For once let the bank come to you.

Let's face it — there are times it's easier to let the post office do your walking for you. Now you can do your banking in the comfort of your home or office . . . with a CSB Bank-By-Mail checking account. And CSB will make things even easier by paying postage both ways.

You'll get a statement every month if you open a regular or business account, or a quarterly statement if you open a personal or 62+ account.

With banking by mail, paid postage and regular statements, the Bank-By-Mail account figures out to be the easiest checking account around.

Opening a Bank-By-Mail account is as simple as calling CSB or stopping in at our nearest office.

So sit down and let the bank come to you with a Bank-By-Mail account! We understand how you appreciate life's little conveniences. We understand, because at CSB . . . People Are Our Business.

Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

The Bethlehem Central High School Chapter of Future Business Leaders of America is engaged in an active program for the next few weeks.

Patricia Fiato, Chapter President, has appointed Laura Bernard and Sandra Van Valkenberg co-chairmen of the Annual FBLA Christmas Basket. They will be cooperating with Keyettes and Key Club. Non-perishable food items will be collected for needy families in the Town of Bethlehem. Chapter members, and others interested in making a contribution, will bring in items suitable to make a merrier holiday for someone less fortunate.

On December 4, the Chapter sponsored a series of two talks by Mrs. Alyce McFeeters, secretary to Dr. Lawrence Zinn, Superintendent of Schools. Mrs. McFeeters, who is a graduate of Gregg College, Chicago, spoke to members of the Shorthand, secretarial practice, office skills, office practice and machine shorthand classes. From her wide experience in business she answered questions from students about the opportunities in secretarial and office work. The planning for this program was carried out by Brenda Burkins.

On December 8 and 9 the FB-LA members will combine forces with the BCHS Key Club to participate in a money-raising activity. The two groups will spend the two days distributing the new telephone books for the New York Telephone Company. They will, at the same time, collect used phone books to be re-cycled. The money earned from this project will help defray expenses of the members who will attend the groups' State Conventions. Kathy Sullivan has been meeting with the Chairman from Key Club on the planning.

Mrs. Jo Ann Davies, Chapter advisor, has been working with the student chairmen in organizing each of these projects.

New Music Honors

The 1973 New York State School Music Association All-State Conference was held at the Concord Hotel, Kiamesha Lake, New York from November 25-27.

Bethlehem Senior High School music department announced that Mark Foster, percussionist, was selected to participate in the N.Y.S.S.M.A. All-State Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Frank L. Battisti, conductor of the New England Conservatory Wind Ensemble.

Mark Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster of Wellington Road, Delmar, is a music major senior at Bethlehem Central High School. Mark has competed in N.Y.S.S.M.A. solo contests where he earned two "A" ratings in grade 6, the most difficult level of music for high school students. He has been a member of the N.Y.S.S.M.A. Area Sectionals for the past three years. Currently Mark is the percussion section leader for the Bethlehem Central Wind Ensemble, under the direction of Samuel S. Bozzella.

Each Conference All-State participant must first be recommended by his senior high director and second to rank high in the audition held in the spring. The audition consisted of a pre-

OVER STORY

SGT. DORSEY HONORED AS
POLICE OFFICER OF THE YEAR

SGT. LEO "PAT" DORSEY was the happy and proud recipient of the first annual award for "Capital District Police Officer of the Year" on November 24. The award was presented to Sgt. Dorsey by Bethlehem Lodge No. 2233 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at a dinner sponsored by the Lodge in his honor, which was attended by approximately 350 friends and guests.

Sgt. Dorsey, a member of the Bethlehem Police Department's Youth Bureau, was cited because of his excellent record in the performance of his duties as a Police Officer. He was also commended for his unselfish devotion and patience in working with youngsters of the Town, for whom he sets an outstanding example. He has been instrumental in promoting several programs held throughout the Town from which youngsters benefit, such as Bicycle Safety, Do's and Don't of Baby Sitting and other instructions involving safety measures.

Scuba Diving

A basic Scuba Certification program will be held at BCHS on Dec. 10, 7 P.M.

The program consists of 10 3-hour classes, both in the pool and open water. The classes will be conducted by Internationally Certified Instructors from Northeast Diving Academy.

It's Soul Food Time

The Club of Bethlehem Central Senior High School is sponsoring its 6th Annual Soul Food Dinner. The dinner will be held in the high school cafeteria on Wednesday, December 13, from 5:30 to 8:30. The cost of tickets is $2.50 for a large serving and $1.75 for a smaller serving. Tickets may be purchased from "Club" members or at the door. Proceeds from the Dinner go to support the Arbor Hill Child Care Center.

The day care center, located on North Pearl Street in Albany, was started several years ago by Pete Jones. Students from Bethlehem Central helped renovate the building where the day care center is. The day care center is not supported financially by the Federal Government, and receives all its money from donations. Pete charges each family $10 a week. This does not cover the expense of running the center.

If the money is not donated to the center, Pete must provide the difference out of his own pocket. Needless to say, he cannot really afford to do this, but he feels that the day care center serves a vital purpose in the community. Most of the parents who send their children to the center are trying to get more education, so they can get better jobs. This is important to Pete. He feels that if anyone is going to pull the Blacks out of the slums, it is themselves.

The day care center provides each child with breakfast and lunch every day. The people working there try to teach the children basic education, such as color differentiation and how to get along together. The children's ages range from one to nine. Due to the cutback of funding of Federally run day care centers, Pete is getting many of the children who were in other day care centers. So, now, it is especially important that Pete gets money.

So, come to the Soul Food Dinner. The menu includes fried chicken, black-eyed peas, collard greens, candied yams, cornbread, beverages and home-made desserts. Live entertainment will be provided.

