interest per annum.

Minimum deposit, $1,000.

Your hometown bank now offers a new choice for investing your savings.

This new savings certificate has a ceiling rate of 1% below the yield on 4-year Treasury obligations. The rate changes monthly, but the rate at which you purchase the certificate is guaranteed and remains fixed for the entire 4-year term.

Your interest is compounded daily and paid quarterly and at maturity. The rate of interest is determined and announced by the Treasury three business days prior to the first calendar day of each month, on the basis of average daily Treasury yields during the preceding five business days.

Look into this high-yield savings investment today. No other bank pays more than we do on savings.

BETHLEHEM

Democrats chide GOP on 'machine'

Kenelm R. Thacher, Democratic town chairman who is doubling this year as his party's candidate for supervisor, sounded the first note in Bethlehem's 1979 political campaign this week while his Republican opponents were busy with a party primary.

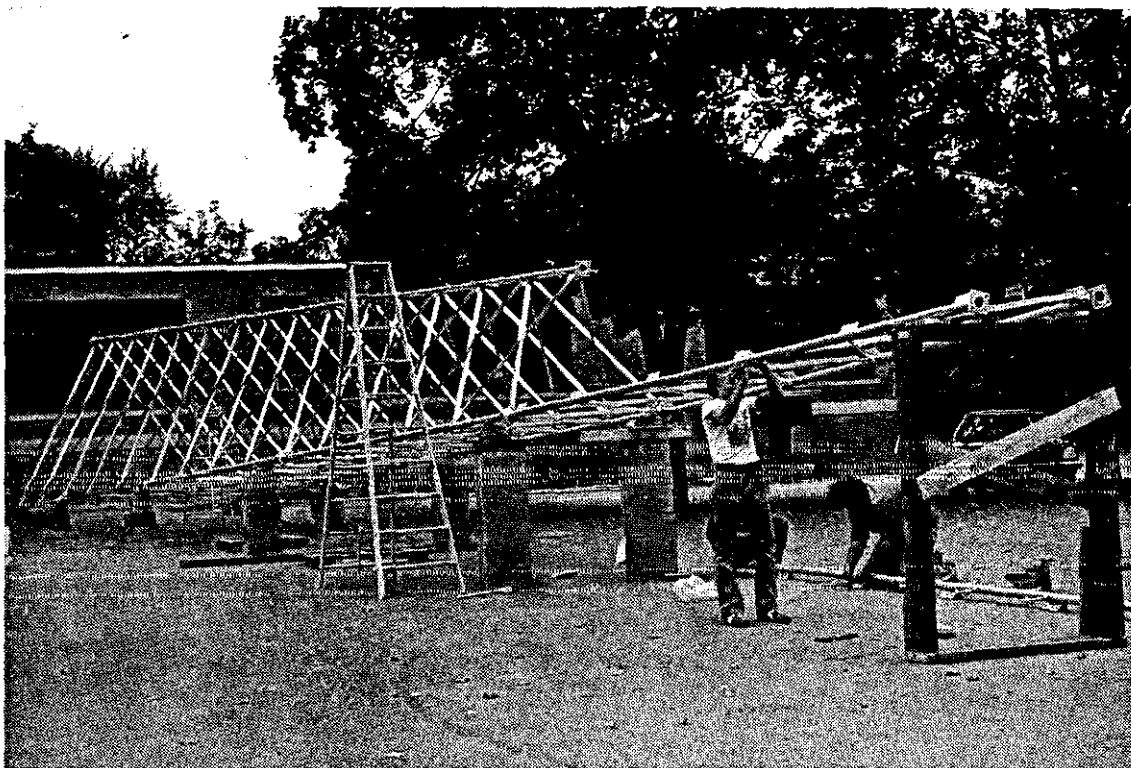

Thacher's opening salvo was aimed at Bernard Kaplowitz, GOP town chairman whose 44-member committee nominated Peter Wenger, a young Delmar attorney, in place of incumbent Harry B. Rezzimini for town justice.

Rezzimini's challenge set up this week's primary election, the first in Bethlehem in more than a decade.

In a statement on the eve of the primary, Thacher declared that Kaplowitz's "personal endorsement of Peter Wenger . . . seemed to say that Judge Rezzimini was denied renomination not because he wasn't a competent judge, but because he won by too slim a margin last year."

Thacher said Kaplowitz's explanation that the risk of electing an Albany machine candidate was too high if the GOP committee ran Rezzimini was "ludicrous." Thacher declared that the Bethlehem Democratic ticket "was never discussed with the Albany County Democratic leadership" and that in "tabbing Peter Wenger they (the GOP committee) chose the epitome of a machine candidate."

Thacher, often accused of close ties with the county Democratic organization headed by Albany Mayor

Passers-by on Borthwick Ave., Delmar, last week were treated to a tower-raising as a crane was pressed into service to lift the town of Bethlehem's new radio antenna tower into position. The 120-foot tower, which soon will replace the 80-foot antenna behind Bethlehem police headquarters on Adams St., was assembled on the ground in 20-foot sections, then hoisted upright and placed on a concrete base on the site of the new town hall. Antennas for Bethlehem police, highway department, emergency service and other town communications will be installed on top of the tower and on the side brackets near the top. The gathering of spectators for the tower-raising provided a business opportunity for Borthwick Ave. kids, who set up two front-lawn lemonade stands. Photos by Bill Lowenberg

Erastus Corning since the death of longtime boss Dan O'Connell, said: "A political machine lives off patronage and provides it to a favored few. Peter Wenger has held numerous patronage jobs both on the town level and in the state Legislature."

Wenger has held positions in the Legislature under the Perry Duryea regime and has been attorney for the town board of appeals, Thacher said.

The Democratic leader said Tuesday's primary "represents a classic split between the Kohinke supporters and Kaplowitz." Bertram E. Kohinke, former town supervisor and for many years Bethlehem Republican leader, "engineered Rezzimini's primary campaign . . . has called on many of the Republican party faithful and even has gone house-to-house in trying to get support for Judge Rezzimini," Thacher declared.

