BETHLEHEM

Town considers park expansion

Bethlehem officials have their eye on a tract of approximately 40 acres adjacent to the Elm Ave. Park property as a possible extension of park land.

The parcel is part of a 107acre tract that the Albany Roman Catholic Diocese has put up for sale. The land abuts the town park behind the tennis courts, lies to the rear of the Bethlehem Community Church property and several residences on Elm Ave., and is visible to motorists and pedestrians at the dead-end of the Delmar By-pass on Elm Ave.

Last week Supervisor Tom Corrigan and Councilmen William Johnston, Jr. and John Geurtze got an 8 a.m. start on a "field trip" and walked the acreage in a personal on-site inspection. Accompanying them was John Healy, Delmar realtor who is representing the Albany Diocese in the sale.

"We have no specific plans at the moment." Corrigan said later. "It has been offered to us and we're just looking at it. We feel it could be in the public interest to add to the park property to accommodate future growth, but we have not studied the situation, nor have we entered into any negotiations."

The tract is bisected by a Niagara Mohawk power transmission line.

Christian series planned

Euriskon, a series of programs to help people find and live a Christian life, will be presented on five consecutive evenings, Nov. 16-20, from ? to 9 at the United Methodist Church, Delmar.

It's Snow Queen time . . . well, soon

The search is on for a Snow Queen in the town of Bethlehem. The queen will reign over the town's annual Winter Carnival on Jan. 19.

Nominations for Snow Queen will be accepted from Nov. 15 through Dec. 31 at the Bethlehem Parks and Recreation Dept. at the Elm Ave. Park, Delmar. Residents of the town of Bethlehem and Bethlehem Central school district who are 15 to 18 years of age may compete.

Nominations should include a recent photograph of the contestant and a resume. Selection of the queen will be based on personality, ability to communicate, interest in activities, future goals, pride in the town and appearance.

The contest is sponsored by the Bethlehem chamber of commerce.

Elsmere film-flam nets $80

The slim youth had dirty hands and a request: he told an attendant at the Golden Krust bakery at Delaware Plaza he wanted to buy his sister a present for a wedding shower, but his money was all in $5 and $1 bills. He had $80, and would the girl give him four twenties?

When they counted the bills, according to a police report, there was only $79. The young man said he would get $1 from his wife in the car outside, and left the store with the four twenties. leaving an envelope on the counter presumably containing the fives and ones. When he did not return, the attendant looked inside the envelope: it had several blank notes. One one of them was written, "Thank you."

NEW SCOTLAND Budget adopted without a peep

It was exactly 8 p.m. when Supervisor Steve Wallace tapped his gavel and declared: "The budget hearing of the town of New Scotland will now come to order. We will go through each item, and if anyone has any questions or comment, he should speak up."

In the hearing room at the New Scotland town hall Wednesday was an audience of one, plus a newspaper reporter. John Lyons, retired, a resident of Spore Rd., comprised the audience for the first 20 minutes until John Zongrone of Voorheesville arrived. At 7:35 two Democratic candidates for town offices, Sharon Boehlke of Unionville and Alan Joseph of New Salem, showed up, and at 7:40 the hearing was over.

The budget itself, totalling $928,517, includes $347,486 to be raised by local property taxes. The rate for New Scotland taxpayers will rise from $27,32 per thousand assessed valuation to $31.14, and for those in the village of Voorheesville, from $17.65 to $19.05.

Assessed valuation has increased $162.405 in the town, now totalling $12,764,860, and is up $84,309 in the village.

"The whole budget is to tight we might wind up in the red, but I think we can squeak through," Wallace told the small audience.

Pinewood derby coming

Cub Scouts of Slingerlands Pack 272 are preparing for a Pinewood Derby at their meeting Tuesday, Nov. 13, at the Bethlehem Community Center, 125 Adams St., Delmar, starting with the weigh-in at 7 p.m.

NEW SCOTLAND Town hall stays GOP by 3-2

New Scotland's two incumbent councilmen won reelection in a spirited four-way race that kept the town hall in Republican hands by the slender margin of 3-2.

Kenneth Tice of Voorheesville, former Democratic town chairman seeking his second four-year term on the town board, piled up an insurmountable 375 votes in District 4, New Salem, to squash a strong bid by William J. Wenzel, Voorheesville mayor running for the council on the Republican ticket.

