Delaware Plaza chooses not to renew lease for Bruegger's Bagels location, but new eatery may move in

By MEREDITH SAVITT
news@spotlightnews.com

DELMAR – Bruegger's Bagels, a 31-year mainstay at Delmar's Delaware Plaza, is permanently shutting its doors on Nov. 28, just two days shy of its lease expiration date. Delaware Plaza Managing Director Debbie Nolan Murray said Delaware Plaza decided not to renew Bruegger's lease and instead "go in a different direction."

Nolan Murray said it was "a tough question, but the timing was right and we had other local businesses reach out to us."

Delaware Plaza is currently negotiating a lease with a potential new tenant. Although vacant storefronts exist at Delaware Plaza, Nolan Murray said they opted to focus on re-leasing the Bruegger's space because "it is a key space for us that is very visible on Delaware Avenue." She said that part of having a new company open business in the plaza is the "visibility, the easy access and the adjacent parking."

She also said, "Bruegger's has changed quite a bit. It originally opened in Burlington, Vt., and had a local feel." However, she said "since moving its headquarters to Texas, it is not the same rapport we had over the years because their business model has changed."

She added that the company does not have a presence in the community anymore.

Nolan Murray said that although Delaware Plaza notified Bruegger's about six months ago that its lease would not be renewed, Bruegger's acted "surprised" by the decision and was "disappointed." She said she previously had told Bruegger's a couple of local businesses had approached her.

"With a new business, it gives us the opportunity to do some renovations on that corner and have a new store front," Nolan Murray said.

One employee at Bruegger's said the store's 12-13 employees were told they would be offered employment at Bruegger's 1770 Central Ave. location in Albany.

Some community members have voiced their disappointment to Nolan Murray that Bruegger's is closing.

"People have told me that Bruegger's has been a staple for so long, it's convenient, easy and they can run in and get their bagels" she said. "It also appeared there was also a misperception that this was about raising their rent, which it is not." Instead, "it was an overall business decision for our community and the shopping center to bring something new to the business community here and we believe this will be a real boost for our community," Nolan Murray said.

Over the past couple of years, Bruegger's has closed two other Capital Region stores – one in Stuyvesant Plaza in Albany and one in Newton Plaza in Loudonville after long tenures. The stores closed after having occupied those spaces for 37 and 30 years, respectively.

Janet Kaplan, Vice President, Real Estate at Stuyvesant Plaza said in 2021, Stuyvesant Plaza, like Delaware Plaza, had chosen not to renew Bruegger's lease when it expired. She said the store had gone into bankruptcy around 2017 and was later bought by another company, but the new company was "not putting any money into the store," "wasn't keeping it up" and "it looked awful." In June 2021, Bruegger's lease with Stuyvesant Plaza expired and the Plaza opted to lease the space to Uncommon Grounds instead.

Although Nolan Murray would not identify the potential new tenant, she hinted that if the lease negotiation is successful, Delmar will not be without a place to get bagels. She said she expects to be able to announce the new tenant's identity within the next couple of weeks.

Bruegger's did not respond to a request for comment by the time of publication of this article.

Bruegger's Bagels will be closing in a few weeks at 180 Delaware Avenue. Meredith Savitt/Spotlight News

Little libraries for all kinds of readers

Local free libraries let readers of all ages choose books to keep and share

BY JILL RIFKIN
news@spotlightnews.com

COLONIE AND DELMAR – Dozens of small structures resembling mailboxes have popped up like spring daffodils along roads in Capital District villages, towns and cities. They are called Little Free Libraries (LFLs). Their purpose is to build community and to promote literacy and love of reading in convenient locations 24 hours a day.

Filled with mostly donated books, Little Free Library's motto is "Take a book. Share a book." Books are always free. Patrons of any age may take home any books they wish and keep the ones they want to own. They are urged, but never required, to bring back favorite books to share with others. Studies indicate that impoverished children often have no books at all in their homes, which negatively impacts scholastic achievement. Little Free Libraries gives them the chance to start building their own home libraries, a key component of literacy development.

One Delmar resident remarked, "It gives me great pleasure to share my books with others, free space on my bookshelves, and discover new ones to take their place."

No two Little Free Libraries are exactly alike.

For example, a library on Mosher Road in Delmar has a particular theme: diversity. The library was built in 2021 by Greg Hopper and his then 9-year-old son, Evan. Hopper's wife, Laura DiBetta, has stocked and maintained the library ever since. She is passionate about combating racism and prejudice by means of the diversity of the books in the LFL on the edge of her lawn.

All the books were either written by authors or feature characters from a wide variety of cultures, countries and backgrounds. Recently, she put out books for both children and adults celebrating Native American Heritage Month. Books by well known Native American authors such as Louise Erdrich and Leslie Marmon Silko were plentiful. Also displayed were books for young people featuring children from various Indian tribes explaining their various customs and history in both word and colorful pictures. Throughout the year, books about holidays such as Diwali, Juneteenth, Passover, Holi, Chanukah, Russian Easter and more crowd the shelves and are soon plucked by eager readers.

The content of these books often complement units studied in schools.

"We want everyone who comes to our Little Free Library to feel at home here and to know they belong," DiBetta said, smiling. "We want to make sure our readers go into the world and interact comfortably with all kinds of people."

Her goal: developing understanding through diverse books.

Reading enthusiasts typically obtain desired books from town or city libraries or bookstores, but this is not necessarily the case in Colonie.

Book lovers in this town can take out and donate books at the Little Free Library (LFL), located at the Crossings, a park off Albany Shaker Road.

Located near the Ciccotti Center, the Little Free Library is continually stocked and maintained by a teen advisory group that meets at the nearby William K. Sanford Library.

The group is run by librarian Elissa Valente, head of programming and outreach.

She raved about the dedication, talent and enthusiasm of the teens working on this project. When the old Little Free Library fell into disrepair, teenager Luke Bomba decided to build a beautiful new replacement as his Eagle Scout project.

Overstock at the Sanford Library, as well as donations from town residents, fill the shelves to bursting. Avid readers can find a wide variety of both fiction and nonfiction books appealing to both children and adults.

Books deemed not useful are recycled. Teenagers are heavily involved with most aspects of the library's upkeep.

"It's such rewarding work for teens, who yearn to work on a meaningful project like this that benefits the entire community," Valente said.

Many segments of Colonie's population patronize the Little Free Library when they visit the Crossings, including adults, families with young children, teenagers, and elderly residents, many of whom live at the Beltrone, a nearby senior residence. Young children particularly appreciate the LFL, in part because they can choose the books they like and take them home to keep if they wish.

On a recent visit, a spunky 7-year-old raced to the LFL ahead of her mother. She flung open the door, carefully perused the contents, and grabbed a Pinkalicious book, popular with first and second graders and preschoolers. Jumping up and down, she waved the book in the air, shouting, "PINKALICIOUS! I can read it all by myself! I can read it to my little sister! My daddy will be so proud!"

St. Thomas Church in Delmar is probably the only one in the Capital District with two beautiful small wooden structures on the grounds that are meticulously shaped like the church itself. Both are Little Free Libraries maintained by the church, one on the Delaware Avenue side of the church and the other on Adams Street on the opposite side. Pastor Rick Lesser mentioned that the idea for the Little Free Library came from members of the parish who saw an opportunity to provide the greater Bethlehem community an enriching gift.

"We are delighted that books come and go. There are so many good folks here who want to do good with and for others," he said.

The libraries were built by congregant Rick Barnes, a talented teen skilled in woodworking who now attends college.

"This replica of our church lets us know we are all one family, and we need to be kind to one another," said Mary Ann Hospidor, youth minister of the church who is now in charge of the library. "Our Little Free Library reinforces the idea that we are good people."

Books for all ages, many with religious or ethical themes, fill the library, including such books as

"Chicken Soup for the Soul," "The Story of Christmas," and "My First Book of Prayers." Hospidor changes the selection as often as necessary. All are available to any passerby who wants to read them.

