IMPORTANT INFORMATION FOR CAR OWNERS

Part I — A recent survey said that a dirty car can put you in a kind of a don't care mood such as what does it matter what happens to this sloppy old jalopy. It said that as a result you may go barreling down the highway, follow cars too closely and too fast.

On the other hand, it said when your car is freshly washed, shiny and sparkling, you have some of the same attitude toward it that you had toward a new car and you are more careful of it. You tend to drive a little more safely while you subconsciously want to preserve that sparkling piece of equipment.

Part II — The survey also showed that frequent car washing also provided a clue to one's status consciousness. Some people in fact said they felt more prestigious and important when they drive down the street in a clean car. Some people reported that they felt a clean car looked more expensive.

Environmental Report on the GE PLASTICS PLANT

The GE Plastics Operation in Selkirk has, since its beginnings, been endeavoring to be true to its good neighbor policy in all areas with special emphasis on environmental considerations. Even though the plant meets the existing governmental regulations, the men and women at GE have not been satisfied and are striving to employ the latest technological innovations in the environmental area.

Several recent installations in the plant will permit GE not only to exceed current specifications, but also to exceed anticipated 1980 standards. Moreover, these installations represent a significant step towards the achievement of GE's declared goal of "Zero Discharge" wherein all process water is continuously recirculated in the plant.

At the present time, all plant waste materials are sent to the Waste Treatment ponds. In these ponds, activated sludge biologically degrades the organic matter and converts it into water and carbon dioxide which is then discharged via pipeline to the Hudson River. This treatment is very similar to many municipal waste treatment plants and its operation, likewise may occasionally result in some odor emission. To combat this problem, GE engineers came up with an ingenious concrete-plastic enclosure which was constructed over the entire waste treatment plant. Additionally, the most advanced aeration technology was used to assure maximum efficiency of the unit at all times. A high power blower supplies the air necessary for the activated sludge and the exhaust air is passed through a scrubber where all odiferous materials are destroyed. In all, the construction and initial operation of this unit will cost $500,000.

Although year-round efficiencies of 95% plus are expected from the new activated sludge system, the small traces of organic matter remaining in the effluent still do not permit a re-use of the water in the manufacturing process. The answer to this lies in a new system now under construction. This system, the latest word in environmental technology, is based on absorption of the last traces of organic material utilizing activated charcoal. The water leaving the activated carbon should be pure enough for re-use. The system, costing approximately $600,000, is expected to be operational in the Fall of 1973.

Another installation just completed is a system for elimination of exhaust vapors from the extrusion operation. Conventional methods of vapor removal, while adequate for most installations, were not thought sufficient for the GE plant. Therefore, GE engineers, in cooperation with engineers from the Johns Manville Corporation, developed a HEAF (high energy air filtration) unit for installation at the GE plant. This unit operates on much the same principle as the cigarette filter where exhaust vapor is pushed through a dense filter which captures any emitted vapors. The clean air is then discharged into the atmosphere. This filtration and ventilation unit is now in operation at an installed cost of $250,000.

BEFORE: (January, 1973) (Top picture) Plant waste water is pumped into the water treatment plant where the aerated activated sludge system degrades organic matter into water and carbon dioxide. Occasional odor had been noticed from this facility. AFTER: (May, 1973) (Middle picture) The same water treatment plant with a concrete/plastic enclosure the size of a football field and advanced aeration equipment. The enclosure allows the discharge of air through one main duct and into a blower and scrubber (background) where all odiferous materials are destroyed. THE HEAF (high energy air filtration) (Bottom picture) unit being put into operation. The building encloses a continuously moving dense filter. Air containing vapors is pushed by the blower at left through the filter. The blower on the right pulls the clean air through the filter and discharging it to the atmosphere.

Mrs. Janet Butlin

Dear Sir:

For the past 5 years we have celebrated "Delmar Day" here in Sarasota, Florida, around March 1. This year there were 94 attending the luncheon for the renewal of old friendships.