In other contests, Republicans won handily, returning their full slate of incumbents to office. Supervisor Steve Wallace won by a 2-1 margin, and Highway Supt. Peter Van-Zetten led the ticket with 2,365 to 1,039 for James Dunn in unofficial totals.

As expected, it was the council race that provided the only excitement and gave a hard-working Democratic ticket their only victory with Tice.

Wyman Osterhout, Republican incumbent, was the frontrunner in the council race with 2,009 votes in unofficial totals from the town's six polling districts. Tice had 1,821 to 1,636 for Wenzel and 1,337 for Sharon Boehlke of Unionville, the first woman to run for the town board.

Tice's victory doused whatever hopes Republicans had of solidifying their voting margin on the five-member council. Wenzel ran ahead of Tice in two districts, Unionville-Feura Bush and in Slingerlands, but his margin was not enough to overcome Tice's tremendous surge in New Salem.

The totals in those districts showed Wenzel outpolling Tice 268 to 209 in District 2 (Unionville-Feura Bush) and 182-130 in Slingerlands. Tice had 375 to Wenzel's 220 in New Salem in the unofficial count.

In Voorheesville village, where both have strong support. Tice polled 877 in Districts 5 and 6 to 740 for Wenzel. Sideline observers felt many village voters withheld their votes from Wenzel in order to keep him as mayor, a post in which he has had notable success.

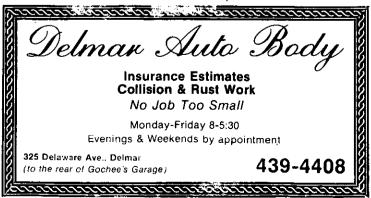

Wallace scored an easy victory over Fred Carl, New Salem auto dealer, piling up 2,175 votes to Carl's 1,169 in the contest for supervisor.

Class on textiles

The home economics program of the Cooperative Extension Assn. will present a two-part class on "A Textile Update—Selecting Ready-Mades." The class will be offered on Monday, Nov. 19 from 4 to 7. A film on "Short Cut Sewing Tips" will be shown during the break. Enrollees are requested to bring a brown bag supper. The class will be held at the Resources Development Center, Rt. 85A and Martin Rd., Voorheesville.

Garden club meets

Mrs. Erastus Corning will lecture on the inner workings of the New York Botanical Gardens to the Bethlehem Garden Club on Friday, Nov. 16 at 1 p.m. in the Bethlehem Library.

BETHLEHEM Wenger wins in GOP sweep

Bethlehem Republicans swept to an overwhelming victory in Tuesday's election, led by Supervisor Tom Corrigan who rolled up a plurality of more than 3,000—largest in at least a decade—over Democratic opponent Ken Thacher.

In the race for town justice, newcomer Peter Wenger won easily over Michael G. Breslin by 1,231 votes in unofficial totals. This race had been forecast as a close one.

"It's a big setback for the Democrats in Bethlehem," said Town GOP Chairman Bernard Kaplowitz as the final tally was being taken from the town's 22 voting districts.

For Corrigan the victory was especially sweet, since a good share of his first term in office embroiled him in the controversy over removal of Peter Fish as chief of police, an event that displeased some voters at the time.

The supervisor once again swept all 22 election districts, as he did two years ago, and enlarged his winning margin in the process. Justice-elect Wenger lost only two districts—the 14th, home district of his opponent, and the 17th, which he dropped by one vote. Wenger's victory brought smiles to most Republican committeemen, who in May made the decision to drop incumbent Justice Harry Rezzimini.

Other winners on the Republican line included W. Scott Prothero and Ruth O. Bickel to the town board, Marion T. Camp, town clerk; Kenneth P. Hahn, receiver of taxes, and Martin J. Cross, superintendent of highways.

Another newcomer, Sue Ann Ritchko, won easily in her quest for a seat on the Albany County Legislature. Three other GOP incumbents were returned to the legislature, Gordon Morris, Edward H. Sargent, Jr., and Don Munn.

