Spotlight CALENDAR

ABOUT THE CALENDAR

The information printed in this column is a FREE service to Spotlight readers. We neither charge nor receive any fee for publicizing these events. It is for this reason that we ask those who send in information to make sure that it is complete; we cannot (repeat: CANNOT) make weekly changes in running announcements.

Because the Calendar condenses the coming event in capsule form, it has become one of the most widely-read weekly Spotlight features. It was so designed to allow for more space for additional features. Therefore, organizations should not expect to find a duplication of facts in another place. If we were to run all of the events twice, we'd be cutting down on our available space and thereby defeat the whole concept.

LIBRARY NOTES

People Are Certainly Wonderful!

A delightful holiday scene has been created in the Bethlehem Public Library by members of the DECA Club of BCHS. Club members worked hard to set up a fireplace against a bright red background in the library display area near the circulation desk. The theme of their scene is "Marry Christmas From Around the World."

A special highlight of this cheerful scene is the exhibition of items made and donated by Library borrowers for what in the past was known as the "mitten tree." Some very generous and thoughtful people have been hard at work knitting warm mittens, socks, vests, etc. for youngsters who need them. And other borrowers who perhaps aren't quite as skilled with the knitting needles have brought in gifts such as jigsaw puzzles. These items will be on display until the middle of January and then will be distributed by the American Friends Service Committee.

There is still time to donate something, so spread some of your holiday joy by bringing something for the fireplace display at the Bethlehem Public Library before January 15.

Thank you, and Happy New Year to you all!

A special thank you is in order for members of the Delmar Progress Club and the Bethlehem Garden Club. Both groups worked hard to decorate the Bethlehem Public Library for the Holiday Season.

The Bethlehem Garden Club decorated the large Community Room with lovely boughs of green and fancy red decorations made from the plastic rings which hold together six-packs of beverages. The Delmar Progress Club is responsible for the other decorations in the Library, the wreaths which hang outside each entrance, the organ pipes in the entrance corridor, the snowflakes on the front windows, and so forth.

The community spirit of these two organizations has made the Library a place everyone can enjoy during the Holidays.

As people all over the world found a good way of life when Christ was born in Bethlehem many years ago, we have found a good life in our Bethlehem — where friendly people are served by friendly merchants, where service is a by-word.

Watch for a star on these holidays of 1973. You will see it shining over Bethlehem.

Holiday Greetings from the

COVER STORY

YOUNG MEN OF THE YEAR — 1973

THERE WILL BE THOSE WHO MAY DISAGREE with our selection of Bethlehem's Young Men of the Year — 1973, but the four chosen were a unanimous choice of those who are responsible for the editorial portion of the Spotlight. Our main concern is not that we have erred in our choice; only that there may be others equally deserving.

Sgt. Leo (Pat) Dorsey of the Bethlehem Police Department Youth Bureau has already been the recipient of two honors: First he was named Capitoland's Policeman of the Year by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Bethlehem Lodge #2233. Then just last week, the Delmar Kiwanis Club presented Sgt. Dorsey with its Distinguished Service Award for saving the life of a man attempting suicide by jumping from the Normanskill Bridge.

Pat Dorsey was educated in the Bethlehem Central Schools. After graduation from BCHS, he attended SUNY-Cobleskill. In 1962, he joined the Bethlehem Police Department; in 1965, he became a part of the department's Youth Bureau — and since then he has been active with the small fry of the area teaching them all phases of safety. His outstanding success in this field is due to his patience, kindness and a delightful sense of humor that is always on the verge of bursting forth. His work has done much to change the so-called "pig" image given to peace officers today to an acceptance of him and his uniform as symbols of help and encouragement instead of some kind of two-headed monster.

Bernard Kaplowitz earned his spot on our Men of the Year list with his phenomenal showing in this past November's Election when he won a seat on the Albany County Legislature from the 35th District. It was Bernie's first try for elected political office and the result of the voting showed that he must have done just about everything right.