Kaplowitz, Kohinke's successor, discounted Thacher's view of a split in Republican ranks. Two days before the primary, the results of which were not available when this issue of The Spotlight went to press, Kaplowitz said: "If Harry Rezzimini wins the primary, we will do everything possible to get him elected in November."

The town justice contest is expected to create the most interest among the 11 contests on the Bethlehem ballot on Nov. 6. The Democratic candidate is Michael Breslin, a young Delmar attorney who came within 312 votes of unseating Rezzimini in a special election last November.

Needed: drama coach

Bethlehem Central High School's drama club, Charlatans, needs an adviser for this school year, with the retirement of Sydney Turner from that post. Anyone interested should be able to hold meetings and rehearsals as needed between 2 and 3 p.m., with a group of about 25 students. The adviser will be responsible for directing a dramatic show in the fall, and for producing two student-directed shows in the spring. Base pay for the job, in accordance with the current teachers' contract, is $256. Persons interested are asked to call Max Karp, BCHS assistant principal.

Dance for auxillary

The Ladies Auxiliary of the New Salem Fire Dept. will hold their annual Punkintown Promenade at Saturday, Sept. 29 at the New Salem firehouse. Round and square dancing will start at 9 and continue until 1 with music by the American Gentlemen. There will be door prizes, snacks, set-ups and beer. Tickets are available from members or at the door.

Disco dance lessons are to be taught at the Albany YMCA beginning Tuesday, Sept. 25. The four-week course will meet from 7 to 9 Tuesday evenings.

VOORHEESVILLE
Abuse unit sets
a full program

The Voorheesville Drug and Alcohol Abuse committee has embarked on an active schedule of meetings and programs, starting with two meetings this week and a general session with guest speakers on Monday, Sept. 17.

Mrs. Ellen Scott, director of the Ellis Hospital School of Nursing, Schenectady, and Nick Braun, an activist in the New York-New Jersey Anti-Drug Coalition, will speak at the Sept. 17 regular meeting at the Voorheesville Methodist Church. Braun will describe the current lobbying effort for the decriminalization of marijuana. All interested residents are invited.

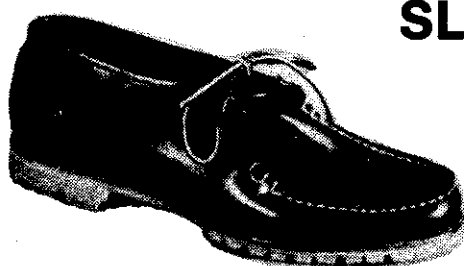

On Sept. 10, the planning committee met at the church to formulate plans for the forthcoming Health Fair Week, and on Wednesday, Charles Dollard was scheduled to hold a "rap session" for teenagers and parents.

The activities committee will institute a series of free movies at the church on the third Friday of each month, starting with "Roustabout" featuring Elvis Presley and Barbara Stanwyck on Sept. 21 from 8 to 10:15. Other films include "The Blue Max" with George Peppard, Ursula Andress and James Mason on Oct. 19, and "The Lavender Hill Mob" with Alex Guinness on Nov. 16. There will also be shorts in color on each program. A donation of 50 cents will entitle members of the audience to popcorn and soda.

Church to stage a shopping mart

Fifty percent of the proceeds of the gala Village Mart at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church next Saturday (Sept. 22) will be divided among the Lutheran Bible Translators, Christian Music Ministries and the Bethlehem Festival Fund, according to Norrine Cooke, president of the Ladies Guild of the church.

Mrs. Cooke and her committee are making final preparations for setting up a country store atmosphere in the parish hall at 85 Elm Ave., Delmar. Besides booths and tables, there will be a bake sale, fresh foods, carnival games for children and snacks and hot food, plus an all-day garage sale in the garage behind the church.

Sandra Pangburn and Mary Louderback are co-chairmen of the event. Committee chairmen are: garage sale, Donna Fournier, Marlene and Gil Brookins; craft shoppe, Barbara Mabee; book shoppe, Marie Millsbaugh and Eloise Kross; rummage, Fran Wingardner and Ceil Stuber; nature nook, June Boluch; trash and treasure, Dot Bradt and Mary Louderback; missions and evangelism, Linda Winterhoff; toys and games, Ruth Contento; sweet and sour shoppe, Chris Raymond; cheese shoppe, Frank Markus; bake shoppe, Herta Besemann; snack shoppe, Norrine Cooke and Al Pangburn; fun fair, Paul Stracke and Bethlehem Lutheran Youth Group; publicity, Carol Budliger, co-ordinator; Dee Stembel and Carol Jonas, posters; Gen Laut, telephone committee; Tom Mabee, signs, and Dave Chambers, photography.

New Salem auction set

A dual event, auction and flea market, will be presented Saturday, Sept. 22, rain or shine, by "The Flea Marketeers" at the Reformed Church, Rt. 85, New Salem. Indoor and outdoor market stalls will be open between 9 and 4, and at 1 p.m. Doug Cater, well known auctioneer of the Helderbergs, will begin his chant.

Up for bid will be antiques, a two-manual Conn organ, a collection of household appliances, an assortment of furniture and a host of other articles.

"The Flea Marketeers," members of the Reformed Church, and private exhibitors will offer a variety of antiques, artifacts, hand-crafted items, jewelry, house plants, vegetables, homemade preserves, home-baked cakes, thrift shop clothing and white elephant objects. Luncheon snacks, hot and cold beverages and sweet-meat treats will be available.

Proceeds from the affair are to be used towards building improvements and operating expenses.

NEW SCOTLAND Town stretches paving budget

New Scotland residents had the unusual experience this year of getting more resurfacing on town roads than called for in the budget.

Peter Van Zetten, town superintendent of highways, said his crews were able to apply a base surface of stone and oil on an extra mile of town roads, specifically, a quarter of a mile of Rowe Rd. between Rt. 32 and Onesquethaw Creek Rd., and three quarters of a mile of Onesquethaw Creek Rd. between Rt. 32 and the bridge over the Onesquethaw.

