According to Harvard nutritionist Jean Meyer, 24% of the population exhibits evidence of poor eating habits in the form of excess weight and cardiovascular disease.

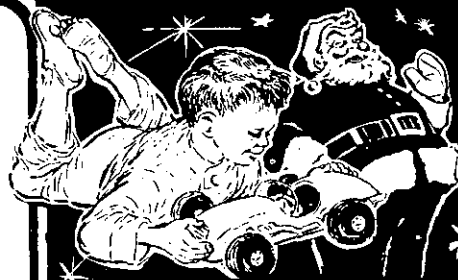

Using a water softener? Though the water is great for washing and laundry, it should not be used for drinking or cooking.

When your doctor prescribes the best, we do the rest, at New Scotland Pharmacy, the pharmacy with the "bedside manner."

Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

At Dartmouth

David R. Kinnard of Delmar, is among the approximately 1,060 students entering the freshman class as Dartmouth College began its 204th year here in September. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William V. Kinnard, 36 Tierney Dr., Delmar.

Mr. Kinnard is a graduate of Bethlehem Central Senior High School, 332 Kenwood Ave., Delmar, N.Y.

Elected President

Archibald A. Owen, III, of Delmar has been elected

JUDY STIBER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stiber, Colonial Acres, a 1973 BCHS graduate, is a freshman at Longwood College, Farmville, Va., and has been awarded a starting position on the Varsity Golf Team. On October 20, the team competed with other colleges in the Virginia State Championship. Judy was runner-up in the first flight 36-hole competition in a sudden-death play-off. In other play, she won 5 of 6 matches this fall, losing only on her first attempt.

first vice-president of the Bucknell University Engineering Alumni Association.

Recipient of a bachelor of science in chemical engineering degree from Bucknell in 1954, Mr. Owen is manager of manufacturing for the General Electric Plastics Division in Albany and resides at 91 McGuffey Lane, Delmar.

The November meeting of the Bethlehem Tri-Village Chapter of the American Association for Retired Persons will be held on Tuesday, November 20, at 1:30 P.M. at the First United Methodist Church, Delmar.

Mrs. John McCormack will exhibit and show how to make holiday decorations and wreaths with pine cones, nuts and other natural materials.

Books on Sale

November 20, 10 A.M., at Bethlehem Library, Delmar

Progress Club members will have the opportunity to see and purchase many new and interesting books for Christmas giving. The display is made possible through the courtesy of Lester Carleton, owner of Clapp's Book Store. Mr. Carleton will be opening a new book store soon in the area of the former Little Red School House on Schoolhouse Road.

announces the speaker for the up-coming seminar on the theme, "Counseling the Family." Miss Hedi McKinley of the School of Social Welfare, SUNY-A, will speak on the subject, "Role Relation in Family and Society," to the Tri-Village Clergy Association of Elsmere, Delmar, and Slingerlands. This is the third in a series of seminars devoted to counseling work with this facility.

Miss McKinley is a psychiatric social worker on the faculty of the School of Social Welfare. She received her training from Columbia University. In addition to her work at SUNY she has a private practice in individual and marriage counseling. At present she is Director of the Community Service Program at the State University, Albany. For the past five years she has discussed social problems on WGY. She is a member of the American Academy of Psychotherapists and the American Association of Marriage Counselors.

The Seminar will be held at the First United Methodist Church, Delmar, in the Lounge, on Tuesday, November 20, at 12:30-2:30. The Clergy Association will hold a business/luncheon meeting from 11:30-12:30 and remain in session for the seminar.

LIBRARY NOTES

Cyprus

Wild mountains, sun-baked plains
A lizard peering under a lavender bush
A snake rustling through the brush
Pottery strewn fields
Stony fortress, steps worn by Crusader feet
A rocky river bed where the bristling thistle grows
Cyprus, cruel Artemis' tangled playground Lies parched beneath Helios' glaring eye.

From adversity a rugged beauty grew to greet the traveler's eye
The gnarled olive tree wrings moisture from the earth
The red and white flowers of Daphne, the laurel trees
The sea dashing upon the rocks, shimmering by moonlight Cyprus lives through the grace of Aphrodite.

The preceding poem was written by Dan Frinta, a Senior at SUNYA. It is a perfect companion to many of the pastels done by his mother, Irena Altmanova (Mrs. M. Frinta) of Altamont. These pastels and several others are now on exhibit at the Bethlehem Public Library in Delmar — and they will be on display until the end of November.

