Look what we found!
IN THE MAILBAG

To all true cyclists in the Town:

Let me state that I am both a cyclist and an automobile driver. I also am an avid supporter of bike routes.

But bike routes by themselves will not insure safety of both bikers and car drivers. In the last 3 weeks, I have daily traveled over much of Bethlehem and have rarely seen even somewhat haphazard attempts at safety, or proper cycling etiquette, or even common courtesy of the road. Most of the offenders are not the very young, but tend to be the young marrieds-to-middle-age group who are using the cycling thing as a status symbol. It is this group that has shown the greatest disrespect (to the point of yelling out gross obscenities at car drivers while small children are present), and the least amount of safe cycling practices.

I believe the answer to this whole problem is to go back to having the Town issue licenses for bikes, after a safety course for both bike and cyclist has been passed. A nominal fee could be charged to help to pay for the bike route signs along with more and better bike routes.

Let us not forget that most of the bike routes in our Town are first roads for cars, and then, secondly, bike routes for cyclists, and unfortunately some uncouth fadists.

Sincerely,
P.J. Gregory

try's early Indian artifacts. Items from areas around larger cities where workshops teach native craftsmen refinements of their art, designs and patterns still show this same similarity.

The items were obtained on visits by the Vogels to Africa to visit their daughter, Susan Vogel Louwrens, a BCHS '64 graduate who is now married to a South African. The managerial district in which she lives, similar to our country, is called Albany because the English who settled there around 1820 were led from the Cape area by Colonel Jacob Cuyler, son of Abraham Cuyler, mayor of Albany, New York from 1770-1778. The mayor's portrait and that of his wife are prized exhibits in the Albany museum there and were done by Major John Andre, executed as a spy during the American Revolution.

COVER STORY

SUMMER THEATRE IN BETHLEHEM

ON THE EVENINGS OF August 3, 4 and 5, tomorrow (Friday), Saturday and Sunday, The Slingerlands Community Players will present The Playpeople, a new acting company of current and former theatre students at SUNY-Albany, at the Playhouse on Delaware Turnpike in Unionville. The play will be Joseph Heller's "Catch 22," the story of the insanity of war. 40 roles will be portrayed by the 8 members of the company. Curtain time will be at 8:30 each night.

On Saturday, August 4, at 2 P.M., the Playpeople will present "Every Kind of Thing" for children. Adults 50¢, children 25¢.

Tickets for "Catch 22" are priced at $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for students.

Summer Band Concert

The Bethlehem Summer Band will perform at 7:30 P.M. on Tuesday, August 7, on the "green" behind the Bethlehem Public Library in Delmar. The performance is a part of the Library's Evening on the Green series. Everyone is invited and there is no admission charge. However, since the program will be outdoors, you may want to bring lawn chairs or blankets for your seating comfort.

The Band, co-sponsored by the Bethlehem Parks and Recreation Department and the Bethlehem Central School, District consists of 70 members. These members are instrumental students from the Bethlehem Central Middle and High Schools and alumni. The program, under the direction of Samuel S. Bozella, Bethlehem Central's music supervisor, will be a light one of traditional band compositions and "pop" music.

Should it rain the evening of the 7th, the movie "Powdersmoke" will be shown in the Large Community Room of the Library and the band concert will be rescheduled for 7:30 P.M. on Thursday August 9. Should it rain on the 9th also, the concert will be cancelled.

Batik Display

Batik, an ancient craft of drawing with wax, is the medium chosen by Jinx Mercer in her current exhibit of paintings at the City and County Savings Bank, Delmar.

Long practiced by the Indonesians, batik uses wax to resist water-based dyes. The medium is recognized by its characteristic crackle or veining throughout the design.

The exhibit can be seen during banking hours: daily from 9 to 3, Friday evenings from 5 to 8 and Saturday from 9 to 12.

GOP Steak Roast

Get your tickets for the Bethlehem GOP Annual Steak Roast, Wednesday, August 15th, at Murray Jennex Sunset Park. Visit with your Republican Candidates; many State officials will be in attendance. Enjoy the fun. Tickets available from your Committeemen and Merwyn K. Atwood, Chairman, 407 Delaware Avenue, Delmar (439-5720).

Question:

Do retired Federal Civilian Employees retain a death benefit allowance in their group life insurance plan?

Answer:

Under certain circumstances a Federal Civil Service employee may convert his group insurance to an individual policy upon retirement. If the employee does not convert to an individual policy and stays under his group plan, the amount of his life insurance is the amount the employee would have had on his 65th birthday or the date of his retirement, whichever is later. The life insurance is then reduced by 2% the last day of each subsequent calendar month until the amount of the life insurance reaches 25% of the amount the employee had at retirement.

