Economic Forecast 1975 Summary of Recent Events

The current sharp slowdown in the economy is a delayed response to the massive inflation that developed over the last two years. Per capita income adjusted for inflation has declined in each quarter of 1974. Thus, the household sector of the economy which absorbs two thirds of output has been unable to maintain a high level of expenditures.

Through much of this period business spending remained strong as shortages and exploding prices of industrial commodities stimulated heavy outlays for inventory and capital equipment. Only recently

INVEST IN BOYPOWER ... TOMORROW'S MANPOWER is the theme of the 1975 supplemental income campaign of the area Governor Clinton Boy Scout Council. Assemblyman Fred Field, chairman Council Boypower Club committee, pledges his full support for the campaign to Scout Executive James Beck and First Class Scout David Gilbert of Troop 279 in Latham. The Council campaign goal of $70,000 will supplement the traditional sources of support and enable the Council to expand Scouting services and programs in Albany, Rensselaer and Columbia counties.

OVER STORY

Sheaffer Assumes Role

On January 1st, Harry H. Sheaffer, Bethlehem's competent comptroller for fourteen years, assumed the role of Bethlehem's new Supervisor. He will complete the term of Bertram E. Kohinke, who retired after sixteen years of dedicated service to the community.

have industrial managers adjusted production schedules to the actual level of final demand. A sudden unplanned accumulation of inventory has prompted production cut backs resulting in a sharp increase in the unemployment rate.

The special factors cited at the outset of this report convince us that above average flexibility will be required in 1975.

Powers Selected Senior Ranking Cadet

The senior ranking cadet of the Air Force ROTC at the University of Southern California has been selected by Brig. Gen. Robert M. White, Commandant of AFROTC, and a board of 3 Air Force colonels as this country's good will ambassador to attend India's Republic Day celebration in New Delhi, January 26.

Frank Powers, 21, of (17886 Irvine Blvd.) Tustin, commander of USC's AFROTC cadet wing, and a senior in aerospace engineering, will fly to Washington, D.C., January 17 for briefing and then on to India where he will be a guest of the government for three weeks.

Powers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Powers of Tustin. His father is a service manager for Toledo Scale Co., a subsidiary of Reliance Electric Co. The family formerly lived in Delmar, N.Y., where Powers was graduated from Bethlehem Central High School. He has a sister, Donna (Mrs. Thomas) Starcic in San Pedro.

The Arts Center Presents

The first of the three-part BEL CANTO SERIES to be presented by The Arts Center, 1069 New Scotland Road, Albany, will take place on Friday, January 10 at 8:00 in the Recital Hall of the Center. Nancy Williams, the internationally-acclaimed mezzo-soprano so well-known to area patrons of the Lake George Opera, will present a recital of songs by Purcell, Vivaldi, Verdi, Ravel, and Leonard Bernstein, among others.

Tickets for this concert or series tickets for the three — Gemi Beni, March 6; Henry Price, April 18 — may be purchased at The Arts Center prior to the concert or at the door on the evening of January 10.

SPOTLIGHT INVITATION

We would like YOU to take a more active part in future issues! . . . On the agenda are many plans for special features, ideas and topics which we hope will be of interest to our readers in the broad community that the SPOTLIGHT covers.

But we'd like to hear from YOU.

Don't you have a PET PEEVE — a humorous anecdote — a light-hearted story of local interest to share with us?

(Please keep your contributions PLEASANT and not TOO LENGTHY!)

SPOTLIGHT would also like to invite interested readers to submit GUEST EDITORIALS!

We'll be waiting to hear from you.

Rise in Refabricated Homes

When housing starts rise again, there will be a dramatic upsurge in the use of prefabricated homes, according to William Paulsen, vice president of Paulsen Lumber and head of Green Island Homes, a subsidiary of Karl A. Paulsen & Sons, Millwork and Lumber.
 He bases his prediction on the current demand (in spite of the tight money market) and on the "built-in advantages" of prefabrication.