Parishioners entering the church mentioned that they were delighted with their Little Free Library and that they often donate books that inspired them or brought them peace and joy. One woman, who declined to be identified, said she was fiercely proud of the library.

"Not only does it help children practice their reading, but they gain some understanding of God's presence in their lives," she said.

LIBRARIES

Explore all of the 'extras' at the library

Did you know your Bethlehem library card lets you borrow from our vast collection of books, movies and more and also gives you access to the 28 other libraries in the Upper Hudson Library System? Prefer to go digital? Our e-book and e-audiobook collection includes thousands of titles and is expanding all the time. We also offer video streaming services and a huge selection of online learning tools. When you borrow instead of buy, you can save hundreds of dollars a year!

The library is about more than books and media, though, and even if you are already a frequent library user, you might not be aware of all these "extras" we offer:

- Programs, concerts and events for the whole family – from early literacy and book discussion groups to craft and technology classes.
- Laptops and Wi-Fi hotspots to borrow for digital access on the go.
- Online language-learning and
- On-site printing, copying and faxing.
- Employment resources.

- One-on-one tech help.
- 24-hour WiFi at 5 locations throughout town.

• An expansive Library of Things where you can borrow board games, household tools, musical instruments, telescopes and more.

- Passes that offer free admission to dozens of area museums.

Most importantly, we are a community gathering place where EVERYONE is welcome. We look forward to your next visit to Bethlehem Public Library and can't wait for you to discover all the great library services available to you! Visit www.bethlehempubliibrary.org to explore what's at your library.

BCN-TV reminders

Bethlehem's public access station, BCN-TV, features productions that range from 30-second public service announcements to long-running series. Shows span a wide range of topics – public affairs and poetry, religion and relationships, music and medicine, education and environment. Local school and town board meetings are also cablecast, and a community calendar runs daily. A number of library-produced programs are also part of the lineup.

You can watch BCN-TV on Spectrum Channel 1301 and Verizon Fios Channel 28.

Closings and weather delays

The library will be closed all day Friday, Dec. 1, for staff training.

In the event of inclement weather, the library's telephone system will provide information on a closing or delayed opening. Weather conditions can occasionally cause icing near the entrances and curbside pickup area that could lead to closure even when the town roadways are clear. Call ahead at (518) 439-9314 if you are unsure. Information may also be available on our website at www.bethlehempubliibrary.org

Winter Boutique

The annual Winter Boutique is happening this weekend. Friends of the library are invited to shop the members-only hours, Friday, Dec. 1, 12-6 p.m. (memberships are available for purchase at the door). The sale is open to the public on Saturday, Dec. 2, from 10:00 to 4:00 p.m., and Sunday, Dec. 3 from 1:00 to 3:30 p.m. Some examples of items for-sale are jewelry, purses, wallets, winter-themed items, ornaments, scarves, hats, linens, decorative serving items and other seasonal household items.

So It Goes: The Characters and Chronicles of Kurt Vonnegut

Join us at 6:30 p.m., Tuesday, Dec. 5, as we delve into Vonnegut's writing and the universality of his themes. Part prose and part musical performance, this is an original song cycle based on the writings of Kurt Vonnegut, with words and music by Gail Sparlin. A 2023 Eddies Songwriter of the Year nominee, singer/songwriter and musicologist Gail Sparlin crafts folk influenced pop songs colored with her childhood influences of blues, country, and

December Book Talks

We'll be discussing these books in December: Fiction Book Discussion - "Oona Out of Order" by Margarita Montimore, 6:45 p.m., Wed., Dec. 6 and/or 10:40 a.m., Wed., Dec. 20; Family Book Discussion - "Crenshaw - A Celebration of Family, Friendship, and Resilience" by Katherine Applegate, 5:30 p.m., Friday, Dec. 8; Middle School Book Club - "Treasure Island: Runaway Gold" by Jewell Parker Rhodes, 10:40 a.m., Wednesday, Dec. 20 at VCHS school library; All discussions will be held in the library community room, unless otherwise stated. Please register online each month for any of the book discussions. Limited copies of some titles are available for $5, compliments of the Friends of the Library. Library copies will also be available for checkout and downloadable ebook and audiobook versions are on Overdrive.

Winter Community Card Drive

Our popular community cards project is back, supporting Community Caregivers as they serve our neighbors. All ages can get involved – individuals, families, groups – contributing hand-made or recycled cards to be delivered to one of their 200+ clients. Here are the guidelines:

- Create or repurpose card(s) no larger than 4" x 5"
 - Use a general winter/holiday theme
 - Optional: add an uplifting message and/or sign the card(s)
 - Envelopes will be provided by Community Caregivers, but if your card comes with one, please include; do not seal
 - Community Caregivers will address and mail all cards received
 - Postage stamp donations are appreciated
- To help facilitate the project, we'll have supplies in the Tawasentha room so you can stop in and make or repurpose one of our donated cards. Follow the sign near the new book area. Drop off your card(s) by Mon. Dec. 11 in the marked bin found in our lobby. Thank you for helping to spread some kindness to brighten someone's day!

who are firefighters in their home fire district, exchange up to 20 hours of firefighting services each week for free housing in an apartment building in Delmar owned by the Fire Company.

Four DBEMS bunk-in college student volunteers live in two of the three units in the Fire Company's multi-unit building. They provide three weekly 12-hour shifts of emergency medical services from 6 p.m.-6 a.m.

The Fire Company and DBEMS say they tap into the Capital Region's huge pool of college and university students.

"Health care is a growing field, and emergency services is a point of entry for many talented young people," said Steve Kroll, DBEMS executive director and chief. "Students can get training for careers, and go on to be EMTs, doctors, nurses, microbiologists and other great things in health care."

Both entities attract talented and committed young men and women to help solve a volunteer crisis felt by emergency service providers nationwide.

Knowing who these students are and why they choose to spend their time chasing fires and riding ambulances may help local emergency services to continue to ease their staffing shortages.

Free rent is a significant factor that makes the program attractive.

"I met one bunk-in's mother when he was moving out, and she was so thankful for the program and said her son couldn't have afforded to do what he wanted to do without the program," said current Fire Company President Brendan Boyle. But, as all the bunk-ins will tell you, money isn't everything.

Trailblazing young firefighters

Hayden Kothe and Brendan Cooper are fire department bunk-in roommates.

Kothe, 19, an HVCC freshman already has his own business building and restoring classic cars. He is a fourth generation firefighter raised in Shokan, N.Y. His mother, once a paid firefighter with the City of Kingston, was seriously injured on the job when her foot was caught in a fire engine ladder. After having her foot and lower leg amputated, she retired from the department.

"She always reminds me to be careful on the ladder truck," said Kothe, who is undeterred by her accident.

Cooper, 20, is a University at Albany sophomore, who is also a U.S. Army reservist and majoring in an emergency preparedness program that includes homeland security, cyber security and intelligence. After graduation, he wants to work in law enforcement or be an intelligence analyst in Washington, D.C.

Cooper became a firefighter at age 16 in Pleasantville, N.Y. Kothe was first a junior firefighter at age 13 until he became a member of his home department in Olive, N.Y., at age 16. "It gives me something to do," he said with a grin.

get a call in the middle of the night we go," said Kothe.

Cooper said his Elsmere experience has also broadened his firefighting knowledge by introducing him to different kinds of building structures and tactics. And that also helps his home fire department.

"We get new perspectives and different information and get to take that back to our home department and people like to hear about it," he said.

Another benefit is "learning so much about independent living that college dorm living doesn't teach you," Cooper said.

He said he sometimes misses the "immediacy" of campus life, but believes "the advantages outweigh everything else," and he still spends time with his friends, most of whom are EMS volunteers. "I'm not really active in the party scene," he said.

Kothe said that being in the bunk-in program makes doing his school work easier because of the "structure."

"It forces you to be into your work," he said. "We can't be out gallivanting, and if we are here we might as well do our homework."

Both Cooper and Kothe said the hardest part of the program is keeping straight the Elsmere protocols from their home department protocols.