New Mini-Alarm

A new miniturized, solid state electronic device designed to remind private car owners that it is time to have their "wheels" serviced has been introduced for the first time in the Capital District.

Mounted underneath the dash board on the driver's side, the matchbook-size "Car-Comp" is preset to measure and "remember" the number of hours of engine operating time, and when this magic number is reached, the device's screen lights up to tell the driver that preventative maintenance is due.

"Extending the life of a car is the obvious reward of this little aerospace age "Black Box", said R. Harold Craig, President of Albany Dodge, Inc. "Timely oil changes and routine tune-ups help prevent costly overhauls which invariably result from driver procrastination. Car-Comp is designed to work like a visual Craig pointed out that automotive experts have always agreed that preventative maintenance should be based on engine hours rather than miles, as the aerospace industry, the Armed Forces and the trucking industry learned years ago. Before Car-Comp, however, there was no simple and economical means to do so.

A replaceable timing capsule inside Car-Comp counts off atoms from a precision metallic element and, after the engine has operated for the preset number of hours, the element opens up like a fuse and closes the visual message panel or screen to illuminate. An almost microscopic amount of electrical current is used in the process and the capsule is replaced following servicing.

Mr. Webb's talk had as its central theme, the Owens-Corning promise that the whole operation will be based on the good neighbor policy. He said that the company will come well below the legal amount of emissions allowed; he described the anti-pollution methods to be used including the fact all used water would be recycled and used over and over, thereby eliminating any possibility of water pollution; he further stated that Owens-Corning is a responsible member of the community wherever they have a plant and that it is always a practice to help selected health, welfare, educational civic and cultural institutions in these communities.

Dear Mr. Singer:

Over the past few weeks there have been a number of newspaper articles which made reference to your plant.

The articles state that your plant is considered a health hazard and reference has been made to the death of Mrs. Delbens.

I'd like to know what you have to say about these statements.

Yours truly,

PLASTICS DEPARTMENT

July 24, 1973

Mr. Bertram E. Kohinke
Supervisor
Town of Bethlehem
393 Delaware Avenue
Delmar, New York 12054

Dear Mr. Kohinke,

This is in response to your letter of July 16, 1973, in which you asked me to comment on the recent newspaper statements that refer to the Selkirk General Electric Plastics plant as a health hazard and make reference to Mrs. Delbene's death.

I can categorically assert that nothing harmful or toxic is being emitted into the air which could in any way adversely affect any human being either in or outside plant boundaries. There are numerous official sources that can corroborate this fact.

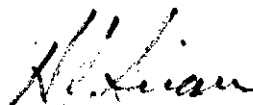

It is a fact that there is less phenol in the air at the plant and the adjacent surroundings, including the Delbene property, than has been found in location in and around Albany. Likewise there is significantly more phenol in many household items, such as disinfectant sprays and medicines, than can be found in and around the GE Plastics plant.

Various statements have been made inferring that Mrs. Delbene died of phenol poisoning as a result of living close to the GE plant. This is denied by her death certificate which lists the cause as "systemic vasculitis" (inflammation of the vascular system) and the contributing cause as "aortic stenosis, congenital" (stoppage of the aorta, a birth defect).

Thus, since the phenol emissions from the plant could not have had any effect on Mrs. Delbene and since she died of natural causes, the matter has been blown out of proportion, without any supporting scientific evidence.

Please contact me again if I can answer any other questions you may have regarding the General Electric Plastics plant in Selkirk, which I consider exemplary from the standpoint of the low level of measurable emissions.

Yours truly,

H. J. Singer, Manager

Annual Iris Auction

Several hundred gardeners and iris fanciers will join the Capital-Hudson Area, of the Empire State Iris Society, at their annual iris auction and rhizome sale, to be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Irwin A. Conroe, Font Grove Road, Slingerlands, Sunday, August 5. Last year more than that number of flower growers took advantage of the once-a-year opportunity to purchase newer and better iris rhizomes at a mere fraction of their book value. At the auction and sale, irises introduced as late as 1972 and 1973 will be available on the auction tables. Irises older than four or five years will be available on the bargain tables. There will also be choice selections of other perennials and rock garden plants available at bargain prices.

To insure that everyone will have opportunity to realize on the bargains to be available, irises from all sections of the state will be shipped or brought in to Dr. Conroe, the auction chairman. There will be more than a thousand rhizomes to be displayed and sold.

Bargain table sales open at eleven o'clock or earlier if the buyers so warrant and will close temporarily at two o'clock when the auction bidding begins. After the auction is over the bargain tables will again be open, provided there are any irises left to purchase. Last year the supply of bargain irises had to be replenished several times as iris growers from Long Island, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse and other areas brought in their surplus for the occasion.