27 WAYS TO CONSERVE ENERGY
from Bethlehem Terrace Association

Heating

1. Set your thermostat at a comfortable day-round temperature about 68-70 degrees — and leave it alone. Constantly adjusting the thermostat wastes energy. Don't turn it down at night — your heating system will just work harder in the morning to warm furniture and walls that have cooled overnight.
2. Close windows near the thermostat. Open windows will only cool the thermostat, causing the system to overwork and overheat the rest of your apartment.
3. Close draperies during the night and open them during the day. At night, the closed draperies act as insulation over cold windows; during the

A local farmer born near Schenectady, N.Y. in 1777, moved to Dundas Co., Ontario, Canada and built a house. In clearing the land around it, he found a clump of trees which apparently came up from an apple dropped there. This farmer dug up the trees and planted them near his home about 1811. By 1830 only one seedling was living, but its fruit was of such unique flavor & aroma that scion wood was sold for grafting over a wide area and the apples were named in honor of this diligent farmer, John McIntosh.

4. Close the vents in your air conditioning units.

Appliances: In the kitchen

5. Limit the use of small appliances with heating elements — electric frypans, toasters, counter-top ovens, broilers, etc.
  6. Keep the exhaust fan filter clean; don't overwork the motor by forcing the fan to pull air through a dirty filter.
  7. On your cook-top, use the correct size unit for a particular skillet or pot. Turn off the burners five minutes before the end of the proper cooking time. The burner element WILL STAY HOT and your food will continue cooking — without consuming any energy.
  8. Preheat your oven for only ten minutes. Don't set the temperature higher than you need; your oven won't heat up any faster and you'll waste energy.
  9. Check the temperature of your oven with a thermometer to be sure that the dial is accurate and that you are not wasting energy by unknowingly using higher than necessary temperatures.
  10. Don't be an oven peeker when you are baking a cake or pie. Keep the oven door closed and clean for the most efficient use of energy.
  11. Run full loads in the dishwasher; that way, you don't waste water — or energy heating it.
  12. Defrost freezers regularly. Ice accumulation in these units makes them energy wasters.
  13. Be conservative about opening and closing your refrigerator door.
- Appliances: in the Laundry
14. Run full loads in the washer and dryer.
  15. Whenever practical, wash clothes in cold water with proper cold water detergent.
  16. Use the shortest cycle possible, so you don't over-dry clothes.
  17. Clean the dryer lint trap after each load. A dirty lint trap lengthens the cycle time, and your clothes won't dry as well, either.

Appliances and lighting in General

18. Become thoroughly familiar with the operation of your appliances, you may unknowingly be wasting energy. Always read the operating instructions in the owner's manual before you start using a new appliance.
19. Clean or replace your vacuum cleaner bag before it is filled to capacity. If there is a change in the sound of the cleaner, or if the motor housing gets to hot to touch, check for blockage in the hose or brush.
20. Turn off everything not being used, especially incandescent light bulbs. Turning off incandescent lights on and off uses less power than leaving them on.
21. During the day, keep lights out except the most necessary ones. Take advantage of natural light when possible.
22. Use light more efficiently by keeping bulbs and fixtures clean.
23. Laundry room lights should not be turned on during daylight hours unless natural light is not sufficient so as to create a hazard. Please be sure to turn off both light and exhaust fan before leaving the laundry room.
24. Be sure to turn off bathroom fans as well as lights when departing from bathroom.

25. Report any leaking water faucets to the Manager — especially hot water faucets. A faucet that drips once per second wastes about 2,500 gallons of water per year.
26. Keep Christmas lighting decorations to a minimum this year.
27. Make use of small night lights instead of lamps whenever possible.

CONSERVATION COMMENTS

New York State Regional Conservation Educator

Howland Island Waterfowl Hunt

Traditions die hard. At one time it was felt the very survival of waterfowl depended on the inviolate sanctuary of a wildlife refuge. Since the duck depression years of the mid-thirties, when the refuge system was given its biggest boost, waterfowl biologists have learned a great deal about the life history and needs of ducks and geese.

Inventory methods and regulations have been sharpened to the point where hunting is no longer a threat to most waterfowl populations. The threat now is that of habitat destruction, both directly through draining or filling, and indirectly through pollution and other plant and animal killing actions of man. The importance of the refuge now is to protect the waterfowl habitat, and insure that there is an adequate distribution of feeding, resting and nesting areas up and down the flyways.

Habitat destruction has also been reducing the number of places that waterfowl hunters can follow their sport. Add to this the increased number of hunters, and we find that there are many hunters who would like to spend time in a waterfowl blind, but just cannot find a place to do it. It is slowly becoming a sport of those who have special access to private wetlands.

Now that hunting regulations can be used effectively to control the waterfowl kill and prevent species from being in jeopardy from overhunting, it is possible to utilize some of the wetlands formerly used as sanctuaries for hunting by the public. Because of the real shortage of good waterfowl hunting areas where Mr. Average Hunter can pursue his waterfowling interest, the demand far exceeds the supply. Carefully controlled and supervised hunts on many State and Federal waterfowl management areas across the country now are making this sport available to many more sportsmen.

This year the Howland Island Wildlife Management Area was opened to waterfowl hunting for the first time in over 40 years. The experience there clearly shows some of the problems, management techniques and results, and should allay the fears and concerns of those who question the wisdom of hunting on "refuges."

The 3,000-acre wildlife management area has 16 ponds. On nine of these ponds a total of 14 blinds were established. For a five-week period, starting October 2, hunting was permitted on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings. Over 1,000 hunters applied for these 210 blind day assignments. Their applications, in the form of a postal card for each day requested, were mixed in a big box, and assignments drawn lottery-style. Each lucky hunter could bring two companions with him to share his blind. This made it possible for 630 to participate; 494 actually did.

