I'm attending the college of my choice, thanks to a student loan from CSB.

You can too.

My college education is important to me. But I needed some help with money. So I talked with the people at Catskill Savings Bank. I got the financial help I needed with a loan I don't have to start repaying until 10 months after I graduate. My Student Loan gave me more than money. It gave me the chance to get the education I want. And Catskill Savings Bank can help you, too. Just stop in and talk it over at the bank you can count on...

Bethlehem police have added two portable electronic radar units to the stationary device that has been in use for some time. Left, Capt. Robert Foster and Officer Alfred Lamouree measure the speed of a passing vehicle on Elm Ave. at the town park. At right, Lamouree clocks an approaching pickup truck on Elm Ave. The units, which automatically record speed and show the digits on the display tube, can be mounted on the dashboard in a patrol car or carried by hand and hooked to battery units attached to the officer's belt.

Grievance Day complaints rise

Bethlehem's board of assessment review has completed its annual chore of reviewing assessment complaints. Sid Kaplan, chairman of the three-member panel, said that the volume of property-owner complaints was up from last year, but that the board processed the list in 10 days following the annual Grievance Day hearings last month.

"People are upset over inequities that are very apparent," Kaplan observed after the board had closed its 1977 books. "We try to be as fair as we can and make our decisions as intelligently as we possibly can."

The town has been following a policy of reassessing properties by various geographic areas, one at a time, over a period of years. "This naturally creates inequities when residents have their assessments raised while the neighbors across the street are left untouched for this particular year. Town authorities are aware of this situation, but so far have not come up with a solution that does not involve hiring a whole army of trained assessors," Kaplan said.

A recent decision in a Long Island court case has upset the state's equalization provisions calling for assessments at 100 percent of market value, Kaplan said. Application of the 100-percent rule to Bethlehem would require a complete reassessment of the town's property rolls simultaneously, Kaplan said. Currently the equalization board indicates the average property increases in valuation at the rate of approximately 6 percent a year.

Other members of the Bethlehem board are Rodger Fryer and Richard Haverly. The board's function is to review each complaint and make recommendations to the town assessor.

Burglary probed at Elks lodge

A burglar who either used a members' card key or hid in the building after the closing hour had a busy time sawing padlocks at the Bethlehem Elks lodge in Cedar Hill last Saturday night, according to Bethlehem police reports.

Police said there were no signs of forced entry when the thefts were discovered the following morning. Taken were $97.05 from a cash box in a kitchen closet that was padlocked, and an undetermined amount of cash from the juke box and cigaret machine, both of which had been pried open. Police also reported the padlock had been pried from the refrigerator.

Police also are investigating thefts of a CB radio valued at $150 from a 1973 Chrysler owned by Kenneth Tucker, 49 The Crossway, Delmar, four hub caps removed from a car parked in a driveway at 317

Schoolhouse Rd., North Bethlehem, and the front grille and parking lights from the 1973 Pinto owned by Rev. Richard J. Broderick of St. Thomas Church. The accessories were removed from Fr. Broderick's car while it was parked in the rear of the church rectory.

Police nab 2 in bike theft

When two witnesses saw a 10-speed boys' bicycle being loaded into the trunk of a 1973 car in the parking lot of the A&P store in Elmsere at 6 p.m. last Saturday, they were able to provide police with a partial license plate number and a description of the car.

The following morning Bethlehem police picked up Daniel McCarthy, 19, of Coeymans on a petit larceny charge. McCarthy was later arrested by Ravena and state police on charges of burglary and grand larceny in other incidents. Police said McCarthy's companion, Brian Merion of Coeymans, had been arrested by Ravena and state police in Coeymans on similar charges two hours after the bicycle incident in Elsmere.

Police also are seeking three youths who assaulted a Delmar teenager at 2:45 p.m. last Monday at Delaware Ave. and Euclid Ave. and rode away with his bicycle. The three youths, who had been seen riding bicycles south on the Delaware Ave. viaduct earlier, left a girls' bicycle at the scene.