Born in Czechoslovakia where she studied at the School of Graphic Art and at the College of Fine Art at Prague, Irena Altmanova continued her art education in Paris and then at the State University of New York at Albany from which she received a Master of Arts Degree. She has taught art locally and in Michigan and has had many shows in the United States and Paris.

The pastels in this exhibition are of places in Cyprus, France, Greece, and the Pyrenees. The vibrant colors depict the world of nature — a nature unencumbered by the intrusion of civilization. Perhaps this is a part of the allure of the pastels, but primarily the attraction is a result of the kaleidoscope of colors which bring alive those "wild mountains" and "sun-baked plains."

This exhibition by Irena Altmanova is one which should not be missed.

Merrimoppets at Center

On Sunday, November 18 at 4:00 p.m., the Merrimoppets Children's Theatre will be presented at the Albany Jewish Community Center, 340 Whitehall Road.

This season's performance involves a group of young people who find a treasure map with clues that take them where a pumpkin full of money has been hidden. Secretly they are followed by two spies to a big garden where they come upon giant insects and huge vegetables. Then the real action begins involving everything from a bad tempered walking cucumber to the booby-trapped pumpkin.

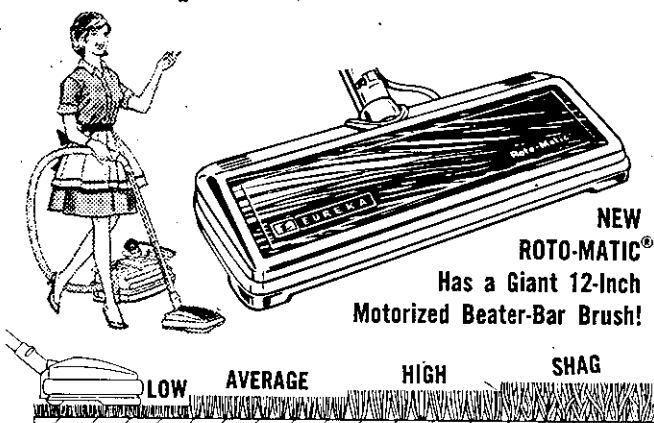

The production is a fast moving, exciting farce and delightful entertainment for all ages.

Tickets will be available at the door.

Colonie Center displays

Rockwell Originals

Sixteen original pencil drawings by Norman Rockwell will be on display at Colonic Center November 15 through December 1 from 10 A.M. to 10 P.M. free of charge.

These drawings were commissioned by the Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co. as illustrations for a series of national advertisements used during the decade and a half between 1950 and 1964. The Massachusetts Mutual collection, numbering over seventy original Rockwell drawings in all, was accumulated during this period when the company commissioned Mr. Rockwell to make the illustrations for the national consumer advertising program. It is believed to be one of the largest collections of Rockwell originals in existence. The sketches were made available to Colonie Center through G. Barton Griffin, General Agent for Massachusetts Mutual in Albany.

Because of the warm human appeal so characteristic of Mr. Rockwell's work many of these illustrations were used in more than one life insurance advertisement. Two drawings in this collapels and broad tie for the father who sits with head bowed at the Thanksgiving table and for the Easter illustration he up-dated the mother's Easter bonnet and coiffure as well as the shoulder line of her Easter suit.

Recognition of this advertising program was given by the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge which awarded its George Washington medal to the Mass Mutual in 1959 for the Thanksgiving as with its now traditional Rockwell illustration.

The universal appeal for the Rockwell drawings seem to stem from the fact that every character is so easily recognized, so believable. This is a quality the artist cherishes. Mr. Rockwell, a native of New York City, now making his home in Stockbridge, Mass., uses his neighbors in the community models.

OUR HAIR PHILOSOPHY

Everyone asks the same questions about hair care,

Is teasing the hair passe?

Is it true my hair should be shorter since I'm over thirty?

Do permanents and tints ruin my hair?

Should I not use a hair spray for a more natural look?

Or, why is it that since I don't, color, tease or use hair spray, my hair looks lifeless and my sets don't stay in?