Spotlight Weddings

Bronk-Loux

The First Reformed Church, West Coxsackie, was the setting for the Spring wedding of Miss Marjorie Anne Bronk and the Reverend Doctorandus Joseph Anthony Loux, Jr. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend Albert Elswick, Pastor of the Reformed Church of Shawangunk, Wallkill, New York, a close friend of the bride and groom.

Rev. and Mrs. Joseph A. Loux, Jr.

The order of service for the solemnization was based on the 1763 Reformed Church Liturgy and the earlier Liturgies of the Reformed Churches of the Netherlands. The ceremony stressed the Biblical basis of marriage and emphasized the scriptural responsibilities of both the bride and groom.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony in the Candlelight Room of Red's Restaurant, West Coxsackie.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

AS FAR AS THIS WRITER IS CONCERNED, Delmar, the Tri-Village area, the Town of Bethlehem will never be quite the same again with the passing of Alphonse P. Verstandig. Not only was this man a true friend — but his ability to make the scrawniest plant grow into full, luxuriant maturity was a phenomenon. We have (and we still are) always been interested in all things that grow. It probably goes back to being a boy brought up on a farm. There, making things grow was a necessary as breathing.

Making things grow was a living to Al Verstandig too — but in a different way. On the farm, we dealt mostly in plants for animal feed — and a large vegetable garden. Al dealt in vegetables too — but in addition, his unique talent was used to grow the most beautiful of flowers; he had a special knack with landscaping; and he must have been a little closer to God than many of us because there was something about him that where dirt was dirt on us — on him it took on the beautiful hue of fertile soil and no matter what kind of planting he was doing, it all had some secret reverence about it. Just the way he firmed the soil around a plant — something there was that said, “. . . and it will grow!”

Never again will we ever drive down Delaware Avenue, but his face, a phrase, his apron, his smile will always be before our eyes. That's a form of immortality!

Al will live on another hundred years in the trees that he planted. His family in their sense of loss, has our sincere sympathy — but, actually, he will live on and on in his many, many good and beautiful works.

* * *

WE'D LIKE TO EXPRESS OUR APPRECIATION to the Onesquethaw Volunteer Fire Department. We were guests of these men and their auxiliary on the final night of their carnival. When we tell you that they served just about the finest barbecued chicken we ever tasted — you'll agree, unless you missed it. A half chicken, a baked new potato, baked beans, garden fresh corn-on-the-cob, a delicious roll, ice cream and cookies — all served on a plastic-covered paper plate for just $3.

If you missed out this year, go to a 1974 calendar right now and mark that last week in July — to be safe, also mark the third week! It's bound to be one or the other.

AND SPEAKING OF CARNIVALS — tomorrow and Saturday are the final nights for the Glenmont Firemen's Fair put on by Selkirk Volunteer Fire Co. #2. It's on the left hand side of Glenmont Road just after you pass Town Squire Shopping Center. Here's another group of firemen putting on something for everyone.

THE LAST COUPLE OF WEEKS HAVE BROUGHT an avalanche of letters pro and con the Owens-Corning Fiberglas proposed plant on Route 32 in Feura Bush. There are so many that to publish a few would be unfair to all the others who have written. It looks now as though there may be some definite pollution facts released in the near future and at that time we will have a complete report.

* * *

CONTINUING THE POLLUTION THEME: Again last week, the area media slaughtered the contents of a letter directed to Bethlehem Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke that was written in response to a letter from the Supervisor seeking information on the GE plant. To keep the record straight, both letters have been reproduced in their entirety elsewhere in this issue.

SUMMER THEATRE IN BETHLEHEM

What: The Slingerlands Community Players will present The Playpeople in the play, "Catch 22."

Where: The Playhouse on Delaware Turnpike in Unionville.

When: Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 3, 4 and 5 at 8:30 P.M.

The Playpeople in a new acting company made up of former theatre students of SUNY-Albany. "Catch 22," the hit play about the insanity of war, will be directed by Bob Verini. Although the company is made up of only 8 players, they will portray all of the more than 40 roles in the play. Just the technical difficulties present in such an undertaking should be worth the price of admission: $2.50 for adults; $1.50 for students.

In addition to the above 3 presentations, The Playpeople will also stage "Every Kind of Thing" for children at 2 P.M. on Saturday. Admission: 50¢ for adults; 25¢ for children.

The combination of the enthusiasm of young people plus the Verini direction should make this a satisfying theatrical experience.

Community Corner, a public service column of important community events, is sponsored by the people of the