Pool party set for town park

Bethlehem's Elm Ave. Park pool complex will be the scene on Tuesday of a pool party, complete with music.

The Diablo Trio, a group of local musicians whose taste runs from music in the style of the Thirties to nostalgia rock and jazz, will perform. The party will take place from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. on July 26. There will be a 25-cent admission charge and lifeguards will be on duty so that dancers can cool off with a dip in the pool.

The party will be open to residents of the town of Bethlehem and their guests. Photo ID passes will be required of residents. In case of rain, the party will be postponed to July 27.

Stringham named to Keuka board

Edward B. Stringham, Delmar businessman-engineer, has been elected chairman of the Keuka College board of trustees, succeeding Eric J. Stettner of Rochester.

Stringham, former chairman and president of Penetryn International, Inc., of Latham, an international marketing and engineering holding company, has been on the Keuka board since 1972. He also headed four other related corporations that were merged with The Carborundum Company in 1976. Stringham currently serves as a Carborundum consultant and is responsible for the handling of all post-merger factors and non-U.S.A. licensing for the Penetryn Division of the company.

He holds a BS degree from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and completed Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration's advanced management program. He also holds several patents relating to water pollution control equipment.

Keuka is an independent four-year college for women in Keuka Park in New York State's Finger Lakes region.

Blackouts here just a nuisance

A torrential summer thunderstorm that slashed across Bethlehem and New Scotland late Saturday afternoon knocked out power in several sections of Delmar and Elsmere.

Delmar and Elsmere firemen were called when winds knocked down utility wires in scattered areas. Niagara Mohawk reported that 490 customers in Delmar were blacked out when a distribution circuit failed at 5:05 p.m. Saturday. Power was restored at 9:01 p.m.

A transformer in the Voorheesville substation burned out Sunday afternoon.

Incredible!

That's the word we hear most often to describe the beautiful natural wonder of Ausable Chasm in the Lake Champlain Region of the Adirondacks.

You can also use it to describe our walking tour, boat ride, gift shop, cafeteria, country store, pottery shop, antique auto museum, glass blowing display, leather shop and our KOA Kampground.

A 20-second trip for rescue squad

When two cars collided at Kenwood Ave. and Adams St., Delmar, Saturday, Delmar Fire Dept. members were working on routine Saturday morning chores at the firehouse a short block away. It took the ambulance crew less than 20 seconds to reach the scene.

It took nearly 20 minutes to pry open the door of one of the vehicles to remove an injured passenger, Deborah R. Deitsch, 18, of Albany. She was given first-aid treatment in the car, a splint was applied to her injured right arm, and she was treated at Albany Medical Center for an elbow injury. The driver of the car, Stephen M. Goldfine, 25, of Flushing, was treated for facial lacerations at the AMC Hospital.

Driver of the second car was Dr. Woongman Lee, 38, of 28 Surrey Mall, Slingerlands. Police reports said Goldfine was driving north on Adams St. and Lee southeast on Kenwood toward the Four Corners when their cars collided.

Plaza to host cooking expert

Cooking with a micro-wave oven saves energy and time, according to the experts. Jeanne M. Johnson, home service representative for Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., will present a demonstration of cooking by micro-wave at Delaware Plaza over three days, July 27-28-29, in the mini-mall area from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day. The demonstration is sponsored by the Delaware Plaza Merchants Assn.

Mrs. Johnson will explain the workings of the micro-wave oven and the frequencies used. She also will compare the energy used as opposed to conventional cooking times.

A native of Albany, Mrs. Johnson graduated from Philip Schuyler High School and attended State Teachers College of Albany, Russell Sage College and Schenectady

Pinnacle to hold concert, mission

Camp Pinnacle in the Helderbergs will hold a sacred music concert on Saturday at 8 p.m. featuring Alan and Jane Forbes with vocal solo and organ selections. Preceding the concert will be a smorgasbord from 5:30 to 7. Call 872-1053 for reservations.