Both Cooper and Kothe said they participate in the bunk-in program because of the free housing, which could cost up to $15,000 each school year for a room in an apartment or a college dormitory. But they also "just can't get away from firefighting," said Kothe. Cooper said that he missed firefighting during his freshman year, so he "gets a lot of satisfaction from this program" in addition to the free housing. He added, "my parents are thrilled about the housing cost savings and I get to keep up with my firefighting."

“Home is different from here and here is different from home, and I have to keep it straight and adapt,” said Kothe, as he recounted attending two “major” fires on his very first night in the program. He described that experience as “interesting.” Undaunted, he tells people about the program and says, “Just do it!”

DBEMS bunk-ins love the community and the cost containment

Currently, four college students – three women and one man – participate in DBEMS’ bunk-in program.

Casey Navin, 21, of Saratoga and a junior at SUNY Albany double majoring in Emergency Management and Spanish is one. Navin became an EMT “to give back to the community that has given me so much.”

Navin joined the bunk-in program this school year and because he has other scholarships that cover his tuition, he attends college free of cost. More than money, he said the bunk-in program gives him an opportunity to learn in-depth about what he is studying, how to engage in emergency services as a team and how to manage stress.

“The opportunity was almost too good to be true,” he said. “Everyone here is passionate about giving back and it is motivating to be in this environment.”

Saving on college costs was a motivating factor as well for DBEMS bunk-in students Brittney Lezcano, 20, a junior from New Jersey studying human biology and medical anthropology at SUNY Albany, and Ashanty Joseph, a SUNY Albany senior double majoring in human biology and psychology from Suffern, N.Y. However, both women, like Navin, agreed that the bunk-in program gives them so much more.

“The bunk-in program gives you the opportunity to learn more about EMS, work with more experienced people and learn a lot,” said Lezcano.

“I’m first generation, so it’s nice to see the financial burden of housing come off,” said Joseph. “It’s a wonderful opportunity, and there should be more programs like this across New York State to help kids who worry about how to pay for school. ... It’s an even exchange because we pay with our time.”

Cost saving is just one benefit of the program. For Joseph, “DBEMS is like a second family and everyone is very loving and kind” and the bunk-in house “feels like home.”

As for the house, while parties are forbidden, Lezcano said the “house is beautiful, amazing, perfect and much nicer and safer than people who pay for their apartments, and DBEMS even gave us a starter kit of cleaning supplies.”

“We didn’t expect how much they would give us,” said Lezcano. “In addition out on weekends and getting work done.”

And, they also all agreed that they are only a 15-minute drive from campus “so we are not missing out on anything by not being there,” said Lezcano. “As a junior, this is important because it helps set my career path and that’s more important to me than doing anything else. I have gained more than I have ever given up.”

Still, being a student and working 12 hour shifts has its challenges.

“I don’t do a full overnight shift before I have class so I am not a zombie going to class,” said Navin. And there are nights when they go without sleep. “Luckily, we’re young so we can come back from that quickly and it adds a level of excitement to the week.”

When asked whether he has ever fallen asleep in class, Navin smiled and said, “I take the Fifth.”

Joseph said sometimes

she does need a nap in the squad house and noted that “the couches are really comfortable.”

But Joseph said all the bunk-ins and DBEMS administration agree that school work comes first.

“DBEMS is very flexible with my school work and classes,” Joseph said. “They want to help me grow.”

Navin summarized the personal benefits of the bunk-in program. “I learned more here than in classes so far in this one semester and have grown as a provider, as a person and as a leader.”

And the benefit goes both ways. Both Lezcano and Navin said they would like to continue volunteering with DBEMS after graduation.

“Staying on after graduation is becoming increasingly important to me because so many people here want to give back and it’s infectious,” said Navin.

Anyone interested in applying to the bunk-in programs can go to the DBEMS or Elsmere Fire department websites for more information.

MEYERS FUNERAL HOME LTD.

is still locally owned & operated, not owned by an out-of-town owner that just keeps the local staff on the payroll & pulls the strings. If local funeral home ownership is important to you I can assure you of that.

There is no “let me go ask the manager”.

YOU MEET WITH THE GUY WHO HAS HIS NAME ON THE SIGN OUT FRONT.

In this inflationary time I can offer cost saving and can be flexible on pre-arrangement or at need service.

55+ Years in the Delmar Community

Burials starting at $2,995 + vault
Cremations starting at $995 + crematory fee

If you have arrangements at another funeral home, there is no hassle to change at need or pre-need over. (You do not even have to speak to the funeral home, it is just a form letter to be sent.)

Ballston Spa National Bank Announces Grant Program to Assist Homebuyers

COLONIE – Ballston Spa National Bank introduced a new Homebuyer Assistance Program designed to help greater numbers of families achieve the dream of home ownership. BSNB's grant provides a lender credit of $5,000 that eligible borrowers may use towards non-recurring closing costs or to supplement a down payment.

"This grant will make homeownership more affordable for families," said Christopher R. Dowd, BSNB president and CEO. "I'm confident that our experienced mortgage loan originators can offer guidance and support throughout the mortgage process."

To qualify, a potential homebuyer must meet the following criteria: the home must be located in Albany, Schenectady, or Saratoga County within New York State, the household income may not exceed $62,860, and the buyer must complete a homebuyer education course prior to applying for the grant.

Interested home buyers need to act quickly as there are a limited number of grants available. Grants will be offered on a first-come, first-served basis until December 31 or until the funds are depleted.

To learn more, borrowers are urged to contact a BSNB mortgage loan originator.

■ POLICE, FIRE and EMERGENCY CALLS

Local man found dead after search

Found in the woods near his home

GLENMONT - A Selkirk man reported missing on Saturday, Nov. 25 was found dead in a wooded area near 822 River Road in Glenmont on Sunday after a search from local police and fire departments.

Bethlehem police sent out a missing persons notification on Saturday with a picture of Richard Ryther, 71. According to police, he was last seen on November 24 about 2 p.m. near his home, but was not seen after that.

Police said that the death does not appear suspicious and the investigation remains open.

The Bethlehem Police Department was assisted by members of the New York State Forest Rangers, State Police, Albany County Sheriff's Department, Elsmere Fire Department, and Selkirk Fire Department.

The Bethlehem police are asking anyone who may have any information to contact them at 518-439-9973.

Repeat Bethlehem burglar pleads guilty in County Court

ALBANY - A 54-year-old homeless man pleaded guilty to burglary in the second degree in Albany County Court on Tuesday, Nov. 22.

According to the Albany County indictment, on or about June 17, 2020, Richard Agley burglarized a home in Delmar and stole items while inside.

While the charges stem from 2020, the defendant failed to appear in court for over two years prior to this resolution, as at the time of charging, burglary in the second degree was not a bail-eligible offense, according to the Albany County District Attorney's office.

According to police arrest reports, Agley allegedly broke into a home on Euclid Avenue in Delmar in June 2020 and attempted to break into another.

He allegedly stole cash and credit cards that were used in Albany. Bethlehem police detectives interviewed Agley a week later and arrested him on charges of burglary and grand larceny, both felonies, and criminal mischief and identity theft, both misdemeanors.

At that time, he was arraigned on the charges by Bethlehem Town Judge Andrew Kirby and sent to the Albany County jail until a preliminary hearing in August 2020 in Albany County Court.

At County Court, the judge had to release Agley with another court date because she could not set bail on either of the two felony charges or the misdemeanor charges.

He did not show up and on November 9, 2020 County Judge Andra Ackerman issued a bench warrant for Agley.

Albany City police arrested him on unrelated charges on July 5 and found that he was wanted.

This time Agley was processed on the warrant and sent from Albany City Court to the Albany County jail.

DWI in Selkirk

SELKIRK - Bethlehem police stopped a 2012 black Infiniti after it allegedly did not stop at a stop sign near the intersection of River Road and Maple Avenue on Thursday, Nov. 16 at approximately 6:41 p.m.