Happy birthday from Rosalyn and Jimmy

Mrs. H.G. Hepler of Village Drive Apartments, Delmar, received a surprise in her mailbox last week when a letter arrived bearing the Presidential Seal. "It was addressed to me," Mrs. Hepler said, "in personal writing." The letter extended congratulations from Rosalyn and Jimmy Carter on her birthday. Mrs. Hepler was 83 on Saturday, Nov. 3. "Nobody seems to know how they got my name," she continued, "but I was pleased, very pleased, to get it."

Middle School PFO

The Bethlehem Middle School Parent-Faculty Organization will hold its regular meeting Thursday, Nov. 8 at 7:30 in the school cafeteria. The agenda will include a special survey report, presentation of the budget, and discussion of the program for the remainder of the year. Membership in the PFO is open to all faculty and parents of Middle School children.

Open 'Messiah' auditions

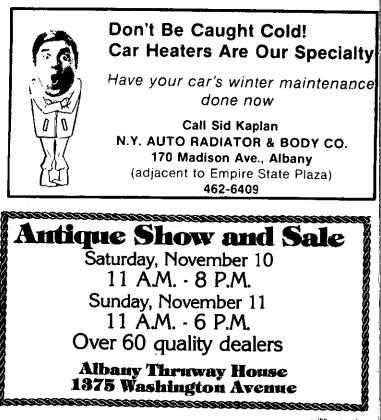

Auditions for Handel's "Messiah" to be performed by the Capitol Hill Choral Society under the direction of Judson Rand will be held Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Philip Schuyler auditorium, formerly Albany High School, North Lake Ave. between Washington and Western Aves.

On stress management

Albany Business College is offering a one-evening workshop on stress management at the college on Wednesday, Nov. 14, from 6 to 9. Dr. Len Ochs, Schenectady psychologist, will direct the three-hour workshop. The program is open to the public. The registration fee of $10 covers the cost of the program and materials. For information, call 449-7163.

EnCon head to speak

Robert Flacke, state commissioner of Environmental Conservation, will speak on "Issues and Directions in Ecology" at the College of Saint Rose Thursday, Nov. 15, at 6 p.m. Among the topics he will address are the PCB's in Fort Edward, the Love Canal, Three Mile Island and the energy crisis.

SLINGERLANDS

New subdivision hearing slated

A proposed 25-lot subdivision in one of Slingerlands' most desirable residential areas will "go public" next week.

The Bethlehem planning board will hold a public hearing Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 on plans for Havenwood, a 25lot development of singlefamily dwellings proposed by Marthon Development Corp. of Westmere. Morton Jenkins, Troy investor who developed the Candlewood subdivision on Murray Ave., Delmar, is the principal in the Marthon firm.

Revised plans for the subdivision in the North Helderperg Pkwy.-Mayfair Dr. section of Slingerlands have elimnated a proposed extension of North Helderberg Pkwy. to Font Grove Rd. The layout now calls for a cul-de-sac configuration that would elimnate any through traffic and deletes an access to Font Grove Rd.

The area is zoned Residential-AA, which restricts building to single-family dwellings with specified lot-size minimums.

When You Need A Nurse

To care for someone you love in the hospital or at home, Medical Personnel Pool has highly qualified RNs, LPNs, Aides and Attendants. Each is responsible to our Director of Nursing, each fully insured and bonded. Day, night or around the clock care easily arranged.

Driver, 17, arrested

A 17-year-old Feura Bush youth who police said was driving unsupervised on a learner's permit was arrested Friday afternoon when his car rolled over on Cherry Ave. Extension, Slingerlands, near the D&H overpass. The youth was ticketed for driving while intoxicated and driving without a license, and was released to his parents. Police withheld his name because of his age. Two female passengers in the car were treated at Albany Medical Center for minor injuries.

Jailed in robbery

Sheriff's deputies in the investigative unit at the Voorheesville substation have charged a Guilderland man with the Sept. 21 armed robbery at Jacens clothing store at Twenty Mall, Guilderland. Ronald G. Gorr, 22, of Heritage Village apartments, was arrested at 6 p.m. Friday and remanded to Albany County jail after arraignment before Guilderland Justice Kevin Moss. In the robbery, police said, a man holding a knife demanded money and fled with approximately $400 in cash.

Deputies dampen Hallowe'en 'fun'

Albany County sheriff's leputies added special patrols or sections of Voorheesville on Hallowe'en night and reported marked decline in incidents of vandalism and malicious mischief.