I have been asked to take over for Harold E. Williams in arranging the 1974 meeting. It will be held at Sarasota Mobile Home Park auditorium on March 4, 1974.

Please renew my subscription to the Spotlight. We lived for 34 years in Delmar and have many warm memories. Our new home here is a very pleasant substitute: friendly, informal and full of fine people.

Any information Spotlight readers can furnish concerning transplanted Delmarians, will be gratefully accepted.

Perhaps you could mention our Delmar Day in Sarasota sometime during next February.

Thanks.

LIBRARY NOTES

Have you ever seen a live Hercules Beetle? If you have, you probably will never forget it; if you haven't, you probably don't want to. See what we mean by looking in the display case at the Bethlehem Public Library. Borrowed for the Library from the New York State Museum by Jim and Tom With, members of an entomologically interested family in Selkirk, the display consists of five fascinating cases of insects.

Mr. and Mrs. Hercules Beetle are exhibited in one of the cases which demonstrates the differences between the male and female of some kinds of insects. Other cases show biting and stinging insects, minor pests of Elm trees, and the various life stages of some insects. Probably the most spectacular case is the one which holds an iridescent blue butterfly — unbelievably lovely.

The display, which will be on exhibit through the end of May offers a fascinating range of insects — some to inhabit your most horrifying nightmare and some to color your most beautiful dreams.

Budget Adopted

The Bethlehem Central Board of Education unanimously adopted a proposed budget totaling $9,096,380 for the 1973-74 school year at a special meeting held on Friday, May 11.

Voting on the budget will take place on Wednesday, June 13, from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m., at the Bethlehem Central Middle School gymnasium.

At the same meeting, the Board passed a motion (with Mrs. Ann Patton dissenting) to allow the Bethlehem Public Library Board of Trustees to place a proposition on the ballot for the acquisition of a piece of property on the corner of Delaware and Borthwick Avenues.

Residents of the school district will also vote on three other items on June 13: 1) Candidates for one seat on the Board of Education, 2) Candidates for one seat on the Library Board of Trustees, and 3) The Bethlehem Public Library budget.

Because revenue sources are still uncertain, the Board can only estimate how the adopted budget may affect tax rates. It calls for a maximum rate increase of $1.60 per $1,000 of assessed valuation in the Town of Bethlehem, and about $15 per $1,000 in the Town of New Scotland (where the equilization rate has been lowered by the State by two percentage points.)

It is likely, however, that future developments--such as a Legislative decision to increase State Aid--will reduce the necessary tax rate increase, and perhaps even hold the line at present rated for Bethlehem residents.

The Board also passed a motion at its May 11 meeting
"To extend the appreciation and congratulations of the Board to all participants in the Environmental Careers Fair which was held May 10 at the High School."

Among business conducted by the Board of Education at a regular public meeting on Wednesday, May 9, were the following actions:

—Acceptance with regret of the resignation of Mrs. Margaret McGibbon, Middle School guidance counselor; and Mrs. Helen Hopkins, Elms kindergarten teacher.

—Granting of tenure to four teachers: Mrs. Seenā Baker, Mr. William Ninness, Mr. Donald Robillard, and Miss Carol Smith.

—Appointment of Mr. Robert Ruslander as chairman of the Annual Meeting and Election on June 12 and 13, and appointment of poll workers.

—Passage of a motion that the following statement be sent immediately to all public officials responsible for financial aid to school districts:

"Both the State and each school district have constitutional and legal mandates to provide for public education of our children.

"The Bethlehem Central School Board is prepared to meet this obligation and will soon ask its voters to approve its efforts. At the same time, the Board expects the State to meet its obligation.

"According to newspaper reports appearing on Tuesday, April 8, 1973, the Legislature is now preparing legislation to increase school aid 2 1/2% for the coming school year over the current school year. The Bethlehem Central School Board believes this proposed increase in State aid to be totally inadequate in meeting the State's responsibility to assume its share of the increasing costs of public education. The State's continued refusal to pay its fair share places and unfair and undue burden on our local taxpayers.