Upon interviewing the driver, a 44-year-old Delmar man said he was traveling home from New York City. Officers observed the man to have glassy and bloodshot eyes and had a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage emanating from his breath.

According to reports, they also saw an empty bottle of wine in the back seat and the man said he "had one bottle of wine."

He was given field sobriety tests which indicated impairment and tested positive for breath alcohol on a pre-screening device.

At the police station, he submitted to a blood test for alcohol content and was charged with DWI.

The man was given a bill of particulars, given traffic tickets and released with an appearance ticket for Bethlehem Town Court on December 5.

DWAI on New Scotland Road

SLINGERLANDS - Bethlehem police responded to a report of a vehicle off the roadway at the intersection of New Scotland Road and Fisher Boulevard on Saturday, Nov. 18 at approximately 4:58 a.m. According to reports, upon arrival, officers located a gray 2019 Chevrolet Silverado off the roadway on the southwest corner of the intersection, but no one was in the vehicle.

The engine was running and the car was in drive.

The officer secured the vehicle by removing the keys and also the $80 on the floor of the car along with the wallet of a 52-year-old Delmar man.

Other officers in the area located a man walking Fisher Boulevard and identified him as the wallet's owner and also as the man driving the vehicle.

Upon interviewing the man, he said he swerved to avoid a deer and went off the road and was walking home to his house.

While speaking to the man, officers observed that he had slow and slurred speech, had difficulty keeping his eyes open and was unsteady on his feet.

The man said he was going hunting in Oneonta, but decided to return home for an unknown reason.

He was in possession of a quantity of suboxone not in its original container. He was given and failed field sobriety tests and was taken into custody.

At the Albany County Sheriff's Office, he provided a breath sample that provided a 0.00 percent BAC and was evaluated by a State Police Drug Recognition Expert. He consented to an oral swab and blood draw.

His .30-06 hunting rifle was secured for safe keeping and the man was told he could pick it up on Monday.

He was charged

Warrant

DELMAR - On Saturday, Nov. 18, Bethlehem police responded to a laundry mat on Kenwood Avenue to check on a man sleeping inside.

According to reports, when officers arrived they found Raymond Rodriguez Jr., 21, of Delmar, inside and a check showed he was wanted by Albany City Police.

He was transported to meet officers from that department.

Aggravated DWI on Schoolhouse Road.

SLINGERLANDS - Bethlehem police performed a traffic stop on Schoolhouse Road on Sunday, Nov. 19 at 12:21 a.m. after they observed a 2013 Ford Focus speeding. The vehicle crossed the center line several times and had an inspection sticker that expired in September 2022.

According to reports, when officers interviewed the driver, a 25-year-old Albany man, they observed that he had a strong odor of an alcoholic beverage emanating from his breath and had bloodshot and watery eyes, was unsteady on his feet and had slurred speech.

The man said he was coming from the casino and had two beers. He was given and failed field sobriety tests and tested positive for breath alcohol on a pre-screening device.

He was taken into custody and at the Guilderland police station provided a breath sample that returned a .22 percent BAC.

He was charged with aggravated DWI, a misdemeanor, and ticketed for speeding and expired inspection. The man was given an appearance ticket for Bethlehem Town Court on December 5 and given courtesy transportation to his residence.

Two warrants

COLONIE - A woman who was involved in a wrong way pursuit on the Thruway after a robbery was back in Colonie Town Court on Monday, Nov. 13 because she did not show up for Court.

Betsy Jablonski, 39, of Delanson, was supposed to be in a Colonie courtroom on Wednesday, Oct. 25, instead racked up 24 additional charges after she allegedly stole from a drug store, carjacked a vehicle, and led police on a car chase. She had six outstanding warrants when arrested.

This time she was at the Albany County jail and was arraigned and returned to the jail.

COHOES – At age 35, Billy Gilman has accomplished many accolades in his 24-year singing career.

Yes, we said 24 years.

At 11, Gilman's debut single "One Voice" reached number 38 on the Billboard Hot 100 chart, making him the youngest artist to have a Top 40 single on the country chart.

quote of the week

For the first time, this sounds like a true record. Every record I made was always at the helm of everyone else telling me what to do, and this one sounds completely like a record from backwards to forwards and I'm proud of that. ... I'm very proud of that consistency that we have on this record.

The Fall Door Closes, Winter Opens

The McKrells close HVCC fall concert series, band preps for holiday

By AMY MODESTI
modestia@spotlightnews.com

TROY - As the autumn door closes, the cool air pushes the doors open for the winter solstice. That also means the end of the fall concert season at Hudson Valley Community College (H.V.C.C.).

The Troy campus closed out its autumn series with Capital Region band, The McKrells. Fans of the popular group flocked to the college to watch and be entertained by the six-piece ensemble playing a mix of covers and originals in an Irish-bluegrass flair.

The McKrells featured musicians Kevin McKrell (guitar/vocals), Peter Pashoukos (acoustic guitar/vocals), Arlin Greene (bass/backing vocals), Scott Hopkins (banjo/backing vocals), Brian Melick (percussion), and Frank Orsini (violin). Together, they wowed their crowd with their tight acapella harmonies, their delicate solos throughout their songs, and their quick, joyful joking banter amongst themselves in between song changes.

The hour-long show opened with “Dublin Town” and then went into previous McKrells member John Kribs’ original, “A Song and A Prayer” and the captivating instrumental “Around The Hornpipe” co-written by both Hopkins and Orsini respectively highlighting the musician poise of the banjo and violin.

Along the set, McKrell dedicated his self-penned Valentine’s Day song to his wife in his performance of “Red is the Rose” and continued on with more originals including “Donegal” and concluding the show with the sing-a-long, “All of the Hard Days Are Gone”.

Prepping for the Winter

The McKrells are currently gearing up for The McKrells Christmas shows. Starting Saturday, Dec. 2, the band will begin their holiday tour at The Sand Lake Center for the Arts (S.L.C.A.) in Averill Park (7 p.m.) and will next go to The Strand Theatre Dec. 3 (Hudson Falls, 3 p.m.), The Cock And Bull Dec. 6 (Galway, 7 p.m.), The Litchfield Community Center in Litchfield, CT Dec. 15 (7 p.m.), and close the series at The Swyer Theatre at The Egg Performing Arts Center in Albany Dec. 16, 7 p.m.

Follow The McKrells online at The McKrells for ticket information and learn more about the band.

Billy Gilman up close

In 2016, after taking some time away from music, he competed on season 11 of the hit TV show "The Voice" under team Adam Levine. With the help of viewers' votes, Gilman became a runner-up finalist.

On Monday, Dec. 4, Gilman will return to the Capital Region to take part in Kevin Richards' Country Concerts Close Up series for the second time. This will be his first appearance at the Cohoes Music Hall, which will present his show, "Billy Gilman: Close Up Christmas & Hits."

Gilman's first appearance at Richards' production was last year at the Charles R. Wood Theater in Glens Falls. Richards reached out to Billy and his agency about taking part in the country music series. At the theater, Billy was blown away by the fan response and the audience participation, which he loved, and was impressed by the whole experience of the production, he told TheSpot518.

"I remember saying to him as we were leaving the theater after the performance, I said, 'Kevin, I really hope to do this again with you guys. It's been a really, really neat thing,'" Gilman recalled. "Every so often you get to go back to a city or back to a certain area ... but we made it work, and the audiences seem to be responding, and the tickets are going well so I'm very excited to go back, because the audience really touched me."

Gilman will perform some new songs from his newest record, Christmas songs, hit songs from his career, including songs heard on his run on "The Voice," in "Billy Gilman: Close Up Christmas & Hits".

Since February, Gilman has performed across the nation in Maine, Ohio, Tennessee and Iowa, and his last regular show, which featured songs from his newest album and hit songs, was Nov.11 in Charlotte, N.C. For the remainder of the tour, he will perform 14 Christmas shows and will do a New Year's Eve show before concluding touring February 2024.