July 24 will begin Missions Week at Camp Pinnacle. Ministering nightly through the week at 7:45 p.m. will be Neil and Pat Macaulay, musicians, on the organ and trumpet. Neil is the president and founder of New Life Ministries and will speak evenings. Rev. Roy Brill, a returned missionary of the Africa Inland Mission, will teach each morning at 10:15 from the book of Jonah.

Camp Pinnacle is located above Thacher Park in the Helderbergs.

J. Robert Sheehan

Heads music faculty

J. Robert Sheehan of Slingerlands has been appointed chairman of the Music Division of the College of Saint Rose. He has been an associate professor of music at the college and director of music at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Albany. He has taught at CSR since 1970.

Sheehan holds an MS degree in music education from the State University of New York at Potsdam with further studies in liturgical music at Manhattan College and liberal arts at Siena College. He has given both private and public instruction in area schools, Maria College and Our Lady of Angels Seminary in Glenmont. His performing experience includes organ recitals at Saint Patrick's Cathedral in New York City and vocal performances with the Capital Hill Choral Society. He was the founder of the Festival of Praise Choir and conducted the choir for five years.

Sponsoring student

The Bethlehem Historical Assn. is sponsoring Michael Wolfe of Elm Ave., Selkirk, for the second session of the Helderberg Workshop. Michael, who enters fourth grade at the Glenmont School in September, will attend the workshop on Insects.

Anyone interested in seeing the Helderberg Workshop in operation may visit classes between 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 18.

Drive is launched by Farm Bureau

A symbolic planting of a Norway spruce seedling served as the kickoff for the New York State Farm Bureau's 1978 membership drive at the bureau's state headquarters on Rt. 9W, Glenmont.

Participating in the enactment were three top executives of the New York Farm Bureau, the Albany County Farm Bureau and the Farm Family Insurance Co., which serves Farm Bureau members in the 11 North-eastern states. They were: John S. Gold, Delmar, executive director of the NYFB; John B. Geurtze, Glenmont, president of the ACFB, and Roger W. Fleming, Delmar, executive vice president and general manager of the FFIC.

The three men also unveiled for the first public showing in Albany County the new logo and theme for the membership campaign—"Growing—With Good Reason."

Gold also announced the statewide membership goal of 20,200, while Geurtze stated that Albany County's quota was 206. Gold added that "the statewide goal for member families reflects the growing interest, in spite of the decreasing number annually of active farmers, in the organization which continues to be the voice of agriculture in New York State."

Smith senior elected

Susan Elbow, a senior at Smith College and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Matthew Elbow of Delmar has been elected senior representative to the student affairs committee for 1977-78.

Topped 'Dimes' drive

The area of Delmar, Elsmere, Slingerlands and Clarksville raised the highest total of any section outside the city of Albany in the regional 1977 March of Dimes campaign, according to an announcement by retiring chairman Thomas J. McEnaney. The area contributed $2,096.87 to the Capital Area chapter's three-county total of $82,142.12. Mrs. Dorothy Sorenson was area chairman.

(Q) If I should have any checks outstanding at the time of my death, would the bank automatically stop payment on them?

(A) For ten days after your bank has knowledge of your death, they may continue to pay checks drawn by you prior to that date, unless ordered to stop payment by a person claiming interest in the account.

Banks in the Capital District usually acquire knowledge of the death of a depositor through the newspaper obituary columns. These columns are dated. Checks, therefore, may be paid by the bank for ten days after the first publication of the announcement of a death unless payment is stopped sooner.

BUSINESS

United Bank New York, holding company that is the parent firm of the State Bank of Albany, has declared a 2-percent stock dividend along with a quarterly dividend of 40 cents a share, payable Oct. 3 to Common Stock shareholders of record Sept. 6. Peter D. Kiernan, chairman and president, noted this was the fourth consecutive year in which a stock dividend has been declared.