We at the Cat's Meow Beauty Salon feel that your hair is either naturally lovely or it isn't. If you're in the lucky 10% with beautiful hair you don't need permanents or tints. A thorough shampoo and good cut is all the hair care necessary for you. But, if you're in the other 90% with problem hair, yes you do need permanents, tints, conditioners, teasing and hair spray — either one or all of the above.

The woman of today realizes the first time she visits a beauty salon what she expects from her visit.

We feel each woman should wear her hair to reflect her individual personality; our responsibility is to help her attain it with our skills and knowledge. So girls, if you feel you look better with your hair teased, rather than not, do it; if your hair set stays in longer with hair spray than not, use it. If you make a more attractive blonde than brunette — change it. At the Cat's Meow Beauty Salon we cater to all personality types, each doing her own thing. We only want to help you do it.

tion of five degrees would result in six per cent savings; and 10 percent with a 10-degree reduction.

These recommendations were made by Prof. Donald R. Price and Norman R. Scott, both agricultural engineers at the N.Y. State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Cornell University.

Price, who serves as chairman of the College's Task Force on Energy and Agriculture, says that the savings would vary to some extent depending on the region of the state:

For a home located in the southeast section of New York State, in Orange County, for instance, a five-degree reduction would mean savings of seven percent; 11 percent with a 10-degree reduction.

Comparable reductions of the thermostat setting in a home near Plattsburg in the northern part of the state would be five and 8.5 percent, respectively.

"On getting up in the morning, move the thermostat back to the normal comfortable range — 70 to 72 degrees, but leave the setting low if no one stays home during the day," Price advises. "If the family is on a vacation trip for a week or longer, set the thermostat at 60 degrees."

Other steps recommended by the Cornell agricultural engineer to save heating bills include:

— The central heating system should be "tuned up" each year before the onset of cold weather; a burner out of adjustment can reduce the — Keep draperies open and shade up during the day to take advantage of the sunshine; make sure curtains, draperies and furniture do not block radiators or hot air registers.

— Insulation can be a big factor in fuel savings; six inches of insulation in the attic and three inches in the side walls as well as unheated crawl spaces are recommended.

— Close all openings and seal all cracks between the attic and the living areas.

— Keep basement doors and windows closed even if the area is unheated; if the basement is heated, insulation of sidewalls and use of storm windows will reduce heat loss considerably.

Be Prepared

If you're one of the more than eight million persons licensed by New York State to drive on the often traffic-jammed highways and byways of this country, the chances of your being involved in an auto accident in the next four or five years are high.

National accident figures show that in 1972 29.1 million drivers were involved in 24.8 million accidents. Because there were 118.2 million licensed drivers that year, one driver in four may have been involved in a crash.

What should you do in the aftermath of an accident — a sudden and frequently traumatic event when emotions run high?

The most valuable preparation for such emergencies, the Insurance Information Institute says, is for every driver to understand fully and memorize these primary responsibilities: Stop! Identify yourself! Aid any injured person!

Failure to perform these duties at the scene of an accident carries severe legal penalties. The Institute notes that drivers involved in accidents where a person is hurt must come to a stop, provide identification and offer to assist the injured, or under the Uniform Vehicle Code face a fine of $100 to $5,000 and/or 30 days to one year in jail. Most states require a convicted person's license to be revoked.

Being "involved in an accident" has little to do with causing it, the Institute points out. You are "involved" if your vehicle comes into contact with another vehicle, pedestrian or object, or if you cause or contribute to a crash by another driver even though there is no physical contact with your vehicle.

An involved driver's first duty is to stop immediately — as close to the scene as possible but without unnecessarily obstructing traffic. Park on the shoulder and pull clear of any intersections, the Institute says. It is not only unlawful for a movable vehicle to be left in the roadway, it also is inconsiderate and dangerous. Be careful, however, to note where the vehicles were at the point of impact for subsequent reference in preparing accident reports.

Identifying yourself is extremely important in all types of motor vehicle accidents — whether the accident involves other drivers or unattended property such as parked cars or fixed objects along the roadside.

In an accident involving other drivers, you must supply all injured and involved persons and/or investigating police officers with your name, address, vehicle registration number and driver's license number. In an accident involving unattended property you are required either to locate the owner and give him the same information or attach a note containing this information to the property and immediately notify the police.

Never leave the scene of an accident without identifying yourself in some way. If you go to call for an ambulance or the police, the Institute recommends you leave some identification behind to avoid any possible misunderstanding of your intentions.