He's also President of the Bethlehem Men's Republican Club; he is a lawyer with offices on Computer Court in Albany.

Bernie went to school in Nyack, New York, then to the University of Pennsylvania and finally to Albany Law School. He and his wife moved to Delmar in 1966 and now reside in a recently-purchased home at 46 Linda Court. They have four children: Haley (12), Mark (11), Rickey (10), and Jill (6).

J. D. Hills was chosen for the outstanding contributions he has made in the recreation programs in Bethlehem. Although this may be an exaggeration, it seems that in the short time he has been Director of Bethlehem Parks and Recreation more good programs have become a reality than over a period of years prior to his taking over. While it is true that the opening of Elm Avenue Park added greatly to the department's ability to function on many new fronts, nevertheless, he has sparked new ideas and expanded many programs already in existence. In addition to work days that extend from dawn until long after the sun has set, he has been available for evening and even Sunday meetings with any group which could put forward a program for improving and expanding the recreation horizon. Just one case in point: J. D. spent many hours with the organizers of the new baseball program for 16 and up which was launched in Bethlehem this past summer. It was through his efforts that the program not only got off the ground but developed into a worthwhile project.

Who is this man, J. D. Hills? He was born in Hudson, New York, and was graduated from Hudson High School, followed by 4 years in the US Navy, graduation from Dutchess Community College with a Liberal Arts degree, a BS degree from SUNY-Oneonta and this year he's doing graduate work at Russell Sage.

He was an elementary school teacher in the BC School District which he followed by becoming Regional Supervisor for NYS with the Taconic State Park and Recreation Department.

Rick Knight came to this area a couple of years ago from Montreal, Canada, where he had recently been graduated from Magill University. As manager of the Center Inn in Glenmont, he has made a host of area friends.

Rick was one of the young men responsible for the organization of the Bethlehem Jaycees. At the present time there are 20 charter members with Rick as president. On Jan. 16, a membership drive will get under way to double the present membership. In two bets, Rick has a lot of champagne on the line — all depending on that double figure.

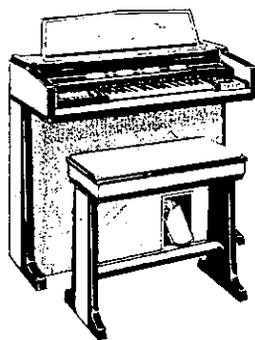

So today there's the effervescence of youth bubbling at the Center Inn as this famous eating establishment continues its good works with food and drink.

That youth is Rick Knight!

HERE and THERE

Peter M. Pryor to Speak Here

Peter M. Pryor, an Albany attorney who is chairman and Executive Director of the NYS Consumer Protection Board will speak in Delmar on Thursday, Jan. 10, 8 P.M., Bethlehem Public Library. Mr. Pryor will appear under the sponsorship of the Delmar Progress Club — but — the entire community is invited to hear his views on "Consumerism: Challenge and Change."

According to Lee Mason, Progress Club President, Mr. Pryor is one of the most interesting and finest speakers ever to appear locally. Certainly his background in government work qualifies him. He is a graduate of Siena College and Albany Law School; from 1954-58 he was consultant to the State Comptroller, assistant Attorney General from 1964-67 and then from 1968-72 he was general counsel to the Environmental Facilities Corporation. He helped initiate the NYS Pure Waters program and participated in development of the new environmental laws. The NYS Consumer Protection Board of which he is chairman, is composed of the heads of 8 state departments.

Students Make Further Survey

After the story and cover picture of the BCHS students making a survey of motorists' habits during the current energy crisis, the NYS Department of Transportation asked that further studies be made: one each month plus a survey to reveal the number of bus riders from the Tri-Village to Albany.

Earle Cleaves, faculty coordinator for the studies, has agreed that the findings of the surveys will be made available to the Spotlight for publication.