To insure quality hunting, and reduce crippling losses, each party had to have at least six decoys, a boat or retriever, and each hunter was limited to 15 shells.

One of the big concerns of those opposed to the hunt was that it would drive the waterfowl out and start a premature southward movement. The birds quickly learned where it was safe to settle down, and often hunters had the tantalizing experience of watching thousands, yes, thousands, of geese resting on the water just a little way out of range. The number of geese using the area actually increased during the first three weeks, and it wasn't until the general movement of geese to the south, about October 25, that their numbers began to decrease.

As for the slaughter of the innocent ducks that were used to refuge life, the box score shows that 183 ducks and 196 geese were taken by 494 hunters — only three-quarters of a bird apiece. After the opening day hunt when the duck

Gordon Bok at Coffeehouse
 Gordon Bok is a man who knows and interprets his heritage more fully than most. He is a resident of Camden, Maine, and as a Down Easter has collected ballads, chants, bawdy songs and songs of the Maine fisherman along with an equally interesting collection of stories and anecdotes. He has three recordings released under the Folk-Legacy label.

Symphony to Feature Stanley Hummel

By popular demand, Delmar's own Stanley Hummel will be playing two concerts with the Albany Symphony

Stanley Hummel

Orchestra on Friday, December 7, at Troy Music Hall and Saturday, December 8, at the Palace Theatre. Both concerts will be at 8:30 P.M. Two seasons ago when Hummel played with the Albany Symphony, the concert was sold out. Mr. Hummel will play the Rachmaninoff Piano Concerto No. 3 which he prepared for the composer as a student at the Julliard School.

Mr. Hummel has performed concerts all over the world. In Europe in 1971, he played in London, Vienna, Amsterdam and Brussels, receiving glowing reviews praising his rich talent and sensitive interpretations.

He has performed with such organizations as the New York Philharmonic, The National Symphony Orchestra, the Julliard Orchestra and the Chataguna Festival Orchestra. He has played at Carnegie Hall three times and has presented ten Town Hall Concerts.

His repertoire is made up of the standard literature, as well as much present day music. It includes the complete work of Chopin, of which he has made a specialty.

The program will be conducted by Julius Hegyi and will also include Dvorak's "New World" Symphony and Schedrin's Concerto for Orchestra. The Schedrin Concerto for Orchestra includes many Russian folk melodies and is subtitled "Naughty Limericks" or "Mischievous Melodies".

Arts Center Concert

On Sunday, December 9, at 7:30 P.M. The Arts Center on Holy Names Campus, New Scotland Road, Albany, will present The Joyful Word in concert.

The 25-member group of adults and high school students, under the direction of Father Joseph Cotugno, is a varied group of enthusiastic, talented individuals unified by strong threads of purpose and love of the musical expression of the joyful reality of Christianity. Much of the music to be presented is original and presents a challenge and invitation to the audience in the words of one of the composers, "Let's go on our way and Live the word we heard today."

The concert is open to the public. Further information may be had by calling The Arts Center, 438-8428.

A Gift of Life

December brings "Gift of Life Month," sponsored by the Northeastern New York Red Cross Blood Program.

It is a campaign to collect 3,300 pints of blood between now and Christmas eve through our Capitaland area. It is a campaign in which every citizen should take part during this holiday season.

The holiday season brings good cheer and happiness to most. But to some it means injury and ailness. In area hospitals the need for blood supplies continues unabated. But the usual donors become busy with holiday chores, and

Maybe it's because we insist on sticking closely to good French tradition; plenty of fresh luscious seafood — at least eight different kinds; the zesty flavor from a wide variety of tangy spices and robust vegetables; and a dash of genius.

Isn't it time you tried our famous Bouillabaisse Marseillaise?

Grand Union Has Big Plans

Establishment of a 700-member energy and resource conservation task force at The Grand Union Company was announced today by Charles G. Rodman, President of the nation's ninth largest food chain.

The task force, Mr. Rodman said, will have representatives in each of Grand Union's 665 stores, as well as in all company offices, distribution centers and manufacturing facilities in 12 states, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

James F. Kernan, Director of Mechanical Engineering and Utilities, has been named Conservation Commissioner for Grand Union. He will coordinate implementation of a wide range of conservation measures on a continuing basis throughout the company.

Conservation of energy and resources has had a high priority at Grand Union for a number of years. Mr. Rodman said, and is now being given a top priority.

"Every one of our 26,000 employees will be asked to participate in a comprehensive program designed to conserve energy both at work and at home," the President of the $1.4-billion food and general merchandise retailing chain said. "We will also urge our customers and the general public to cooperate in the national energy conservation program through every facility for communications at our command."

Mr. Kernan, noting that normal electrical energy consumption each year at Grand Union was equal to that needed in 110,000 homes, said that one initial goal was to implement measures that would cut the company's normal annual consumption of 650-million kilowatt hours of electricity by at least 10 per cent.

"We are establishing energy consumption budgets for each of the company's facilities," he said, "and through the conservation task force we will see that we adhere to our goals for reduced use of heat, light and power in stores, offices and warehouses. We are also reducing consumption of gasoline and diesel fuel by company-owned trucks and cars and taking steps to conserve paper and other supplies that require large amounts of energy to produce."

Detailed guidelines on energy and resource conservation measures, drawn up during a week-long series of meetings involving top corporate officials, all division Vice Presidents and company experts in the fields of store operations, planning, construction, trucking, warehousing, office management and communications, have been sent to key executives and task force members throughout the company. Included in the outline are:

— A 17 point program for conserving heat, light and power that is being implemented immediately. Accompanying it is a specific program for reducing all store and office lighting and heating.

