The Light Touch

Actually, there's only a slight difference between keeping your chin up and sticking your neck out — but it's worth knowing.

Wife to neighbor as husband waters garden: "Last year, all that came up was our water bill."

According to doctors, you'll live much longer if you give up everything that makes you want to.

Going to the beach is like going to the attic — you're apt to be surprised at what you find in trunks.

You'll be pleasantly surprised at our Bargain-of-the-Month.

LIBRARY NOTES

Closed Easter

The Bethlehem Public Library will be closed Easter Sunday, April 14th. If you have books to return, please put them in the book drop which is next to the bookmobile garage door.

Eggs, Anyone?

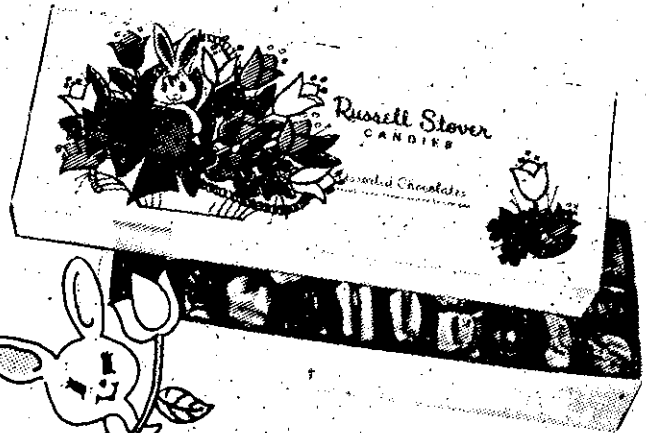

Easter time is the time for eggs, and the time for eggs is Easter time.

Find out eggactly what is meant by the above quotation. Stop in, the Bethlehem Public Library and see the eggsciting display of eggs done by Mrs. C. Theodore Carlson of Delmar. The eggs will be on display for the month of April in the glass case near the Circulation Desk. This display may provide a clue to the age old query: Which came first, the chicken or the egg? The Library eggpects you to figure that one out for yourself. Therefore, we egg you on to stop in and see the display. And on your way in, notice the fine art work in the corridors by members of the Bethlehem Art Association.

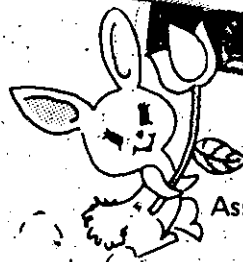

Something Interesting in the Works

The Bethlehem Public Library is planning its Second Annual Handicraft Demonstration Week for the Week of April 22-27. Watch for announcements in the Spotlight.

The Spotlight Goes to School

Vacation Time!

Parents and students in the Bethlehem Central School District are reminded that district schools will be closed tomorrow, Good Friday, and all next week for spring vacation.

It was announced previously that next Friday, April 19, would have to be a make-up day, because there was one more snow day than allowed for in his year's school calendar. Recently, however, school officials decided to have the make-up day on June 21, extending the school year by one day.

This year's High School Commencement will also take place on Friday, June 21.

Registrations Set
Bethlehem Central elementary schools have announced dates and times for registration of next year's kindergarten pupils. Most of these parents have been sent registration forms, from census information available to schools, but any parent who hasn't received a form may obtain one from the school to be attended

Home Free

A pilot program, "Home Free," is being initiated in the Delmar Elementary School District. It would provide children with temporary assistance in an emergency or in other times of personal necessity. Adult volunteers and their homes would comprise the core of the program. Children, when approached by strangers, those who sustain an accident, or those who become ill, often times need assistance when they are away from home.

Volunteers would place a "Home Free" sign in their window and would generally adhere to the following guidelines:

- A. Try to be available at times when children are going to and from school.
- B. Provide safety and comfort for the child in need.
- C. Assist the child by contacting the parent and/or the Police Department in case of emergency.

One would not be expected to apply first aid, transport or feed the child.