Five Voorheesville teenigers were arrested, two of hem juveniles, on charges of criminal mischief and disorderly conduct. The juveniles were released to their parents and the teenagers were turned over to Albany County family court. Their names were withheld in deference to their age.

Capt. Donald Holdridge, in charge of the sheriff's Voorheesville patrol, said deputies dispersed several gatherings of youths in the Scotch Pines subdivision off Maple Ave. in the village. A number of undercover men in civilian clothes also were assigned to the area. "We will continue to impose rigid enforcement in Voorheesville during the Hallowe'en period," Holdridge said.

State police from the Selkirk substation also included Voorheesville in their Hallowe'en night patrols.

Both Bethlehem police and state troopers reported no serious vandalism on Hallo-

DELMAR Scouts launch exchange drive

Boy Scouts of Troop 75, First United Methodist Church, Delmar, have started their drive to collect items for their fifth annual Winter Sports Mart.

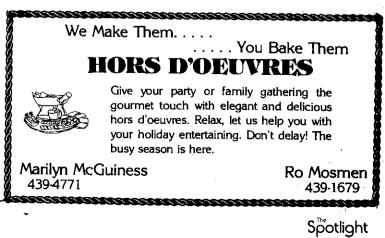

The scouts have expanded their line this year to include tennis, soccer and football items in addition to the usual skis, boots, skates and other winter sports equipment.

The equipment exchange is scheduled for Saturday,

Nov. 17, at the Bethlehem Central High School cafeteria. The mart gives families an opportunity to sell used or outgrown sports equipment and buy larger sizes at bargain prices. The list of regular customers has grown steadily, and this year's event promises to be the largest ever.

Scouts will receive items for sale between 9 a.m. and noon, the bargains will be on sale from 1 to 3 p.m., and sellers can collect their proceeds between 3:30 and 4:30.

Flags recovered

Three weeks ago vandals stole 4-by-6-foot American flags from their poles in front of the Blanchard American Legion post and Elsmere Fire Co. across the street from each other. The ropes were cut.

At 4:30 p.m Thursday, a 4by-6-American flag was found hanging from a power line on Plymouth Ave., Elsmere. The previous night, Hallowe'en, a 3-by-5-foot New York State flag was removed from telephone wires at Elsworth and Plymouth Aves. by the Elsmere fire company's snorkel. The flag, its origin unknown, was an old one whose colors had faded, police said.

Property tax topic

Schools planning special programs

Next week is American Education Week throughout the country, and all seven Bethlehem schools invite parents and interested community residents to come in and observe today's schools in action.

The elementary schools are sending home class schedules to enable parents to choose which school they wish to visit. People who would like to observe classes at the Middle School or High School are asked to call in advance to assure that enough seating will be available. The telephone number is 439-4921.

Two annual open house programs for parents will take place during the week: Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 8 p.m. at the High School, and Thursday, Nov. 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the Middle School for parents of 7th and 8th graders.

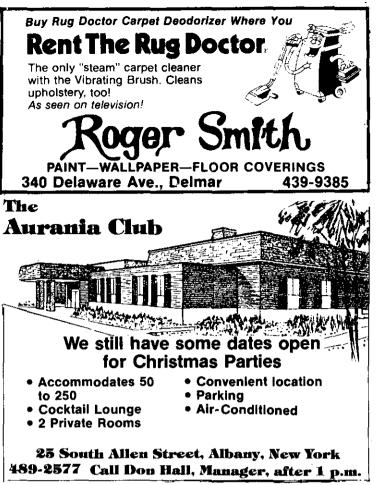

In addition to expecting classroom visitors from Tuesday through Friday (Monday is a school holiday), the elementary schools have scheduled some special events to coincide with American Education Week. Here is a brief rundown:

Clarksville—Principal Dorothy Whitney will give two presentations on the Wisconsin Design curriculum on Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.; and Jack Bailey's 4-5 class will present "The King Who Hated Birthdays" on Fri., Nov. 16, at 2:30 p.m.

Elsmere—Cathy Sowalskie's 3rd grade class will display 25 exhibits of countries on Wednesday, Nov. 14, from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. The pupils and their parents have worked together to provide music, costumes, food, and slide shows about countries of their choice (in most cases, reflecting a family's nationality) and this project is also an observance of the International Year of the Child.