— A 10-point program applied to store planning, maintenance and construction that ranges from enclosing loading docks at the rear of stores to conserve heat to installing 4-door entrances and exits at the front to save fuel and power and increasing the thickness of insulation at least 50% on roof and ceiling tiles to conserve fuel.

— A 20-point program specifically covering warehousing and the operation of Grand Union's trucking fleet and company-owned cars. It ranges from establishment of employee car pools to reducing the number of warehouse-to-store deliveries where possible and purchasing only sub-compact cars for company use.

— Specific 14-point and 11-point programs to be implemented immediately to conserve both store supplies and office supplies.

An extensive, continuing communications program is planned to keep the company's employees and customers fully posted on the conservation program and its importance. It will be introduced under the heading: "For a Brighter Tomorrow — Conserve Energy Today". Communications will include special conservation messages to consumers via company advertising, a series of special features in the company's employee publication, Progress; in-store signing and a series of news and feature stories covering various aspects of the comprehensive conservation program.

Grand Union is already "one of the best watt watchers" in the food retailing industry, Mr. Kernan says, thanks to a number of energy-conserving steps planned and implemented over the past five years.

"We found a number of years ago that upright frozen food cases equipped with doors used about half the energy consumed by open cases", he said. "Since 1968 we have installed some three miles of these power-saving frozen food display cases in our stores. Enough electrical energy is being saved through their use, instead of open freezers, to supply 4,000 homes."

Re-cycling systems designed by Grand Union engineers that use previously wasted heat from store refrigeration units are presently providing up to 80 percent of the warmth for customers shopping in the company's larger stores, Mr. Kernan said.

"Each of these heat re-cycling units, now standard for all our food stores, saves enough energy during the winter to heat 10 homes of normal size," he added. "The systems are currently operating in 25 stores and being built into 13 soon to open."

Mr. Kernan said that "each item of store equipment using energy is regularly analyzed for efficiency at Grand Union. Extensive experiments have been made on store lighting fixtures, for example, and our installations have been refined to the point that they produce maximum light with the least possible consumption of electricity".

Through the use of computers and other sophisticated communications equipment, Grand Union has also been able to schedule store deliveries in such a way as to provide maximum in-stock conditions while minimizing the use of truck fuel.

Noting that of the total energy consumed by Grand Union in its stores and warehouses the great bulk — 50 per cent — is used to power refrigeration equipment to keep foods fresh and wholesome, Mr. Kernan said that the company was concentrating its conservation efforts on the other power uses. He broke these down as 20 per cent for lighting, 10 per cent each for heating and air-conditioning and 10 per cent for miscellaneous uses.

"From the standpoint of energy conservation," said Mr. Kernan, "we already run a very tight ship at Grand Union. What we have to do now — and will do — is improve on an excellent record."

Grand Union currently operates 536 supermarkets, 23 Grand Way general merchandise stores, 28 E-Z Shop convenience food stores, 60 Triple-S Blue Stamp redemption centers and 18 Grand Catalog Showrooms.

The Valerie Harper Story

About three years ago we saw Valerie Harper in Story Theatre at the Kennedy Memorial Theatre in Washington, D.C. In the pantomime presentation of several of the Grimm Fairy Tales, she exhibited the kind of talent that has made her a nationwide favorite. She also exhibited the kind of talent that was type-casting her as Rhoda Morgenstern, the fat, frumpy, friend who never

C.S. BURRISS, Vice President of the Atlantic Cement Company of Ravena, hands Dr. Frank Filippone, Superintendent of the Ravena-Coeymans-Selkirk School District, a check for $385,000, the Company's school tax payment for the year. Atlantic has paid some $3 million in school taxes since the Ravena plant began operation in 1961.

"made it" with the opposite sex. She was the butt of all the jokes (very often her own), the lovable underdog and the unwanted bride underdog and the unwanted bride. She attributes most of the the show, Mary Tyler Moore. "That first year," Valerie recalls, "Mary kept saying, 'Lose weight. You don't want to be a fat friend all your life.'" This was true, but still Valerie couldn't get the impetus she needed. Valerie envied Mary and her five-foot eight 110 pound figure, always conscious of her own five-foot 150 pound model. But, suddenly something happened and a new Valerie Harper began to emerge.

Today, Valerie Harper looks like a new person. As Time Magazine says, "She is surely miscast as the loser friend." Now that she weighs 130 pounds, she cuts a stunning figure and is likely to be wearing a trim Navy pants suit rather than a floral Mau-Mau. She now is dating on the show and there is a possibility that a new situation comedy will evolve around this new image.

This one, possibly entitled Rhoda, will be a spin-off from the Mary Tyler Moore Show as Maude was from All in the Family. Naturally, Valerie is thrilled by the new change in her life. She has gone back to her singing lessons in contemplation of possible roles in musical comedy and she is working harder than ever on writing assignments. "It doesn't seem possible that twenty pounds can make such a difference," she smiles, "but they do and I owe it all to Weight Watchers."

Let the Tree Shine Through

"With an eye towards tradition, and a modern concern for the fuel shortage, try decorating your Christmas tree this year without electrified ornaments," suggests a Cornell conservationist.

"Some of our early Christmas trees were a bit scrawny," said Prof. Alex Dickson of the N.Y. State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Cornell University. "But most of today's trees are shaped and full, and don't need much ornamentation."

With a little imagination and effort it should be easy to decorate without the aid of electric ornaments. You can also help ease the energy crisis since an indoor tree can use about 500 watts and a decorated outdoor tree may draw twice this current. (Five hundred watts runs a small refrigerator).