* * * *

First Commercial Banks Inc., parent company of the National Commercial Bank & Trust Co., reports increased second-quarter earnings for the fourth consecutive year. Net income for the period was 67 cents a share, up from 62 cents a year ago. Net for the first six months was $1.33 per share, compared to $1.20 for the first half of 1976.

ENTERTAINMENT

The Artists Touring Assn. (ATA) will be appearing at Colonie Center July 26 through Aug. 8. Free to the public from 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., the show will feature 40 gallery-quality one-person exhibits. At least 30 of the artists will be working on their art during the Colonie show.

Delmar residence gutted by flames

Flames that broke out in a Delmar residence five hours after a kitchen blaze had been extinguished destroyed the home of the L. Donald Simpson family while the family was away on vacation.

Elsmere and Delmar firemen were called at 6:30 p.m. last Wednesday and found smoke pouring from the kitchen windows at 101 McGuffey Lane and neighbors trying to fight the fire with garden hoses. The kitchen windows had blown out from the intense heat.

Damage was confined to the kitchen and hallway area, but the entire house suffered heavy smoke damage, officials reported. Firemen doused the flames, wet the area down, and left after checking the entire structure.

Shortly after midnight flames broke out again, and this time gutted the dwelling. Cause of the fire, believed to have originated in the kitchen, was not determined, and there was no early estimate of the damage.

Firemen carry out assignments at scene of a house fire on McGuffey Lane.

7 qualify for Regional Junior Olympics

Seven members of the Capital Track Club have earned places in the Region 1 AAU Junior Olympic track and field championships to be held this weekend at Brown University, Providence, R.I. They qualified for the meet on the basis of performances at the Adirondack Assn. July 7-8.

Qualifiers are Sue Marr, who won the girls' 14-15 mile walk on July 8; Maria DeGiaco, second in the girls' 14-15 880, and five in the 16-17 age group: Lisa Stokoe in the 880, Chris Garvin in the mile walk, Alex Roberts in the 440, Katie Mooney in the 100 and long jump, and Jim Monaco in the shotput and discus.

In a meet at Colonie July 11, CTC's co-coaches, Bob Oates and Dave Herrington, placed in three events. Oates had a second in the two-mile at 9:59.8 and was third in the open mile at 4:32.5. Herrington won his heat in the 220 and finished fifth overall. Mike Marvin of Delmar was sixth in the discus with a heave of 83 feet 2 inches.

Four athletes from the club's Bethlehem branch competed in the College City Classic in Brockport, but were squeezed out of the prizes. Herrington placed fourth in the 440 intermediate hurdles. Also making the trip were Suzy Goodrich, Sue Marr and Tom Flynn.

AF officer promoted

Dean C. Spraggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Victor Spraggins of RD 1, Voorheesville, has been promoted to first lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force. Lt. Spraggins, an electronic warfare officer, is assigned at Ellsworth AFB, S.D., with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

He is a 1971 graduate of C.A. Bouton Junior Senior High School, and the U.S. Air Force Academy.

Teachers married

Deborah Ann Byer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Byer, Jr. of 69 Devon Rd., Delmar, and Robert Peter Schmiedecke, son of Mrs. Margaret Schmiedecke of Huntington Station, L.I. were married at St. Thomas Church on July 2.

Christina Stroud of Delmar was the maid of honor and Margaret Schmiedecke, Terri Sweetser and Lisa Byer were bridesmaids. Best man was Chris Chilcott and ushers were Johnny Bush, Brad Byer and John Mark Byer.

The bride graduated from Green Mountain College. She and her husband are graduated of SUNY-Buffalo and are teachers.

Following a reception at Wolfert's Roost Country Club, the couple honeymooned in Bermuda and will live in Huntington, L.I.

Krugman

For more than 18 centuries, surgeons have used catgut to stitch up their patients -- the body's enzymes can absorb catgut (actually made from cattle and sheep intestines) . . . Because the material consists of animal protein, though, it has one flaw; it causes inflammation around the wound . . . Now a completely absorbable, virtually non-irritating suture material called Dexon has been developed . . . U.S. and British surgeons have tried it in more than 5000 operations with excellent results. . . Stitches were safely absorbed by the patient's body . . . In yet another study, almost complete absorption was found to occur within 60 days. . .