This program has the full support of the Town of Bethlehem. The Bethlehem Police Department, the Delmar P.T.O. and the Bethlehem Junior Women's Club. For further information contact: Sgt. Leo Dorsey, Police Department 439-9973 or 439-6952 or 439-7007.

The following information is so important to every dog owner in our area that we decided to make it the entire column for this issue.

A Warning to Dog Owners

Until recently canine heartworm disease was a condition foreign to this part of the country. Working its way north and west, it has invaded the Capital District in numbers sufficient to alarm dog owners and veterinarians.

In 1973, 553 cases were diagnosed and treated by area veterinarians. Six percent of all animals checked were found to be infected.

Last spring, 25 per cent of the blood samples examined in southeastern New York contained baby heartworms (microfilariae). This was unusually high for New York State.

The disease infects dogs, primarily. It can be fatal. If left untreated it will appreciably reduce a dog's life expectancy.

Signs of heartworm disease include lethargy, coughing, decreased tolerance to exercise, and weight loss. Not all animals show these signs when first infected.

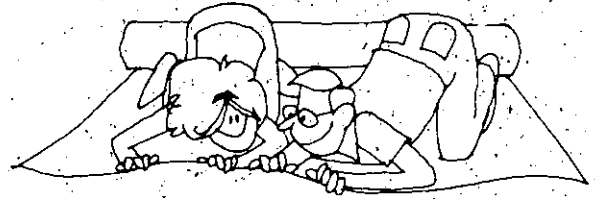

As far as is known, the disease is transmitted only through the bite of an infected mosquito. Ninety-four species of which can spread the disease. Three are common to this area. They have a flight range up to 20 miles.

One of these mosquitoes becomes a carrier when it bites an infected dog and ingests blood containing baby heartworms (microfilariae). Within 14 to 21 days these microfilariae become infective larvae within the mosquito. A dog can be infected if it is bitten by an infected mosquito.

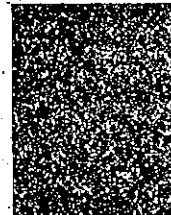

Once in a dog, the heartworm larvae burrow under the skin and develop in the tissues for 90 to 120 days. They then penetrate the blood veins and move to the heart where they mature into adult heartworms. They live in the heart and adjacent large blood vessels (pulmonary arteries).

A mature heartworm often is from 10 to 14 inches long.

Adult female heartworms give birth to new microfilariae which circulate freely in a dog's bloodstream, waiting for a mosquito to carry them to another dog.

Microfilariae in a dog remain active for a year or more, but they do not mature into infective larvae until ingested by an intermediate host — the mosquito.

The prevention of heartworm disease is based upon breaking this cycle.

A veterinarian can perform a test to determine whether or not microfilariae are present in a dog's bloodstream. If the blood test is positive, medication that will kill the adult heartworm can be prescribed. Another medication to kill the microfilariae will be prescribed five to six weeks later.

This treatment can be hazardous. The dead adult worms can cause severe pulmonary reactions.

If the tests shows no microfilariae in the bloodstream, a preventive medication can be prescribed. It is given throughout the mosquito season and 60 days thereafter.

The mosquito season is coming. All dogs born prior to October 1973 should be checked for heartworm infection.

Utilities Pool Efforts

Utilities serving 98 percent of electric consumers in New York State have signed a memorandum of understanding concerning the formation of a jointly sponsored electric generating company. The company will own and construct most of the new generating facilities expected to be needed in the state during the 1980s, it was explained by John G.

Haehl, Jr., president and chief executive officer of Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation when announcing the action today.

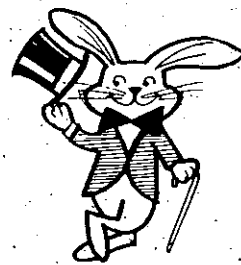

Other utilities participating are: Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp.; Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc.; Long Island Lighting Co.; New York State Electric & Gas Corp.; Orange & Rockland Utilities, Inc.; and Rochester Gas and Electric Corp.