Tree owners may want to take some hints from the Germans, perhaps the first group to set the Christmas tree custom, who decorated their trees with apples to represent the Garden of Eden. To these decorations were added symbolic wafers. Later generations replaced the wafers on the "Christ baum" with sweet cookies.

When the Christmas tree was brought to England by Prince Albert, the German-born husband of Queen Victoria, the decorations soon became more elaborate.

In 1855 Charles Dickens described a tree as being laden with "rosy cheeked dollies, hiding behind the green leaves; there were (also) real watches dangling from innumerable twigs; there were French-polished tables, chairs, bedstands, ... as if in preparation for some fairy housekeeping; there were jolly broadfaced little men; there were tambourines, books, trinkets for elderly girls; there were baskets and pin cushions in all devices ... There was everything and more."

Americans soon followed the English and decorated their trees with popcorn and cranberries strung together, gingerbread men, candy canes, baubles, horns of candy and heirloom ornaments.

"We could easily give up modern, electrified decorations for the ornaments of yesteryear," said Dickson.

A tree decorated with traditional ornaments could prove a welcome change. And you'll save energy in the bargain.

Tips on Using Venison
 Properly prepared and cooked, venison can be an enjoyable addition to any family meal plan, according to James W. Cas-lick, wildlife specialist at the N.Y. State College of Agriculture and Life Sciences, Cornell University.

"To assure top quality, venison should be used within six to nine months," said Caslick. "A special state permit is required to keep venison after August 1 of the season following the kill."

Thawed in the wrapper to preserve moisture, cooked in moist heat or mixed with other meats, venison can become a tasty treat that everyone can enjoy.

"Because fat is often trimmed from venison to avoid too strong flavors," said Caslick, "it is helpful to add small amounts of bacon grease or beef fat when frying tender steaks."

But moist heat is preferred when cooking all but the most tender cuts. "Since venison is often tough, stewing and pot roasting almost always produce the most favorable results," he said.

Cautioning against overcooking, Caslick added, "Deer meat has short fibers that toughen quickly if overcooked or cooked at too high a temperature. But these short fibers also eliminate the necessity to pound steak before cooking."

Although it is preferable to wrap and freeze venison in large pieces so that it retains its natural moisture, Caslick said that many families prefer to grind much of their deer meat. Ground venison can be thawed and mixed with other meats for meatballs, meat loaf, deerburgers or deer sausage.

Here are some suggestions for using ground venison in combination with other meats:

Deerburgers

- 2 lbs. ground venison
- 1/4 lb. ground beef fat
- 1 chopped onion
- 4 slices fresh bread broken into small pieces
- Seasoning (to taste)

Mix the venison, fat, onion and bread. Add seasoning. Make into patties and fry or broil as for hamburgers.

Deer Sausage

- 5 lbs. venison
- 5 lbs. pork
- 3 tbsps. salt
- 1 tbsps. peper
- pinch of sage

Grind meats and seasoning together. If you plan to freeze it, omit seasonings. Use within three months.

Other recipes including venison meat balls, roast venison, venison pot roast, vension swiss steak and broiled venison strips are available by writing to "Venison," Department of Natural Resources Fernow Hall, Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. 14850.

In announcing the final figure, Martin H. Heck, general campaign chairman cited the outstanding work of his campaign team. of contributors to the 1974 United Way Campaign of the Albany Area saying, "Their fine support is evidence of their deep concern for the well-being of our community. Our thanks goes to each and every one of them." Heck then noted, "Although we have a victory, the United Way still has a long way to go in future campaigns in order to meet our ever-increasing social needs. We have agencies that have applied for admission to the United Fund which we want to admit but cannot do so at this time because we just do not have the money to allocate to them." Attaining the highest percent of goal among the 12 soliciting divisions by the official closing date of the campaign was the New York State Division. It reported 107.4% of its goal or $437,120 on a goal of $407,000. This qualifies the New York State Division chairmen, Commissioner Frank Walkley, Major General John C. Baker, Deputy Commissioner Alber M. Danzig and Dr. Theodore C. Wenzl representing CS-EA in the campaign for the Edward J. Riley Memorial Award. Formal presentation of this award will be made at the United Way awards dinner in March. Heck paid special tribute to the Pacesetter A Division, William J. Donlon, chairman, and the Pacesetter B Division, Alan V. Iselin, chairman. Each of these divisions has raised more than $27,000 over last year and additional returns are waited from campaigns which are still in progress. In the Individual Gifts Division, Albert H. Cloud, Jr., chairman, the Individual Pacesetters, headed by William S. McEwan, exceeded its goal. The professional divisions are expected to reach goal when all the outstanding accounts are brought in.

Question:

The thought of being able to help someone else by contributing to an Eye Bank after my death appeals to me. How can I do this?

Answer:

We have forms for this purpose available at our office. If you will contact us we will send you a copy.

The thought of advancing human knowledge after death is the guiding spirit of such other unselfish contributions to the living as autopsies, bone and arterial bank donations and, in the ultimate, the bequethal of oneself to a medical school.

We are acutely aware of the progress being made in the medical arts and it is our intention to utilize our knowledge, our services and our facilities toward a greater implementation of these advancements.

The Metropolitan Division, led by Mrs. Matthew L. Fitzgerald and Mrs. Arnold S. Hatch, Jr., is at quota and is expected to go over its goal when all solicitation is completed.

In the Public Service Division, Edward F. Kennell, chairman, the solicitation of city government headed by James Brunet and Lyle Hoffer raised over $10,600 for 177% of its goal of $6,000. And the solicitation of social agencies led by Thomas M. Whalen, III, raised over $39,000 for 111.4% of its goal of $35,000.