Prompt medical attention can mean the difference between life and death to many auto accident victims. It therefore is not only the legal but also the moral duty of a driver involved in an accident to aid an injured person who obviously needs or requests medical treatment.

This requires making arrangements for transporting the person to a hospital or doctor. Usually, you simply call for an ambulance, but if his injuries are minor or a telephone is a long way off, it may be preferable to drive him yourself. As a general rule, however, you should not attempt to move an unconscious or seriously hurt person.

Drivers involved in accidents resulting in death or injury must notify the police by the quickest means of communication, usually the telephone. In such cases or where property damage exceeds $100, drivers normally are required to file within five or 10 days written accident reports to the appropriate agencies in the state where the accident occurred.

Apart from these legal requirements, the Institute also advises contacting your insurance agent or representative as soon as is reasonably possible. His phone number usually appears on your policy identification card, which you should carry with you at all times.

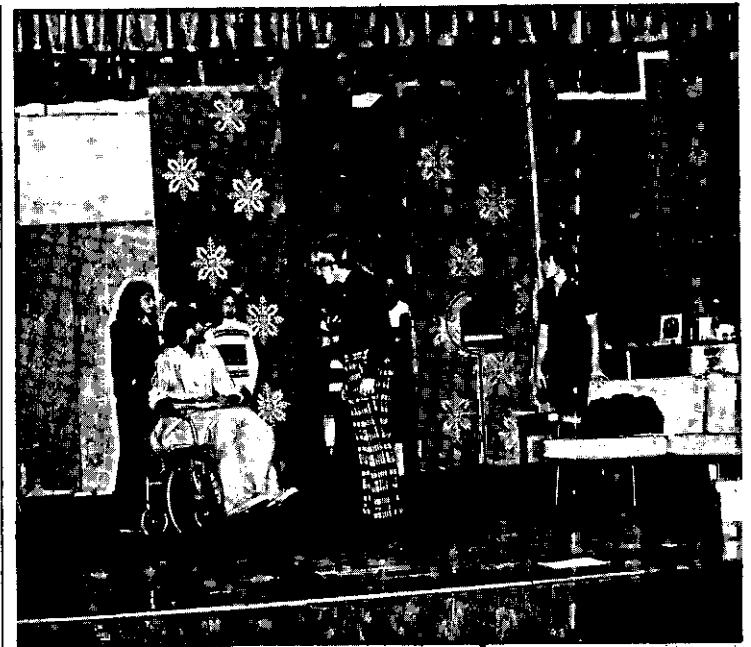

Because insurance policies often specify requirements for oral or written notice of accidents, your agent is an invaluable assistant in preparing these reports and preventing any undue delay in informing the insurance company of the incident. Be sure to give the agent the exact details of the accident, including the names and addresses of all involved drivers, injured persons and witnesses.

Spotlight Engagements

Simmons - Kavanaugh

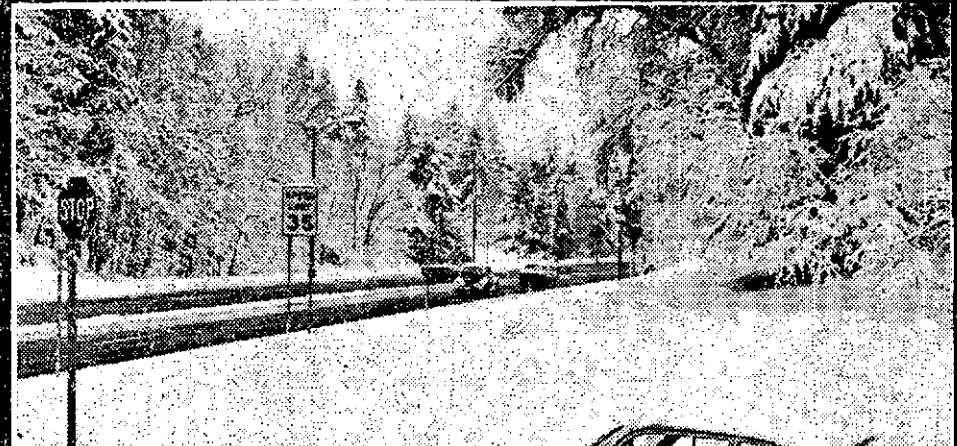

Mr. and Mrs. Auvilla O. Simmons, R.D. #2, Voorheesville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Brenda Jean Simmons, to Kevin Patrick Kavanaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kavanaugh, R.D. #1, Voorheesville.