The Christmas show

"I put a little bit of everything in there. I put some songs that people probably grew up listening to like "Don't Stop Believing" and then I do my songs of course, the ones that people will remember if they remember my career as a kid, and they do, which is astonishing," Gilman said. "I have new songs, some of them that have not been released, which people will love to hear. I do some songs that are from my time on "The Voice," so yeah it's literally a bunch of everything, so you won't be bored with just brand new songs that you can't sing along to, I can promise you that."

Gilman will also have a meet-and-greet with fans at his acoustic, intimate show featuring local act Mike-Bear and Jenna Sue.

The first time Billy came to Glens Falls to do his first show with Richards, he loved sitting with an audience and telling them a story behind his songs.

"I think it's really, really neat. It gives them an opportunity to get to hear things that they wouldn't ordinarily hear," he said. "It's been a long journey and I'm of that journey, why do I have to rely on a TV show? I didn't have to back then."

Eventually, his mood changed and he saw the show in a different light. He finally decided to give it a go in 2016

"I'm really happy that I finally said yes to doing it. I'm super grateful that people really understood that I wanted to come back, and this was the way that I felt it was necessary to be on "The Voice," Gilman said. "I'm happy that after that, people have continued to show up at the concerts, pay to see shows and the meet and greets, CD's, and download the songs on whatever platform that you listen to your music on. I'm just super grateful that people are still invested and intrigued in what I want to show them."

Being on "The Voice" was a great experience for Gilman as it also allowed him the creative freedom to choose and sing meaningful songs.

"I've done this, literally, my entire life, and I thought I've seen it all, heard it all, went through it all, but the work that goes into that show that you have to muster up the strength and energy to maintain, is really truly incredible," Gilman said. "I've a newfound appreciation and respect for anyone that wants to go on that show because it's a lot, especially if you make it to the finale. ... It was a great experience, but it was a lot of work."

New record & past hits

Looking ahead, Gilman is excited to release his first bluegrass record next year. He has been wanting to create this record for 15 years, and he had difficulty getting the project off the ground.

Gilman eventually found a songwriting team, an agent, and a record label that believed in his idea. He and his songwriting team were able to co-write songs in Bowling Green, Ky., and record the singles in Nashville, which include "Delta Queen," "Roller

EXHIBITS

Albany Institute of History and Art Nineteenth Century American Sculpture: Erastus Dow Palmer and His Protégés Launt Thompson, Charles Calverley, and Richard Park-

Designed to showcase the museum's nationally known collection of mid- to late-nineteenth-century sculpture, this exhibit is currently ongoing.

Ancient Egypt- Egyptologist and Guest Curator Dr. Peter Lacovara has incorporated the research and scientific discoveries revealed in the GE Presents: The Mystery of the Albany Mummies exhibition into a new exhibition about Ancient Egypt. This exhibit is currently ongoing.

Reflective Impressions

Reflective Impressions: The 19th National Exhibition of the American Society of Marine Artists features works by 113 artists who draw inspiration from water—water as a means of travel, a fragile ecosystem, a source of leisure and recreation, or pleasant scenery. The American Society of Marine Artists was founded in 1978 to preserve and promote contemporary American marine art. It came into being through the work of a small handful of representational artists and marine art enthusiasts who felt that the rich cultural heritage of marine painting was in danger of being lost. Today, Society members are a diverse and engaged group representing nearly all 50 states of the US, as well as the U.K., France, and Canada.

Tulips for Albany

In 1947, Albany adopted the Dutch city of Nijmegen as a sister city and sent supplies to help rebuild the war-ravaged city. In gratitude, the Netherlands sent thousands of tulip bulbs to Albany, which in 1948 Mayor Erastus Corning 2nd proclaimed Albany's official flower and thus the Tulip Festival was born. Crowns and regalia worn by the Tulip Queens over the years will be displayed alongside designs for the tulip beds in Washington Park and photographs documenting the celebration.

Ground to Gourmet

Ground to Gourmet: Tracing the Origins of the Food We Love takes visitors on a captivating tour through the origins of New York State's famous foods and the history that led them to our tables. Through interactive activities, displays, and historical records Ground to Gourmet traces the surprising science of culinary favorites and the place that they held in our diets yesterday and today.

Design Zone

Design Zone is an exciting interactive exhibition that highlights the importance of science and mathematical thinking in areas critical to building creativity and innovation: art, music, and engineering and presents the creative concepts behind the processes and tools needed to create a successful design.

Space to Spoon

What does a satellite orbiting 798 km from Earth have to do with the food on our plate? Space to Spoon demonstrates how space technology benefits farmers and sustainable agriculture. Featuring interactive activities, visual stories, and hands-on models, don't miss your chance to learn about the fascinating connections between food and outer space!

A Taste of Science

Have you ever wondered why food spoils? A Taste of Science highlights the role science plays in delaying food decay and keeping food nutritious and safe for us to eat. In this engaging experience, immerse yourself in an oversized "pantry" and discover what makes food spoil, and different food preservation techniques. You'll find lots to feed your mind and imagination on the menu!

GE Comic Books: Adventures in Science

GE Comic Books: Adventures in Science showcases the impact of comic books on inspiring young people to study science and engineering. The exhibit features a collection of 26 comic books created by General Electric (GE) between 1945 and 1964, that told the story of electricity and other scientific innovations through the eyes of a fictional teenager named Johnny Powers. Visitors to the exhibit will be able to see the original comic books, as well as learn about the impact they had on inspiring a generation of students to pursue careers in science and engineering, exhibit begins May 13th. Museum hours: Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. (observatory open until 8 p.m. on Thursday); Sunday, noon to 5 p.m. 15 Nott Terrace Heights, Schenectady. New York State Museum

Unveiled: Wedding Wear in 19th-century New York

In choosing their wedding clothes, brides and grooms are influenced by fashion, economics, technology, religion, geography, celebrity, personal taste, and their role in society. This was as much the case in 19th and 20th centuries New York as it is today. Wedding clothing holds memories, and pieces—dresses, shoes, suits, and head wear—are often preserved and passed to subsequent generations. A couple's choices reveal historical information about both the individuals who wore them and those who made them. Some garments find their way to museum collections. This exhibition will unveil stories of select New Yorkers. Exhibit is on going until March 2024.

Treason at West Point

The Fidelity Medal: Treason at West Point delves into Major General Benedict Arnold's betrayal of West Point during the American Revolution and British Major John André's involvement in Arnold's plot. Featured in the exhibit are important historical artifacts and information related to this aspect of the American Revolutionary War, including the rare Fidelity Medallion, the first military medal authorized and presented by the United States Congress, three links from the Great Chain constructed across the Hudson River to prevent British ships from sailing north from New York City, and images of the papers found on André when he was captured. September 29, 2023 to December 31, 2023.

Indigenous Art Across the Homelands

Each One Inspired: Indigenous Art Across the Homelands examines the sources of inspiration for Indigenous artists across what is now New York. Featuring over 60 original artworks from the NYSM Contemporary Indigenous Art Collection, this thematic exhibit focuses on the connections to lands, community, the natural world, ancestors, and histories that continue to inspire Indigenous artists whose ancestral lands lie within what is now New York. September 5, 2023 to March 31, 2024

Changing New York

In 1929, after eight years in Europe, photographer Berenice Abbott (1898-1991) returned to New York City. She was inspired by its dramatic transformation. New construction was everywhere; hundreds of 19th-century buildings had been torn down to make way for dozens of skyscrapers. She was determined to capture this momentous change in photographs.

Thomas Hart Benton

In 1956 Thomas Hart Benton was commissioned by Robert Moses, chairman of the New York Power Authority, to create two murals for the powerhouse building of the state's first hydropower facility in Massena. They feature Jacques Cartier's explorations of the St. Lawrence River and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Alternately titled The Seneca Discover the French and Jacques Cartier

Stonemason to Sculptor

When Henry DiSpirito (1898–1995) emigrated from Italy in 1921 he was already a trained stonemason and bricklayer. In Utica, New York, he found work in those trades but longed to devote his life to art. He found his calling in the direct-carving style of sculpture. Most of his subjects were animals or human figures, rendered in fieldstone or wood. He exhibited at the Whitney, MoMA, and SculptureCenter in New York City, and at museums and galleries across the state. Renowned for his sculpture, DiSpirito was an accomplished painter as well. In 1963, he was appointed the first artist-in-residence at Utica College, a position he held until his death. Through his art, DiSpirito developed a deep connection with students and faculty, as well as the larger community in Utica. December 23, 2019 to December 31, 2023.

