BETHLEHEM

Police investigating bike theft wave

Bethlehem police were on standby alert this week in the wake of a spreading epidemic of bicycle thefts. As of Friday, the seven-day total stood at 13 and mounting. A police department spokesman indicated detectives were investigating the possibility a number of the thefts were linked, but would release no details.

The rundown went like this:

June 10 — Two bikes stolen from a locked garage at 463 Kenwood Ave.; two bikes taken from the garage of dwelling at 29 Wexford Dr., the latter two found behind Bethlehem Central High School totally destroyed, along with a lamp post taken from a residence four houses away on Wexford Dr.

June 11 — Bike stolen from unlocked garage at 459 Kenwood Ave. between midnight and 7 a.m.; bike taken from outside St. Thomas Church, Delmar, during 11 a.m. Mass.

June 13 — Bike taken from Bethlehem Library, 8:15 p.m.

June 14 — Bike stolen from Bethlehem Central High school, 11 a.m.; bike stolen from Delaware Plaza, 3:30 p.m.; bike stolen from Delaware Plaza, 3:45 p.m.; bike stolen from garage of dwelling at 54 Murray Ave. during night of June 14-15.

June 15 — Locked bike taken from rack at Bethlehem Middle School, 2:45 p.m.

Police also are investigating the theft of a Japanese maple tree valued at more than $75 cut down from the lawn of the Wexford Dr. address the night the two bicycles were stolen.

No Spotlight July 6

Because the Spotlight news and production staff normally works each weekend to meet press deadlines, we ask the indulgence of readers and advertisers for taking the Fourth of July weekend off. Accordingly, the Spotlight will not be published on Thursday, July 6.

The news and advertising deadline for the June 29 issue will be as usual, the Friday preceding publication, or June 23. The Spotlight will resume publication with the July 13 issue, with a copy deadline of July 7.

9 at St. Thomas cited for essays

At St. Thomas School, Delmar, Tawasentha Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution presented certificates of recognition to nine students for their participation in this year's flag essay contest. The theme of the contest was "What the Flag of the United States of America Means to Me." The nine students are Helene Leonard, Michele Meister, Carron Rutnik, Diane Willbrook, seventh graders, and Mike Eck, Jim Haggerty, Lauren Harder, Matt LaBarge, and Dawn Watkins, eighth graders.

Michele Meister, whose essay was deemed best among the seventh graders, received a small U.S. flag pin. A pin was also given to Lauren Harder, who was the winner among the eighth graders.

Mrs. Julia Kelley, regent of Tawasentha Chapter, and Mary Schelling, flag chairman, presented the awards.

BETHLEHEM

A Mocker 'no' makes history

When Councilman Edward Mocker of Glenmont voiced a negative vote at last week's meeting of the Bethlehem town board, it caused a few raised eyebrows and captured a headline in the Albany Knickerbocker News.

"No" votes are virtually unheard in Bethlehem's solidly Republican administration, even since Supervisor Tom Corrigan eliminated the former practice of reviewing the agenda in private prior to the public session. Mocker voted against a motion on a request by Ralph A. Tipple, commissioner of public safety, to send Officer Marvin Koonz of the Bethlehem police department to Niagara Falls for a statewide training conference on juvenile problems. Earlier, on an agenda containing several dozen routine actions, Mocker had joined board members in the usual 4-0 vote on a motion to send Officer Robert J. Samsel to firearms school July 17-21 and for firearms instructor training Sept. 11-22, both at Peekskill.

Mocker's explanation: "As you know, I have a charge against Koonz that has not been settled. I'm not sure we should be training him any further." The board approved the motion, 3-1.

Mocker filed a written complaint against Koonz, a former undercover narcotics investigator for the police department, and Chief Peter Fish with Supervisor Harry H. Sheaffer on Jan. 7, 1975, less than a week after Sheaffer had taken office succeeding Bert-ram E. Kohinke, who had resigned. In the letter, Mocker described an incident at the restaurant he owns in Selkirk that involved Koonz on Dec. 22, 1974, stemming from Mocker's personal feud with Fish. Sheaffer took no action on the complaint at the time, and ignored a second letter from Mocker on May 4, 1976.

16 months later, to investigate the matter.

Corrigan, a town councilman for 11 years before becoming supervisor in January, said the only previous negative vote he could recall was cast by William Johnston, Jr., on the annexation of the Graceland Cemetery property by the city of Albany in 1976.