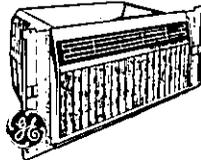

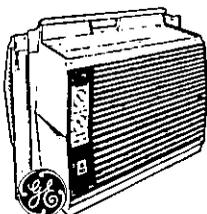

Find service as you like it -- fast and friendly from the efficient staff at KRUGMAN'S DELMAR PHARMACY INC. Directors return to scout camps

Mrs. Sally Goodrich is director for the third year of Camp Is-Sho-Da, the Hudson Valley Girl Scout Council's summer day camp in East Greenbush, which opened this week.

Mrs. Goodrich, a resident of East Greenbush, is a substitute teacher in the East Greenbush schools and director of the outdoor education program there. She was a counselor for two years at Camp Little Notch, Hudson Valley's resident camp in the Town of Fort Ann, and directed the Little Notch food preparation for two years. A former Girl Scout herself at all levels, Mrs. Goodrich has led a cadette troop in East Greenbush for three years. She was graduated from the University of Georgia with a degree in home economics and family and child development.

Renee Sack of Cambridge, Mass. will be director for the fourth year of Camp Little Notch. She is a fifth grade teacher in the Lexington, Mass., school system and for five years directed Camp Sherwood Forest in New Hampshire for the Mistick Side Girl Scout Council.

Civic leader retires

Frances A. Hynds retired after over 32 years of service with the State Dept. of Taxation and Finance on May 11. Mrs. Hynds and her husband, Given S. Hynds, have resided at 1 Burtonwood Pl., Delmar, for the past 27 years.

A party attended by friends and co-workers was given in honor of her retirement at the Americana Inn. A gold and diamond wishbone pin, a gift certificate for a trip of her choice, several original art works and other gifts were presented to Mrs. Hynds.

Mrs. Hynds and her husband will divide their time between their home in Delmar and their summer residence on Lake George near Ticonderoga. They plan to pursue their hobbies of water and snow king, sailing, canoeing, camping, fishing, traveling and gardening.

Mrs. Hynds has been active in Delmar organizations and is past president of the Blanchard Post Legion Auxiliary and past corresponding secretary of the Bethlehem Business and Professional Women's Club and the Elks Auxiliary of Guilderland. She is also a member of the First United Methodist Church of Delmar.

Shoplifters sought

Bethlehem police are seeking a couple in their mid-20s driving a green Buick in connection with two reports of shoplifting in Delaware Ave. stores in Elsmere a few minutes apart. According to police reports, they escaped with a stereo cassette playback with a retail value of $49.95 from the Radio Shack, 159 Delaware Ave., about 3 p.m. last Wednesday. Less than 10 minutes later an employee of the Dorothy Lynn dress shop at 82 Delaware Ave. reported her wallet was missing after a couple fitting the description had been in the store. The wallet contained $34 in cash, credit cards and personal papers, police said.

Heads Senior Citizens

Edward Miller has been elected president of the Bethlehem Senior Citizens, succeeding Elizabeth Spinard. Other officers are: Ruth S. Stickler, first vice president; Margaret R. Duffy, second vice president; Margaret Baxter, recording secretary; Marguerite Horlock, corresponding secretary; Beatrice Myers, treasurer and Ethie Myers, historian.

The group holds regular meetings at the Coffee House on Adams St., Thursdays at 2:30 p.m. Upcoming events include a chicken barbecue sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and on July 28 a trip to the Otasaga Hotel in Cooperstown.