"We again urge you to have the State assume its responsibility just as we are prepared to assume ours. To this end, we request you to work for an increase in State aid equal to the increase in the cost of doing business since the present level of State aid was set three years ago."

The Bethlehem Board of Education met also on Thursday, May 10, to hear a report from the Budget Information Committee. Mr. Vincent Gazzetta, Committee chairman, presented an oral report and submitted a written report containing 15 recommendations. Mr. Gazzetta said that the Committee, composed of residents from the community, recommends adoption of the $9,096,380 school budget and believes it should be supported by district residents.

OPEN DATING
 WHAT IS OPEN DATING? It means marking perishable and semi-perishable food products with a date you can understand. At Grand Union the date we are using is the "pull-date". This is the date the product should be removed from retail sale. The pull-dates do allow time for normal in-home storage and use.
 WHAT PRODUCTS HAVE AN OPEN PULL-DATE? At the present time, all Grand Union brand dairy products, fresh meat, processed meats, bakery products and many grocery products have an open pull-date stamped on them. We are continuing our efforts to open date more and more of our Grand Union label products.
 WHAT DOES THE PULL-DATE LOOK LIKE? It will appear as Aug. 15 or 0815 (the first to two numbers indicate month). WHY HAVE A PULL-DATE? First we want you to have a way of knowing that the perishable and semi-perishable products you buy at the Grand Union are fresh. Secondly, this open date helps our store personnel in stock rotation, ordering and inventory control.

Census Scheduled

The annual school census in the Bethlehem Central School District will be conducted throughout the month of June. Mrs. Richard Haverly of Delmar is director of the census, and Mrs. Kenneth Williams is assistant director.

Census enumerators will include: Mrs. James Brown, Mrs. Raymond Caswell, Mrs. David Chambers, Mrs. William Reusswig, Mrs. Richard Buyer, Mrs. Norman Hulme, Mrs. Paul Sherman, Mrs. Alan Vanderwood, and Mrs. George Hartman.

Seminar Held

Mrs. Alyce McFeeters of 31 Brockley Drive in Delmar participated as a consultant in a recent two-day seminar on "The Woman Manager" sponsored by the Civil Service Commission for women in upper level managerial positions of the State Government. The seminar was held May 10 and 11 on the campus of the State University in Albany.

Other seminar discussion leaders were Mrs. Helen Madden, executive vice president of Madden, Madden and Associates of Stony Point, N.Y.; Mrs. Ersa Poston, Civil Service Commissioner; and Mrs. Bettye Turner, who acted as seminar coordinator.

Mrs. McFeeters spoke to the group on the human relations and personality aspects of being a woman office manager. Her main theme was that the role of a female manager does not differ significantly from that of a male's except in a few subtle ways. She stressed that a good female manager can be just as effective, if not more so, than a good male manager.

The Delmar resident spoke from her own experience as a management employee for 35 years with IBM.

Westervelt, a business teacher at BCHS.

Some 500 teachers of business subject from both public and private high schools, two-year institutions, and four-year colleges attended the two days of meetings.

open until Labor Day. Overnight camp sites, picnic facilities and boat launching ramps are available.

The projects are part of Niagara Mohawk's program of developing public-use areas where feasible at hydroelectric power facilities.

In 1972, an estimated 24,000 visitors, highest number ever, enjoyed the recreation areas. Most of the facilities are on the Raquette River in St. Lawrence County, southeast of Potsdam, where Niagara Mohawk operates 15 hydroelectric plants.

The areas include: Blake Pond — 37 camp sites, supervised swimming, two boat ramps, picnic area and sanitary facilities; Carry Falls Reservoir — 16 camp sites, two boat ramps; Stark Pond — two picnic areas, bot ramp; Five Falls Pond — picnic area, bot ramp; Higley Pond — picnic area; Rainbow Pond — picnic area, boat ramp.

In the eastern Adirondacks, near Corinth, Niagara Mohawk maintains a picnic site and boat ramp at its Stewarts Bridge hydro development on the Sacandaga River.