Séance: Photographs
by Shannon Taggart

For the past twenty years American artist Shannon Taggart (born 1975) has documented Spiritualist practices and communities in the United States, England and Europe. The resulting body of work, Séance, examines Spiritualism's relationship with human celebrity, its connections to art, science, and technology, and its intrinsic bond with the medium of photography. This exhibition presents forty-seven haunting images from the series, revealing the emotional, psychological, and physical dimensions of Spiritualism in the 21st century. Saratoga Arts

Schenectady in the Early Republic
Schenectadians of the early American Republic lived through defining years of the nation's history. They were part of a growing city in a new nation, which would have to shape diverse peoples, religions, and geographical spaces into a free and prosperous republic. At the same time, Schenectady is chartered as a city, and seeks to define its own local identity. How do you set up a new city government? Is Schenectady a quiet country town or a bustling riverfront hub? What is the proper role of women in this new society? And how do Schenectadians respond to the growing shift from village farmers and craftsmen to urban factory workers? Exhibition dates: April 8, 2023 - November 2, 2024

Juried Exhibition 5

Every year Saratoga Arts sends out an Open Call to all artists across the Capital Region. This is open to both members of Saratoga Arts as well as non-members and gives all artists the opportunity to showcase their work in a professional setting. Saratoga Arts puts together a jury of arts professionals from the area to review all submissions. After review five exhibitions were created for the year, showcasing the work of four artists each.

Corita Kent, born Frances Elizabeth Kent, on November 20, 1918, in Fort Dodge, Iowa, was an artist, educator, and social activist. She entered the religious order Immaculate Heart of Mary at the age of 18, joining a teaching order and taking the name Sister Mary Corita. After obtaining her bachelor's degree at Immaculate Heart College and her master's degree at the University of Southern California, she returned to Immaculate Heart College to teach and began to serve as the head of the art department in 1964.

Unset Texts

We often think of books as containers for language, narrative, and thought. But what happens when we see them as aesthetic objects as well? In the hands of artists, books can take on new and expanded meanings. Unset Texts presents sculpture, photographs, collage, painting, prints, and artist's books from the Tang collection and Scribner Library's Special Collections that explore printed material in creative and critical ways.

Elevator Music 47

Xenometok for Mutualism traces the journey of three sisters who find themselves in a space disconnected from time. There, they grapple with memories of their individual and collective pasts and try to reach a place of equilibrium. This experimental, multimedia artwork explores the tension between attachment to this world and longing for an afterlife. The score combines electronic music, Tibetan relpa drum dance, and experimental vocals, and together with the choreography, invokes the tension that can arise between the traditions of the past, the everchanging present, and countless possible futures. Skidmore College, 815 North Broadway, Saratoga Springs. Museum hours: Tuesday - Sunday, noon to 5 p.m.; Thursday until 9 p.m. Free admission; suggested donations of $5/adult; $3/child 13+; seniors, $2. 518-580-8080 or tang.skidmore.edu

THEATRE
The Dragon of Wantley
Opera

A fire-breathing dragon is terrorizing the Yorkshire countryside, and only the local squire, Moore of Moore Hall can save the day. If only he can be bothered to put down his beer. The Dragon of Wantley, the most popular operatic production of the entire 18th century in England, enjoyed a 45-year run. Lampe deftly lampoons the excesses of Handelian opera in this hilarious farce. This all-new production is led by BEMF's GRAMMY-winning Musical Directors Paul O'Dette and Stephen Stubbs and acclaimed Stage Director Gilbert Blin and features an all-star roster of 18 singers, dancers, and instrumentalists, period-inspired staging and lavish costumes to bring this rollicking masterpiece to life! Catch this show starting December 2nd only at The Troy Savings Bank Music Hall, 30 Second Street Troy.

Greg Mendez / Trace Mountains / Thank You Thank you

For Greg Mendez, reflection doesn't mean a static image in a mirror, or even a face he recognizes. It's more a kaleidoscopic mirage, where paths taken shapeshift with the prospect of paths untried, and the subconscious merges with the intentional. On his self-titled new album, the Philadelphia-based songwriter and multi-instrumentalist investigates the shaky camera of memory, striving to carve out a collage that points to a truth. But there isn't a regimented actuality here; instead, Mendez highlights the merit in many truths, and many lives, and how even the hardest truths can still contain some humor. Trace Mountains is the musical project of American indie rock musician Dave Benton. He has released 3 studio records since formally starting the band in 2018. First came A Partner to Lean On, then Lost in the Country and most recently, House of Confusion. Benton was formerly a member of the lo-fi band LVL UP. This show will be November 30th at 8 p.m. only at The Avalon Lounge, 29 Church St. Catskill.

HOROSCOPES

November 2023
Week 5

ARIES – MAR 21/APR 20

You may have difficulty reaching people this week, Aries. Whether it's difficulty getting attention or tech issues affecting communication, use the situation as an opportunity to relax.

TAURUS – APR 21/MAY 21

Taurus, a challenging project may lead you to throw yourself into work even more than usual over the course of the week. Remember to take time to exhale.

GEMINI – MAY 22/JUN 21

Visit someone in person if you are looking to catch up or have a meaningful conversation, Gemini. Skip impersonal text messages or social media posts and meet face-to-face.

CANCER – JUN 22/JUL 22

Unfortunate financial news may come your way, Cancer. Take the developments in stride and resolve to overcome them. Seek advice on how to do so, if necessary.

LEO – JUL 23/AUG 23

Leo, there is a strong desire for romance surrounding you. Whether you want to spice up a current relationship or are seeking a new one, this is the week to put out feelers.

VIRGO – AUG 24/SEPT 22

Virgo, enjoy a unique chance to spend quality time with someone you love. Enjoy the experience in the moment and resolve to spend more time together.

LIBRA – SEPT 23/OCT 23

An unexpected meeting with a friend and subsequent conversation could leave you feeling a little shaken, Libra. You will learn things that give you a new perspective.

SCORPIO – OCT 24/NOV 22

You could experience a desire to make sudden changes to your home life, work situation or even a relationship, Scorpio. Stagnation has set in, but now is not the time for big moves.

SAGITTARIUS – NOV 23/DEC 21

Sagittarius, if a message arrives from someone who lives far away, you may be prompted to hop in the car or on a plane and visit that person. An impromptu trip could be fun.

CAPRICORN – DEC 22/JAN 20

Look into all of the facts surrounding an offer to increase your income, Capricorn. It could be too good to be true, or it might be a legitimate deal. You need to sort things out.

AQUARIUS – JAN 21/FEB 18

Aquarius, this week you may encounter someone who is very interested in you. The resulting attention can be quite flattering. You'll need to decide if it should go further.

PISCES – FEB 19/MAR 20

Situations that arise this week could have you feeling stressed, Pisces. Find ways you can separate yourself from certain situations that rile you up, even if it means a five-minute break.

winds), Bobby Kendall (bass), Brian Melick (drums), Zorkie Nelson (drums) Mitsuko Suzuki (violin) and Elizabeth Woodbury Kasius (piano). Featuring guest vocalists Garland Nelson & Shiri Zorn. This show will be December 1st at 8p.m only at Caffè Lena, 47 Phila Street, Saratoga Springs.