Glenmont—Grades 4-5 will demonstrate lung inflation and dissection, a Berkeley Health project, on Wednesday, Nov. 14, from 1:15 to 3:15. Principal Don Robillard will be available in the library on Wednesday at 10 to talk to parents and others about any school-related subjects; Cheryl Locke Judge's 4-5 class will present "The Sausage on the End of the Nose" on Thursday, Nov. 15, at 2:30 and 7 p.m.

Supervisor Tom Corrigan buys the first forget-me-not in Bethlehem from William Fitzgerald of Elsmere, county commander of the Disabled American Veterans.

Hamagrael—The Home-School Assn. will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 7:30 to hear Dr. Stuart Lazarus speak on "Vision and Learning." Principal Joe Schaefer will meet with parents and others to talk about curriculum on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 14-15, from 10 to 11. Parents are invited to attend the assembly on Friday from 2:30 to 3:10.

Slingerlands-Rena Bezilla's 4th grade class will have a career education exhibit in the gym and guest speakers on different careers on Wednesday, Nov. 14, from 1 to 3, and Evonne Lutkus' 4-5 class will sponsor a display of "Things Seen at Shaker Village," with Cheryl Anderson, curator of the Hancock Shaker Village, present on Thursday, Nov. 15, from 10 a.m. to noon. The school choral group led by Virginia Spelich will present "The Brave and the Bold" on Thursday, Nov. 15, at 7:30 p.m. and Friday, Nov. 16, at 2 p.m.

TREE CARE TIME

November

December

- Timely and proper maintenance can prolong the life of important trees and minimize the chance of major tree problems later.
- UNITED's annual tree inspection during November, and December determines the condition of trees and our recommended treatment.
- Tree feeding is most important NOW....Many trees have depleted the food elements essential for healthy growth. Fertilizing now, helps restore the food elements essential for their healthy growth again next spring.
- Tree pruning is very important NOW. Many trees have an accumulation of dead or dying branches that offer winter shelter for harmful insects and some tree diseases. Important trees need to be pruned for SAFETY as well as SANITATION purposes.
- Tree cabling and bracing for protection, preservation and safety. Many important and valuable old trees have weak crotches and large overhanging limbs that need the mechanical support of cables and braces to help prevent damage beyond repair now and in the future.

Be sure your trees have the timely protective care they newd now—before winter.

soccer Booters draw first blood

Bethlehem Central's varsity soccer team, battling in the Section 2 tournament against the area's top teams, had a Wednesday date with Suburban Council champion Guilderland this week after posting a first-round victory.

Bethlehem's 1-0 win over Amsterdam Monday propelled the Eagles into the grinder. Guilderland, seeded No. 1, beat Bethlehem twice during the regular season and carried a 15-2-1 record into the playoff at Scotia.

The game at Amsterdam, postponed from Saturday because of rain, was played under field conditions Coach Dale Walts described as "terrible." The slippery footing cut down on the quick move that has been BC's forte, and there was no way to get velocity on shots.

The game was 0-0 at halftime, but when play resumed the deadlock lasted only 13 seconds. Dave Propp passed the muddy ball out to Wayne Allen, who sent a cross to Mark Dean and Dean booted it home.

Bethlehem doninated the contest, outshooting Amsterdam by 41-15 while the defense, especially the fullbacks, contained Amsterdam's 21-goal scoring ace, Doug Barnett. The Rams were 16-2 on the season, 9-1 in the Big 10.

Last week the Eagles whitewashed Shaker, 4-0 and dropped a 3-2 decision at Burnt Hills in the conference windup. Wayne Allen had two goals against Shaker and scored both BC goals at Burnt Hills, giving him five in three games and eight for the season. The Eagles played a strong game except for a brief lapse in the second quarter when Burnt Hills got three goals in a span of three minutes and eight seconds.

In the final period, Bethlehem had the ball in the Burnt Hills penalty area for 11 of the last 13 minutes, but were thwarted half a dozen times on scoring chances.

FOOTBALL Eagles swansong may be toughest

There are two ways to look at Bethlehem Central's 1979 football season: one, it has been the longest season in many a moon. 0-6 in the Suburban Council and a plummet from the championship to the cellar, or, two, an exciting season as a forlorn underdog that has played spirited, improving football and fanned high hopes for the future.