Miss Simmons, a graduate of Voorheesville High School, is employed by Hartford Insurance Co. in Delmar. Her fiance is also a graduate of Voorheesville High and is employed by the Office of General Services, State Campus, Albany.

THE VOORHEESVILLE DIONYSIANS will present the comedy, "The Man Who Came to Dinner" by Moss Hart and George Kaufman on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 16 and 17, in the auditorium of the Voorheesville High School. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

ARMSTRONG SNOW TIRES

MEMBERS OF GARDEN Group of the Delmar Progress Club recently visited the Louis S. Poskanzer Convalescent Home in Albany where they distributed baskets of dried flowers which they had arranged for the patients.

Shown in the above picture is Mrs. Alfred L. Myron holding an elaborate arrangement which she had made for the living room. Mrs. Myron is conversing with a former Albany School Teacher, Mrs. Florence Drake.

POEMS

by Gertrude Kiley

Nature's Metamorphosis

From gold skinned bulb the stately lily grows;
It has the regal stance of new crowned queen,
Arrayed in grandeur of embroidered robe,
Shrubs may provide the framework for a rose
As yellow as the sipping hummingbird,
Or shellpink hid in curves of kitten's ear,
The common rooted shrub and bulb emerge,
Transfixed by Nature's metamorphosis!

This Earth With All Its Color

Out of this earth colors are renewed;
The hoteyed flames of fire, warming the toes of the night,
And the soothing green hands of the forest,
The iced blue calm of a mountain lake,

Meyers Funeral Home

439-5560
DELMAR, N. Y.

Question:

What should I do in the event of an emergency death of someone in my family?

Answer:

Emergency, accidental, sudden or violet deaths are always accompanied by terrific tension and considerable emotion. There is no hard nor fast rule what you should do nor even what you can do in these situations except to be as calm as possible and to be sure that your interests and those who survive are being protected.

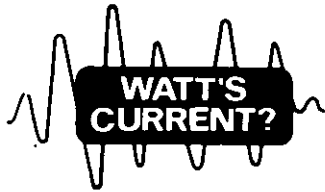

After the proper legal authorities have been notified the very next contact should be our personnel at the Meyers Funeral Home. As a result of our experience we will be in a position to be certain that your interests are being safeguarded. We have a thorough knowledge of the death benefit provisions of the Federal and State compensation laws, Federal Employers Liability Law and the regulations that apply to sudden death.

Should a death of this nature occur in your family at any time in the Albany area or in another city, notify us immediately, night or day.

pany, Joanne Rector of Rensselaer, Gwendolyn Shutter of Albany, and Maryann WandeWall of Castleton.

Accompanying the Metro-land group will be Mrs. Hildreth Bailey of Delmar and Mrs. Kenneth Ford of Glenmont.

The local scouts will meet the rest of the contingent at Dur Cabana, a girl scout international Center near Cuenavaca, Mexico. In addition to spending time sight-seeing in Mexico, the girls will be involved in a service project under which they will teach 150 children of a village near Cuenavaca.

How To Buy A Kitchen Appliance

Whatever kitchen appliance you're thinking of buying, you should consider the following points suggested by General Electric home economists before making your decision:

Designed for You. Has it been designed for your convenient operation and use? Will it be easy to take care of? Does it have such features as easily accessible controls with clear markings, good stability

THESE ARE THE FOUR LOCAL Senior Girl Scouts from the Hudson Valley Girl Scout Council who are among 16 chosen to spend 11 days in Mexico with other Girl Scouts from around the world. Clarksville's Tara McKenzie (sitting) is holding 2 of the puppets which will be a part of a teaching project for Mexican children who live in and near the village of Cuenavaca. Standing, left to right, Sue Ford, Glenmont, Carolyn Bailey and Cathy Howell from Delmar. Costumes will be worn in a dramatic presentation in Mexico.

and easily cleanable surfaces? Will the size meet your individual needs and are accessories available which add to its usefulness?

Construction. Does the appliance appear well constructed of materials suitable for its intended use? Are there any sharp edges that may be harmful during use?

Use. Will the appliance fulfill your differing needs or will it duplicate your present equipment? Does it have the features you're looking for, bearing in mind your intended use? Will its versatility fulfill most of your expectations?