In fact, the Paulsen family acquired the Green Island facility in 1971 because they had seen the potential in prefabricated homes and garages and wanted to be "on top of the trend." In that year Paulsen's crew of craftsmen turned out 350 garages. In 1972 demand rose to 420 and in 1973 the number was up again, to 580.
 For 1974, Paulsen said, the final sales figure will be "over 600" in spite of the slow market generally. Homes were first prefabricated in the Green Island plant in 1972, when they built 55. The following year this number doubled, and for 1974, Paulsen said, will again be

 "about 110."

"Prefabrication will be drawing a larger and larger share of the construction market,
 and Green Island is moving with this trend," Paulsen said.
 "We're looking forward to a very good 1975."

The State Office for the Aging has announced the establishment of a Senior Citizens Hot Line. The hot line toll-free telephone number grams and services in their

Cable T.V. in the Town of Bethlehem

After speaking to J. Clayton Relyea, Chairman of the Advisory Committee for Cable Television, I realized that it is neither an easy or fast process to bring Cable TV into an area. There are an abundant amount of rules and regulations set down by the State and Federal Communication Commissions.

The Advisory Committee was formed in February of '74, and has since been working on preparing a report, (by the rules of the Commissions) on the best type of system for the Town. Cable TV is not only to provide entertainment. It may also be used for education, municipal service, and servance, such as traffic control or to cut out vandalism in schools. The Committee is specifically charged to annate service that can provide economic feasibility. The Committee hopes to complete their report this month. The report is first sent to the Town Board, which holds hearings, and then issues a request for proposal. Bids from different operations are taken and it is decided (by the Town Board) who can best serve the Town. They grant a franchise, but before the operator can start putting in cable, he must get approvals from the State & Federal Communication Commissions, and the power and telephone companies to use their poles. Approval must also be gotten for microwave extension facilities on which Cable TV is brought into your home.

The cost of Cable TV is approximately 5-8 thousand dollars a mile. The Town of Bethlehem will need anywhere from 50-100 miles of cable, because it is not very compact. The operator starts placing the cable. Each subscriber has a drop to his home to pick up Cable TV. Rates have been in the range of $6.00 a month, but with the inflationary pressures they could run higher.

The Advisory Committee is working hard to bring Cable Television to you. Please be patient and give them your support.

Many thanks to Mr. Relyea for this information.

Take a Tip From the Professionals . . .

Add Convenience To Slide and Movie Viewing

When the American family gathers together on a weekend or a holiday, it is not uncommon for the family photography buff to show his latest slides and movies.

His methods of entertaining his audience with a professional presentation are often the same as those applied in businesses and institutions nationwide. After preparing the projector, he simply walks over to the permanently installed screen and pulls the screen surface from its roller with one easy motion.

The constant exposure of Americans to television, radio and films has prompted many families to install their own audio-visual equipment. With television bringing us instant news and entertainment coupled with the availability of video cassettes soon, many Americans have decided to settle back and enjoy their own slides and movies on permanently installed projection screens.

According to one major manufacturer of projection screens, the Da-Lite Screen Company, Inc., Warsaw, Indiana, increasing numbers of home movie makers are choosing to utilize the convenience of wall or ceiling-hung screens for showing off their slides and motion pictures. The trend is also apparent in schools, hospitals and businesses where quality renditions of slides and movies is imperative.

All too often, the projection screen gets dragged out of the closet at the last moment. But, with a permanently installed screen, all it takes is a simple pull of the cord and the show is ready to begin.

The projection screen is one of the most important pieces of equipment in achieving a professional theater touch for the dramatic impact desired in showing slides and home movies.

When the lights go out, it's the projection screen that makes slides and movies come alive. It puts the showmanship touch to the projection area in the family room, den or recreation center by turning it into a miniature theater.

The projection screen is also one of the most economical investments a photographic enthusiast can make. Yet, it is often the most overlooked item when purchased with other photographic equipment. Many hobbyists sink hundreds of dollars into cameras and projectors with little regard to projection screen quality. Even worse, many choose to skip the screen purchase and end up showing their slides and movies on the family room wall. This may be convenient, but it leaves a lot to be desired in picture quality.