"We'll top it next year," said Van Zetten, meaning the first item on the 1980 schedule will be the final coating on these two roads.

New Scotland's five-year road program, budgeted at approximately $100,000 a year, originally provided for about six miles of paving each year, including the lease on a Motopaver machine at a cost of $18,000 a mile, plus materials. Van Zetten was able to keep the schedule for the first two years of the program, but this year the soaring cost of oil and other materials forced him to cut back his planned program to approximately 4½ miles.

But when the planned program was completed, the crews were able to resurface the additional mile and still stay within the budget.

NEW SCOTLAND
Town vs. state
on Heldervale

A petition by residents of the Heldervale section of Slingerlands asking the town of New Scotland to replace dead trees on a strip of land along Rt. 85 in Slingerlands has run into a bureaucratic logjam.

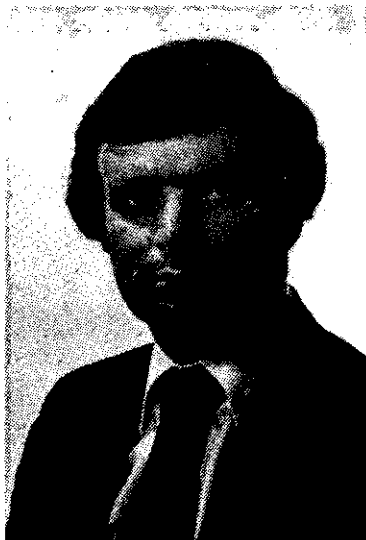

The petition stated that nine trees have died in the landscaped strip adjacent to New Scotland Rd., and one of the "islands" in the subdivision's road complex has been overgrown with brush. The petition asked for new ditching.

"The ditching has been killing the trees," Supervisor Steve Wallace told town board members at last week's regular council meeting. "The DOT (State Dept. of Transportation) has promised us for several years they would reditch the area to provide better drainage."

Wallace said the town would hold off on any new planting pending state action. "No use planting trees until the drainage is right," he said.

In an unrelated action, the town board appointed Leland Frisbee of Voorheesville water tester for the Heldervale water district at a "salary" of $120 per annum. Frisbee is a retired maintenance engineer for Bethlehem Water District No. 1. New regulations of the Albany County Dept. of Health require periodic testing.

The town of New Scotland administers the special water district for Heldervale, a part of the Bethlehem system.

Virginia Hepp of Natick, Mass., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hepp of 8 Brockley Dr., Delmar, has been selected as a member of the U.S. orienteering team, and will compete in the world orienteering championships in Tampere, Finland.

Orienteering refers to "the ability to navigate through unknown terrain utilizing a map and compass." It is a skill used often by hunters, fishermen, hikers and individuals who want to get "off the beaten track." As an organized activity, orienteering can be both competitive and recreational. The participant is given a detailed topographic map with various features circled on it, such as the top of a hill, the west end of a swamp, the bend in the trail, etc. After receiving a start time, he sets out to locate markers set up at these features using the map and compass to guide him to the points. The object is to find all the points on the course and return to the finish. For those in competition speed and accuracy are important for a fast time. For recreational orienteers the thrill and satisfaction of locating all the markers is most important. At most meets several courses are offered to satisfy the beginners and the "elite" expert orienteers.

Largest of about 200 orienteering clubs in the U.S. is the New England Orienteering Club, to which Virginia Hepp belongs. The club sponsors about 50 meets during the year—ski orienteering in the winter and "foot" orienteering the remainder of the year. Hepp is chairman of the education promotion committee responsible for working toward establishing orienteering as part of the curriculum in several schools. She is a biomedical technician for an engineering company in Cambridge, Mass., and is a graduate student in biology at Northeastern University. She is a 1968 graduate of Bethlehem Central and a graduate of the University of Massachusetts in Amherst.

Anthony awarded 25-year plaque

Burt Anthony Associates have been awarded the Hartford Insurance Group's 25-year service commendation. The presentation marked 25 years of affiliation with the Hartford group of insurance companies and the 25th anniversary of the Charles B. Clarke insurance agency, now known as Burt Anthony Associates.

Charly Clarke started the Clarke agency in his Feura Bush home in the summer of 1954, and the first company he represented was the Hartford. In 1959 he moved the agency to Unionville. Operating out of his dining-room office in an old farmhouse, Charly and his office manager/accountant, Helen Clarke, continued to build the young agency.

In 1967, Clarke sold the business, with its one filing cabinet, and the house to Burt Anthony, his Hartford fieldman. Growth continued at an even more rapid pace and in 1973, Burt Anthony moved the business into larger quarters at 399 Delaware Ave., Delmar.

The business expanded further through acquisition as Anthony purchased Capital Homes Agency in Schenectady and the Walter Love Agency in Troy. When Martin Keary joined the organization, the Knox and Mead Agency of Troy was acquired along with the Gardiner Agency. J. Barbetta Associates of Clifton Park was acquired in 1974, and Robert Halton was given responsibility for operations there.

On July 12 of this year, the ribbon was cut officially opening the Burt Anthony Building at 208 Delaware Ave. in Elsmere, the new headquarters for Burt Anthony Associates. Anthony, his partners and employees have built the original agency from two people and one old file cabinet into an operation with 26 employees in four locations representing more than 19 companies.

TREE CARE TIME

September, October, November

Timely and proper maintenance can prolong the life of important trees and minimize the chance of major tree problems later.

UNITED's annual tree inspection during September, October, and November determines the condition of trees and our recommended treatment.

Tree feeding is most important NOW. Many trees have depleted the food elements essential for healthy growth. Fertilizing now, helps restore the food elements essential for their healthy growth again next spring.

Tree pruning is very important NOW. Many trees have an accumulation of dead or dying branches that offer winter shelter for harmful insects and some tree diseases. Important trees need to be pruned for SAFETY as well as SANITATION purposes.