Permits for overnight camping are $2.50 per day, issued by the caretaker on a "first-come, first-served" basis. There are no other charges.

Other outdoor facilities for the public, reflecting the "open land" policy which has permitted recreational use of Niagara Mohawk lands for years, include:

Oswego — Live fish exhibits and picnic grounds at the Niagara Mohawk Progress Center at Nine Mile Point on Lake Ontario.

Lyons Falls — 3,700-acre fish and wildlife management area along Moose River, in cooperative with the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation.

Across the Niagara Mohawk pr system - public use of rights—of-way along transmission lines for farming and recreation, including hiking, snowmobiling, skiing, cycling and equestrian trails.

Officers Elected

The following officers were elected by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Bethlehem Lodge BPOE #2233: President, Theresa Quickenton; Vice President, Joan Desormeau; Adviser, Alvina Houghtaling; Secretary, Rita Townsend; Treasurer, Faye Bardin; Trustee, Joan Latter; Chaplain, Gerry Hausmann; Escort, Irene Lake; Escort, Alice Cable; Historian, Emmie Ricardi; Guards, Barbara Wagoner and Marion Peck.

Sgt. Dorsey Risks Life

On Monday, May 14, Sgt. Leo E. Dorsey was proceeding to the Bethlehem Middle School to instruct at one of the Town Baby Sitting courses when the call came over the police car radio, "Cars 6 and 7: man on railing on the Normanskill Bridge." At 6:40 P.M. and at 6:43 P.M. the police dispatcher had received telephone calls, "that a man was going to jump off the Normanskill Bridge." Within a minute, Patrolman Wilson had dispatched cars to the scene.

Sgt. Dorsey, hearing the call, proceeded to the bridge and arrived less than one minute after the initial phone call received by the dispatcher. Upon arrival at the scene the Sgt. observed a young man perched upon the railing of the bridge facing the water 85 feet below. Sgt. Dorsey approached the man from the opposite side of the bridge and was able to position himself within a few feet of the railing before he was noticed. At this point the young man attempted to propell himself over the brink of the bridge. Sgt. Dorsey immediately lunged forward grabbing the young man around the waist.

In the struggle that followed, both men came close to death by plunging over the railing. After the initial struggle the Sgt. was assisted by two passers-by, a man and a young girl. Police Patrol cars #6 and #7 arrived and the young man was transported to police headquarters.

Workshop Scheduled

A Workshop designed to assist parents in understanding emotional problems of children will be held in the Delmar Public Library on Wednesday, May 30, from 7:30-9:30 P.M. This is the final in a series of five Workshops aimed at helping parents to understand and handle special needs in their children.

How can a parent determine the relative degree of disturbance in his child's emotional life? Several questions provide guidelines: Is the child's emotional reaction in excess of the cause and does it continue for any time out of proportion to this cause? Does the child reject insight, support, diversion in such periods of emotion? Does the child show an emotion inappropriate to a given event? Does he remain glum and unresponsive an an exciting, happy encounter; is he unduely angry for no apparent cause? And, finally does he display a general lack of emotional response where one is called for: does he show a complete lack of fear where fear should be present; does he show a lack of emotional awareness when a response is evidently called for? Such

Question:

What should I do about paying the clergyman who conducts a funeral service in my family?

Answer:

This is probably the most unresolved question of all those asked us through the years. It should be answered, first of all, by saying that no clergyman of any denomination expects to be paid when it would be a hardship. This may best be illustrated by the fact that no one is ever denied the right to go to church because he cannot contribute to the maintenance of the church; if he has funds he is expected to pay his share.

Some religious groups have published suggested stipends. In some denominations the membership in a church and contributing to it presumes this pastoral duty.

As a matter of equity the clergyman must be compensated for his time and services just like any other professional person. If no policy or provision exists in the clergyman's religious group we will take care of this for the family as we are instructed and add it to the funeral account.

questions, if answered positively, might suggest that this Workshop may be of service to the parents and child.