The 1974 Murray R. Nathan Memorial Awards, for New York State agencies with the highest percent of goal attained by the official closing date of the campaign, were announced in six categories. In the 1-100 employee category, Court of Appeals for raising 359% of their goal; 101-200 employees, the Senate reaching 129.4% of their goal; 201-500 employees, Public Service Commission with 124.2% of goal; 501-1,000 employees, Thruway Authority with 115% of goal; 1,001-2,000 employees, Department of Motor Vehicles with 123.5% of goal; and 2,001 or more employees, Department of Transportation with 115% of goal. These awards will be presented at the United Way awards dinner in March.

He suggests that those freshmen, sophomores and juniors in college, interested in learning more about PLC should contact their local Marine Corps recruiter.

An avid hunter and golfer, Maj. Lousma and his wife, the former Gratia Kay Smeltzer, have three children: Timothy, 9; Matthew, 8; and Mary, who will be five-years-old on September 22; just three days before her father is scheduled to return to Earth after 59 days in outer space aboard SKYLAB.

The family lives "in the country" on two acres in the Texas community of Friendswoods, not far from the Lyndon B. Johnson Space Center, southeast of Houston.

Among Maj. Lousma's many astronaut duties were membership in the support crews for the Apollo 9 Earth-orbital test of the lunar landing module; the Apollo 10 lunar-orbit mission, and Apollo 13.

In May, NASA announced that Maj. Lousma would

Orbiting Marine Showed Early Promise

Marine Major Jack Robert Lousma has come a long way—from the time he showed enough ability to qualify for a Platoon Leaders Class (PLC) program at the University of Michigan until his recent record walk in outer space during the current SKYLAB mission—more than a million miles.

Lousma was accepted into the Corps' PLC Program after graduating with an engineering degree in 1959; three years before Marine Lieutenant Colonel John

BACKGROUND ON BUSINESS

COOL DOME

Although Gulf+Western Industries, Inc. was founded only 16 years ago, one of its key units, Bohn Aluminum & Brass Division, began business in 1918 as a supplier of heavy-duty engine parts. Bohn-made connecting rod bearings were parts of the engine that powered Lindbergh's Spirit of St.

Louis on its historic transatlantic flight. Bohn still makes engine parts, but today it is also one of the nation's leading extruders of aluminum and brass. The division's newest, fastest growing business is the manufacture of heat transfer equipment and the air-conditioning and refrigeration system of which such equipment is the key component.

Bohn aluminum shapes can form diverse architectural designs, such as this geodesic dome which was part of the U.S. Pavilion at the "Expo" World's Fair in Canada.

Naval Hero Made Waves

Davy Jones's locker, the legendary bottom-of-the-sea resting place of sunken ships, is occupied by many an enemy man-of-war thanks to the skill and tenacity of another Jones--John Paul--who founded the United States Navy.

Jones, according to the Teacher's Scotch Information Centre, was born in 1747 in Scotland, within sight and sound of the sea. Christened

John Paul, Jr., he added "Jones" later. At the age of 12, he was signed on as an apprentice aboard a merchantman sailing from England to the Colonies.

In America when the Revolution came, he offered his services to the new republic. His illustrious U.S. naval career began when he fitted out and served on the Alfred, first American man-of-war to fly the flag of the new nation.

His most celebrated battle was at the helm of the Bon Homme Richard, which engaged HMS Serapis off the coast of England. For two hours the ships pounded each other at point blank range. Many of Jones's large guns blew up; water poured into his shattered ship. The British captain hailed to ask if he had surrendered. Jones shouted his epic reply, "I have not yet begun to fight," and went on to another victory at sea.

Jones was, after all, a man who seldom missed the boat.

Personality Quiz

YOU--TOO DOMINEERING?

Many people who are excessively bossy would do well to develop a mastery over their own domineering attitudes. Take this test to find out whether such attitudes form a predominant part of your personality.

1. When a couple has entertained you at a party and you wish to thank them, you should (A) Thank them before you leave, (B) Insist that they return your visit on a specified occasion, or (C) Write them a note telling what a good time you had and that you would like to entertain them on some mutually convenient occasion?

2. If a friend borrows a book from you which he hasn't returned for some time, (A) Ask that he return it as soon as possible, (B) Ask how he enjoyed it, or (C) Tell him never to ask to borrow anything from you again?

3. If a close relative of yours who has died has a favorite charity which you hope his friends will donate to, (A) Request that contributions to that charity be made in lieu of flowers, (B) Specify that donations will be welcome, but not rule out the possibility of sending flowers, too, or (C) Leave it to the discretion of the mourners?

4. If you're in an auto collision, the best thing to do first is (A) Inquire whether the other individual was hurt, (B) Claim immediately that the other driver was in the wrong, or (C) Threaten to call your lawyer.

5. If you're interviewing applicants for a particular job and you know that one in particular is not qualified, you should (A) Tell him he won't do, (B) Thank him for his interest, or

(C) Tell him to keep in touch.

For correct answers, see below. If you score four or more answers correctly, you are probably not a domineering individual.

ANSWERS: 1. (C) Thanking your hosts before you leave is a routine way of expressing appreciation and does not imply a later get-together. And insisting that they visit you on a particular date may not conform to their other plans. Instead, a personal thank-you note is most appropriate. 2. (B) If you ask how he enjoyed the book, it will serve as a hint that he should return it.