Brand Name. Is the appliance made by a reputable manufacturer who is known to provide products of quality and lasting performance? And does it carry a warranty that includes parts and service should this become necessary within the period stated. For instance, GE appliances not only have excellent warranties, but can also be serviced through a network of service centers throughout the country.

Small Appliance Features. When buying a small kitchen appliance such as a coffee pot or electric skillet, do you look for appliances that are immersible for cleaning, and have thermostat controlled temperatures?

Energy Conservation. You can help conserve America's energy by buying portable baking and warming appliances, which use less energy than the range oven for the same cooking job.

UL Listing. Is the Underwriters' Laboratories registered symbol visible on the product? This indicates it has been manufactured and tested to their standards.

If you can say yes to these questions, then you have yourself a kitchen appliance you'll be proud to have in your home.

TOWN PLANS BICENTENNIAL FETE

Supervisor Bertram E. Kohinke has called on all of the Town's volunteer, patriotic, religious, fraternal and service organizations to join in a common effort with the Town's Historical Association to plan a "meaningful observance of our country's 200th birth year."

Mr. Kohinke's letter to area organizations follows:

In less than three years from this date, our Nation will observe its bicentennial, which we anticipate will engulf the mind and spirit of every American who will point with pride to the trials, triumphs and traditions of this oldest Republic on earth.

It is fitting, therefore, that those of us in official and leadership roles in our community unite together to prepare a meaningful observance of our country's 200th birthday, and begin our planning and programming at an early date to maximize the extent of participation by all of the citizens of the Town of Bethlehem.

Accordingly, I encourage your organization and its membership to work within a plan now being formulated by the Town of Bethlehem Historical Association to assure an appropriate historical observance throughout 1976, and punctuated with twelve monthly events, each of which will be distinct in itself but integral to the bicentennial observance.

While both federal and state commissions have long been organized to mark this great event, it is nevertheless incumbent upon us as a Township to initiate and carry out our own observance within the abilities, talents and resources of our citizens.

It is my pleasure to designate the officers, trustees and members of the Town Historical Association which functions under an Absolute Charter of the Board of Regents of the State of New York, to coordinate through me the plans and activities of all volunteer, fraternal, service, patriotic, religious and political organizations who wish to identify with this significant town-wide observance.

Within the general initial format of organization and activity outlined above, I invite your membership to formally designate a bicen-

Fish Calls For Sauce

When fish is on the menu, Tartar Sauce pops to mind—everybody likes it. But give another thought to other sauces too, offered here along with Tartar. The recipes were developed by the makers of Tartar Sauce: Stir together 1 cup real mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 1 tablespoon chopped sweet pickle and 2 tablespoons chopped sour pickle. Chill. Makes about 1 1/4 cups.

Chili Mayonnaise Sauce: Stir together 1/2 cup real mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon chili sauce and 2 teaspoons chopped parsley. Chill. Makes 1/2 cup sauce.

Horseradish Sauce: Stir together 1/2 cup real mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons horseradish, 1 tablespoon dry white wine and 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Beat 1/4 cup heavy cream until slightly thickened.
Fold into mayonnaise mixture. Chill. Makes about 1 cup.

Watercress Mayonnaise: Put 2 cups watercress leaves (about 1/2 bunch), 1 cup real mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt in electric blender. Cover and run just until watercress is finely chopped. Chill. Makes 1 cup.

Snow Fun! by Jim Fuller

Pennsylvania is Perfect

The recreational skier reigns supreme in Pennsylvania. Its mountains are perfectly designed for people who ski for the pure fun of it, from beginners to near-experts.

"We're not the Alps," says one resort owner, "but even that kind of skier, frankly, can find good slopes in Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania's modestly high mountains (most have a 1,000 foot or less vertical drop) are just right for families, singles, teens — anyone looking for winter recreation.

And unlike some of their more famous counterparts, Pennsylvania's almost 50 ski resorts offer prices to fit the wallets of people on a budget. They provide combinations of instruction, lift tickets, accommodations and food at modest rates that make it easy for families to share an outdoor winter vacation together.

To accommodate parents with different age children, many ski areas offer special children's lessons, and for those with toddlers too young to ski, nursery services, so that parents can ski alone or with their older children.

In fact, children are among the most enthusiastic skiers of all. They learn faster and are less fearful than adults.