Invitation to dieters

The Diet Workshop welcomes visitors to a no-obligation session at any of its 62 classes in the Capital District during the week of June 25. In Delmar the workshop meets Thursday at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. The Voorheesville workshop is located in the St. Matthews Roman Catholic Church on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. All visitors will be given diet information that includes a weight chart, low-calorie recipes and instructions containing helpful diet materials. There are tips for eating in a restaurant, menu plans for the entire family, and behavior modification techniques. For information call The Diet Workshop at 458-9616

Art show at Plaza

The Bethlehem Art Assn will hold its 12th annual outdoor art show Saturday, June 24, at Delaware Plaza, Elsmere, from 10 to 5, rain or shine. For information 439-2819.

"With my magic lasso, I hope to rope in some of the wonderous bargains at Rogers Sport & Ski Shop." Town gynophile U.R. Whacko commented, "Now that's what I call a change of pace."

NEW SCOTLAND
New radio net
for Onesquethaw

For years members of the Onesquethaw Fire Dept. have contended with the unique situation of three dispersed fire houses, each plagued with poor radio reception because of physical location. Last October the department decided to set up a radio system of its own for better dialogue between stations and with apparatus.

Next week the new $15,000 system, designed and installed by Jim Van Buren, a radio expert and member of the Clarksville unit, and Jim Loder, owner of New Scotland Communications on top of Cass Hill, will go into operation. The system gives OFD direct and clear radio contact between buildings and between each piece of equipment, four fire trucks and an ambulance, plus the cars of the department chief and assistant chief. The system is also linked to the Delmar exchange, the base

Chief Victor D. Hansen points out that the new system doesn't change the department's emergency call procedure. "District residents still phone the same numbers," he says.

BUSINESS

A floral shop opens at Plaza

The Flower World, getting ready for its "official grand opening" at Delaware Plaza, is more than just a flower shop. The array of items range from pottery, fresh and dried flowers, fruit baskets and plants.

Kathie and Ron Hodgkinson of Voorheesville are the owners, and Kathie is the fulltime manager. She has received formal training from an intensive course at a company operated school in West Deptford, N.J.

"The reason I went into this business is that I have a very green thumb and I can grow almost anything. I just love plants, flowers and people," Kathie Hodgkinson said.

Kathie believes in giving individual attention to every customer and is willing to make unique custom plant arrangements for any occasion. Another service the Flower World offers: they will order plants they do not carry for patrons.

The Hodgkinsons surveyed other area shopping centers and say they chose Delaware Plaza because they believe "people in Delmar are special and need a florist that will cater to their needs."

Flower World will have "super special" sales every day of the week and the cut-rate price will be around $3.29.

An exclusive bridal area and arrangements for banks and offices are two future plans for the Flower World.

MODERN PHARMACY

Michael Krugman

All of us have one eye that's stronger than the other. Usually the right eye is dominant. Since mismatched eyes see two images, the brain, to eliminate confusion, often gives up on the poorer and relies more and more on the stronger. Then the weaker eye may weaken with disuse. The result can be partial (or complete) loss of sight in that eye. However, a proper set of glasses that restores the vision of the weaker eye and maybe blurs somewhat the vision of the stronger eye sometimes save that lazy eye.

Find service as you like it—fast and friendly from the efficient staff at KRUGMAN'S DELMAR PHARMACY INC. We handle a full line of drugs and have a large well equipped pharmacy to handle your prescriptions. You can depend on KRUGMAN'S DELMAR PHARMACY, 361 Delaware Ave., 439-9914 for all your prescription requirements. Reach us after hours by calling store phone or 439-4582. Open: Mon. thru Fri. 9 a.m.-7 p.m., Sat. 9 a.m.-6 p.m.

THE CHECK THAT TURNS INTO A LOAN.

CASH RESERVE CREDIT FROM THE BANK.

You can borrow from The Bank just by writing a check.

With your predetermined personal line of credit, you'll have an "emergency fund" to cover unexpected bills, a "reserve fund" to take advantage of sales, and a "safety fund" to prevent checks from bouncing.