Bloodmobile at Center

The American Red Cross will conduct a one-day Blood Mobile drive at the Albany Jewish Community Center on Thursday, January 3, 1974 from 1 — 7 p.m.

The Red Cross is the community agency responsible for getting blood donations for use by hospitals. Most blood is donated by individuals directly at Red Cross headquarters. Periodically, blood drives are conducted on the premises of other community organizations.

GU Shopping Centers

The Grand Union Properties Company, a division of The Grand Union Company, currently has five shopping centers under construction in New York, Vermont, and New Hampshire, it was announced today by Robert F. Catherman, Vice President. In addition, another six shopping centers are in early planning stages with construction expected to begin during 1974.

Mr. Catherman said each of the shopping centers has either a 33,600-square foot Grand Union Family Center or a Grand Union supermarket open or under construction as part of the initial development. Each of the projects allows for a minimum of 20,000-square feet of satellite store space.

The centers are located in Rhinebeck, Pawling, Valatie and Ticonderoga, New York, and Exeter, New Hampshire. Each one has space available for a discount or department store operation ranging from 50,000 to 80,000-square feet. Construction of the satellite store is planned to begin in the spring, 1974.

Snow Fun! by Jim Tuller

Map of Trails Available

The State Department of Environmental Conservation has announced that special trails are being marked for snowmobiles and non-motorized use in Partridge Run Game Management Area and Albany Reforestation Area #1 in the Town of Berne, Albany County.

It is noted that along with the great increase in snowmobiling in the State, there has been an upsurge of cross-country skiing and for this reason, special trails are being set aside for each group. Cross-country skiers and snowshoers should not use the same trails as snowmobilers for reasons of safety.

The areas were designated after consultation with cross-country skiing and snowmobile groups familiar with the area.

Maps showing the location of these trails may be obtained by writing to Region 4 Headquarters, Department of Environmental Conservation, 50 Wolf Road, Albany, New York 12201.

Windham Is for the Family

Many skiing enthusiasts, as individuals, families or groups, who have experienced the nightmare of crowded facilities and impersonal atmosphere of public-commercial ski areas, will admit having dreamed of creating the "perfect" skiing facility. The Windham Mountain Club, in the Northern Catskills at Windham, New York, is the ultimate fruition of such dreams.

The facility, incorporated as a public ski area in 1963, was purchased by a number of prominent business and professional men in 1967 and converted into a private facility. Thomas I. Sheridan, Jr., a New York attorney, is President and Joseph J. Kohler III, a professional in the field of ski area operations, is his full time assistant. Kohler is a graduate of Cornell University's famed school of Hotel Management and a member of the Cornell Society of Hotelmen.

The Windham Mountain Club's ski trails and slopes are engraved on one of the largest, most naturally suited-for-skiing mountains in the Northeast. The Club owns nearly 800 acres, of which more than 150 acres are developed slopes, trails and related facilities laid out in a wind-protected bowl with due northern exposure.

The Windham Mountain skier will, to the limit of his own desires and skills, ski all of the area's eleven slopes and trails, served by four remarkably modern and efficient chairlifts. Three top-flight trails challenge the expert's skill and he may also share three other trails with skiers of intermediate rank. Intermediates meet their match on two trails of their own, one of which is two long, demanding miles. Beginning skiers, or those who choose to laze along on the last run of the day, will find great pleasure on the 2 1/2 mile summit-to-base novice trail.

A 5500' Cabin Chair — the ultimate in skier comfort — lifts the skier 1500' vertically to the 3100' summit. Other chairlifts, including a 4062' Cabin Chair, an unique triple and the Ski School's 1400' double chairlifts, serve the area's twelve miles of carefully groomed snow.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

AS I REMEMBER POPPA! Years after his death, I realize that my father was one of the greatest men I ever knew. Sure I'm prejudiced — but I can prove that statement.