3. (B) Many friends of the bereaved would like to do both— sending donations to a charity as well as sending flowers to mourners. They should not be discouraged from doing so. 4. (A) Inquiring about the condition of the other driver is good manners. Legal hassles — if any — should be reserved for the courtroom. 5. (B) By thanking a job applicant for his interest, you express appreciation for his showing up for the interview. Bluntly telling him he isn't qualified may make him feel he has wasted his time. And telling him to keep in touch is a futile gesture.

Dr. Paul Dudley White describes the "tight girdle" syndrome — the diaphragm, stomach and esophagus are displaced, as well as the heart, resulting in labored breathing and pulsing in neck. Remedy? Looser girdle.

Winter colds? Science has shown that cold weather, dampness and fatigue are not what cause colds; rather, dry air causes the nose to produce water to humidify air going to the lungs. So: beat colds with a humidifier.

Whatever the cause, get relief with tissues, decongestants, analgesics, vaporizers, cough remedies — all ready for you at

GO ON A FALL CAMERA HUNT

One of man's most fundamental urges, to hunt, to pit his skill against the wits of some other living creature, has been curtailed these days for a variety of ecological reasons.

But it is always open season for the hunting of animals with a camera, satisfying the hunting urge and offering a trophy of skill without harming the quarry. Bird photography in particular provides the fascination of stalking, seeing without being seen, close approach, observation and deduction, perseverance, and loss or victory.

The thrill of capturing closeup, intimate scenes from birdlife belongs to the camera hunter whose 'trophies' grace his wall with a sense of life rather than death.

Equipment can be minimal or elaborate. The 35 MM camera you got for Father's Day with a closeup and wide-angle lens, a folding stool, notebook and pen can suffice. You could add a portable blind and a tripod with a tilt-top.

Don't forget plenty of sandwiches; miles of stalking through field and forest make you hungry. Also cold and damp if you're after marsh birds. A small flask of 90-proof Famous Grouse Scotch helps warm up insides and unkink stiffened limbs. Famous Grouse, the only 90-proof Scotch in the country, is an ancient blend newly imported from Scotland for the man who likes an on-the-rocks drink to keep tasting like Scotch, not just ice water halfway through. This, plus a thermos of tea and you're ready for the five to six hours it might take to photocapture a bird at close range. Or 12 hours for an eagle.

The pictorial appeal of a bright-eyed, alert bird in its natural habitat; the clarity and depth of striking photograph enhances the camera-hunter's reputation as a man of taste, skill and wits.

ideas for husband and wife to steer a new course by.

FOR MEN ONLY:

1. Bring home flowers or candy often. Few investments yield quicker results.
2. Help her with her coat and open doors for her. Inexpensive and infallible methods like these make a woman feel more like a woman.
3. Ask her advice—and take it if it's good. There's no higher compliment. A noted marriage counselor reports that one of the primary grievances voiced by wives is that preoccupied husbands make them feel "invisible."

4. Compliment her when she has gone to special trouble to prepare a dish you like. Bread cast on the waters may yield French toast.
5. Learn a new joke occasionally.

FOR WOMEN ONLY:

1. Make your home neat but not so neat that your husband feels like a bull in a China shop.
2. If you have the space, set aside a den or workshop where he can scatter ashes or wood shavings to his heart's content.

3. Read the newspaper every day. Many women who complain that their husbands don't talk to them haven't much to say.

4. If you have children, make him feel he's just as important to you as the kids. The counterpart of the wife who feels "invisible" is the husband who thinks he's valued only a provider and "the father of her children." Both types are frequently found in counseling sessions and divorce courts.

5. Avoid reciting the trials and tribulations of your day as soon as he steps into the door. Give him a chance to unwind.

For a helpful pamphlet on maintaining a healthy and happy marriage, send your name and address and 25 cents to Room 220, International Lutheran Laymen's League, 2185 Hampton Ave., St. Louis, Missouri 63139. In return, you will receive a booklet called, "Is Your Marriage Headed For The Rocks?"

All Types of Skiing

Warren County, the home of eight ski centers and the nation's only lighted municipally owned cross country ski trail complex, offers skiing for every variety of skier.

Three full-time ski areas, three weekend areas and two community operated rope-tow areas are to be found in the borders of Warren County.

The three full-time ski areas are Gore Mountain at North Creek, one of the largest ski areas in New York State, West Mountain at Glens Falls which has added a major new complex to its area, and Hidden Valley Ski Area which serves a complete resort ranch at Lake Luzerne.

The weekend areas are Gore Mountain Ski Bowl at North Creek, the oldest ski area in New York State, Garnet Mountain Ski Center at North River which has the good fortune to be located in a natural snow bowl, and Hickory Hill Ski Center at Warrensburg, which is owned and operated by 20 skiing stockholder families but which welcomes the public.

Dynamite Hill at Chestertown and Blister Hill at Warrensburg are both community operated ski areas, where hundreds of youngsters not only get a lot of great exercise, but a start in the sport of skiing.

Cross country ski trails are located at all of the ski areas, and in Crandall Park at Glens Falls where miles of lighted trails are operated and maintained by the City of Glens Falls. These trails are open several days a week and nights until 11, free to all. They are rated as one of the finest nordic ski complexes in the nation and each year skiers from all over the world converge on the trails for the Glens Falls International Cross Country Ski Race.

West Mountain Ski Center located west of Glens Falls and only minutes from Exit 18 of the Adirondack Northway, was just the dream of the Brandt family a few years ago.

Now the popular ski area boasts of a triple chairlift, which services a new complex called Northwest. This new area is just north of the original West Mountain trails and the 2 are connected by a trail, which of course had to be called Northwest Passage.

West Mountain has a double and single chair lift, plus a rope tow serving the beginner's area.