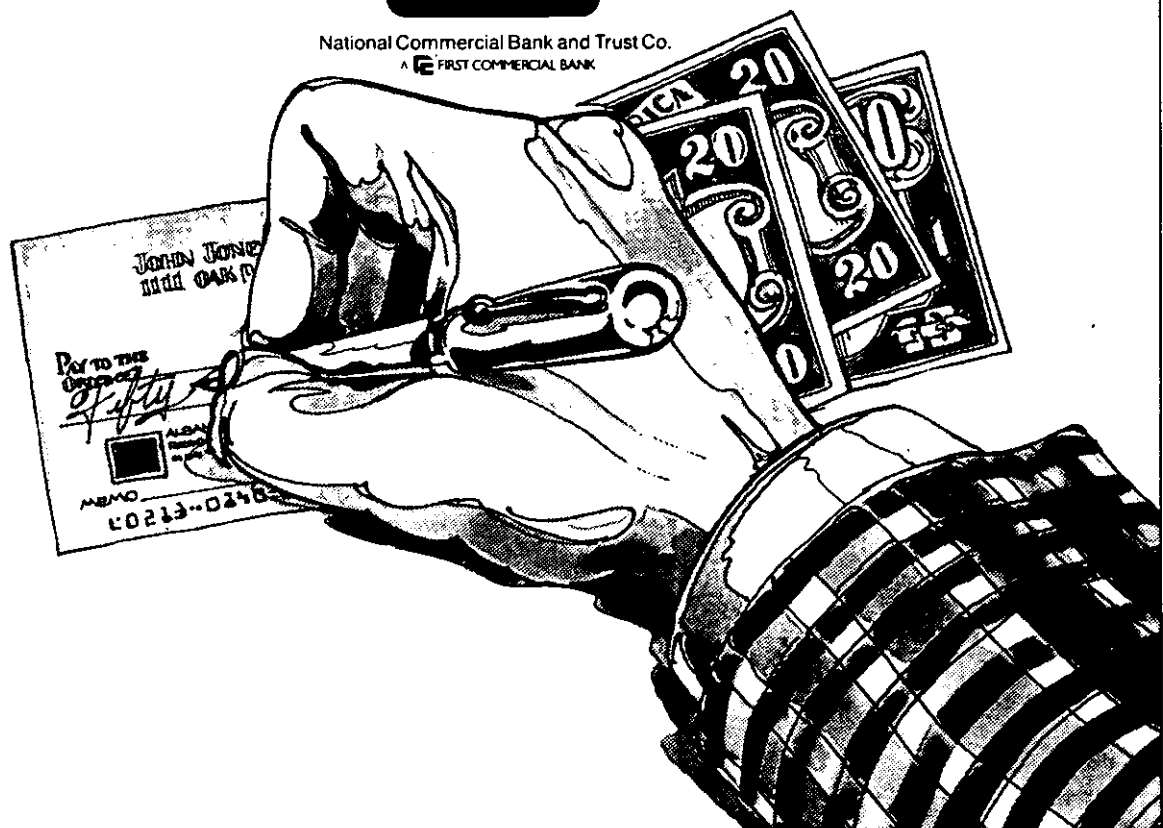

You can even use it with Bank Key, to get more cash from your checking account than your balance shows.

Add Cash Reserve Credit to your checking account. Fill out an application at any office of The Bank.

And turn a check into a loan whenever you want.

Enter service academies

Two local students have been admitted to the nation's service academies for the classes entering in July, 1978. Colleen McGuinty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter McGuinty of Glenmont, has been selected for the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs. J. Alan Davitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Davitt of Delmar will be entering the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton announced the names of 14 young people from the 28th Congressional District who were chosen from a total of 49 nominees selected last January. Under the competitive procedure employed by Stratton and most other congressmen, 10 persons were nominated for each of the five vacancies of the 28th District.

Kleinke powers
Blue Jays win

When the Delmar Blue Jays next show their talents to the home crowd, it will probably be at the Bethlehem Central High School varsity field, which is now undergoing extensive renovation to accommodate quality amateur baseball. Improvements have been made to the home plate area with new sand and clay. The pitcher's mound is next, then the infield.

Meanwhile, playing on the road, the Blue Jays were 1-1 last week, and go against Helfrich Ford in a doubleheader Saturday at Mt. Pleasant field, Schenectady. Mark Kleinke and Bill Karp provided the power as Delmar wiped out a 5-0 lead to edge the Halfmoon Tigers of the Northway League, 6-5, at Harris Stadium, Waterford, Wednesday, then dropped a 9-6 verdict to undefeated Greenwich Thursday.