I'll never forget the first great joy that I can remember. It was when my father purchased a player piano — the kind that you inserted a paper music roll, pumped air through the tubes that activated the keys and the music came out. What a sacrifice the purchase of that piano must have been. We were "poor." In many ways I guess we were "rich," but cash money-wise, we were "poor" farmers. There was a mortgage on our 100-acre farm. The milk check from some 20 milch cows went mostly for farm expenses. Food — the staples were purchased on credit at the village grocery and paid for over the months by the eggs we supplied the grocer. When the hens didn't lay, the bill went up.

That was the way life was: hard, hazardous if it were a bad crop year. But from somewhere out of this maze of grinding out a bare living, Poppa found the money to buy a Cable-Nelson player piano. When it came, it was put in the "parlor;" every house had a parlor that was used only on state occasions, heated in winter (by a big wood-burning stove!) only when it was to be used — usually only once or twice during the cold months. Even at Christmas-time with the tree decorated, you bundled up and took only occasional peeks into the cold, cold room.

And then came that player piano! Even on cold nights in winter (when the temperatures were so low the snow squeaked as you walked) — even on these nights when Poppa came in from the evening milking and when supper was over, he'd start a fire in the stove in the parlor and in a few minutes the dulcet notes of some old favorite would float through the old farmhouse. The lyrics to the songs were printed on the edge of the roll and soon you'd hear his tenor voice singing along with the very stilted, mechanical music. And this is the first really big joy I remember: that player piano and Poppa singing.

I was only 7 or 8 when we got the piano and it was months before I mastered the art of hanging onto the piano front and pumping with one foot; it was years before I could sit down and pump with both feet.

It was the player piano that first introduced me to music in the home and that love of music developed more than half a century ago is just as strong today. Just a few years later, we got our first radio — no speaker, just headphones. We used to put the earphones in a mixing bowl so more than one of us could listen to the programs. Here again, it was the music that fascinated me most.

When I was 13, we left the farm and moved to Albany which was near the center of a 13-county territory which Poppa covered for the DeLaval Separator Co.

The love of music has never dimmed, but as I was graduated from high school, rapport with Poppa faltered and became almost non-existent.

It wasn't until the 1950's that Poppa and I regained not only what we had lost through the years — but the new bond was that of two adults with deep respect for each other. He'd retired by then; the hard work part of his life was ended. The player piano was no longer in existence; television was the great entertainer. Poppa loved his sports — but to the very end, his love of the lighter music never changed.

Old-fashioned maybe, but he loved to take one of our little ones and sway in time with the music; and Poppa loved his grandchildren just as much as his own. A conservative in every way, he couldn't quite agree with some of the new-fangled ideas for raising young'uns.

Why was he a great man? One all-incompassing reason: Poppa was one of the very few absolutely honest men I've ever known. And today, as I sit in our living room and enjoy and love the music from our stereo, Poppa's face, his singing — everything about him is just a little more real, a little more precious, than during his lifetime. The good people of this world grow and grow in stature as the years go by.

And that's the love of music and immortality — and it's the way I remember Poppa!

WHEN THE STRATTONS' CHRISTMAS CARD arrived last week it reminded us that the news media have been giving lots of space and time to three or four Democratic hopefuls in next year's governor's race and have been almost completely ignoring the fact that the Congressman is probably the best qualified man for the job. It seems to us that the Democrats deliberately ran candidates against Rocky who had less chance of beating him than we would — even if they'd been given a head start.

At this point, it looks as though they may be planning another suicide pact with the NYS GOP. Why?

We can't remember Sam Stratton ever losing an election — even when the Republicans switched his District all around. Once or twice, they tried to make sure he'd be defeated by making him run in territory that had gone Republican for years. What happened? The Republican voters fixed that by voting for Sam — that's what happened!

In 1974, it would seem, the Democrats have the best chance since they elected Harriman. They could win with Stratton — but will they let him run?