Tree cabling and bracing for protection, preservation and safety. Many important and valuable old trees have weak crotches and large overhanging limbs that need the mechanical support of cables and braces to help prevent damage beyond repair now and in the future.

Be sure your trees have the timely care they need now.

Adult education update

The nights when three of Bethlehem's continuing education courses will be held this fall were incorrectly listed with the course descriptions mailed with the most recent Central Highlights. Classes in Hobby Ceramics and Law Everyone Should Know will meet on Tuesday nights, and the class in Foreign Foods will meet on Thursday nights.

Revised fall schedules will be distributed at the first meetings of all courses, to allow for the Jewish holidays, according to program director Richard Bassotti. The final opportunity for people to register for fall courses will be an in-person signup session this Saturday, Sept. 15, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., in the High School lobby.

Town chorus forming

The town of Bethlehem has added chorus singing to its fall program open to residents of the town and Bethlehem Central school district. Experienced and novice singers are invited to rehearsals on Mondays from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Bethlehem Middle School music room, starting Sept. 17. There is a $7.50 fee. For registration, call 439-4955 weekdays.

Kiwanis barbecue Saturday

New Scotland Kiwanis Club members will put on their 20th annual chicken barbecue Saturday from 4 to 7:30 at the New Scotland Presbyterian Church, Rt. 85. This year's event, co-chaired by Norm Kidder and Joe Perry, features farm-fresh vegetables, sweet corn and home-made pies along with the pit-broiled chicken. Takeout orders will be available after 4 p.m. by calling 439-6454.

Proceeds from the event help finance the club's major projects, including the monthly blood pressure clinic, summer music program, substance abuse control, Christmas baskets and children's Halloween party as well as community soccer, grasshopper baseball, summer basketball and the Memorial Day road races.

Christian musical returns

An encore performance of the popular new musical, "The Witness," has been scheduled by Christian Music Ministries, Inc., of Feura Bush at the Bethlehem Community Church, 201 Elm Ave., Delmar, on Saturday, Sept. 22, at 8 p.m. The performance, featuring a 100-voice interdenominational chorus and local soloists, is free and open to the public.

Subdivision plat gets board okay

A proposed 72-lot residential development in Glenmont has been given a preliminary green light by the Bethlehem planning board.

Board members last week approved the preliminary plat submitted by David Porat of Munsey, principal in Hercules Production Ltd., a land development firm.

The tract, located on Glenmont Rd. at Jolly Rd. east of the Thruway, is zoned Residential-A, a classification that permits duplex dwellings as well as single-family residences. The plat submitted by Porat did not specify whether the developers plan to include duplexes in the subdivision, currently known as Pondfield.

A public hearing on plans for a proposed five-lot subdivision on Beacon Rd., Glenmont, will be held at the start of the board's next meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 7:30. The property, sold recently by Walter B. Michaels to George W. Zautner, Delmar builder, lies partly in a commercial zone and partly in a Single-A residential. The developer has not indicated whether he is planning duplexes on the site.

MS symposium slated

The Voorheesville Central School is making it easy for school district residents to sign up for courses in its continuing education program by scheduling an open house at the High School on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 17-18, from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Those unable to attend either evening may register by mail Sept. 17-22, making checks payable to the school and mailing the forms to James Hladun, director of continuing education.

Hladun said fall semester courses have been designed with the help of the newly formed citizens advisory committee, and is "based on public interest and is intended to function on a practical, self-supporting basis."

The regular program will start Monday, Sept. 24, and several new "mini-courses" will start in October. Course brochures are being mailed to taxpayers and also are available in the public libraries in Voorheesville, Bethlehem and Guiderland.

Courses starting Sept. 24 (Monday) are: men's basketball and volleyball, beginners and advanced quilting, yoga, intermediate guitar, beginning sewing, self-defense and chair caning.

Starting Sept. 25 (Tuesday): Calico Christmas, yoga, disco dancing, physical fitness for men and women, handyman-home repairs, "You and Your Money," intermediate sewing.

Starting Sept. 26 (Wednesday): public speaking, reupholstering antique furniture, Law Everyone Should Know, adult learn-to-swim, stroke improvement swimming, community adult band.

Starting Sept. 27 (Thursday): tailoring.

The snow leopard is the rarest and most beautiful of the great cats, a near-mythic beast that roams the steep snowfields of the Himalaya. Showily marked, its long, heavy pelt is silvery gray with light charcoal rosettes. Little is known of its habits since it seldom comes in contact with man, but one thing is certain—the elusive snow leopard is in danger of becoming extinct.

National TV zooms in on a local super-garden

The best amateur garden in the country may be in our own back yard.

That is to say, literally, in the back yard of Dr. Robert Pike and his wife, Frances, at 17 Morningside Dr., Elsmere, avid fans of "Crockett's Victory Garden" on national public television.

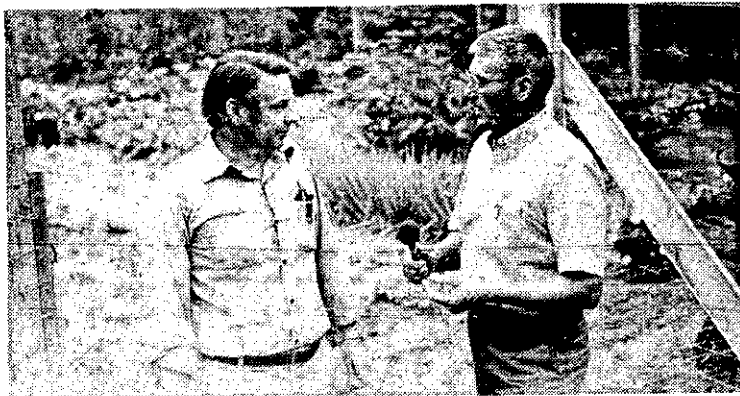

Shortly after the death on July 12 of Jim Crockett, the Boston garden authority who popularized the TV program bearing his name, the show's producers announced a nationwide contest for the best home-grown garden in America.