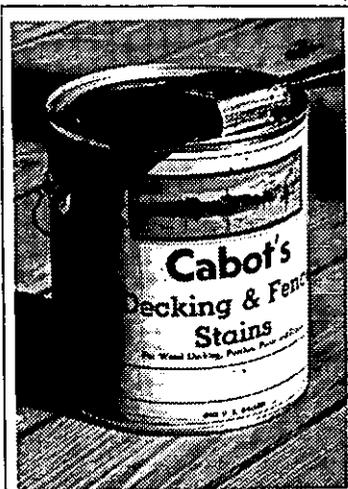

Just before school closed last month, Marcia Pardoe's class at Glenmont Elementary School made a "quiet quilt" to be hung in the school's cafeteria-auditorium to help absorb noise. Cheryl Marks

Young pianist selected

Grace Shen, 146 Fernbank Ave., Delmar, a student at Bethlehem Central High School, has been selected as a result of statewide auditions to become an accompanist of the School of Choral Studies of the New York State Summer School of the Arts. Members of the School of Choral Studies are in residence at State University College, Fredonia, from July 17 until Aug. 13. The program is one of six units of the New York State Summer School of the Arts created by the Legislature in 1975. Other schools are orchestral studies, drama and dance located in Saratoga, film media located in Buffalo and visual arts, also located in Fredonia.

At music camp

Four young Delmar and Selkirk musicians will be attending the New York State Music Camp at Hartwick College in Oneonta this summer. Barbara Allgaier and Naomi Mendel of Delmar and Daniel Christop and Peter Rosamilia of Selkirk will be among 250 musicians attending classes.

Charles M. Lavine

Heads Glenmont bank

Charles M. Lavine has been named branch manager of the Glenmont office of Community State Bank, according to an announcement by Gerald B. Fitzgerald, president of the bank.

A graduate of Milne High School and the College of St. Rose, Lavine holds a BS in business administration at Union College.

Lavine is a former member of the board of governors of the American Institute of Banking Albany Region, and has been active in the Albany Jaycee and the United Way Fund Drive. He lives in Albany with his wife, Sandra.

State Bank grant

An underwriting grant from the State Bank of Albany will make possible the continuation of Wall Street Week for the next full year on WMHT/17, the area's non-commercial public television station. Author and economic editor Louis Rukeyser is host for the series, seen each Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. The State Bank of Albany has been underwriter for the series since 1975.

Honor students cited

Gregg Alan Sagor of Delmar and Frederick D. McCandless Jr. of Slingerlands are among more than 200 members of the June 1977 class of graduates initiated into Phi Kappa Phi national honor society.

Joy of Stitching

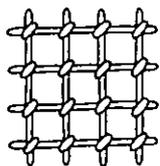

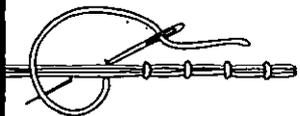

by ELSA WILLIAMS

COUCHING . . . PLAIN AND FANCY

Necessity is the mother of invention. You know what and you can be sure that the needlewoman who dreamed up the idea of "couching" had a problem. Either her thread was too thick to go through her fabric or it was too precious to waste on the wrong side of the fabric. Remember that early ecclesiastical embroidery was worked in gold thread. Couching was the functional — and decorative — solution.

The simplest couching is designed to make one thick thread — or several thinner yarns treated as one — follow an outline. This is accomplished by using a finer thread and taking small stitches at regular intervals. The thin thread comes up on one side of the heavy yarn, crosses it and goes back through the fabric, making a locking stitch every quarter inch or so that holds the heavier yarn in place.

The heavy yarn also can be held by patterned stitches . . . groups of two or three followed by a space . . . or even a patch of stitching that looks like a narrow bit of satin stitch. Buttonhole stitch or Cross stitch also may be used. The ends of thicker yarn either should be cut and stitched firmly in place or couched into a decorative swirl-ending.

Couching is not used exclusively to anchor thick yarn. It's an effective decorative device for keeping stitches straight in a large patch of satin stitch. The couching stitches are usually taken at right angles to the solid Satin stitch. Long couching stitches may be tacked at intervals to anchor them in place.