Peggy Lynn & Dan Berggren
Seasoned performers Peggy Lynn and Dan Berggren have combined talents to create a rare blend of humor, history and musical spirit in their performances. Peggy Lynn writes and performs songs, using her bluesy alto voice to sing about women and natural beauty of the North Country. With Sandra Weber, she co-authored Breaking Trail: Remarkable Women of the Adirondacks. Award-winning educator and songwriter Dan Berggren, also one-third of Caffè Lena's weekly "Folk Club Kids," has deep roots in the Adirondacks. His music reflects the spirit and the hardworking people of that region. Author and environmental activist Bill McKibben says: "Dan is a throw-back to the old role of the folk singer... he's articulating things that need to be said right now." In 2005, both Lynn and Berggren received the Adirondack Mountain Club's Education Award. This show will be December 2nd at 3 p.m only at Caffè Lena, 47 Phila Street, Saratoga Springs.

Jamcrackers
Seasoned solo performers Dan Berggren, Peggy Lynn and Dan Duggan have combined talents to create a dynamic trio named in honor of the river drivers who broke up log jams. They worked hard to find solutions, to get things rolling again, and it was a job that couldn't be done alone. Berggren, Lynn and Duggan feel the same way about their music. These good friends and accomplished musicians bring a rare blend of humor, history and musical spirit to their performances. "Although the Jamcrackers ... will win you over with their front porch style picking and charm, there's much more to be appreciated from their music." (Sing Out!) This show will be December 2nd at 8 p.m only at Caffè Lena, 47 Phila Street, Saratoga Springs.

III Bill
With a hardcore mind and explicit tongue, prolific New York rapper and producer III Bill keeps the spirit of old school hip-hop alive with an affinity for classic sampling and scratching, while spanning a lyrical spectrum that ranges from vulgar and horrific to deeply insightful and pained. Emerging in the mid-'90s, Bill made his name with the group Non Phixion before focusing on his solo work, releasing his official debut, What's Wrong with Bill?, in 2004. In addition to his antics with Non Phixion, he also founded collaborative projects such as La Coka Nostra, Heavy Metal Kings, and Cannibal Hulk. Catch this show December 1st at 8 p.m. at Empire Underground, 93 N Pearl St, Albany.

Downswing
Albany, New York-based punk band Downswing rose quickly through the ranks to become one of the leading acts on Albany's HC scene. Downswing were formed in early 2017 by guitarist Anthony Salvaggio, bassist Brandon Jared, and drummer Nick Manzella, who had previously worked together in a metalcore band called Animal. The musicians were eager to change up their sound, and as it happened, so was vocalist Brett Colvin, who has been singing in pop-punk bands for nine years without enjoying much success. After recruiting Colvin and guitarist Chris Arnold, Downswing's lineup was complete, and in March 2017 the band released a three-song demo, titled Swingstyle. After posting the demo online, the band caught a lucky break when Vincent Bennett, vocalist with the group the Acacia Strain, heard Swingstyle and gave Downswing his endorsement on social media. Bennett's posts brought plenty of attention to Downswing, leading to bigger and better gigs, including a spot on an East Coast date of the 2017 Vans Warped Tour. Downswing soon struck a deal with Rise Records, the well-established punk label that was also home to the Acacia Strain, and in November 2017 Downswing released their Rise debut, a five-song EP called Dark Side of the Mind. Catch this show December 2nd at 6:30 p.m. at Empire Underground, 93 N Pearl St, Albany.

The Fixx
A London-based new wave group that managed to sustain a successful career in America for several years in the mid-'80s, the Fixx always flirted with the mainstream with their catchy, keyboard-driven pop. Formed by college friends vocalist/keyboardist Cy Curnin and drummer Adam Woods in the early '80s, the pair advertised in the music press for additional members; the remaining members of the group -- guitarist Jamie West-Oram, keyboardist Rupert Greenall, and bassist Charlie Barret -- all responded to the ad. Taking the name the Portraits, the band recorded a single for Ariola Records, "Hazards in the Home," which failed to gather much attention. Within a year, the band had changed its name to the Fixx and recorded "Lost Planes," the single that led to a record contract with MCA. Catch this show December 2nd at 8 p.m. at Empire Underground, 93 N Pearl St, Albany.

Bill Kirchen's Honky Tonk Holiday Show
Bill Kirchen and the Silent Knights (his all-star Texas guys Rick Richards and Jack Saunders) will make a stop on their annual Honky Tonk Holiday Tour at The Hangar on Saturday 12/2. Joining in to celebrate the release of their new reunion CD "Back from the Ozone" will be two more Lost Planet Airmen - John Tichy and Andy Stein, plus Graham Tichy! Featured is a sleigh-full of rarely heard holiday numbers from the blues, rock 'n' roll and honky tonk bags: "Silent Surfin' Night," "Truckin' Trees for Christmas," "Santa Claus Wants Some Lovin'," and more. But be ye not afraid, there'll be so much more than holiday songs of questionable taste. You can count on a truckload of Commander Cody and His Lost Planet Airmen classics, with a trove of new numbers off the brand new CD thrown in to take the edge off the holiday fuss. So mark your calendars and check 'em twice - Santa Claus is back in town! Come see this show December 2nd at 8 p.m. only at The Hangar on the Hudson, 675 River Street, Troy.

Snakes and Stars w/s/g SM INK
Snakes and Stars is a brand new musical creation of Michael Travis (The String Cheese Incident, EOTO) and Aaron Johnston (Brazilian Girls, David Byrne's American Utopia). Long time friends and collaborators, Michael and Aaron were looking for new avenues of musical creation when Michael reached out to share a concept for a new Electronic Duo. They got together to check it out and it worked! It worked very, very well. The musical visions synchronized effortlessly and Snakes and Stars was born. The Sound: Snakes and Stars consists of two of live music's top drummers exploring various idioms of electronic and dance music in a live, improvisational format. While DJs play previous recorded tracks Snakes and Stars plays everything live and makes up the songs as they go. Relying on a combined 60 years of live music experience, Travis and Johnston utilize vocals, synthesizers, electronic pads and triggers, drum kit, guitar, bass and samples to create a one of a kind musical experience in the moment. Catch this show live December 1st at 8 p.m. only at The Hollow Bar + Kitchen, 79 N Pearl St, Albany.

The Q-Tip Bandits
Since their inception in early 2018, The Q-Tip Bandits have emerged into the Boston music scene as an energetic and vibrant act that continues to touch audience's hearts while getting them up on their feet. Their smooth yet powerful sound is backed by the raw energy of rock and the coolness and colors of R&B and funk — with palpable grooves coated with savory, soul-inspired riffs, anthemic horns and meaningful lyrics. In September 2023, the band returned to the studio to record their sophomore LP with Eric Palmquist, known for his work with half-alive, Tate McRae, and Hunny. Set to be released in 2024 by Nettwerk Music Group, the record is a departure from the band's previous work, putting a pop spin on their signature horn-driven indie rock sound. See this show live December 1st at 8 p.m. only at thew Lark Hall, 351 Hudson Avenue, Albany.

Keller Williams
Virginian, Keller Williams, released his first album in 1994, FREEK, and has since given each of his albums a single syllable title: BUZZ, SPUN, BREATHE, LOOP, LAUGH, HOME, DANCE, STAGE, GRASS, DREAM, TWELVE, LIVE, ODD, THIEF, KIDS, BASS, PICK, FUNK, VAPE, SYNC, RAW, SANS, ADD, SPEED, CELL and GRIT. Each title serves as a concise summation of the concept guiding each project. Keller's albums reflect his pursuit to create music that sounds like nothing else. Un-beholden to conventionalism, he seamlessly crosses genre boundaries. The end product is music that encompasses rock, jazz, funk and bluegrass, and always keeps the audience on their feet. Keller built his reputation initially on his engaging live performances, no two of which are ever alike. For most of his career he has performed solo. His stage shows are rooted around Keller singing his compositions and choice cover songs, while accompanying himself on acoustic guitar, bass, guitar synthesizer and drum samples; a technique called live phrase sampling or "looping". The end result often leans toward a hybrid of alternative folk and groovy electronica, a genre Keller jokingly calls "acoustic dance music" or ADM." Keller's constant evolution has led to numerous band projects as well; Keller & The Keels, Grateful Grass, KWahtro, Keller and the Travelin' McCourys, Grateful Gospel and More Than A Little to name a few. Keller can be found playing clubs and festivals around the U.S. with these projects throughout the year. See this show live December 2nd at 8 p.m. only at thew Lark Hall, 351 Hudson Avenue, Albany.