It was not the team's fault that in the patient construction of the 1978 championship team, the previous administration played his varsity 95 percent of the time in his hunger for a No. 1 rating. It was not this team's fault that with only one starter and two varsity players they were mismatched in virtually every league game they played, yet they battled every minute, held powerful Columbia scoreless after the first half, lost to potent Guilderland by a whisker, and except for a few breaks, could have beaten two other Council foes.

to lose except the game itself, Coach Gene FitzPatrick's scrappy Eagles have a chance to be a real killer. They will close out their season Saturday against the hottest team in the league, Shaker, fresh from wins over Shenendehowa, Columbia and Guilderland, all Council powers. They will also be facing a quarterback many observers consider the best in the league, Jim Kehrer, Fitz-Patrick describes him as "very quick, a hard runner and a fine passer."

Shaker didn't win the title. which has returned to Shenendehowa, but the Bison can finish a strong second. The game is in Delmar, starting at 1.30

The Eagles made their short journey to neighboring Ravena worthwhile last week by scoring two touchdowns in the first five minutes and then sat on them for a 14-0 victory in a non-league tussle on a muddy field.

Bill McHugh ran the opening kickoff back 85 yards for a touchdown. The 170-pound junior speedster got several fine blocks and galloped up the middle until he broke into the clear. Butch Waidelich's kick made it 7-0 before anyone ran a play from scrimmage.

Moments later the Eagles mishandled a Ravena punt that gave the home team a chance on the BC 32, but the defense held. On the third play Bethlehem's Mike Lawrence went inside right tackle, cut left, and broke one tackle and went 60 yards for the second TD. Again Waidelich converted,

With FitzPatrick using his bench liberally, both teams missed scoring opportunities. Ravena penetrated to the Bethlehem 10 in the fourth period, and the BC reserves missed a measured first down on the Ravena 11 by inches. Waidelich was just short on two field goal tries, one 40, the other 45, in the slippery footing.

Waidelich and Karl Danckert were clearing wedges for BC runners all afternoon. Steve Matone, a defensive back, played quarterback in the final period and ran well, and reserves Jimmy DeAngelis and Dave Ruslander showed they could carry the mail when they had the chance.

Adam Herman

On college team

Adam Herman, a graduate of Bethlehem Central High School, is playing on the Chowan College football team in Murfreesboro, N.C. The team has won six of its first nine games and closes its season Nov. 10 at Nassau Community College on Long Island. Adam is the son of Mrs. Roslyn Herman, 30 Center Lane, Delmar.

FOOTBALL Blackbirds want win for seniors

Voorheesville Central's football varsity, winding up a frustrating and disappointing season, are primed to close the 1979 campaign with a solid win when Rensselaer comes to the Helderbergs in the final game Saturday.

The only hitch is that the opposition is one of the Southern Conference's strongest teams. Rensselaer is 5-2-1, and with both losses charged to Class B teams, the Rams have a shot at the Sectional playoff and need a victory at Voorhees-ville.

"We'd like to see if we can pull of an upset," said Coach Tom Buckley after last Saturdays scoreless struggle in the mud at Coxsackie. "We can do it, too, if we play the kind of football we are capable of."

The Blackbirds would like to dedicate an upset win to the seniors playing their last game, including the entire offensive line.

Playing in what Buckley called "about the worst field conditions I've seen," both teams last week had a good shot at a touchdown, and spent the rest of the game battling between the 30-yard lines. In the third period, the Blackbirds blocked a punt on the Coxsackie 40 and got a good drive going. The key play was a pass from Greg Picard to Chris Clark, a 6-3 tight end who had been moved from defensive tackle three weeks ago. Clark, who caught three passes during the afternoon, took this one on the 5 for a 20yard advance and a first down five yards from the end zone. A sweep was stopped for no gain, a sneak got two yards and a Coxsackie offside penalty made it third and goal on the one. The Blackbirds tried another sweep, but a Coxsackie lineman broke through, forced a fumble and the home team recovered.

"It was difficult to move the ball," Buckley said. "What good turf there was at the start didn't last long."

Despite the footing, there were only three fumbles, two by the Blackbirds, and Voorheesville intercepted three passes. Andy Merkley had two of them. Harris Crawford, who had a good game at safety, picked off the third.