The Pennsylvania skier can pick from a variety of terrain and style for their outdoor fun — from the resort atmosphere of Charnita near Gettysburg and the Maryland border, or Mout Airy in the Poconos near New York and New Jersey, to the rustic charm of Cooks Forest in northwestern Pennsylvania.

There's at least one ski area not much more than an hour's drive from any spot in Pennsylvania. Some are sprinkled over the central area of the Commonwealth, like Black Moshannon and Tuscanita, and many are quite near Pennsylvania's border — like Camelback and Elk Mountain in the northeast and Seven Springs in the southwest — making Pennsylvania skiing very accessible to out-of-state skiers, whether they're from New York State and City, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Washington, D.C., Virginia, West Virginia or Ohio.

Since nature is not always generous with its snow, almost all the ski areas in Pennsylvania have developed extensive snow-making facilities, so when ski vacations are planned in Pennsylvania, skiers are almost guaranteed to have snow on the ground, whether or not any has actually fallen.

Almost all ski areas in Pennsylvania offer ski instructions and equipment rental, so the beginning skier doesn't have to invest a lot of money to try the sport. Many offer the Graduated Length Method of skiing, which takes the skier from three-foot skis gradually to the longer ones, although the American Technique and all variations in between are very popular, too.

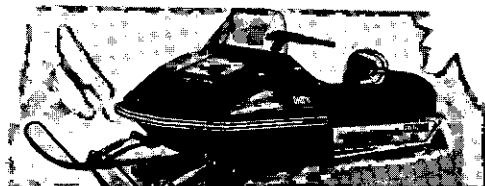

For families who have a non-skier among the group, a winter vacation at a ski resort still makes sense. Many areas have facilities for snowmobiling, ice skating, and ski bobbing. Some even have cross-country skiing trails, e sailing, and indoor swimming pools.

A number of ski areas have made improvements or changes for the 1973-74 ski season. Many have increased their snow-making capacity, among them Blue Knob near Johnstown, North Mountain in the endless Mountains area of northeastern Pennsylvania, Big Boulder and Jack Frost in the Pocono Mountains, and Laurel Mountain in southeastern Pennsylvania's Laurel Highlands. Jack Frost and Laurel Mountain areas were expanded and new skiing experiences last year and continue to expand.

New lifts and tows have been added at several resorts; a bar and poma lift at North Mountain; extension of a poma lift at Denton Hill; another double chairlift, a rope tow, and two platter pulls at Laurel Mountain; a fifth rope tow at Seven Springs; a triple chairlift at Wonderview near Bloomsburg in central Pennsylvania; and a new beginners chairlift with electronic speed controls at Elk Mountain in northeastern Pennsylvania.

Several Pennsylvania ski areas have also lengthened hours and trails, and added night skiing: Apple Hill near Allentown is now open seven days a week; Blue Knob is lighting Mambo Alley Trail in its entirety for night skiing; Camelback has extended the Marc Anthony Trail which allows skiers to follow the trail from the top of the mountain to the new Sunbowl area; Hidden Valley has improved its lighting system; and Elk Mountain has added more lights in their ski school and beginners area.

Lots of extras have been added, too, like Big Boulder's new Alpine Room in its Glass House (one of two base lodges), now offering beer, wine, cheese and cold meats, along with a new outdoor barbecue area. Wonderview has enlarged its lodge, and Blue Knob is building condominiums for sale or rental.

For more information on skiing in Pennsylvania, write to the Pennsylvania Bureau of Travel Development, Department of Commerce, South Office Building, Room S-111, Harrisburg, Pa. 17120.

We stand on what we said 2 years ago: by 1979 the lection of local officials could be a real horse race. Bethlehem is changing from the old-time country township hich was ironclad Republican to a community of people th diverse political views and each two-year period has en the two sides more evenly divided. 1973 gains in the Democratic column were not all that great that we can esee any tight race in 1975 — but given the town's pre-nt rate of growth and 1977 or '79 could be an entirely fferent story.

The "change for the sake of change" syndrome is not ely to carry much weight in this town where the people ceive honest, fair and business-like government — and at continues to be a big factor in our people's choice.
e majority is proud of the town and they want to see the esent type of administration continued. We have reatedly written that Bethlehem is a prime example of how ownship should be run — and that observation is made as many Democrats as Republicans.