At Waterford, trailing by five runs, Kleinke blasted a double off the left field fence to score Mark Usher in the fifth. Karp opened the sixth with a 360-foot shot over the wall in left, touching off a four-run burst climaxed by Kleinke's two-out single to center that delivered John Terko with the winning run. Shawn Fitzgerald got the win in relief.

Lack of pitching depth was costly at Greenwich, but the hitting was there. Tom Ferari, Steve Caruso and Kleinke had two hits apiece. After six games, Kleinke is hitting .423 and Usher .320.

Last Sunday's rained-out doubleheader at Dalton, Mass., has been rescheduled for July 29.

Hilchie's American Hardware, a landmark Delmar business, is now Hilchie's Servistar Hardware by virtue of a name change.

The new name is a trademark adopted by American Hardware Supply Co. to emphasize the service factor of the business along with a wide assortment of quality products and shopping convenience.

"We have a new name, but we are the same Hilchie's Hardware," said Alan and Ann Hilchie as the sign bearing the new logo was lowered into place in front of 235 Delaware Ave. last week. "We're excited about it because it means more service. We have found from experience that homeowners look to their hardware store for the wide assortment of items they need and where to best find how-to-do-it-yourself information. We want to be your star of service and invite everyone to visit our newly remodeled Servistar store.

Town to hold fine arts sign-up

Bethlehem's summer fine arts program may be cancelled if enrollment doesn't increase, according to officials at the town's Parks and Recreation Dept. Phil Maher, department administrator, stated that a minimum of 15 students is needed for each class. Unless the minimum class size is reached, the program will have to be cancelled. Enrollment can be made at the department between 8:30 and 4:30 weekdays. There is a $15 fee.

The program will be held in two, four-week sessions. The first session, for children entering K-5 will be held from 9 to 11:30, Mondays through Thursdays, June 26-July 21. No session will be held on July 4, which is Family Day in the town of Bethlehem. The program will include instruction in crafts, and students will create sand candles, planters, drawings, batik, collages, mosaics and other craft items.

The second session will be for students in grade 6 and up-including adults. It will run from July 24 through Aug. 18 Mondays through Thursdays, 9 to 11:30 a.m. All classes will be held at the Bethlehem Community Center, 125 Adams St., Delmar.

VOORHEESVILLE Residents resist state land deal

New York State's longtime effort to establish a three-square-mile waterfowl refuge near Voorheesville appears to be headed for another long impasse.

For two decades, state conservationists have had their eye on the Black Creek Marsh area that straddles the New Scotland-Guilderland town line in the area of Hennessey Rd. Up to now, the state's problem has been lack of funds. This time, the money is there, thanks to the 1972 environmental bond issue, but the problem now is land acquisition from owners who don't want to sell.

In a picturesque country setting last week, 28 landholders gathered in the renovated living room of the James Truax residence on Hennessey Rd. for an informational meeting with state officials. The audience, seated in old-fashioned wooden church pews complete with hymnals, faced an attractive, paned picture window that framed the familiar silhouette of the Helderbergs to the west, and listened to Russell D. Fieldhouse of EnCon's Stamford office. Two hours and a half later, after more than 90 minutes of questions and answers, it was clear that the resident resistance to the state's negotiations to buy 118 acres of land was substantial.

Fieldhouse, EnCon regional supervisor of fish and wildlife, said Black Creek Marsh rates high on the department's list of proposed wetlands acquisition because of the number of wildlife species it has attracted, especially during the spring migration, because it has "nesting potential," and because it affords outdoor educational and recreational potential for school study groups and the public. "If the acquisition project is successful," he told the group last week, "we could include 488 acres of Black Creek Marsh overall." Of the 118 acres east of Hennessey Rd., he said, about 50 is owned by Niagara Mohawk. There is also "a core of state ownership to build on," he added. It also is the largest wetlands tract in Albany County.

Residents voiced their concerns: misuse of the land by the public and the threat of acquisition by eminent domain, thus deflating land values. They cited instances of trespassing, abuse of privileges by hunters and parking by "irresponsible persons." Observed Peter G. TenEyck II of Voorheesville: "Your plans are not very definite. You have no management program. I'm disappointed that you don't have any idea of how it will be run, and there's no plan for staffing." Replied Fieldhouse: "We will have a designated parking area that will control the number of people who will have access at one time, and a conservation officer will patrol it." The audience was unconvinced.