Not the biggest or the most colorful, but the best in terms of efficient use of land, productivity, disease control, variety of plants and other criteria.

The Pikes, who credit Crockett with inspiring their spectacular horticultural show-piece, sent in their entry, joining some 3,000 other aspiring gardeners from coast to coast who submitted photos and crop lists.

Last week the Pikes were notified that the judges had selected their garden as one of three finalists nationwide. Contest judges, narrowing down the huge field to about three dozen for on-site visits, now will leave the selection of the winner to Crockett TV viewers. They will be asked to choose among gardens in Cohasset, Mass., Green Bay, Wis. and Elsmere.

With the good news from the Boston TV producers came a camera crew to film a forthcoming program featuring the Pikes and their garden.

Arriving in Elsmere via chartered plane and rented station wagon were Russ Morash, the show's producer, engineer Roger Macie and cameraman Dick Holden, all from public television station WGBH, Boston. With them was Bob Thompson, the soft-spoken garden expert who has replaced Crockett on the program.

To a man, they were awed by the Pikes' garden. "We're looking for the best garden in America and this may be it," said Morash. "The judges are looking for neatness, numbers of plants, varieties, how well they're grown, how well the gardener understands crops and the garden's general appearance. This garden still looks good at this time of year, when most people have let theirs go after harvest. This tells us the Pikes are pretty serious gardeners."

Dr. Pike, an osteopathic physician, points to the late Jim Crockett as a strong advocate of multiple planting, which calls for using the same patch of ground for peas in early spring, then beans, and then a crop of late beans before the first frost of fall.

Applied to flower gardens, that approach can provide a continuous show of color throughout the season, from early bulbs to perennials and then the annuals, he says, all of which can be organized as to colors and height of the plants involved.

The Pikes' extensive garden cannot be seen from the street because it is behind the house. The largest segment—the main vegetable garden—is on bottom land at the foot of a long,

there's plenty of hot water with OIL HEAT

When you have an oil powered water heater in your home, you may run out of towels, but not hot water. With an oil powered water heater producing your hot water requirements, the only waiting you'll do is at the bathroom door.

Oil produces hot water up to 3½ times faster than other methods and uses less energy, too. By using less energy, you enjoy the hot water you need at lower cost. More hot water at less cost is yours with the oil powered water heater. Ask your neighbor who already has one.

Then see your local home heating oil dealer and arrange to have the fast, efficient, energy saving oil powered water heater installed in your home.

steep grassy bank that slopes into the ravine lying between Morningside Dr. and Sunny-side Rd.

The Pikes have 40 to 45 varieties of vegetables in the 110-by-75-foot plot enclosed by an 8-foot wire fence to protect the plants from deer and rabbits. Above the bank, on the "house level" in the rear of the dwelling, is a flower garden alive with color and a smaller vegetable garden, about 25 by 45 feet.

Television viewers across the country later this month will be told that the Pikes use the large garden in the ravine for "major crops that produce large quantities for canning and freezing," and the "upper garden" for day-to-day use on the family dinner table—celeries, peppers, tomatoes, lettuce and other vegetable staples.

The visitors were impressed by the size and appearance of the Elsmere spread, and awed by Dr. Pike's smiling admission that "yes, Fran and I do it all ourselves."

Producer Morash directs Dick Holden for a closeup of giant broccoli heads as Dr. Pike, right, talks with Bob Thompson, host on the Crockett Victory Garden show on Channel 17. Spotlight

"It's a 50-50 proposition," he told a reporter. "She does as much work as I do, and as much of the heavy work, too."

From the looks of it, this enthusiastic couple do nothing else from dawn to dusk. "Not so," says Dr. Pike. "Fortunately, I have my office in the house, which gives me bits of time each day to do things in the garden, and, of course, more time on certain days. On a good Saturday or Sunday, we'll be up at 6 and put in 10-14 hours."

How did the Pikes get started on such a large scale, and what was their motivation? Their answer:

"We've been interested in gardening for many years, but it's only since we started watching the Crockett show on Channel 17 that we became good at it. That was about three years ago.

"We got so we never missed his program. We were so impressed we bought his book, and we noticed a dramatic change in our results. Everything was successful. He showed us what things were just wasted exercise and what things mattered.

"We feel that Crockett has brought gardening to the American people. He's taken all the mystery out of it and made it simple and understandable."

Hence the contest. The camera crew caught the Pikes by surprise last week, calling at 9 a.m. to say they were en route that day. "There was no time for sprucing up," said Frances Pike.

The Pikes and their garden will appear on local TV screens when the Crockett show is aired on WMHT, Channel 17, at 12:30 Saturday, Sept. 29. The contest winner, to be chosen by vote of viewers everywhere, will go to Boston for an appearance on the show, and will be given an all-expenses-paid trip to the Botanical Gardens in London.

"We're hoping many people in this area will vote for us," said Robert Pike.

Meanwhile, Bob and Fran Pike continue to find joy in their garden as the days grow shorter and the nights chillier. They're especially proud of their parsnips and leeks.

"I could never grow parsnips very well," said Dr. Pike.

"About three years ago, Jim Crockett demonstrated how to plant them. We followed his instructions, and for the past two years we've been growing parsnips as long as 18 inches, four inches in diameter at the top! They're huge, but they're also sweet and tender."

As for the leeks, the Pike variety is the size of a small baseball bat, about 2½ feet long and an inch and a half to two inches around.

They are so big, says Dr. Pike, that "when the usual cookbook recipe—like cold potato soup—calls for six large leeks, Fran uses just one from our garden."

Danner heads O-C production

Edward R. Danner, II of Slingerlands, has been promoted to production superintendent of the Owens-Corning Fiberglas plant on Feura Bush Rd., Delmar. Danner, formerly personnel director, replaces Craig A. Burroughs, who has been named factory superintendent at the Owens-Corning plant in Kansas City, Kan.

Stephen P. Malia, formerly industrial relations supervisor for the Kansas City plant, has been named personnel director of the Delmar plant.