"The purpose of the proposed generating companies to assure the timely construction and operation of necessary generating facilities through 1991 on a coordinated basis and at the lowest possible cost to the state's electric consumers," according to William A. You Can Save Money

Between now and June 1, the Voorheesville Public Library will be holding a special drive to allow cardholders to pay off their debts and still save money. Many people are not aware that records of unpaid fines are kept. Since the fine on an overdue book is just 1¢ per day, not counting Sundays, it is unfortunate that the amount outstanding to the library is over $1500. Therefore, any fines totaling $3.00, or more, that are paid before June 1, will be reduced by 50%.

At the same time, a plea is out for all books that were due in 1969, 1970, 1971, and 1972 be returned. If they are returned during April, there will be no fine charged. Villagers are asked to please look for any of these books because many are out of print and cannot be replaced.

Some fines have already been paid and some books returned. This is greatly appreciated and it is hoped that all holders of Voorheesville Public Library cards will cooperate.

Exercise "Bead Coral"

Coast Guard Fireman Apprentice Stephen E. Kohler, son of Mr. and Mrs. L.E. Kohler of Route 2, New Salem Road, Voorheesville, participated in a combined U.S. Third Fleet and Canadian naval training exercise as a crewmember of the Coast Guard Cutter Boutwell. The exercise, named "Bead Coral," was conducted off the Southern coast of California and involved 20 ships, approximately 120 aircraft and 12,000 servicemen. Emphasis was on anti-submarine and anti-air-defense.

Plans should be completed about six months after approval is received.

Allowing four months for advertising, bidding and awarding of the contract, construction should begin in late summer or early fall of 1974.

It is further stated that at least five visits to inspect the safety of the bridge have been made since the fall of 1973.

- A letter has been received from Assemblyman Larry Lane saying he contacted Department of Transportation Commissioner Raymond Schuler urging immediate consideration of the bridge replacement project.

- Representatives of the Concerned Citizens will attend a Town Board meeting on March 26 updating zoning ordinance prohibiting uses of land uses and land and building permits that will apply to the entire town.

- Regarding the speed limit on Rupert Road and Route 396, we have been advised via the Town Supervisor that the Department of Transportation "will study this situation as our workload permits and will advise you of our results."

Donor Age Lowered

A recent change in New York State law brings good news for young people and the Red Cross Blood Program, according to Dr. A.F.H. Britten Director of the Northeastern New York Program.

The new law, which lowered the permissible age for blood donors from 18 to 17 will give more young people an opportunity to share their good health with those who are sick and injured, Dr. Britten stated.

While young people have sponsored bloodmobiles at high schools throughout the Northeast region in the past, the lower donor age will allow more student participation in the actual donation of blood.

the Blood Program Director noted. This was most evident at the recent bloodmobile at Bethlehem Central High School where 160 units of blood were collected, including seventeen units from 17-year olds.

Such enthusiastic support augurs well for future high school bloodmobiles and for blood collections during school vacations, particularly in the summer, when blood collections tend to fall off, Dr. Britten noted.

The lower donor age substantially broadens the eligible donor base because there are launching took place at a meeting of the Church's "Greater Consistory," which includes all who have ever served on the Church board. The purpose of the drive will be to raise enough money to put aluminum siding on the Church building, which will be 150 years old in 1975, and to accomplish other improvements on the building and grounds. A Schoolhouse where many area residents actually attended school years ago stands on the Church property and is also in need of repair. John Loucks of Feura Bush, presented a report of the Church's Building and Grounds Committee indicating that the goal for the initial phase of the Drive would have to be about $14,000. Additional work including repair of stained glass windows and redecorating of the sanctuary may eventually double the figure.

The Chairman of the Drive will be William Crosier and the Treasurer, Miss Shirley Dearstyne, both of Feura Bush. The Women's Guild of the Church is working on fund raising activities.