Dr. Ronald Filippi, Team Leader of the South Albany -- Green County Team, Eleanor Roosevelt Developmental Services and Chief of Child Psychiatry at Albany Medical Center, will be guest speaker and discussion leader for the evening.

Seniors for Free!

Town of Bethlehem Supervisor, Bertram E. Kohinke, announces that the Town Board at its meeting held on May 16, 1973, unanimously approved a resolution giving unlimited use of our outdoor recreation facilities to all our Senior Citizens. Each Senior Citizen, 65 years of age, or older, who is interested in having a free annual membership for our Park on Elm Avenue, is requested to make application to the Superintendent of Parks and Recreation at 114 Adams Street, Delmar, New York. Upon proper identification, a free membership card will be issued. This membership is on an annual basis, and also includes free parking.

"We hope every Senior Citizen of the Town of Bethlehem will apply for this membership," Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke said.

150 Complete Program

150 elementary school girls have successfully completed the American Red Cross swimming program conducted on Wednesday evenings under the auspices of the American Red Cross and the Bethlehem Recreation Department at the Middle School Pool.

The program was supervised by Mrs. Mildred Westervelt, Water Safety Instructor of Clarksville, who has completed her 8th year with this program.

Many Water Safety Instructors completed their practice teaching under the guidance of Mrs. Westervelt and 20 other volunteers assisted with the teaching. Other volunteers who assisted with the program included: Karen Evans, Ginny Hepp, Pat Maxwell, Nancy Murray, Janis Westervelt, Don Guertze, Frank Ferro, Rose Joyce, Marie Bonhet, Laurie Bosworth, Mary Pat Burdick, Cathy Doherty, Cathy Howell, Patti Keating, Robin Keyes, Stephanie Mosher, Martha Tomlinson, Liz Tompson, Jean Szulgit and Barry Shannon.

Whirlwind Line
 Toro Mowers aren't just hardware. They work and keep on working. That's why Toro has been in business for 59 years.

You can find this engineering superiority in the Basic Whirlwind below or in the other two models in the Whirlwind line. There's the wider, 21" Whirlwind that lets you cut your lawn 10% faster. Or, there's the Self-propelled Whirlwind. It has the same 21" blade and eliminates most of the pushing.

No matter which you choose, they all have the Wind-Tunnel® housing and a tilted cutting blade for a cleaner, more even cut, an easy-to-clean air filter and other features that make every Toro a precision machine. Whirlwind mowers are priced from $99.95 to $159.95.*

Basic Whirlwind® Mower
 $99.95*

Why should you till with Toro?

Polyfoam air filter is easy to clean. Wide handles make steering easy.
 Easy-pull starter. Clutch and safety reverse are centrally located.
 Cast-iron gear box, gears resist wear. V-belt and pulley drive withstands rough treatment.
 Two fine speeds adapt to various soil conditions (4- and 5-hp models only). Heavy-duty wheels adjust to 3 positions.
 26" width, 1" to 8" depth.
 14" Bolo tines guaranteed for life, replaced if broken under normal use.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

ONE OF OUR COLUMNS seems to have impressed some of our readers. We're referring to the clipping a group of high schoolers took after one of the proms a year ago. During this past week we have received a number of phone calls from parents asking for suggestions. The youngsters want the best places; they're willing and ready to pay for what they get — but they don't want to be scalped.

We offered suggestions and we hope that everything works out as it should.

THE ENERGY CRISIS must be giving lots of people cause for concern. It can or could be painful to business. Our own case is one in point. If there is a power shortage brown-out, it works real havoc on our electronic typesetters — in fact, it's almost as dwastating as lightning.

We understand that now there is some discussion about making the State speed limit on all highways, 50 miles per hour. Since a gasoline shortage first threatened, we've been wondering why this step hasn't already been taken. One thing must be understood, though, and that is: the 50-mile speed limit must be applied equally to the super highways and to all vehicles — not one speed for one road and some other limit for another — not one limit for one type of vehicle and still a different limit for another type.