Danner joined Owens-Corning in 1970 as a personnel assistant at the firm's Huntingdon, Pa., plant. He was promoted to employment supervisor at the company's Barrington, N.J., plant in 1971, and was named supervisor of corporate equal employment opportunity at the Owens-Corning headquarters in Toledo, Ohio, in 1974. He came to the Delmar plant in 1976.

Danner earned a bachelor of arts degree from Susquehanna University in 1970. Malia joined Owens-Corning at Kansas City in 1976 as a personnel assistant and was promoted to industrial relations supervisor in 1977. He graduated in 1976 from Cornell University with a bachelor of science degree.

SOCCER

BC booters again a contender

Seven returning lettermen form the nucleus of Bethlehem Central's 1979 varsity soccer team, once again tabbed as a strong candidate for the Suburban Council crown.

The senior-laden team should be in the thick of the race in the Capital District's strongest soccer circuit, along with the same powerhouses that have put on classic dog-fights for the title for the past several years.

"It'll be Burnt Hills, Guilderland, Shaker, Colonie and Bethlehem again," predicts BC's Coach Dale Walts, whose team last year went into the final week of the season in a three-cornered battle for the crown. In the Sectionals, the Eagles edged Guilderland in sudden-death overtime, then lost to league champion Burnt Hills, 1-0, in overtime.

"Our experience is a big plus," Walts said as his squad started the final week of drills before Saturday's opener at Scotia. "This is the fastest team I've had in three years, and they're playing well together, considering it's so early in the season."

Walts admitted to being worried over a possible lack of depth, but says he's impressed by the improvement among his juniors and some of his seniors. He attributes this to Bethlehem's summer soccer program: "The club program has been extremely valuable—it means a lot to us."

The only hitch is that several other communities have similar programs, which serve to make the Suburban Council even more dominant in Section 2 soccer. "There's no question the league is stronger," observed Walts, noting that his Eagles will be playing Burnt Hills, two-time Council champions, in the home inaugural Tuesday.

Burnt Hills also has a veteran team returning, which nullifies any advantage Bethlehem may have with 18 seniors on a squad of 25.

Center forward Mark Dean and Jay Guinn, who is at home on the front line or in midfield, are starting for the third straight year. Other battle-tested starters, all seniors, are Wayne Allen, stopper Brian Collier, sweeper Bill Duffy, Mike Fasulo and goalie Ed Gilligan.

Walts probably will open with a three-man line with

Guinn will anchor the half-back line alongside Dave Propp and Craig Nichols. Dan Horne has the inside track at fullback with Duffy and either Propp or Fasulo, and Gilligan will guard the nets.

Gilligan was hurt several times last year, but has a slight edge over Wes Hotaling, a junior up from the JV. Both are "looking good," according to Walts.

Seniors John Anzola, Jim Craig and Mark Kaplowitz also are expected to see plenty of action. Two juniors, Chris Birr and Dan Whitney, are pushing the other backs and could crash the starting lineup as the season moves along.

Walts credits the coaches at the lower levels for a major contribution to Bethlehem's stature as a perennial suburban soccer power. "Fundamentally we're very sound, and that's important," he said, with a tribute to Jack Whipple, freshman coach, and Gene Lewis, coach of the junior varsity.

Camera club resumes

The 22nd season of the Delmar Camera Club will begin with an open house on Tuesday, Sept. 25, to which the public is invited. The event will be held in the parish hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Elsmere, starting at 7:30 p.m. with a workshop on films and their special purposes. A black and white print and color slide competition is also on the program, the subject for slides being "Faces, not studio portraits."

The club has consistently served as an outlet for camera enthusiasts of the Bethlehem-New Scotland area to exchange ideas, techniques, and constructive criticism. The club offers monthly workshops on photographic subjects, and competitions among members. Delmar is one of four member camera clubs with Albany, Schenectady and Glens Falls that provide interclub competition. It is expected that Kingston may also join the Hudson Mohawk Camera Club Assn. this year.

Blackbirds ready for grid debut

Coach Tom Buckley had the accent on tackling and defensive assignments this week as he put his Voorheesville Central varsity through the final week of drills before the season's opener Saturday.

The Blackbirds will entertain Albany Academy for a 1:30 kickoff Saturday in the first of two non-league scraps before the Southern Conference inaugural Sept. 29 with Tamarac.

Buckley's 1979 edition got its first taste of combat last Saturday in a controlled four-cornered scrimmage with Watervliet, Shaker and Bishop Maginn at Blecker Stadium. The exercise pleased Buckley—for the most part.

"We looked pretty good in the scrimmage," he said at supertime that night. "We were able to run the ball on the options, we could run inside, and we threw quite well. We didn't throw as much because the running was better than we expected. We had some assignment breakdowns, but it's still early and we can work on that."

With a team that likes to hit, Buckley was disappointed in the defense Saturday. "Our tackling was terrible," he said. "I thought we were going to be all right on that."

Buckley had Cobleskill booked for a Tuesday scrimmage, in which he planned to polish up the defense. Academy lost only one game last year and that was to Ballston's Class B champions.

Voorheesville's starting lineup is almost—but not quite—set. Art Merkle has nailed down the center job, Steve Preston and John Okesson will be the guards, and Buckley will rotate three tackles—Chris Clark, Bob Cureau and Dave Cardell.

The 'Birds are a bit shy on the ends because of illness and some late reporting that affects eligibility. Ed Huth will handle one wing, and probably Mike SanGeorgi the other. SanGeorgi's deployment on the flank is temporary, as he is the backup quarterback. In the Blecker workout he threw one TD pass and caught another.

Greg Picard, a junior with only two games under his belt, had a good day in the scrimmage and will key the offense, but the coaches are still looking for the right combination in the other backfield posts. Academy will probably see Sean O'Connor at full, and Joe Traudt, Jim Becker and Don Kinisky at various times at the halfbacks. Kinisky, a onetime fugitive from Voorheesville who was a running back in Warsaw before returning to the good country, looked fine in last Saturday's scuffling.