The first major event of the Drive will be a "Lord's Acre Country Auction" to be held on Saturday, June 1, on the Church grounds. Donations of articles for the auction can be made by contacting Chairman Bill Crosier (439-2292) or the Church Office (768-2968).

Rev. Gerald L. Wondra presided at the meeting which also included a report by Emerson Martin of Feura Bush on progress toward establishing an historical room and project in the Church.

Members of the Greater Consistory present at the meeting were: William Matthias, Elmer Smith, John Loucks III,

The Science of the New Man

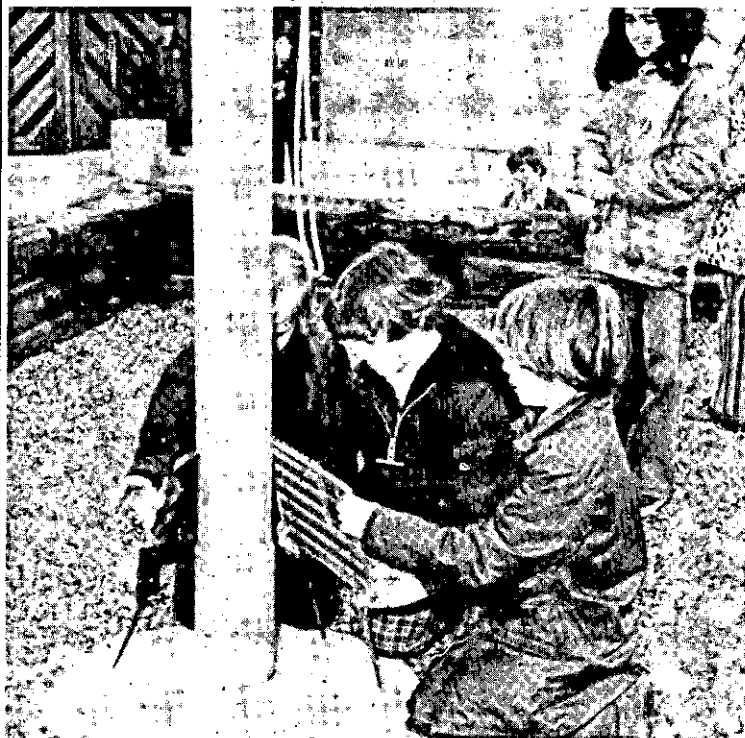

The new world that people are demanding requires a new concept of man, a spiritually scientific concept, Catherine H. Anwandter, C.S.B., said here Saturday, April 6.

"People are protesting," Mrs. Anwandter said, "against the establishment, against war, against pollution and racial discrimination. There are

And answers are available, she asserted. "This new world demands a new concept of man — a scientific concept that will unite us and lift us out of archaic poverty, ignorance, disease and hatred, into freedom and dominion," she declared.

A Christian Science lecturer and teacher from Santiago, Chile, Mrs. Anwandter spoke in Albany Institute of History and Art, 125 Washington Avenue, at the invitation of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Albany, New York.

Speaking of the subject "The Science of the New Man," Mrs. Anwandter held that real selfhood isn't constituted of physical characteristics.

"Man isn't to be defined," she declared, "by political or personal views, but by spiritual values. Goodwill, love, justice, outgoing sympathy and wisdom, a reliable sense of goodness and capacity — these are some of the spiritual values that really define a man. The living of qualities like these gives us freedom, health, and happiness. In fact, it's really spiritual qualities that constitute our true being."

It is a false concept of man that is the basis of all fear and limitation, the lecturer said, maintaining that Christ Jesus proved this.

"He turned thought away," she said, "from the world of disheartening failures and sorrow and ushered in a new sense of man, radically different from the old. He lived and explained the spiritual understanding of man — an understanding which brings full freedom from discord and suffering and even from death."

Mrs. Anwandter emphasized what this means for people today in need of regeneration.

"The Christ," she said, "is the divine Truth of your being that fills your thought with gentleness and peace and selfless purity."