Decorative couching may be used with the Lattice stitch which, as its name implies, is a series of long parallel stitches, crossed at right angles by another series of stitches. The natural couching for a network of lattices is a tiny diagonal stitch, taken at each intersection to anchor the lattice bars.

NEW! An illustrated leaflet showing the stitches in Pulled Work, a variation of counted thread embroidery that's very "in" today. For a FREE copy write to Elsa Williams, Box 3788, Grand Central Sta., N.Y., N.Y. 10017.

Substitute a small Cross stitch or Fly stitch and you begin to see the decorative potential. In addition to couching Lattice stitches, it's a delightful touch to put a stitch in each box of the lattice, or perhaps every other one. Cross stitch or French Knot is the most usual but almost any small, single stitch can be used.

Dear Elsa,

Are the famous Jacobean Tree of Life patterns from the Far East or England? I have heard both mentioned as the source.

Dear P.L.C.,

Actually both are correct. The Tree of Life patterns were brought to England from India by the merchant traders of the time. Originally, the leaves and flowers incorporated into these charming designs were of Oriental inspiration.

In time, many of the most famous English symbols, — leaves, acorns and carnations — were incorporated into the Tree of Life. And later, when the embroidery pattern arrived in the New World, there were more changes . . . this time to include the flowers, birds and animals native to our own country.

Insulting the public

Editor, The Spotlight:
 Will the voters tolerate the latest round of insults heaped upon them by our state legislators, including suggested pay raise? Do they have any choice to do other than tolerate this latest round of insults? Absolutely not! The New York state citizen taxpayer is powerless to deal forcefully with legislative "insults" because of a "cocoon of immunity" in which legislators have been wrapped by the courts. As one jurist put it:

"We come to the conclusion that no person or persons in the State of New York qualify either as officers or citizen-taxpayers to bring an action in our courts to test the constitutionality of an act of legislature, as there is no one who can fit the illusive definition of an aggrieved person . . ."

July 1, 1975 Boryszewski decision unravelled for a while this "immunity cocoon" was granted "full taxpayer standing (emphasis supplied)" on the premise that we are to do so would "erect an impenetrable barrier to any public scrutiny of legislative action." (This despite the fact that the judiciary committee has life and death decision-making power over the legislative process.)

The July 1, 1975 Boryszewski decision might have had more impact were it not for the fact that the legislature (with or without prior knowledge of the pending court decision), anticipating the court's decision as an inevitable conclusion whose time had come, were busy concocting a measure which gave citizen-taxpayers the "right to bring court action against any state official" but exempting from challenge "bond issues or bond anticipation notes," the root cause of taxpayer discontent.

This authoritarian legislative enactment also made necessary "the posting of a maximum $5,000 bond" and stipulated that "action be taken in the New York Supreme Court."

The exemption of "bond issues and bond anticipation notes" from citizen-taxpayer challenge waters down the July 1, 1975 Boryszewski et al decision and renders it ineffective. The taxpayers-citizens are right back behind the "8-ball" with round after round of insults being heaped upon them.

Let's throw the rascals out!

Tomboys tribute

Editor, The Spotlight:

If your ears ring the second Thursday evening of each month, it is because our board of directors is meeting, and people are saying nice things about you, your production of our schedule of games book, and the Spotlight space you have devoted to our registration days, umpires' clinic, team standings and Paesano's Pizzeria fund-raising program. (Mr. Pisani donated $200 to the League.)

The board asked me to let you know that all of these activities in our behalf are appreciated. We thank you and extend our best wishes for your continued success.

Community Corner

Giant Tag Sale

The parking lot at the Voorheesville Elementary School should be a beehive of activity Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. That's the day of the tag sale staged by the Kiwanis Club of New Scotland.

The co-chairmen of the event, John Coote and John Shuff, have promised there will be all kinds of items, practically everything for the house and garden. Get there early for the best bargains, and remember, the proceeds support the Kiwanians' worthy community projects.

Community Corner, a public service column of important community events, is sponsored by