The defensive lineup will have a lot of these same names and faces, which is normal on small squads in small schools. Picard, an excellent defensive back, will be in the secondary with Becker, SanGeorgi and Glen Haberland, a junior whose good work at Blecker caught Buckley's eye. Four players will rotate in the three linebacking slots, Preston, Merkle, Kinisky and Traudt. Up front will be O'Connor at noseguard, Okesson, Bob Cureau and Cardell in various combinations.

FOOTBALL

Eagles undaunted facing guillotine

On the eve of his first game as coach of Bethlehem Central's varsity football team, it would be uncharacteristic of Gene FitzPatrick to concede even a crumb to the opposition.

But the situation on Van Dyke Rd. in Delmar—compared to Shenendehowa—would be enough to drive FitzPatrick to the top of the Dunn Memorial bridge, yet the dauntless BC coach keeps his head high.

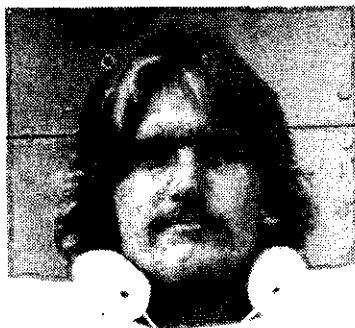

"We're sadly lacking in experience, and we're hurting from a lack of depth, but our spirit is strong and we have a lot of guys who are eager to play football," FitzPatrick said after what most observers would call a disastrous scrimmage Saturday.

What FitzPatrick didn't say was that Bethlehem was unable to move the ball against CBA in a controlled scrimmage on the Delmar acreage. In the Suburban Council opener at Clifton Park this Saturday, the inexperienced Eagles are facing a perennial man-eating machine that has won six of the last seven league titles.

Working with a squad deprived of varsity experience by Art Ritchko's hunger for a showcase team in 1978, FitzPatrick got his first moment of truth Saturday in the helmet-to-helmet scuffle with CBA. The result—no one is mentioning the score—was a confirmation of Bethlehem's low estate.

But there were some bright spots. Said FitzPatrick:

"We could have been better, but I'm not unhappy, nor are the other coaches. I was disappointed in the offense because we'd been working on it so hard, but the defense was much better than the offense. I'm encouraged that we have a good defense."

The lack of depth and inexperience—only three players on the varsity squad have ever started a game—signals a long season for the proud Eagles. "These are good kids, they'll improve every week, you can bet on that," said Fitz. "We showed a lot of spirit and a lot of hustle."

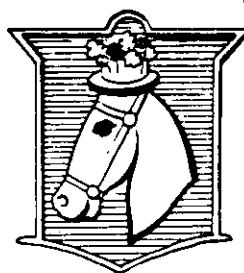

Against CBA, a Diocesan League powerhouse, the yards came hard. "The passing was poor," said FitzPatrick. "Our inexperience hurt the backs, so they invariably ran to the wrong hole. We're going to have to work all week on offense, and we're going to have to get our passing game going or we won't be able to run the ball."

FitzPatrick rotated three quarterbacks against CBA. Jay Lovelace looms as the probable starter, with Rick Wassenaar and Steve Malone, a junior, certain to get playing time in the inaugural at Shenendehowa. Malone had a good day against CBA.

The backfield shapes up as Tom Lee at fullback, Joe Erlichman, one of the three holdovers from the old regime.

at one halfback and Jimmy DeAngelis or Tim Houck at the other. Houck, who also played last year, is the only sure starter in the defensive secondary.

Jay Taggart at center, Butch Waidelich at guard and Karl Danckert at tackle will anchor the interior line. Joe Thompson is a probable starter at guard and Bob Ray at tackle. Glen Swanson is the leading candidate for tight end, but the split ends have physical problems: Danny Cronin absorbed a bruise on the leg Saturday but should be fit this week, while Scott Muller is hobbled with a pulled muscle. Wassenaar may get a term of office on the flank.

Many of the offensive starters will go both ways. Doug Lane, a senior playing his first year of scholastic football, has improved steadily at defensive end. Lee and Waidelich will get linebacking responsibilities, and Houck will be the safety.

But much depends on developing a passing game. "We had the receivers open (against CBA), but we couldn't get the ball to them, we just couldn't click," said FitzPatrick.

After their baptism in Clifton Park this week, the Eagles will be at home for No. 2, facing Burnt Hills in a rare Friday afternoon game. The 2:30 kickoff is part of a Suburban Council experiment to accommodate the Jewish holiday on the weekend.

Southwood plans new net league

A pot-luck luncheon will kick off a new season for the Southwood Tennis Club's ladies leagues, with a large turnout expected to use the new Uniturf surface on the indoor courts.

All women interested in playing in the leagues this year are invited to the luncheon at 12 noon on Tuesday, Sept. 18. There will also be free tennis for prospective league players on that day.

The club's six indoor courts and one practice court have been resurfaced over the summer, a new rubber-based surface replacing the former Sportface carpet.

For information, call the club, 436-0838.

Furey to coach

John Furey of Delmar, a former standout defensive back at Ithaca College and a magna cum laude June graduate, will serve as a graduate assistant football coach this season at Ithaca. Furey, who will pursue his master's degree in physical education, will work primarily with the junior varsity defensive secondary. He is a graduate of Bethlehem High School, where he served as captain of baseball and football. A cornerback at Ithaca, Furey received many citations during his college career.

Surprises mark net shootouts

Two seeded players fell in the quarterfinals as the Bethlehem Tennis Assn. open championships moved into the final weekend coming up at the Bethlehem Middle School Saturday and Sunday.

Steve Devonis, No. 3 seed in the men's singles, ran into a grinder in Kevin Crawford, who moved into the semifinals against top-seeded Pete Rogers with a 7-6, 6-0 win last Sunday.

Rogers and Dave Denny, No. 2 seed, advanced to the semis in straight sets. Denny also will face an unseeded player, Ted Baughn.