Its ski school, operated by Izzy Ture, has certified instructors and this season a graduated length method of ski teaching, for learn to ski weeks, will be offered at West Mountain.

The mountain's children's program has been admired and copied, and this racing program has already put two young boys on the U.S. Training Team.

All types of slopes and trails are available, but generally skiing is intermediate.

West Mountain has added NASTAR, the national standard race, to its programs this season. Other new additions are a new lodge at Northwest and an enlarged ski shop at West.

West Mountain limits its lift lines and its manager, "Crazy" Mike Brandt, originated the idea of reservation skiing. Just call ahead and reserve a place on the mountain on busy days.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

(As crisis after crisis has hit the people and government of our country, we could all do with some encouraging words — especially if those words are said by someone in a neighboring country.

Some weeks ago, Gordon Sinclair, a Canadian radio and TV commentator, broadcast an editorial from Toronto. Many in this country heard; many more read it as it has been widely printed in the U.S. news media.

Mr. Sinclair's comments are especially welcome right now — so for the benefit of those who may have missed it, we are printing some of the highlights here.)

"LET'S HEAR IT!" FOR U.S.

This Canadian thinks it is time to speak up for the Americans as the most generous and possibly the least appreciated people on all the earth. . .

Germany, Japan and, to a lesser extent, Britain and Italy were lifted out of the debris of war by the Americans who poured in billions of dollars and forgave other billions in debts. None of these countries is today paying even the interest on its remaining debts to the United States.

When the franc was in danger of collapsing in 1956, it was the Americans who propped it up, and their reward was to be insulted and swindled on the streets of Paris. I was there. I saw it.

When distant cities are hit by earthquakes, it is the United State that hurries in to help ... This spring, 59 American communities (were) flattened by tornadoes. Nobody helped.

The Marshall Plan and the Truman Policy pumped billions upon billions of dollars into discouraged countries.

Now newspapers in those countries are writing about the decadent, warmongering Americans.

I'd like to see just one of those countries that is gloating over the erosion of the United States dollar build its own airplanes.

Come on, let's hear it!

Does any other country in the world have a plane to equal the Boeing Jumbo Jet, the Lockheed Tristar or the Douglas 10?

If so, why don't they fly them? Why do all the international lines except Russia fly American planes?

Why does no other land on earth even consider putting a man or woman on the moon?

You talk about Japanese technocracy, and you get radios. You talk about German technocracy, and you get automobiles.

You talk about American technocracy, and you find men on the moon — not once but several times — and safely home again.

You talk about scandals, and the Americans put their right in the store window for everybody to look at.

Even their draft-dodgers are not pursued and hounded. They are here on our streets, and most of them — unless they are breaking Canadian laws — are getting American dollars from Ma and Pa at home to spend here. . .

When the railways of France, Germany and India were breaking down through age, it was the Americans who rebuilt them. When the Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central went broke, nobody loaned them an old aboose. Both are still broke.

I can name you 5,000 times when the Americans raced to the help of other people in trouble. Can you name me even one time when someone else raced to the Americans in trouble?

I don't think there was outside help even during the San Francisco earthquake.

Our neighbors have faced it alone, and I'm one Canadian who is damned tired of hearing them kicked around.

They will come out of this thing with their flag high. And when they do, they are entitled to thumb their nose at the hands that are gloating over their present troubles.

I hope Canada is not one of these.

MURDER, AND MANY OTHER THINGS, WILL COME OUT — Last October, during the heat of the political campaign in Bethlehem, it was a ritual for the Democratic candidate for Supervisor to tell his audience that Bethlehem Democrats were now completely divorced from the Albany County Democratic Organization — for many years dubbed the "O'Connell Machine." He would point out that the Bethlehem organization was now a corporation with no ties to the County. This was possible — but very few Republicans believed it. It was possible — but why would the county organization agree to weaken itself by giving permission for one of its parts to go it alone?

Well, now it appears that the statement was a lot less than the truth. When the receipts by Bethlehem Democrats were revealed in their campaign financial report, there was, big as life: the Albany County Democratic Organization contributed $1500 to the Bethlehem Democrat's campaign! This is no pipe dream; this is taken from the Bethlehem Democrats' own report.

DID YOU READ THOSE FOOD-RISE STATISTICS? — According to published reports, the rise in food prices has been aimed directly at the middle and lower income groups. This is how it was done: hamburger (the poor man's steak) went up by a far larger percentage than T-bone or Filet Mignon; the cheaper fishes jumped far more than lobster, for instance; and bologna was boosted over the gourmet cold cuts. It looks like a deliberate attempt to make the poor poorer and the rich richer. Our gripe is: why weren't the high priced foods raised at the same rate as the cheaper ones? Why not let those who can afford to pay? Why make those with lower incomes tighten their belts even more?

It is events like these that cause greater unrest, more dissatisfaction, more reasons (right or wrong) for the poor to fight for change in any form.

And it's all wrong.

What: Santa Claus, and his helpers, along with Snoopy, will visit Towne Squire Shopping Center in Glenmont.

When: Saturday, December 8, at 2 P.M.

This is a "first" for Towne Squire Shopping Center. Santa will be arriving in a "flying machine" precisely at 2 o'clock. He will descend from the skies in a "helicopter." His Honor Guard on the flight will be Peter Fish, Chief of the Bethlehem Police Department. As he debarks from the "chopper," he'll be greeted by Bethlehem Supervisor, Bertram E. Kohinke, Richard LaChappelle, President of the Bethlehem Police Benevolent Association, Fire Chiefs of the Town of Bethlehem and Sgt. Leo E. "Pat" Dorsey, Youth Bureau, Bethlehem Police Department.

Community Corner, a public service column of important community events, is sponsored by the people of the