A point made by Mrs. Truax: "People come here now, busloads, carloads, birdwatchers, hunters, trappers. What will you do that we aren't doing now?" Replied Fieldhouse: "We don't know that future owners will be as gracious as you."

Another resident complained: "We've been given the runaround. We get the feeling we're nothing out here."

Byron Hatch of Koonz Rd., who with his brother, Arthur, helped to organize the informational meeting, said the landowners "wish to keep this area forever wild and generally unposted as long as it is not abused."

Fieldhouse repeatedly assured the gathering that eminent domain was not in the department plans. "You're talking about taking land, we're talking about acquisition from willing owners," he told one questioner. At the close, he indicated that if there was "substantial" resistance, EnCon would abandon its quest, however reluctantly.

Three Bethlehem residents who received the doctor of medicine degree at the 148th commencement of Albany Medical College of Union University have accepted internships.

David B. Yanoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Yanoff, 310 Elm Ave., Delmar will work in internal medicine at Presbyterian-University Hospital of the University of Pittsburgh.

Daniel J. O'Hern, son of Dr. and Mrs. John a. O'Hern, 107 Elsmere Ave., Delmar, has accepted an internship in pediatrics at the Medical College of Virginia.

Catherine Ann Kiley, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John E. Kiley, New Scotland Rd., Slingerlands, will intern in the Dept. of Medicine of Brown University at the Roger Williams Hospital, Providence, R. I. Dr. Kiley, a graduate of Bethlehem Central High School and Middlebury College, received the Daggett Trust Prize at commencement for "most effective professional performance and conduct." Her father, formerly professor of medicine at Albany Medical College, is presently professor of medicine at the University of Mississippi, Jackson, Miss. The Kiley family moved last week to their new home in Jackson.

Winners galore in distance runs

Half a van of medals went to winners in 28 categories in Bethlehem's third annual distance races over courses ranging from 1.3 miles to nine miles Sunday as a warm sun brought out the crowd and the perspiration.

Ed Arnheiter, a 17-year-old RCS junior, hotfooted the nine-mile grind in 51 minutes 22 seconds, to win the boys' 15-18 medal. The winner in the men's open was Ed Brown of Albany at 52:37. Dennis Northrup of Selkirk, who set the course record of 51:09 in winning last year's grind, was third at 55:29. Diane Barone, 31, of East Greenbush, who last month ran two marathons in one week and had won a race Saturday, won the women's nine-mile sub-master's, finishing ahead of the women's open winner, Joanne Baronna, 26, of Schenectady.

The first two gold medals went to the same household when Michael Whitney and Katie Whitney won the boys and girls 1.3-mile race respectively for age 11 and under, a dash on Delaware Ave. from McDonald's to the Four Corners finishing gates. Delmar runners got second in the 2.4-mile runs for age 12-14. Mary Nyilis and Craig Wiltse, but Leslie Warren and Paul Garvin of Delmar breezed home first in the 3-mile for age 15-18. Leslie, Bethlehem Central's ace runner, finished two and a half minutes ahead of Judy Parker, clipped a minute and 13 seconds from her 1977 record, and earned the father-daughter prize from Courtside Tennis Shop when her father, William Warren, 42,

A summary of the winners will appear in next week's Spotlight.

FOOTBALL

Pop Warner sets season signups

Fifteen yards! Not using your mouthpiece!

That's one of the rules in Pop Warner football, which insists on full equipment so that youngsters can get the enjoyment and benefit of playing football under safe and supervised conditions. Observed one Delmar parent: "We used to play tackle football as kids in a sandlot without equipment, without officials and without our parents' knowing . . . until someone got hurt."

One of the more successful youth athletic programs in the community is Bethlehem Pop Warner, which sponsors teams in three divisions. The Pee Wees are ages 9-11 and 65-95 pounds, the Junior Midgets 10-12 and 80-110 pounds, and Midgets 11-13 and 95-125 pounds. Each player is fully equipped, each participates in a minimum number of plays, and each is weight-matched with pre-game weigh-ins. Two licensed referees officiate at each game. There are no kickoffs; the offense starts on its own 35-yard-line.