Expressing it in another way, she said: "The Christ is the spiritual fullness and completeness of your being that expresses itself as health and freedom and joy and the tender understanding that this is the truth for all men."

IT'S TROUT TIME!

New York's April 1 trout season opening prompted the remark by Commissioner of Environmental Conservation James L. Biggane that he has a little good news and a little bad news for anglers. "The good news is that most streams will be in better shape this spring than usual. The mild winter and generally early thaw means that water levels should be lower and streams should be clearer than we usually expect for opening day," he explained.

"The bad news is also weather-related," Commissioner Biggane continued. "Rainbow spawning runs in the Finger Lakes tributaries may have peaked before opening day, due to the warmer weather."

Commissioner Biggane also reported that the mild winter had permitted stocking operations to be carried out earlier than usual in many waters. He said that the Department will be stocking 7.4 million trout and salmon during 1974. The Department stocks 700 lakes and ponds with trout and salmon as well as 4,400 miles on 1,100 trout streams.

Total stream mileage in New York is about 15,000 miles with 10,000 miles managed for wild fish and 600 miles of larger streams supporting adequate trout levels by natural spawning.

Generally, Department fisheries biologists across the State report that conditions are expected to be better than usual

THERE'S SOMETHING ABOUT THIS PICTURE that would lead one to believe that the Delmar 4 Corners were more attractive then than they are today! The date was 1885! Exactly what was going on or why the donkey is all bedecked in ribbons and signs, no one seems to recall. If the Town Historian, or anyone else, has the answers, we'd like to print the information. Delmar's Henry Kleinke supplied the picture.

Anglers, of course, may fish in natural openings, for example where tributary flows into a pond or lake. Specific regulations on fishing for trout, as well as other species, are listed in the Hunting-Trapping-Fishing Guide for, 1973-74.

Wandering & Wondering . . .

OUR STACK OF LETTERS PRO AND CON OUR thoughts and beliefs on abortion now measures almost a half inch in thickness plus probably 50 phone calls. And we thought the energy crisis was the main topic these past months! Every mail delivery brings at least one more. One of these weeks we may take the best sections of some of them and include them here. In the meantime, there was a portion of one that tickled our sense of humor no end. The statement wasn't supposed to be either frivolous or funny. It just struck us that way. This writer, with reference to Susan Kidder's letter, says: "Besides, I think you missed her point — not necessarily for abortion but against your right to govern her body." No comment.

ONE OF THOSE HARD-TO-UNDERSTAND THINGS. Almost every letter we received agreeing with our belief that abortion is legalized murder, includes some phrase or sentence like this one: "I applaud your courage." That's one thing that never entered our mind.

We have never thought that it took courage to stand up and be counted for those beliefs which we learned from man's humanity to man and the teachings of the Bible. Both sources are strictly black and white with no intermediate shadings to condone legalized murder. We'd think of ourself as completely spineless if we couldn't espouse these tenets.

WE FINALLY RECEIVED A REPORT from Larry Moses on Delmar Day in Sarasota, Florida. This year's event was tripped by the gas shortage which was at its worst around the middle of March in Florida. In fact, only 12 showed up from outside the Sarasota-Bradenton area.

One of the highlights of the day was Chairman Larry's presentation of a bouquet of roses to Florence Robertson who, with her husband, Archie, were celebrating 53 years of marriage. Larry sent a color print which we'll attempt to reproduce here.

Delmar Day in Florida in 1975 will be March 3, the first Monday. The chairman for next year is Linc Peterson, 3179 Regatta Circle, Sarasota, Florida 33581. If things are normal, maybe the attendance will reach this year's goal of 150 — instead of this year's actual total of 52.

It hardly seems possible that the roster of retirees now in Florida includes the names of those men and women who were the "going force" in Bethlehem less than a decade ago. Theirs were the names that appeared over and over in the pages of the Spotlight so active were they in local events.