Open house at VHS

Voorheesville High School will hold an open house Thursday, Nov. 15 at 7 for parents and students in conjunction with ongoing programs in Career Week and Health Week.

ARE DAMAGES TAX DEDUCTIBLE?

As a homeowner, expenses from damage or improvements may affect your income taxes. For instance: damage to your house from, say, fire or windstorm may be partially deductible as a casualty loss. After subtracting insurance compensation, deduct $100 for each accident and the remainder can be claimed as a tax deduction.

Improvements, such as a porch, garage, finished basement, and so-on cannot be deducted. However, they can be added to the cost of the house when figuring profit on the sale. So, keep good records of such expenses. Try to preserve cancelled checks and receipted bills. They will help substantiate the figures if necessary.

I'm just scratching the surface here. If this situation applies to you, I suggest you contact your nearest Internal Revenue Office for a copy of their pamphlet #530 Tax Information on Deductions for Homeowners. It may save you some money.

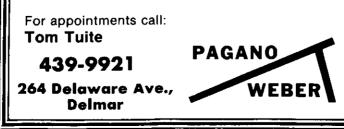

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at Century 21 - Betty Lent Real Estate, 208 Delaware Ave., Delmar, Phone 439-9336.

Clarifying epilepsy

Editor, The Spotlight:

I was somewhat surprised to see my name used in a letter by Virginia Sabin, which implied that I am an affiliate and endorsee of an organization for spreading information about epilepsy. I would like to clarify some of the facts stated in this letter.

In September, 1960, some concerned persons and myself met in the former C.P. Center to discuss the possibility of establishing an organization to assist those who were afflicted with epilepsy. As a result of this meeting we formed a nonprofit organization then known as the Epilepsy League of the Tri-Cities, (having adopted the name somewhat from the National Epilepsy League in Chicago, which had assisted us in our efforts). At that time 1 was appointed interim-president for the first year, wherein it would be decided from interest and attendance at these meetings if the need for an agency of this type did exist.

In September of 1961 we indeed realized the need. At that time schools were still reluctant to accept the epileptic student. I had to "go to bat" for many parents on behalf of their children. It is with gratitude that I can say those times have changed for the better.

The employment problem is still with us but to a lesser degree. We had to encourage many an employable epileptic to stand up and be counted, and also with a word of warning "not to carry a chip on your shoulder," as many had. Often, I found this was more of a detriment to employment than the seizure problem.

True, as Mrs. Sabin states, there is a lack of understanding and ignorance on the part of some employees, however, I do not think we can generalize.

Mrs. Sabin speaks of my "charter membership" in this organization. I would like to further state that my affiliation with the Hudson Mohawk Chapter ended in 1975 when I resigned as a member of the board. The group that meets in the First Presbyterian Church in Albany is a newly organized group, some of whom were newly afiliated members of the Epilepsy League just prior to the affiliation with the Hudson Mohawk Chapter in 1973.

This affiliation was decided upon when the EFA became the official national organization and it appeared that a lone local group would be unable to compete. Unfortunately, this was not the case and the affiliation brought to an end the untiring efforts of many dedicated workers of 15 years. Some former members and myself who had been on the board of the affiliated chapter were asked if we would resign in order that the chapter could re-organize with board members who were more influential in the community.

Dr. Miriam Tuck and Mill Lucille Brewer are the ones to be credited for the newly formed group. I do believe credit should go where credit is due. Miss Brewer is a didicated and sincere crusader on behalf of the epileptic. Dr. Miriam Tuck graciously offered to pick up the pieces of this organization that lost it's identity through affiliation with a national health organization, and she now encourages the newly formed group to reestablish that identity.

However, one word to Mrs. Sabin. Not everyone wants to hear about epilepsy. In the 15 years that I gave of myself in this effort to create better understanding through various clubs, PTA groups, facility meetings, nurses organizations, churches and Rotary, as well as TV, radio and on a oneto-one basis, 1 found that the many who did not want to hear about epilepsy were those who were the victims or the families of victims.

I recall the warning given to us by Dr. Stanley Ball, in that first meeting. Dr. Ball said that "this agency was a long time coming and greatly needed. however, there will be many who will hate you for it.