This week Bethlehem Pop Warner stepped up its registration drive with newspaper advertising in the Spotlight and the Altamont Enterprise, preparing for the signups on July 30. Boys (and girls) from Bethlehem, Voorheesville and nearby communities interested in the program can fill out the coupon in this issue.

Art school reopens

The Malden Bridge School of Art in nearby Columbia County, which regularly enrolls a number of local students, will open for its 14th season next week, to run through Sept. 1. The main building, formerly the Malden Bridge Playhouse, houses three large studios for portrait, still life and pottery classes, and the Carousel Gallery for exhibitions.

Golf event set

A hole-in-one golf tournament will be held at Bethlehem Central High School on July 1-2 in conjunction with the Capital Track Club/Adirondack Assn. pentathlon/decaathlon. A $50 bond will be awarded for a hole-in-one and a dinner at Thatchers Restaurant will be donated each day to the person closest to the hole.

Three shots will cost 50 cents with no limit on shots. Golfers must bring their own club, balls will be provided.

Music in schools

Editor, The Spotlight:

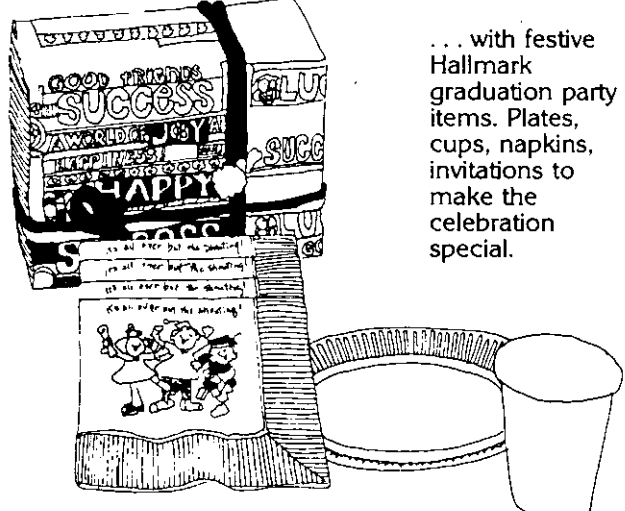

The school year is drawing to an end, the last notes have been sung and played at spring concerts in our schools. Bethlehem Music Assn. would like to thank the Spotlight for your fine coverage of the many outstanding music events during the past school year.

Student participation in music develops skills, concentration and perseverance. It provides an outlet for self-expression and teaches commitment to an organization. Our music students at all levels should be commended for their

Get back in step

Editor, The Spotlight:

As a veteran of W.W. II, having served in the Navy, I am in complete agreement with your comments expressed in "Viewpoint" in the June 8 issue of the Spotlight.

This situation can only get worse as the day of May 30 changes from year to year. It would seem to me to be much more fitting to honor the memory of the men who gave their lives for our country on a national basis rather than cause the irritation involved by being "out-of-step" with the rest of our nation.

I sincerely hope that the current situation will be rectified and next year we may join the rest of our country in this day of memory and honor.

Delmar John F. Toohy

Firemen's visit

Editor, The Spotlight:

The Tri-Village Nursery School would like to express its gratitude for the Spotlight cover story of June 8, involving our children and their recent visit from the Elsmere Fire Dept. The excitement of the children finding themselves and their classmates in the newspaper is unparalleled.

We would also like to thank the members of the Elsmere Fire Dept. for taking the time to give such a unique display to our very interested and enthusiastic children. Experiences such as these are ever-lasting and it is gratifying that such important members of our community are willing to share them with our young children.

However, we would like to clarify that Tri-Village Nursery School, while located in the educational wing of the United Methodist Church, is not affiliated with the church and is a private, non-sectarian school.

Community Corner

Everybody Loves a Parade!

Make your plans now setting aside Saturday, July 8 for the Village Volunteers Fife and Drum Muster in Delmar. There will be a parade of 15 units, including corps from Vermont, Connecticut, New Jersey and Maryland, starting at noon.

In the spirit of the local militia at the time our country was founded, these units will present a public performance and an 18th century "skirmish" at the Bethlehem Middle School athletic field after the parade. Everyone's invited and it's all free.

We commend the Village Volunteers for their hard work in planning and staging this fine event, and we extend a warm welcome to the visiting musicians and militiamen who will be spending the weekend with us.

Community Corner, a public service column of important community events, is sponsored by