Da-Lite research and development experts point out that the Classic® is one of the most preferred screens by professional and amateur users, because its built-in mounting brackets make it easy to hang to wall or ceiling or from behind a valance.

Many professional photographers rate the projection screen as the prime factor in building a home audio-visual center. Photographic enthusiasts and hobbyists nationwide agree with the professional approach and are choosing to install wall or ceiling-hung projection screens to add a theater-like touch to viewing home movies.

How To Interpret Appliance Warranties

Practically every piece of consumer information dealing with "How to buy . . ." cautions the consumer to read and understand the warranty. That's easier to do now than it once was.

Until recent years, many warranties (which, incidentally, are the same as guarantees) were long, complex legal documents, nearly defying reading, let alone comprehension.

While long, complicated, legalistic warranties still can be found, most major manufacturers of consumer goods have simplified warranties so that buyers can ascertain quickly what is and is not covered in the warranty contract.

For example, the warranty on General Electric dryers has been reduced from a 600-word document to a 176-word statement.

When you read a warranty, remember that it not only outlines what is covered by the manufacturer, but also specifies exceptions to the coverage.

There are about 11 exceptions which may occur in some major appliance warranties. If you are aware of them, it may help you evaluate warranties when you are appliance shopping. Most commonly found are:

—Home use only—other uses excluded from coverage.

—Warranty registration card required or suggested.

—Valid only for original purchaser.

Other common exceptions could be called the "who pays for what" clauses. Read them carefully, for they often exclude from warranty coverage:

—Transportation and shipping costs and/or serviceman's travel fees.

—Consequential damages, such as a floor damaged by a flooding washer.

—Service labor—the warranty may be limited to parts only or to specific parts.

Other restrictions might include:

—Disclaimer of implied—and all other—warranties.

—Filters, plastic or glass parts not covered (light bulbs).

—Warranty void if product serviced by unauthorized servicer.

—Opinion of the seller determines whether a part is defective.

—Void if serial plate defaced.

Remember that the warranty is part of the appliance when you buy it, so don't hesitate to collect on it when you are justified in doing so. Remember, too, that verbal agreements or promises from the dealer are subject to misinterpretation and misunderstanding. If the dealer makes a promise that goes beyond the manufacturer's warranty, get it in writing.

A FAMILY MATTER

With the kids running in-and-out all day and bath-time games at night, keeping the bathroom tidy and germ-free is almost impossible! Perhaps a few simple cleaning rules and a little imagination will keep things in some semblance of order.

The basic component is a clean room to start. No one can be inspired if the bathroom is a disaster! Floors, tiles and fixtures should be cleaned regularly with Fantastik Bathroom Cleaner. It requires no scrubbing—just a spray and a wipe—and it deodorizes and disinfects in the bargain.

Teach the kids to help on a daily basis with amusing tricks and simple cleaning props. Here are a few ideas:

* Towel rings for each child will entice your youngster to put the towel back where it belongs.

* Brightly colored soap, perhaps animal shapes, is an incentive to rinse the bar of soap after using it just to see the pretty designs.

* Move a small laundry basket into the bathroom at bath-time. It'll keep you from chasing down dirty togs all over the house.

* Provide a toothpaste tube roller. Its novelty will turn the kids' attention to keeping the sink clean and the tube untwisted.

PLAN YOUR PROPERTY PROTECTION

Prepared by The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, the national professional society whose members have earned the CPCU designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. The house I'm buying is already covered by a homeowners policy that gives enough fire protection, abundant liability coverage, and everything else I need. I figure that at the closing, I'll pay the seller for the unexpired portion of the policy, which will have another six months to run, and then let the company know that I'm the new owner. That will do it, won't it?

A. No, no! The insurance policy doesn't protect you until the insurance company agrees to it, and if you delay in asking for this agreement until after the closing is completed, there may be hours or days when your big investment is utterly unprotected by insurance!