It seems to us absolutely necessary that drastic steps be taken to assure the motorist a supply of fuel for business, pleasure, vacations, whatever. If the shortage is real, then cutting the speed limit should conserve enough gas so that further curtailment is unnecessary.

This isn't a wartime emergency — there's nothing patriotic in using less gasoline — and limiting the speed should be equal to a 10% cut. That should take care of the shortage.

DAVID BRINKLEY SO OFTEN HITS THE NAIL right where it should be. One recent night he was talking about the taxes which the middle-income strata are forced to pay. He talked about the unfairness with which all income tax in this country is levied; how the affluent are given all kinds of loopholes; how the very poor are protected; all this leaving the middle-income subject to the brunt — and as he said: "If you have difficulty paying, your car, your home and your business are threatened with Gestapo-like efforts to collect the money — and after the governments get their hands on it, so much is wasted that we wonder why it was ever collected in the first place." Mr. Brinkley was speaking mostly about the federal bureaucracy — but we're sure he'd find the same things true in most of the 50 states.

ONE OF OUR THREE FAVORITE PHARMACISTS asked whether we have to stay hidden after we make a blast at someone. He's a Shirley McLaine fan maybe? No, Clyde, we don't hide; we just make sure the bullet-proof car is running.

ANOTHER OF OUR THREE FAVORITE PHARMACISTS (Dick) says he predicts our next grandchild will be born on June 6 — D Day. Boy, they make pharmacists small these days!

OUR THIRD FAVORITE PHARMACIST (Sol) never makes predictions, never asks questions. He just registers surprise that we're still healthy and in one piece! (cont'd)

WITH ALL THE TALK ABOUT real or contrived gasoline shortages, we thought it especially appropriate to devote this column to the activities available if you just stay t'home and enjoy the local happenings on this Memorial Day, Monday, May 28. In addition to backyard and patio picnics and gourmet meals prepared over your own open fire, there's a multitude of things happening that almost anyone can enjoy.

Starting off Memorial Day (celebrated this on Monday, May 28), will be the annual parade followed by Memorial Ceremonies at Servicemen's Memorial Park.

THE PARADE: The divisions will form at and leave from the corner of Elsmere Avenue and Poplar Drive; it will go over Elsmere Avenue to Kenwood, Adams Street, down Delaware Avenue to Servicemen's Memorial Park.

Parade chairman is Oliver Palmer; Honorary Grand Marshall, Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke; Grand Marshall, William Johnston, Jr.; Aides: Vietnam Veterans William Blanchard, Jr. and Bill Vogel.

The parade will start promptly at 10 a.m. Three musical groups will be in the line of march: Fort Crailo Band, Bethlehem Central High School Band and the Village Fifers as well as many local organizations and fire company units.

SERVICEMEN'S MEMORIAL PARK CEREMONY: The program will include the Advance of Colors; Invocation; presentation of the flag to the Town; the National Anthem; presentation of guests; musical selections; presentation of floral tributes; three-volley salute; taps and benediction.

At the conclusion of the park ceremonies, many people will go directly to Elm Avenue Park where, beginning at 12 noon and continuing through the afternoon and evening:

CHICKEN BARBECUE: The Kiwanis Club of Delmar will serve a chicken barbecue under the direction of master chef John Geurtze. The barbecue will contain a half barbecued chicken, potato chips, rolls and butter, dessert and beverage for $2. Proceeds from the barbecue will be used to support Kiwanis community projects.

ELM AVENUE PARK PROGRAM: This is the day for the official opening of the facilities at Elm Avenue Park. The program will begin at 1 P.M. with a dedication ceremony, followed by guided tours of park facilities.

Events scheduled for the afternoon are:

- 45 Swimming Exhibition
- 15 Diving Exhibition
- 15 Softball throw
- 45 Pie Eating Contest
- 15 Football throw
- 45 Three-legged Race
- 15 Baseball throw

There it is! A full day of fun for all ages! It all happens in the Town of Bethlehem!