In the women's singles, top-seeded Jessica Treadway was upset by an unheralded visitor, Pat Bowman of Hudson, in a quarterfinal three-setter, 1-6, 7-5, 6-4. Jean Balint, No. 2 seed, was the first to reach the final round, but was pushed into a 14-12 tiebreaker in a 7-6, 6-4 triumph over Mary Ann Konczewski of Albany, a young Cornell graduate.

Balint will face the winner of Saturday's semifinal between Bowman and Theresa Steve of Schenectady.

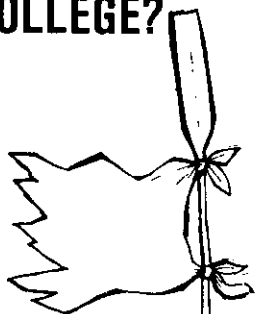

The seedings held up in the men's doubles, where the favored tandem of Phil Ackerman and Craig Jones moved to the finals with a 6-2, 6-2 win over Mike Harrison and Ed Taylor. Second-seeded Dave Denny and Roger Fritts will face Don Camp and Kirby Hannan in the other semifinal Thursday.

Pop Warner opens

Bethlehem Falcons fought the North Colonie Mavericks to a scoreless tie in the Pop Warner football opener in the Pee Wee Division at the Middle School field Sunday. Mike Whitney sparkled on offense and defense for the Falcons, who lost to North Colonie by a large score a year ago.

The Bethlehem Eagles lost their Junior Midgets opener to Belmont Raider, 25-7, yielding all the enemy points in the first half. In the third quarter, quarterback Dave Young bootlegged a 20-yard spring around left end for the Bethlehem touchdown, then passed to Pat Davis for the extra point.

Speaker on glass

Mrs. John Houghmaster, antique book dealer of Troy and longtime collector of glass, will be the speaker at the Town of Bethlehem Historical Assn. meeting on Sept. 20 at 8 p.m. at the schoolhouse museum, Rt. 144 and Clapper Rd., Selkirk. Mrs. Houghmaster will speak on "Glass" relating to the museum exhibit on "Early to Mid-20th Century Glass" on display Sundays through October from 2 to 5 p.m. The public is invited.

Indian Guides recruiting

The annual recruitment of new Indian Guides and Princesses will be held at the Bethlehem Library from 7 to 8:30 p.m., Friday, Sept. 14. Indian Guides are open to fathers and sons 5 to 8 years old and Indian Princesses to fathers and daughters 5 to 8. Tribes are formed around school and neighborhood groupings with 4 to 8 fathers and their children in each tribe. Regular meetings at members' houses normally occur bi-weekly with a program of crafts, tricks, songs, games, and story telling. For information call 439-7759.

Coach named director

Donald Webster, a Bethlehem Central High School graduate, has been appointed director of athletics at Catholic Central High School, Troy. Webster, who earned an associate degree from Hudson Valley Community College, a BSE degree from State University College at Cortland and a master's degree from SUNYA, joined the staff at Catholic Central four years ago as a physical education instructor and chairman of health and physical education. He will continue to serve as varsity soccer and baseball coach.

Patricia Iandoli bride

Patricia E. Iandoli, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Edward W. Iandoli, of 42 Paxwood Rd., Delmar, became the bride of Anthony S. Arduini at St. Thomas Church, Delmar, on July 7. Rev. Kenneth Gregory performed the 11 a.m. ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mrs. R. Russell Bates of Valatie and Mrs. John J. Walsh of Troy, Mich., were twin matrons of honor for their sister. Miss Pamela Genovese of Kent, Conn., cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. Miss Marybeth Walsh, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Vincent S. Arduini of Albany served his cousin as best man. Ushers were Michael A. Arduini of Albany, cousin of the groom, and David Genovese of Kent, Conn., cousin of the bride. Mark Walsh of Troy, Mich., nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

The bride is a graduate of Bethlehem Central High School and attended Hudson Valley Comm. College. Her husband is a graduate of Cardinal McCloskey High School, attends SUNYA, and is employed as a police officer for the town of Bethlehem.

MEDICAL IMPROVEMENT DEDUCTIBLE

Home improvements are generally not tax deductible, but they can be—if they're a medical necessity. For example, a swimming pool to provide treatment for a polio victim; a chair-seat elevator for a heart patient; central air conditioning for a child afflicted with cystic fibrosis.

How much of the expense is deductible? The amount over which it increases the property value. For example, if an elevator costs $5,000, and the property value is increased by $1,000, the $4,000 excess is deductible. If there's no increase in property value, it's all deductible.

But you'll need two documents to support this claim. A letter from a doctor stating that it is a medical necessity and a written opinion from a competent real estate appraiser stating the amount (if any) the improvement adds to the value of your property.

Political rhetoric

Editor, The Spotlight:

In the Aug. 23 issue of the Spotlight I read with interest the article about the Republican primary for Bethlehem Town Judge. The article contained a comment from the Republican town chairman (who is also Bethlehem town attorney) about the Republican reason for selecting a new candidate for town judge. Mr. Kaplowitz stated, "It must certainly be apparent to all town Republicans that the risk of electing an Albany machine candidate to town office was too high."

To me this comment was both ludicrous and offensive coming from the leader of the Republican party and town attorney in Bethlehem, where one-party rule and investigations have become commonplace. It seems to me that residents of the town of Bethlehem see Mike Breslin as an honest hard-working attorney who was not afraid to go door-to-door and meet the voters in the town. My brother, Michael, was also not afraid to tell the voters in the town that he was a West Point graduate, an Army major, number one in his law school class and that he never held a political patronage job.

The people of the town of Bethlehem deserve more than rhetoric and politics among their elected officials.

Neil D. Breslin

Senior Citizen Shopping

There is a possibility that the Senior Citizen Van should come to the Delmar area one day a week to take persons over 65 shopping or to Delaware Plaza. It depends on the number of people who are interested in such a service.

If you're over 65 and would like to have the van pick you up once a week, (and return you), call Joanna Conway, 439-7067.