Moondance
Rock and roll doesn't get any better than Van Morrison. Van the Man has done it all — from classic rockers like Brown Eyed Girl and Domino to legendary tunes like Tupelo Honey and Into The Mystic, the Rock and Roll Hall of Famer has never failed to impress music lovers around the globe. Moondance is the ultimate Van Morrison Tribute Concert. This incredible show captures the Van Morrison concert experience like no other. You'll hear classic tunes — Brown Eyed Girl, Moondance, Domino, It Stoned Me, Tupelo Honey, Wild Night, Into The Mystic, Caravan — just to name a few. The show is packed with one VM classic after the next. See this show December 1st at 8 p.m. only at The Linda WAMC's Performing Arts Studio, 339 Central Avenue, Albany.

Leslie Mendelson
Brooklyn-based singer/songwriter Leslie Mendelson is riding a wave of acclaim for her most recent studio album 'If You Can't Say Anything Nice...' as well as a solo acoustic EP 'In The Meantime.' Described by Relix Magazine as an artist with "a loyal, cross-generational audience that hugs the hippie, hipster, coffee shop and society crowds," Leslie's timeless musicality and evocative songwriting indeed cuts a wide swath. All Music writes that Leslie evokes "1970s songwriter influences in the vein of Carole King and Carly Simon," while The Aquarian calls her "the closest thing one can get to a truly honest musical experience." See this show December 2nd at 8 p.m. only at The Linda WAMC's Performing Arts Studio, 339 Central Avenue, Albany.

Clever holiday shopping strategies

The holiday season is here again, which means that the time for shopping lists and gift-buying has returned as well. Shoppers long have relied on Black Friday deals to save some money and streamline shopping excursions. But now Thanksgiving Day sales and additional retail holidays like Plaid Friday, Small Business Saturday and Cyber Monday have made it easier than ever to score holiday deals. The following tips can make holiday shopping more fruitful.

Know your prices

Shoppers who would do well on TV's "The Price is Right" can save money. It's important to have a general idea of what items cost, especially those that will be on holiday lists. Shoppers can set up price alert notifications on the gifts they plan to buy to compare prices in advance of holiday sales. This way they will have a better idea if the Black Friday/Cyber Monday "deal" is just a markdown on an exaggerated price or if it's a legitimate bargain.

Consider price-matching

Before shoppers run all over to a dozen stores in the name of saving a few bucks, learn about stores' price-matching policies. For example, Best Buy may be willing to give the same price on a printer if you can to save time and money prove that Staples is offering it for $30 cheaper. Keep in mind that many stores are even willing to match Amazon's prices.

Utilize a shopping app or coupon aggregator

Online shopping is here to stay, and one way retailers provide deals is with coupon codes. Shopping applications can help shoppers save money and time. Some, like Rakuten, offer cash-back and instant discount opportunities, particularly during the holiday season. Others, like Honey, for example, are apps as well as browser extensions that will automatically search for and apply coupon codes on retailers' sites to ensure a shopper is getting the lowest price.

Shop ahead and pick up

Be aware of retailers who offer a lower online price for merchandise than what the same item sells for in store. For example, a six-pack of socks may be $9.99 when purchased online, or $13.99 in store. If the store offers free pickup for online orders shipped to the store, then consumers can use this option to get the discount but avoid shipping fees. Plus, pickup kiosks generally are less crowded than waiting for the checkout registers.

Buy now, resize later

Shoppers who can't find their needed size or color in clothing or merchandise can buy any size or color on sale day at the discounted price, then exchange a few days later for the item they need.

Think beyond the usual retailers

Lowe's, Home Depot and even pharmacies have lesser-known, but advantageous deals as well. Don't overlook these retailers for holiday decor or stocking stuffers.

Holiday sales shopping is more budget-friendly with some simple saving strategies.

Bake up a classically shaped dessert for the holidays

Many cakes lend themselves well to the Bundt form, and that includes this "Orange Spice Cake With Berries" from "Classic Stars Desserts" (Chronicle Books) by Emily Luchetti.

Orange Spice Cake With Berries

Serves 10

Cake

- Butter for the pan
- 3 tablespoons fine dried bread crumbs
- 3 cups all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon ground white pepper
- 3/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 3/4 teaspoon ground cardamom
- 3/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 3/4 teaspoon baking powder
- 3/4 teaspoon kosher salt
- 1 cup milk

- 2 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
- Grated zest of 2 oranges
- 3/4 teaspoon peeled and grated fresh ginger
- 8 ounces unsalted butter, at room temperature
- 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
- 3 large eggs

Glaze

- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/4 cup freshly squeezed orange juice
- 1 1/2 teaspoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 1 pint raspberries (about 2 cups)
- 1 pint blueberries (about 2 cups)

Preheat the oven to 350 F. Butter a 10-inch Bundt pan and dust with the bread crumbs, tapping out the excess. Sift together the flour, white pepper, cinnamon, cardamom, baking soda, and baking powder onto a piece of parchment paper or into a bowl. Add the salt and set aside. In a small bowl or measuring cup, stir together the milk, lemon juice, orange zest, and ginger and set aside. Combine the butter and sugar in the bowl of a stand mixer fitted with the paddle attachment and beat on medium-high speed until light and fluffy, about 3 minutes. Add the eggs one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Reduce the speed to low and add the dry ingredients in three additions, alternating with the milk mixture in two additions, beginning and ending with the dry ingredients and mixing well after each addition. Spread the batter into the prepared pan. Bake the cake until a skewer inserted into the center comes out clean, about 40 minutes. Let cool for 15 minutes. Invert a platter on top of the pan and then invert the plate and pan together. Lift off the pan. To make the glaze: In a small saucepan, combine the sugar, orange juice, and lemon juice over low heat, stirring to dissolve the sugar. Brush the glaze on the cake. It will seem like a lot of glaze, but the cake will absorb it. Let the cake cool to room temperature. Slice the cake and serve with raspberries, blueberries and cream, if desired. Note: Experiment with other berries for the holiday season, such as sugar-dusted cranberries.

Preparing homemade cakes is an endeavor that families can enjoy together. Baking is a popular holiday tradition in many families, and few cake styles are as recognized as the Bundt cake. The Bundt® pan was created in 1950 by H. David Dahliquist, the founder of the Minneapolis-based Nordic Ware kitchen products manufacturer. The shape was inspired by a traditional European cake known as kugelhopf. The design creates a hole in the center of the cake, which enables a heavy, dense cake to be baked without risk of the center being undone.

Coaster,” “Buried,” “States,” and “Until You Come Home,” to name a few.

“Delta Queen” was released as a single Oct. 13, and “Roller Coaster” was released March 14. Both songs can be heard on all music platforms, along with his older hits “One Voice,” “Oklahoma,” and “Elizabeth.”

“For the first time, this sounds like a true record,” Gilman said. “Every record

I made was always at the helm of everyone else telling me what to do, and this one sounds completely like a record from backwards to forwards and I’m proud of that. ... I’m very proud of that consistency that we have on this record.”

The entire album will be released in early 2024.

With the show coming to Cohoes in less than a week, fans can expect to hear several of his new songs, old classics such as “One Voice” or “I Surrender,” and traditional Christmas songs “Old Come All Ye Faithful,” “Silent Night” and “The Bells of Saint Paul.”

Gilman said he loves to bring people new songs that they might not hear and then eventually, they become fans.

“It’s great to be able to do it more than once, at least you get to live it out a little longer and make it worth your while,” he said. “As much time goes into creating any kind of show, I’m grateful for the opportunity to do it just more than once.”

“If you’re looking to escape the craziness of the world and hear some great music that can inspire you and help you and make you feel good or make you feel something, don’t miss this show because I promise you that it will be one that you will never forget.” Gilman concluded.
