what was left of the exhibit was still intact. And we were assured that long before you read this, the display would once again be in place.

We admit to being pretty dumb about art — but we know when we like something and here among the few remaining sketches there was a LOT to like! The entire display was created in 1972; almost all are outdoor mood pieces which are recognizable Cape Cod scenes. As you look at them they become as familiar as your own yard. The subject matter includes snatches of sea, ships and boats of all shapes and dimensions, rock formations, etc., all with the Cape Cod flavor and background. As you look, you can almost smell the sea, the tar on the boats — they're that good!

We went a little closer to see how they were done. All are on rather dark paper. The sketching was done with charcoal and then a white chalk added for highlight and shadow accent. We understand that it's a very old medium, one that isn't used very much any more. Perhaps it's because it isn't in common use plus the absolutely perfect rendition that makes them almost breathtaking.

Anyway, we think they're just about the best we've seen and we are just a little taller after seeing this exhibit by a man we call a friend.

If we have made you curious and you'd like to see what we're cheering about, we'd advise that you call the Unitarian Church to make sure the exhibit is still there and the hours it can be viewed. It's worth it, believe us!

LAST WEEK WE EXPLAINED why we are in favor of the four-year term for Bethlehem Town Supervisor, Town Clerk and Superintendent of Highways. Since that time the argument has heated locally as a strictly partisan political party issue. To keep the record straight, we'd like to repeat that we don't think of this Proposition as political at all. It just simply makes good common sense to increase these two terms of office to four years. And we think that good common sense should dictate your "yes" vote on Proposition #1 next Tuesday.

More importantly, let your conscience guide your hand when you pull the levers on the voting machine — BUT MAKE SURE YOU EXERCISE YOUR CITIZENSHIP RIGHT AND VOTE!!!

This evening ensemble carries with it a very complete look - a floor length dress with matching stole. Its marvelous for entertaining or a night on the town. This dress has a Spanish flavor with its "grape" stripes and coarse textured wool. Circular neckline, long sleeves and back zipper are featured in the rib knit top, of solid contrasting color and the skirt is circled with a bright streak of patent leather and features dimpled styling, done in deep earthy toned stripes - again carried beautifully in the fringed stole.
